Duarte High School Students Produce Authentic Cancer Research At City Of Hope

DUARTE - A dozen students from Duarte High spent much of their summer participating in a research project at City of Hope that helped produce authentic results for the scientists working to gain a better understanding of cancer.

The students were part of a City of Hope program for the Science Education Partnership Award Collaborative (SEPA) which completed the fifth and final year of its cycle, with impressive results for the students.

"High school students from Duarte got experience working in the lab under the direction of research scientists," said Marisa Bowers, program coordinator for SEPA in the cancer biology department of City of Hope. "These are highly motivated students who got a chance to do research work not normally introduced to students until college. They were participating in authentic research."

The program began in the summer of 2012 and has now covered five sessions, with 12 to 24 students working alongside the research scientists each year on a project based on DNA repair mechanisms and how cells can repair mistakes, explained Bow-

The students from Duarte were under the direction of biology teacher Jeff Radsick, and were committed to work two days a week for three hours a session for the eight-week program. At the end of the program, the students presented their findings in a group culmination and shared their efforts with faculty, families, DUSD and COH administrators in a culmination program on August 11, 2016.

"We take high school students who come in with a certain skill set and give them an opportunity to leave with a higher set of skills, and hopefully motivate them to pursue science or other related careers," said Radsick.

The 12 students from Duarte who attended this summer are all juniors and seniors. They are: Sarah Bouza, Ashley Castaneda, Bianca Delgadillo, Marianna Delgado, Danica Espinosa, Eli Faliti, Tiffany Hui, Sabrina Juarez, Leslyn Kiara, Lindsay Lathrop, Lisette Leon, and Palak

The SEPA Summer Research Program is taught by City of Hope staff scientist Glenn Manthey and Radsick, and each of the students worked in various labs with additional scientists on the City of Hope campus.

The project, which began with the summer of 2012 group, and has continued each summer, involves experiments with yeast and DNA as they relate to a cancer tumor and the DNA's ability to repair. "This research is essential to the understanding of cancer," said Radsick. "We looked at various mutants and sequencing strains. The students helped produce data that will be of value to the professional research staff."

Bowers explained the origination of the research project.

Glenn Manthey runs a lab that uses yeast in breast cancer research," she said. "Yeast grows fast, and is a common model organism for studying basic biology. How the proteins react to one another with the DNA repair mechanism is what we are studying."

And the scientists and teachers were learning along with the students.

Radsick said the difference between the City of Hope summer program and his work with students on the Duarte High campus produced "a huge learning experience for me. I'm used to practicing in labs with high school students, and the labs have predictable and expected results, demonstrating a core principle. These are experiments that have never been done before and we were looking at some interesting results. This translates into reallife scenarios that I can translate into the classroom."

The City of Hope has long been a partner with Duarte Unified School District, offering programs to spark the scientific interest of students. The summer research program and a year-long program during the school year are geared to those who have identified science as a viable educational and career path.

Other programs include field trips for 2nd, 5th and 8th grade students. There is also a Girls Only STEM after school science club at Andres Duarte Elementary School, and additional Saturday Science Days on the City of Hope campus.

The summer research program was funded by a five-year, $1.3-million grant from the National Institutes of Health. Bowers said the goal is to find grant funding going forward because "we want to keep working with the students. Our evaluation team is doing a longitudinal study to learn what the students are doing with their interest in science."

Given the chance to do authentic research in the labs of the internationally renowned City of Hope, many of these Duarte students will likely be pursuing science majors in college in the years to come.

Kathy's Cool Kutz for Kids Attracts Over 250 Children

years, Azusa Councilman Robert Gonzales, with the assistance of Azusa Mayor Joe Rocha has made sure that many children, boys and girls, obtain a free haircut by professional stylists and barbers. For eight years it was known as the Cool Kutz for Kids. This year it was renamed to "Kathy's Cool Kutz for Kids" in memory of Gonzales' sister who passed away in December 2015 and who was a great supporter of this event from its inception

On Sunday, August 14, the ninth annual "Kathy's Cool Kutz for Kids" free back-toschool hair cut event once again took place at Memorial Park in Azusa. It was the Sunday before school started in the Azusa Unified School District on Thursday, August 18.

Close to 250 school-aged girls and boys from Azusa showed-up to receive free professional back-to-school hair cuts from stylists and barbers who have their business in Azusa or daily work in one of the establishments in Azusa. Hair Salon such as Instyles Hair Salon, located at 1169 E. Alosta Avenue which is owned by Yvonne Potter. The other nine stylists were Maria Becerra, Karla Buck, Daniel Chavez, Soksan Chorn, Stephanie Contreras, Dina Diangelo, Guillen, Patty Tomassacci, and Carlos Torres.

Potter and Councilman Gonzales came up with the idea for this event eight years ago. During the first year in 2008, 97 kids were serviced. The next year in 2009, the number of kids who received a free hair cut increased to nearly 200 kids. And ever since 2010, the number of children who receive haircuts has averaged about 250.

Kathy's Cool Kutz for Kids AZUSA - For the past nine IX was a success. It took place from Noon until 4:00 P. M. at the Memorial Park Gymnasium, which for one day became the largest hair stylist shop in Azusa or perhaps in the San Gabriel Valley at over 5000 square feet.

The event aimed to give children preparing for their first day of school a free hair cut to relieve some burden off the parents while giving kids the opportunity to look sharp on the first day of school.

This year's "Kathy's Cool Kutz for Kids " was coordinated by Councilman Gonzales and sponsored by the Azusa Chamber of Commerce, the City of Azusa, 10 local stylists/ barbers, as well as Vulcan Materials, the organization Mothers Helping Others, and Dr. Barbara Dickerson, Lunch and other snacks for the stylists and other volunteers were provided by Max's Mexican Cuisine and Larry Carlos of Chick-Fil-A.

Vulcan Materials Company donated very colorful backpacks to each boy and girl, and Mothers Helping Others and Dr. Barbara Dickerson from Citrus College Board of Trustees contributed much needed school supplies, such as pens, pencils, writing notebooks, and many more tools for schools. Azusa Mayor Rocha and School Board President Yolanda Pena once again helped with clean up duty.

"I can't begin to express the gratification that overcame in me as I saw all those kids with their 'Cool Kutz' and smiles," said Gonzales. "They are now ready to face the new school year with a clean-cut look and with some very special free back-to-school back packs and school tools that every child received with their 'Cool Kut'."

Stylists and barbers were split to dedicate five stylists/barbers for girls only on one side of the Gym. Here two stylists/barbers cut or style the hair of two young girls while their parents watch and wait

After each boy or girl receive their haircut or hair styling, they get to pick a backpack of their choice with school supplies in them such as pencils, rulers, pens, and writing tablets.

Duarte USD Selects New K-8 Arts Coordinator

DUARTE - On the eve of Duarte Unified School District's collaborative partnership with California School of the Arts-San Gabriel Valley (CSArts-SGV), the district has selected Erin Fish to coordinate the emphasis on education in the arts.

Fish, a longtime teacher and coordinator of International Baccalaureate programs at Maxwell Elementary, will work under the direction of Superintendent Allan Mucerino and serve as the district's main liaison with CSArts-SGV when that school opens at the Northview site in 2017-18.

"Higher analytical thinking, reasoning, and student voice fit well within the structure of arts education" said Dr. Mucerino. "This is an important position because Mrs. Fish is responsible for building powerful coalitions of teachers that integrate content and art to help students find creative confidence and voice in their expression."

The primary responsibilities of the new position include developing an integrated arts program for the K-8 schools that will evolve under the current realignment of Duarte USD schools as laid out in the district's new five year strategic

"Over the years, we've seen less and less arts being taught in the K-6 schools and at the 7th and 8th grade levels," said Fish. "The high school has had arts electives, but it is important that kids have an opportunity to identify with the arts at an early age.

"With all the focus on technology in the schools, kids are forgetting how to express themselves and we need to give them that chance. A student may not see himself as an artist, but there are different artistic ways of expression, including music, writing, visual arts, dance and even culinary arts."

Through the vision of Dr. Mucerino, DUSD has reached out to the highly regarded Orange County School of the Arts in Santa Ana, and formed the partnership that will open the CSArts-San Gabriel Valley campus in Duarte next year. This will school environment rich in op- munity."

Erin Fish portunities.

But in the years of schooling leading up to high school, arts must once again be part of the curriculum, according to Fish.

"OCSA has an existing grades 7-to-12 program, so with that program, we can work from the 7-8 level and backwards map towards pre-K and through 6th grade. OCSA is going to provide the expertise through their 7-8 model and we will improve what Duarte can offer."

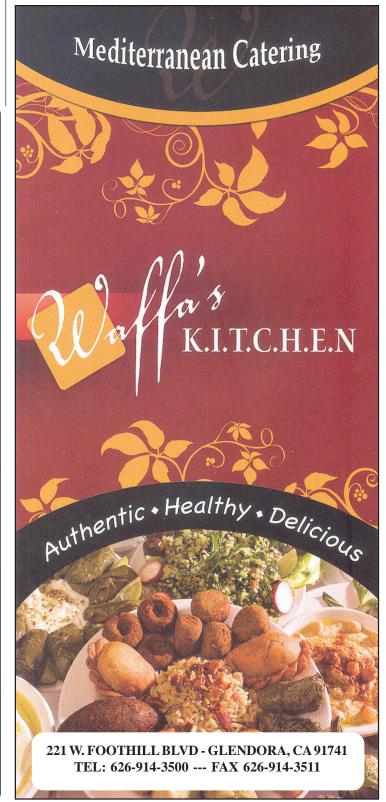

Although not a formal artist, Fish has taught at Duarte for 17 years, first as an elementary teacher, and then moved into the IB program at Maxwell. She served as summer school principal this year for the STEAM pro-

"What I've learned over the years is that the cross-disciplinary approach and teaching across content is very successful. We can use that model to develop an arts program," she said.

She plans to coordinate with the OCSA contingent, led by president and executive director Ralph Opacic, and including William Wallace (principal of CSArts-San Gabriel Valley) and Abbe Levine (dean of the new school).

Fish's first task will be adapting a curriculum and program for Duarte.

"We're still in the developmental stage, but that will involve lots of collaboration, work with our teachers, and much professional development to give the kids of Duarte the education they deserve. Bringing arts back and finding new ways to express attract highly motivated students them should be a great opportuwith an artistic talent to a high nity for our kids and for our com-

Support For Human Trafficking Minors | Assemblyman Chris Holden's 2016 Bills To Testify Via Closed Circuit Television

LOSANGELES COUNTY -The Board of Supervisors unanimously approved a motion by Supervisor Michael D. Antonovich to support Assembly Bill 1276 (Santiago - Los Angeles) which would authorize human trafficking victims under the age of 15, to utilize closed circuit televisions to testify against their alleged perpetrator.

"Asking young victims of trafficking to testify in court is intimidating and terrifying, especially when they have to recount the horrors of their abuse causing them to painfully relive the said Supervisor ordeal," Antonovich. "This legislation meant to protect minors and effectively prosecute criminals, supports Los Angeles County's own efforts to address and combat human trafficking."

A.B. 1276 has a long list of supporters including Sheriff Jim McDonnell and the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department; Children's Law Center of California; Court Appointed Special Advocates of Los Angeles; California Coalition for Youth; and the California District Attorneys Association, among others.

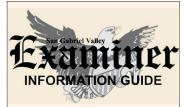

If enacted, this legislation would prevent the minor victim from the horrors of facing their perpetrator in court and reliving the personal and emotional details of the abuse from which they suffered, which can be traumatic. Furthermore, some minors are unable to effectively communicate in the presence of their alleged perpetrator, thus diminishing the efforts to effectively prosecute the case.

Clear Senate Appropriations Committee

SACRAMENTO – Three of Assemblyman Chris Holden's bills cleared the California State Senate Appropriations Committee. The legislation, Assembly Bill 1696, which helps California's neediest residents quit smoking; Assembly Bill 2148, which protects wildlife from drones; and Assembly Bill 2364 that strengthens dual enrollment all passed the key committee and now head to the Senate Floor. In addition, Assembly Concurrent Resolution 158 that would help students transfer credits between California universities also passed.

Assembly Bill 1696 requires tobacco cessation medications, counseling, and assessments to be covered for Medi-Cal patients. Besides the detrimental health effects, smoking takes an $18.1 billion toll on California annually, according to a University of California, San Francisco study.

"Smoking continues to be the leading preventable cause of the death in the United States" said Assemblyman Chris Holden. "We have an opportunity to save lives and money with this bill."

Assembly Bill 2148 provides the National Resources Agency the ability to develop regulations regarding drone use on publically managed lands. Recent incidents have shown that drone use in close proximity to wildlife can have serious impacts. Assembly Bill 2148 strives to create a cohesive, statewide system of rules governing the use of unmanned drones on public lands. The regulations can include conditional use or outright prohibitions when necessary to protect the safety of wildlife, natural habitats or visitors.

"There's no denying the rapidly increasing number of drones in public spaces," said Holden. "Now is the time to take preventative steps to protect California's wildlife and natural habitats before it becomes a prob-

Assembly Bill 2364 would provide Californian's undocumented high school students equal right to access higher education opportunities. Earlier this year, California's legislature passed SB 75 that expanded Medi-Cal to all undocumented students under the age of 19 in California public schools. AB 2364 seeks to continue the legislature's commitment to bring greater equity and fairness to all Californians.

"Every child in California should have the opportunity to access our high quality education system," said Holden. "This bill strengthens previous dual enrollment legislation by ensuring greater equity and access."

Assembly Concurrent Resolution 158 would help students transfer credits from one public California university to another. Streamlining the transfer process enables students to graduate faster and acquire less debt. Currently credits do not transfer from one CSU to another or one UC to another if a students has not completed 2 full years with 60 credits.

Assemblyman Chris Holden's Talent Scam Prevention Bill Passes Senate Floor

SACRAMENTO – Assemblyman Chris Holden's Talent Scam Prevention Bill, AB 2068, passed the Senate Floor with a vote of 38-0. AB 2068 strengthens the Talent Scam Prevention Act by expanding the list of communication forms that can be regulated such as online and computer applications. The bill now awaits Governor Jerry Brown's signa-

"Unfortunately, this creates a ripe situation for illegitimate talent agencies to scam young, aspiring artists."

There are nearly 500 talent agencies registered within Los Angeles County ranging from large powerhouses to smaller companies. Although most registered talent agencies are legitimate, it is often the smaller, unlicensed talent agencies that charge upfront fees or refuse to remove content at the request of

The Talent Scam Prevention Act outlawed such practices; however, the law passed in 2009 and did not regulate newer forms of technology. This bill updates the talent service laws to accommodate new technologies, such as mobile apps and online services that are not on the internet as websites. Baldwin Park's Annual 5K Run/ Walk Draws Record Numbers

Recognition for 'Pride of the Valley' reaches beyond Southern California

BALDWIN PARK - More last Saturday, August 6, for a venture through the heart of the city. Officials said Baldwin Park's 22nd annual Pride of the Valley 5K drew record crowds and participants that further highlighted the city's 60th anniversary this

Six-year-old Jaylean Aguiar of Baldwin Park wandered near the starting line early Saturday morning to psych herself up for the running event. She said she'd gone to bed early and had a waffle-andmilk breakfast to prepare for her first race. "I signed up because I really like to run," said the Kenmore Elementary School first grader. "I'm going to try to win my highest achievement while I'm running."

Jaylean's mom, Aliese Aguiar, said this is the first year she and her family are participating in Baldwin Park's 5K. The Aguiars have been conditioning throughout the summer, said Aguiar, 29, as a way to prepare for the event and stay active as a family.

Just before Saturday's race, the Aguiar matriarch said her main goal was to keep up with energetic Jaylean. "She said her God-given ability is running fast. I just want to make it across the finish line without passing out," Aguiar joked.

poured out onto Morgan Park vices, said the city's 5K traditionally draws out hundreds of residents, elected officials and their families for a morning run, jog, or walk. For the last decade, registrations have steadily tripled after organizers began inviting high schools, sports teams and running clubs to participate.

Saturday's event attracted hundreds of high school youth from as local as Baldwin Park and as far as Corona Del Mar and Fountain Valley - among many other Southern California teams - for a 3.1-mile cross-country race that closes out the summer break for many students. Cross-country running clubs including Equalizers and Southern California Roadrunners also enrolled, bringing 100-plus runners apiece for the race.

This year's Pride of the Valley 5K, officially dubbed a "High School Road Race, Run/Walk and Tike Trot," included newcomers as young as 2 years old and veteran runners up to age 80something. The event kicked off with the Tike Trot, a half-mile race geared for children up to age 8, and was followed by the traditional 5K run/walk at 8 a.m.

Jaylean participated in both events. Aguiar pushed her youngest daughter, 7-month-old Zoey, in a stroller as she trailed Jaylean for both competitions.

Vanessa Carbajal, program coordinator for Baldwin Park, said the Pride of the Valley 5K reinforces the city's campaign for health and wellness. In fact, the race has become well known beyond the San Gabriel Valley, noted Carbajal, adding that this year's registrations filtered in from Washington, Florida, Arizona and Colorado.

"It shows that a small, diverse community [like Baldwin Park]

Manny Carrillo, director of can be able to have a different than a thousand youth and adults Recreation and Community Ser-kind of event that our community members are also a part of, and it shows that we do a good job,"

Saturday's 5K competitors included male top finisher Sydney Gidabuday of Orange and female top finisher Valerie Sanchez of Pacoima. Gidabuday completed this year's race with a time of 14:36; Sanchez finished the course with a time of 17:10.

Gidabuday said this is the second consecutive year in which he won Baldwin Park's 5K, and it was his fourth year participating in the event. The 19-year-old currently attends Adams State University in Colorado, but said he looks forward to running in the Baldwin Park 5K when he's home for summer vacation.

"I like it because it's flat, and it's hosted well, so I like to come back every year," Gidabuday said.

Amid the emphasis on exercising and staying active, organizers conceded there are also potential perks for those who participated in Saturday's race. Two $200 cash prizes were given to the top overall male and top overall female 5K finishers, respectively. Gold, silver, and bronze medals were also given to the top three finishers, accordingly, in each age division. Awards were also granted to the overall top three boys' and girls' teams within the high school bracket.

Regardless of the runners' outcomes, participants of the Pride of the Valley 5K were also eligible for raffle prizes such as amusement park tickets, gift cards, and running gear at the tail end of Saturday's event. Proceeds from registrations will benefit youth programs offered through the Department of Recreation and Community Services, according to officials.

Baldwin Park Unified Bolsters Commitment to College Prep Program

BALDWIN PARK - Thirtyeight members of Baldwin Park Unified's Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID) team came together this summer for three days of intensive training to strengthen the collegereadiness program's offerings at two District high schools, two junior high schools and a middle school. The teachers and administrators attended the AVID Summer Institute at the Anaheim Convention Center in Anaheim, splitting their days between learning essential curriculum and developing Baldwin Park AVID action plans for the year. The training represents the second year of increased investment in the AVID program by Baldwin Park Unified, which had been forced by recession-era budget cuts to reduce annual training efforts.

Education: Billions Headed for November Ballot. Who Will Pay It Off?

By Lois M. Shade

Former Mayor of Glendora

One sentence in Consumer Watchdog's recent publication, Brown's Dirty Hands, caught my attention quickly but also raised a bevy of questions and issues in my mind.

The passage of Prop. 30 in November 2012(Brown's temporary tax initiative) cemented Brown's national reputation as a budget-balancing governor after the election, likely saving the Brown Administration from presiding over persistent state budget problems and economic turmoil." (p.5)

Backtracking here a bit - Prop 30, Temporary Taxes to Fund Education & Guaranteed Local Public Safety Funding passed providing legally required funding to education in 2012 and guaranteed local governments receive tax revenues annually to fund program responsibilities transferred to them by the state in 2011. In the mailings I got, it seemed a choice that I had to make - did I want cuts in education or law enforcement or did I want to pass a tax increase.

Prop 30 provided a temporary 7-year personal income tax increase on earnings of more than $250,000 and would expire in 2019; and, it also provided for a quarter cent sales tax increase set to expire this year. Various sources estimated this proposition would raise/raised about $6 billion a year, but the required state audit of that fund to ensure the legal requirement of 89% to K-12 education and 11% to community colleges has been met, has not yet occurred in the state controller's office. Estimated time arrival for that audit: October just before Nov ember 8thelection. Prop 30, even before it expires, will have a proposed replacement initiative on the November 8th ballot in the form of Prop. 55. That proposition allows the sales tax to expire but provides for a 12-year extension of the personal income tax that would not expire until 2030. The Medi-Cal is $23 billion out of the Legislative Analyst Office (LAO) had projected in July 2012 revenue from Prop 30 would begin to taper off in FY 2017-18 and 2018-19. With no audit done as required, I'd be guessing the LAO's projections are accurate and Prop 55 is the plan-ahead strategy by Governor Brown to maintain his budget guru status.

Prop 55, Tax Extension to Fund Education and Healthcare, would continue to fund education, but would additionally fund health care through the Medi-Cal Program, on a formula basis, that serves the 13 million residents or an estimated 1/3 of the California population. Additionally, this increased income to the state, once basic needs of education and health care are met, would be used for debt payments and to fund the required budget reserves or "rainy-day fund". Currently the California education budget is $50 billion to meet its legal obligations and the cost for general fund.

California Legislative Analyst Office, in its analysis of Prop 55, points out what I think are considerable flaws in this initiative:

- Director of Finance, the governor's appointed main budget advisor, will determine whether General Fund revenues exceed the required education spending.
- If revenues exceed these spending amounts, 50% of the excess, up to $2 billion, would be allocated to Medi-Cal, and that could be reduced in "difficult budget years".
- Roughly ½ of the revenue estimated at $4 to $9 billion would go to education. (That's a pretty wide "guesstimate" for

• Remainder of those dollars would go to debt payments unidentified to me and reserves.

Prop 38, on the ballot at the same time as Prop 30, failed but would have provided 60% of the revenue collected to various education programs and 30% to paying off state debt using that Personal Income Tax increase.

Proposition 51 is also on the November 8th ballot and is ask-

- ing for a $9 billion school bond: • $3 billion for the construction of new school facilities;
- $500 million for providing school facilities for charter schools;
- $3 billion for the modernization of school facilities;
- $500 million for providing facilities for career technical education programs; and
- $2 billion for acquiring, constructing, renovating, and equipping community college facili-

That $9 billion will cost about $17.6 billion to pay off both the principal ($9 billion) and interest ($8.6 billion) on the bonds. Payments are estimated to be about $500 million per year for 35 years with the payments escalating at the end. That means as my grandchildren get ready to retire, that bond might be almost

According to Ballotpedia, Governor Jerry Brown has voiced his opposition to Prop 51 quoted on their website:

"I am against the developers' $9 billion bond. It's a blunderbuss effort that promotes sprawl and squanders money that would be far better spent in low-income communities." So far, $8.5 million has been raised by three PACs – a building industry, community college coalition, and Tom Torlakson's PAC. - all in support of this facilities improvement measure.

Ballotpedia shows a list of 40 school bonds on the June 7th ballot ranging from $4 billion to $950 million with a variety of charges per $100,000 that will land on property tax bills if approved.

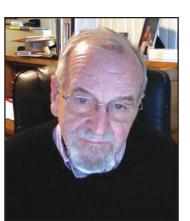

It is reported Los Angeles County has 28 school bond measures proposed for the November ballot; and, Orange County already has 10 school bonds set for the November election.

Is Our Choice Between Two Crooked Candidates?

Among the drumbeats that keep pounding away at the American electorate is the demoralizing suggestion that we are stuck with a sour choice between two prevaricating and despised candidates for President. The only real option is said to be between what is bad and what is worse. Many people are considering voting for one-a bad option-so that the other one-a worse option-is not elected.

My position has been clear. Trump is probably the most unworthy candidate ever to be nominated by a major political party. His election would not only be tragic, but would also serve as evidence of an emotional and intellectual disease deeply embedded in the American psyche.

Joe Scarborough was a fourtime elected Republican congressman, and currently is a political commentator for NBC. He is certainly no wild-eyed leftist, and after Trump's suggestion that people with guns should solve the Hillary problem, here is how he put it in the Washington Post:

- 1. "The Secret Service should interview Donald Trump and ask him to explain his threatening comments.
- 2. Paul Ryan and every Republican leader should denounce in the strongest terms their GOP nominee suggesting conservatives could find the Supreme Court more favorable to their desires if his political rival was assassinated.

3. Paul Ryan and every Republican leader should revoke their endorsement of Donald Trump. At this point, what else could Trump do that would be worse than implying the positive impact of a political assassination?

4. The Republican Party needs to start examining quickly their options for removing the Republican nominee.

A bloody line has been crossed that cannot be ignored. At long last, Donald Trump has left the Republican Party few options but to act decisively and get this political train wreck off the tracks before something terrible hap-

As for Hillary Clinton, she has been trusted as First Lady of the United States; trusted by the people of New York who twice elected her to the Senate; and trusted even by Barak Obama, who selected her to be his secretary of state. In that demanding job she has traveled throughout a dangerous world and has been consistently trusted.

So how is it now, according to many accounts, Hillary cannot be trusted and is incapable of telling the truth? From Travelgate, the death of Vince Foster, the Whitewater episode, the Benghazi tragedy, to the e-mail debacle, Hillary has been accused of being duplicitous. Every one of these occurrences has been thoroughly investigated, and little has been found. Now the Republican opposition, which is intent on destroying her, has been reduced to finding some tangential e-mail connection between the Clinton Foundation and the State Department. Having no real issues, they continue to probe the one area that has proved productive for them-e-mails!

For 25 years her right-wing adversaries have kept the drumbeat going. She has occasionally been circuitous and has sometimes muddied issues about which she should have been clearer, but long ago she admitted that using one server for public and private mail was a bad mistake. However, many Ameriincluding cans, progressives, believe her to be untrustworthy because that accusation has been and is still continually repeated. They may not repeat the scurrilous mantra of "crooked Hillary," but they've been infected by it. When you hear something often enough--as every advertiser knows--- you are tempted to buy it.

Too many people I know tell me they will vote for her realizing that she has a very unsavory history. I have disagreed with her over her too-hawkish behavior and her refusal to hear the cries of the Palestinians, but on major issue after issue she is solidly in line with the best progressive thinking, and given a Congress that decides to cooperate instead of block, she will lead this nation in dealing responsibly and creatively with a score of domestic and international quagmires.

We have rarely had a candidate with the wide-ranging experience and the intellectual depth that we find in Hillary. The Democratic Party, including the great preponderance of those in the Bernie wing, is solidly behind her. She is not the lesser of two evils, and progressives need to quit thinking and saying that we are stuck with a candidate who cannot tell the truth.

Is Hillary Clinton Medically Unfit to Serve?

by Jane M. Orient, M.D.

Some Republicans as well as Democrats have used the term "unfit to serve" about Donald Trump, based on things he said, and what they assume he might have meant.

Surely his style can be abrasive and blunt. But a huge number of ordinary Americans cheer him, probably because he said what they were thinking. They don't have an evil, ungenerous, uncompassionate, racist, bigoted heart, and they assume he is like them. They are sick of being pushed around and disrespected by the politically correct crowd who are hypersensitive about almost everything--but constantly spew profane, obscene, and vulgar language that demeans American and Christian culture and blames it for all the world's

In the past, others have spoken forcefully and unapologetically about things nobody wanted to hear about: Winston Churchill, for example. A lot of proper Englishmen thought he was unfit until they saw the truth of his words.

With Trump, some people are even tossing out psychiatric diagnoses. But keep in mind that a lot of them think conservatives, Christians, and pro-life advocates are crazy too.

Strangely silent is the mainstream media about the fitness of the Democrat candidate. And causes for concern are growing. Without considering any statements she has made or positions she has taken, and without presuming to speculate on psychiatric diagnoses, one can point to certain observations.

There's the photograph of Secretary Clinton's difficulty walking up some steps. Now inability to climb stairs does not necessarily disqualify a person for public office. However, neither she nor people with her apparently anticipated a problem. The people helping her seem to be preventing a fall. Did she simply trip? Or was it a seizure or a

Videos widely circulated on the internet are, if authentic, very concerning. One shows prolonged, inappropriate laughter; another, strange head movements. In a third, she appeared momentarily dazed and confused, and lost her train of thought. Reportedly, she has a volcanic temper. (This is probably not new.)

A man who stays close to her, who is reportedly not a Secret Service officer, was photographed carrying something in his hand that purportedly might have been an autoinjector of Valium.

While we don't have Mrs. Clinton's medical records, it is widely stated that she experienced a fall that caused a concussion. Since then, she is sometimes seen wearing eyeglasses with prisms, as are used to correct double vision.

Concussions often cause traumatic brain injury, which might not be visualized on standard CT or MRI. Many of our veterans who experienced blast injury from improvised explosive devices suffer from it. These are some symptoms: difficulty thinking, attention deficits, confusion, memory problems, frustration, mood swings, emotional outbursts, agitation, headaches, difficulties with balance and coordination, and seizures. Many veterans with such an injury cannot hold a job or interact normally with their families.

Obviously, it would be very dangerous for a person subject to symptoms like this to be dealing with foreign leaders or making critical decisions. The President of the United States may have to make world-changing decisions on a moment's notice. For example, should we launch nucleararmed missiles? And if the Commander in Chief is confused, who will make the call?

The U.S. has had problems with incompetent leaders in the White House before. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson (the "First First Lady President") was effectively President for the last year and a half of her husband's term after he suffered a disabling stroke. She managed to conceal the seriousness of Wilson's condition for a long time. This was the reason for the 25th amendment to provide for replacing the President in case of disability.

While the U.S. government knows more and more about our medical histories and other aspects of our lives, many details about the President are a secret. The press appears to care more about the tax returns of Republican candidates than the medical records of Democrat Presidents or candidates. And Secretary Clinton's public appearances have been rather carefully controlled.

Is it conceivable that Hillary supporters would really be voting for Huma Abedin, Clinton's top aide, or for the First First Husband President, Bill Clinton? The American people are entitled to know the objective medical facts about Secretary Clinton.

What Kind of People are They?

By George Ogden

As we look around, you can't help but ask, "What kind of people are they?"

We see horrible fires going on with homes evacuated. If the residents are lucky enough to still have a home when they return, they find their home has been looted. Personal property and vehicles that were left behind during the evacuations were stolen from the homes.

There have been some looters arrested. I have to ask, what happened to "Looters Will Be Shot on Sight!"? Why do the tax payers have to be victims as well to prosecute these people when it could have been solved the old

These people don't deserve to be victims again. They are victims of the fire when they have to leave, then to return, to find their home destroyed and looted. Very sad.

George Ogden That's just the way it is!

Back in the old days, horses were main transportation for farmers, ranchers and just about anybody who needed to get around. The horses got people where they needed to go because in most cases, it takes them to work, stores and doctors. It was part of the "Bread and Butter" equations.

Today, it is our cars, pickup trucks and SUVs that is our main transportation. Again, part of the "Bread and Butter" of today. Lose either one, and your life style becomes compromised.

Need to ask what has changed here? Both were needed transportation to maintain one's life and health. Back in the old days, you steal a horse and you hang for it. They executed horse thieves. The horse was replaced by vehicles and when you steel one of these and get caught, you get a slap on the wrist and nothing really happens. The victims however, end up with the same results... a loss to their life style.

So, I have to ask you this. If we were to change the law where a car thief gets executed for stealing a vehicle, I wonder how quickly vehicle thefts would drop off. Same with looting, "hang em all" should be the motto for these

However, our lenient laws will put these people back out in the street so they can do it to us

Company Buybacks

For 20 years buybacks have had a significant and growing influence on share prices. When buybacks surge, as they did in 2007 and 2014, they drive the market higher. And when they dry up, as they did in 2008 and for a brief time in the first quarter of this year, they can cause the market to stumble.

The widening gap between growth of the S&P 500 share index and total S&P 500 market capitalization is at least partially a reflection of how the pace of buybacks has accelerated in the past two years. This makes analyzing stock prices in relation to market capitalization (rather than share prices) integral to understanding the health of the equity market and the pace of overall wealth creation. After all, higher share prices do not necessarily translate into more wealth if there are fewer outstanding

If a company is new and growing, investment makes more sense than distribution through buybacks or dividends. Shareholders favor investment because they can get more value from company growth than they can find elsewhere. There are fewer worthwhile investment opportunities for mature companies, however. Mature corporations tend to shift from investment to distribution, allowing shareholders to put cash to work in other ways. Pension funds, insurance companies, and seniors living on a fixed income value distribution through dividends as a way to gain more certainty when balancing income and expenses, creating demand for companies that offer a stable, fixed dividend. A stock repurchase, on the other hand, is a more flexible way to distribute profits to shareholders, as excess cash can be dispersed on a one-time basis.

In a 2014 study, Brookings economists Ian Hathaway and Robert Litan found what many of us have experienced anecdotally: The economy is increasingly dominated by mature firms. Over the 22-yearspan from 1992, the share of firms aged 16 years or more increased from 23% to 34%. These firms share of employment increased from 60% to 72%. No wonder buybacks have increased. A firm might also repurchase stock to shrink cash on its balance sheet, reducing the likelihood of a takeover. Activist investors often push firms to buy back stock as well, arguing that cash sitting on the balance sheet will be more productive (or safe) in the hands of shareholders. More menacingly, a drop in the supply of shares gives a boost to earnings per share (EPS), a frequent incentive barometer for corporate stock options and executive pay. For these reasons and more, companies in the S&P 500 spent $161.4 billion buying back shares in Q1, the second-most on record (after Q3 2007). Buybacks were up 12% from Q4 2015, and for the 12 months ending in March 2016, a record $589.4 billion was spent repurchasing outstanding shares, beating the previous 2007 high. Since 2005, companies have spent roughly $5 trillion buying their own shares.

While often beneficial for investors, buybacks have some negative effects on the overall economy. Since interest paid on business debt is tax-deductible, firms cut their tax bills by issuing debt to buy shares. Now, not only is the firm investing less, the government has less revenue to spend, too.

Bottom Line: Theory suggests companies repurchase stock when it is undervalued or when balance sheets are so awash with cash they choose to distribute, hardly an economic concern. But if history provides a lesson, buybacks rarely signal an undervalued stock market. Rather, it seems some companies use low interest rates to finance stock buybacks, even when shares are rich, replacing equity with debt on the balance sheet and increasing risk in the financial system. At the same time, they reduce investment in the real economy. If the low cost of money fails to spur long-term investment, instead providing the means to maneuverer balance sheets to reduce total shareholder equity, it becomes one more reason inflation has remained under target, wages have been relatively stagnant, investment tepid, the wealth divide exacerbated, and the Fed remains reluctant to normalize interest

While it is good that about half of the people who are retired live beyond the average life expectancy, it also creates several risks, such as being unable to protect your standard of living, the ability to pay for increased healthcare costs beyond what Medicaid (MediCal in California) doesn't cover, losing purchasing power due to inflation, and unplanned-for long term health care cost. In fact, thanks to advances in healthcare, it's not uncommon for a couple, age 65, for one or both of them to live

What is meant by the "annual reset" on an annuity?

Each year (on the purchasedate anniversary) the amount (principal plus interest earned that year) in the fixed or fixedindexed annuity contract is lock in. That amount becomes the new contract balance that you are guaranteed you cannot lose. Even if the index goes down, your annuity's contract balance does not go down. The worstcase scenario is that your balance stays the same. Conversely, if the market goes up, you'll only get part of the increase. This limit is called a "cap." With annual reset, your money does not have to make up for losses, yet can participate in gains.

Blood Donations Urgently Needed In The Final Weeks Of Summer

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY - donate blood or platelets with the The American Red Cross urges blood donors to give in the final weeks of summer to help overcome a critical summer blood shortage.

The summer months are among the most challenging times of years to collect enough blood and platelet donations to meet patient needs. Many regular donors delay giving while they take vacation and participate in summer activities. The need for blood doesn't take a summer break though. Two summers ago, Kelly Griswold was involved in a lifethreatening jet-ski accident while vacationing. She was airlifted to a hospital and underwent three surgeries over the course of two days. Griswold, a blood donor prior to the accident, suddenly knew what it was like to be on the receiving end of blood donations. "Without the support of people that can give blood, the ones who have needed it would not be here today - myself included."

Donors of all blood types are urgently needed to give now to help ensure blood is available for patients in need. Those who donated blood earlier this summer may be eligible to donate again. Blood can be safely donated every 56 days, and double red cells can be donated every 112 days. In appreciation for helping to save lives, those who come to

Red Cross now through Aug. 31 will receive a $5 Amazon.com gift card claim code.

Chinese Student Delegation Arrives At Duarte High School For Three Week Cultural Exchange Visit

Thirty students visiting from Ningbo Binhai International Cooperative High School arrive at Duarte High School on August 22, 2016. (Photos courtesy of the Duarte Unified School District.)

DUARTE - They'll be speaking Mandarin on the campus of Duarte High School for three weeks, starting August 22, thanks to a program that is bringing 30 Chinese students from Zhejiang Province (near Shanghai) for a cultural exchange visit.

The 30 students are visiting from Ningbo Binhai International Cooperative High School and chose Duarte for its diverse population, and its proximity to the large Asian community in the east San Gabriel Valley.

"They're coming here because they wanted as much of an authentic American experience as possible," said Kevin Morris, Duarte USD's director of college and career services and principal of alternative education. "They looked at different districts on the internet and they liked what we represent and they also liked the proximity to the City of Hope." The 30 students, 15 males and 15 females, will be accompanied by a group leader and two teachers, and will experience a sampling of truly American events during their August 22-September 9 stay. Included are a Friday night Falcons football game, a DHS volleyball game, a pep rally, and a performance by the Duarte High choir.

They'll also attend classes at Duarte High, pairing up with their host students from the DHS Mandarin classes, as well as the school's Link Crew leadership program. They will bring their own electronic devices (phones, tablets, laptops) to class and learn about the American way of education, although they will not be expected to turn in homework after class.

"One of the goals is to allow our students and the visiting students to experience a true cultural exchange, without any disruption of the educational process," said Morris.

During their stay here, the students will live with families who regularly host international students as part of various exchange programs. Morris said each of these families will host 2-to-4 students, and will provide transportation to and from school as well as many of the activities.

In addition to the athletic events and other events on the campus, the students will also visit the internationally renowned City of Hope, Azusa Pacific University and Citrus College. The visit will culminate with a performance by the Chinese students, and the traditional gift exchange with their host students.

Morris said the decision to pair up Duarte High and the Chinese students originated during the superintendency of Dr. Terry Nichols, and was brought to fruition after Dr. Allan Mucerino became superintendent. A number of Duarte administrators and teachers have been involved in scheduling the visit, including director of educational services Michael Chavez, and Mandarin teacher Jessie Wong.

"Ms. Wong is super excited because this will spotlight the successes of the Mandarin program, and she will be able to build the program and build interest by planning a future reciprocal trip to China," explained Morris.

When the likelihood of the exchange trip became a reality, Morris contacted an administrator with the Chino Valley School District, which had hosted students from the same exchange group in the past, and learned a lot about how to handle this type of major undertaking.

"He graciously walked me through the process," said Morris. "He was very pleased with the efforts of Susan Tao and the Ivy League Group which sponsors the students. He showed me the ins and outs and how to avoid is-

The Duarte administrative team is hopeful that this visit could lead to additional visits focusing on Mandarin students at the lower levels, possibly including the IB program and Mandarin students at Maxwell Elementary, and other district schools.

"We hope this is the beginning of a cultural exchange program for all of our students."

West Covina Officer Benitez Returns to Work after Being Shot by Suspect

By George Ogden

WEST COVINA - Officer Kenney Benitez returns to work at the West Covina Police Department. Officer Benitez was involved in a shooting with a suspect 3 months ago and was shot and is now returning to work and ready to hit the streets once again. "A true hero and warrior!" was a comment stated at his first briefing. The briefing was attended by many of the department personnel to show their support for Kenny.

Three months ago, after a week long search for the suspect, the 47-year-old man was found in Valinda, has been charged with attempted murder of an officer in the shooting. He was identified as Jose Luis Chavez. He has not yet entered a plea. There have been a number of postponements.

Chavez was stopped by the officer while walking with a bicycle with a woman on May 20 on Badillo Street just west of Sunset Ave. As Officer Benitez approached the two, the suspect pulled a gun and started shooting, trying to kill the officer. Officer Benitez was hit in the chest as the bullet missed the protective vest. Benitez was able to return fire and hit the suspect. The suspect then turned and ran. The female started running as soon as the shooting started.

At the time, a containment area was set up and it was believed he was holed up in a house where he often stayed on Yaleton Avenue. SWAT entered the home the next day he was at the location. He was able to flee before the containment area was set up. He was arrested a week later in Valinda and taken to the hospital and was treated for a gunshot wound to his arm. Bail was set at $2,000,000.

Officer Kenney Benitez returns to work at the West Covina Police Department after being shot 3 months ago. Benitez is happy to be back and happy to alive.
