AZUSA - There was Christmas music coming from a home in Azusa. It was Tuesday December 21st. Close to Gladstone and Azusa Avenue, the residence of Yolanda Rodriguez-Pena, was decorated with Christmas lights and buzzing with activity. Hundreds of children and their parents were seen participating in face painting and arts and crafts. APU Azusa Scholars from Azusa Pacific University volunteered for this occasion and they were seen guiding the little children in making Christmas ornaments and decorations.

Fortunately, the weather was just right for an outdoor event, not too cold. There were hot dogs and hot chocolate drinks served by volunteers from APU, who were enjoying every minute of what they were doing. All the decorations, materials and refreshments were donated.

Then the dancing started.... little girls, probably ten years old, then boys who were a little older, and then the beautiful High School girls from various schools in the area. They all performed Mexican Folklorica type dances, in long flowing colorful dresses, they tapped their feet to the delight of a glowing audience. Yes, there was pride in the air, pride to be Mexican American and to be able to show their culture and enjoy it during the Christmas season.

Although Santa Claus was expected at 6 p.m., it was a little later that he appeared. He had a hard time finding parking! Santa was none other than the City of Azusa's favorite Mayor Joe Rocha. He walked in to the cheers of the children, walked through the crowd and sat on a couch, where he would pose for photos with the children and hand out presents.

This fantastic event was started by Yolanda Rodriguez-Pena and her husband Michael, who passed away in 2009. The Posada Para Los Ninos, which means Christmas for the Children, has been held for the past sixteen years.

This is an event that the children in the area and other areas, look forward to attending. Yolanda works for the Board of Education, Azusa Unified School District.

Yolanda Peña (seated on the left side of Santa) and some of the volunteers pose for their yearly souvenir photo after the "Posada Para Los Niños" held in memory of Yolanda's husband Michael.

A Posada is not complete without Folklorico dancers and children sat mesmerized quietly watching the dancers swing the hem of their dresses and listening to the Folklorico music.

Mexican American Golf Association Annual Toy Drive

WEST COVINA - On December 11 MAGA (Mexican American Golf Association (MAGA) celebrated the installation of its new officers with a golf tournament and lunch at Los Serranos Golf and Country Club for its members and guests. It was also the last day of MAGA's annual toy drive. It collected three SUV loads of toys to be distributed by American Legion Post 790 at 330 N. Azusa Avenue, West Covina on December 17. John Perez, who is a member of MAGA and American Legion Post 790, made it possible to transport all the toys from the Country Club to the Post in West Covina.

by MAGA representing an incredible outpouring of love, kindness and generosity by MAGA's members for the children in San Gabriel Valley. The secret used by MAGA for collecting so many toys was to allow its members to lower their score in the golf tournament by one point for each toy donated with a limit of three points/toys per member.

Baldwin Park's Central Elementary Leads Schools in Collections for City's Annual Christmas Food Basket Program

BALDWIN PARK – Central Elementary School once again topped all city schools in collecting canned goods for the City of Baldwin Park's annual Christmas Food Basket Program, which provided food to residents in need this holiday season.

Central, one of 11 Baldwin Park Unified schools participating in the drive, collected 5,260 cans during the effort. The figure – nearly double the number Central raised in 2015 – may stem from a competition created by student leaders that awarded the top class in each grade with playground equipment and the top students with a special lunch with the principal.

"I'm so proud of our students at Central and all of our schools that helped collect food for the city's neediest residents," Superintendent Froilan N. Mendoza said. "These efforts teach students to appreciate the challenges faced by members of our community, engendering empathy and compassion."

Other participating schools include De Anza, Elwin, Foster,

Students at Baldwin Park Unified's Central Elementary School collected nearly twice as many cans of food for an annual holiday food drive as they did in 2015 after student leaders created an incentive program.

Geddes, Heath and Walnut elementary schools, Holland and Olive middle schools, and Jones and Sierra Vista junior high schools.

The city's food basket program was launched nearly two decades ago and distributes up to 400 baskets each year. Recipients – who are limited to one per family and must show proof of income and city residency – receive a box filled with produce, chicken, tortillas, cheese, apples and other fare.

Primary contents of the baskets are donated by Navidad en el Barrio, a nonprofit organization, and are supplemented with the canned goods donated by Baldwin Park Unified families and staff. Each basket can weigh as much as 50 pounds. Baskets were distributed on Dec. 10.

The Green's Family Project

LA VERNE - The Green family of Corona made a family project out of this year's gift wrap party at the Haynes Family of Programs in La Verne -their first time at this event, although they have supported the kids at Haynes in other ways for several years. Jeff Green, who grew up in La Verne, became aware of the Haynes Family of Programs, then known as LeRoy Boys Home, because he went to high school in the 1980s with a friend who was resident of the La Verne facility. Haynes Family of Programs served more than 1,200 clients last year (800 youth and more than 400 family members Jeff Green, his wife Laurie and their oldest daughter, Courtney. or caregivers). For more in-formation, contact Haynes at site at www.leroyhaynes.org.

Speed and Alcohol May Be Involved in Azusa Crash

By George Ogden

AZUSA - The 911 operators received a call just after 4 AM Thursday morning December 22 about a woman yelling for help along the 2000 block of San Gabriel Canyon Road in Azusa. Police officers arrived and soon found a woman from La Puente who had been involved in a rollover traffic collision where her 2014 Toyota Corolla upside down in a river alongside the

The woman, who was not identified, was said to be a 25-yearold from La Puente.

It appears that speed and alcohol were responsible for the early morning accident. The vehicle left the roadway and flipped over and rolled down into the river. The woman was able to free herself from the vehicle and swim to a nearby bank where she started screaming for help. The screams were heard by a resident in the Mountain Cove community near the accident scene. A Sheriff's helicopter along with their search and rescue team was used to rescue the woman who was taken by ambulance to the hospital with moderate injuries.

She will most likely be charged with felony drunk driving and will have to appear in court. The accident is still under investigation and anyone that may have seen anything is requested to contact the Azusa Police Department with any information that you may have.

Family's Car Filled With Children's Christmas Gifts Stolen in West Covina

By George Ogden

WEST COVINA - On Dec. 23rd, Gale Sepulveda along with his daughter and grandchild left early Friday morning to go to Target in the Eastland shopping center of West Covina. They got there just as the store was going to open and they got a prime parking spot near the front door. Their plan was to do all their Christmas shopping for his daughter's kids and to make sure that all his grandchildren had a great Christmas.

For many, money is tight. Recently his daughter and son-inlaw bought a good running 1999 Honda for the family. They were lucky as they were able to make payments on the car from a private party, a person that they know well. They quickly got insurance on the car, public liability and public damage, which is required by law. They made their first payment on the car and it looked like things were going to go well for them for the coming year.

They spent a lot of time in Target and bought all kinds of gifts for the kids. This looked like it was going to be a great Christmas for this family.

They purchased all the Christmas gifts and left the store with a cart full of items. They placed all the items into the car and headed out for another store near Target.

They made a couple of purchases and were returning to the car to get ready to wrap the gifts for the children. As Sepulveda, his daughter and grandchild approached the car, they soon realized the car was no longer there. The car with all the Christmas gifts had been stolen. They quickly called the police and the West Covina police officers went and reviewed the video from the store surveillance. They soon found a male suspect who appeared to be following them around inside the store. He checked out about the same time they did and bought one item with a gift card. He watched as the family placed all the gifts in the trunk of the car and leave the car again to do more shopping. He soon approached the car and tripped the lock, punched out the ignition and stole the car. The police have an excellent video and hopefully they will soon release this so the suspect can get

Sadly, the Christmas gifts are gone, and so was the car which was not insured for theft. The girl and her husband will still have to pay for a car they do not have if it is not recovered. The other sad thing was that the child safety seat was also in the car to transport the baby safely in the vehicle. The manager that day at Target heard that somebody was going to pick up the family but they no longer have a car seat for the baby. What happened next was awesome. The manager took the family to the area were child car seats were located in the store and had them pick out one of the best ones there and the manager of the store paid for it himself.

As of yet, the car has not been recovered. But this act of kindness from Target does not go without a great deal of thanks and gratitude for helping out this family in need at a very horrible time during this holiday season. Thank you Target at the Eastland shopping center.

Trump On a Roll While California Slides Down Hill

California gave Hillary Clinton the win when it came to the popular vote in the Presidential election and she became the fifth presidential candidate to win the popular vote and lose the Electoral College vote in the history of our country.

Imagine the chaos created if one state could have control over the Presidential election and no doubt would continue to do that as long as the rest of the states put up with that control. In short, our founding fathers foresaw and chose to prevent that unfair situation and created the Electoral College.

Sore losers, for want of a less lady-like term, decided to riot, burn the American flag, voice obscene blasts against the newly and fairly elected President and generally disrupt the norm of the day across the country. It is one's right to picket, protest and demonstrate to promote their opinion. But decidedly, at least in my opinion, it is time to change the behavior and attitude we've seen in response to the Trump election. When I figure out what these young liberals are thinking, why they think they are entitled to perform in this fashion, and what their expectations are I will let you know. Or if you know, please

California this year, appeared on several fronts to be lost, not only on the conservative front but on a myriad of other issues including the financial end.

Wage increases

Lt. Gov. Gavin Newsom is planning on running for governor in 2018. He is using the $15 an hour minimum wage policy to build his base suggesting the San Francisco's boost in wages is the success he can build statewide. Business owner of Roosevelt Tamale Parlor, a popular Mexican eatery [in San Francisco] that went out of business recently, put it, "There's only so much you can charge for tamales." Unfortunately, that might be where we are headed if government continues to try to run private business. Run it right out of business or out of the state.

Energy issues

Gov. Jerry Brown promoted and signed legislation that requires green house gases be reduced to the 1990 levels by 2030 but has anyone seen a report that says that is doable or cost-permissible. Someone forgot to tell me what it will also cost to drive our cars, ride mass transit, cost for food and perhaps with businesses proposing to abandon the State of California, harder to find

Keep an eye on Tom Steyer, a billionaire contributor to the democrat party, looking for either a gubernatorial run or a seat to protect his solar energy investments. You will remember him during the presidential campaign promoting green house gas solutions through his renewable energy initiative. I would suspect more will pop up on this one.

School Bonds

The voters of California supported a $9 billion state bond for schools that will end up costing the taxpayers almost $18 billion by the time it is paid off in 35 years with $500,000 coming out of the general fund each year and escalating towards the end of the bond. Those opposed were afraid that general fund payout would impact law enforcement. It obviously will have an impact somewhere.

On top of that, over 40 local school bonds were proposed for district schools with an estimated passage rate of 90%. I haven't counted up those that passed yet but typically those bonds are for 25 to 30 years depending on charges to the taxpayers' property tax bill and what's palatable for passage. Reported was the highest of $1.5 billion in Long

Lois M. Shade Former Mayor of Glendora

Beach for a K-12 district. I don't think I will be around to see any of these paid off but I'm sure my grandkids will be and thinking what in the world were those people thinking.

Bullet Train

Gov. Brown's Bullet Train, better known as the train to nowhere, it appears is doing just that ... going nowhere. In 2008, the High Speed Rail Authority requested the state legislature put Prop 1A on the ballot, a $9.9 billion proposal for construction of a high speed rail infrastructure system in the state. It was approved by the voters. In 2009, the Obama Administration provided the Authority $3 billion additional money to bolster up the efforts for the project. The $68.5 billion project, originally projected at $33 billion to run the full length of the state, had expected to receive $40 billion in more transportation funding from the $305 billion federal transportation bill last time. That didn't happen. The L. A. Times on December 24th reported a quiet request from the Rail Authority to U.S. Department of Transportation of another $15 billion, a request that was denied. Over budget, reduced project that won't run the length of the state, reduced revenue from cap and trade, polished off with charges of mismanagement and that's where the funding for the train is today. A whole lot of money spent that most of the taxpayers I talk to wish had been spent on water and water infrastructure. Water

Many of us go way back to the days of the Peripheral Canal proposal ... can't remember ... years ago to provide more water to the south and to the Central Valley. We've not been aggressive enough in our water storage capacity for the bread basket of California – the Central Valley, an area that was estimated to lose $1.84 billion in 2015 and 10,000 jobs due to the lack of water. I hate to look, but will check 2016 numbers when they come out. And, those loses, of course, do affect the California budget.

In the middle of all this, U.S. Geologic Survey says: Sinking of the earth is occurring anywhere from 9 inches to a foot year in the San Joaquin Valley with serious concerns over sinking in western Sacramento Valley. State Water Board's major concern: As the ground sinks there is and will be damage to infrastructure like the canals, roads, river banks and even private property that could end up costing billions of dollars to repair.

Gov. Jerry Brown proposes to solve the problem with the Twin Tunnels or WaterFix project. This proposal requires a pair of 35mile long, 40-foot wide tunnels, 150 feet below the ground to get water from the Sacramento River south and to the Central Valley while protecting the delta area and fish habitat. The Mercury News reported the Brown administration estimates a cost of $17 million while a member of Westlands Water District and a Citigroup bond consultant said that including long-term financing, the project would cost between $51 billion and $67 billion. The Governor seems to have a problem getting projects in on time and on budget. Or even projecting an accurate budget. And, of course, if this proposal goes forward, expect more bonds to be

California has some major issues to face this next year. How much help can they expect to receive from D.C. with a conservative Republican President, Republican House and Republican Senate when every time this state runs to Washington it is with their hand out for money for poorly planned projects, over-budget projects and continues to put up walls to reasonably negotiate on matters of security and proper expenditure of hard-earned taxpayer money? We'll see!

Observations From Far Outside The Box

By Ralph E. Shaffer

ON POLITICS:

* Liberals spent upwards of $5 million on disappointing recount efforts in three states. Conservatives should have encouraged them to pay for a recount in every state that Trump won.

* Trump promised to "drain the swamp" but his cabinet and staff appointments are turning it into a quagmire.

ECONOMY:

* The Obama administration brags about the great number of jobs created during his two terms. Those jobs came because of the massive unemployment that worsened in the early years of his presidency.

* Now that Indiana has promised $700 million in tax incentives to Carrier to stay put, how many other Indiana companies will announce they plan to move to Mexico?

* Are multi-million dollar bond issues to house the homeless actually handouts to landlords, construction companies, labor unions and bondholders?

ENVIRONMENT:

* A careful study of Southern California's historic rainfall pattern reveals that we really aren't in a drought. We simply are in a string of "less wet" years.

* Southern California will give a fortune to the backyard inventor who discovers how to break down the high pressure ridges responsible for those "less wet"

* Where did all the "single use" plastic bags go, the ones that grocers had on hand when the bag ban passed? Better check the local landfill.

VETERANS AFFAIRS:

* Why do today's veterans have more trouble returning to civilian life than those who served in WWII or Korea?

* Vets complain about delays in V.A. medical care. They're lucky they aren't dependent on private health insurance, which might deny their claim or charge a big co-pay.

CRIME:

* The great increase in stabbings must be related to increasing restrictions on guns. Isn't it time to add sentence enhancements for the use of a knife? Or will the knife lobby claim "the right to bear arms" covers blades?

* If the NRA would teach gangs to shoot straight fewer innocent bystanders would fall victim to errant bullets.

SYRIAN CIVIL WAR:

* The rebels could have left Aleppo, sparing tens of thousands of civilians the horror they suffered. The rebel slogan must be "Live free or die." But it's civilians doing most of the dying.

ENTERTAINMENT:

* "Hamilton" may be a musical giant but to an older generation the songs are just noise.

* Trump wants to punish those who desecrate the American flag. What would he do to singers who desecrate the National Anthem at a ball game?

* Kirk Douglas, at 100 and with his speech still impaired by a long-ago stroke, speaks more clearly than a lot of healthy, young professional athletes.

NOW FOR THE SPORTS RE-PORT:

* Los Angeles Rams' fans are having a severe case of buyer remorse. Considering the lousy season the team has had, can we send the Rams back to St. Louis?

* Anyone want to buy an unused, brand spanking new stadium in Inglewood? Maybe you could use it for horse racing.

* How could the Washington Huskies earn a place in the championship bowl playoffs instead of USC after that horrible shellacking the Trojans gave them?

Ruining the Holidays for Others

As the holidays have approached, we have seen many ways that people can ruin it for

A lot of drinking goes on during this period, and it never fails. You hear about a horrible DUI accident that has taken the lives or horribly injured innocent people. In many cases, the suspected DUI driver doesn't care what he or she did. The one thing that it does do is ruin this holiday period for other family members of the victim for life. Not just this one season, but for life. Think before you drive drunk or impaired. It's not only you and your family that could be affected, but others that become your victim. If you kill somebody while you are drunk driving, you can be charged with murder.

Think about it. Back in the old days, we could leave our doors unlocked. With the influx of undesirables into our areas this can no longer happen. We have seen this on television and in the news, people can simply steal from you and rob you easily during the holiday season. If you have a package delivered to your home and there are people out there just waiting for this to happen. They follow the UPS and FedEx trucks to your home and when they drop off a package, they simply walk up to your front door and take it. They don't care about you or your family. They are nothing more than criminals. The police are on the

George Ogden

That's just the way it is! lookout for a female Hispanic crew that have been cruising the San Gabriel Valley committing such crimes. In many cases, home security videos have caught people in the act of stealing. They have posted the videos on Facebook. Interestingly, they have resulted in identifications and arrests. So if you have become a victim and you have a video of the theft, post it on your social media, you may be surprised at the end result. In some cases, it could be your neighbor stealing these packages.

And there are those who went shopping for Christmas presents and leave them in their car and when they come back later, they find that their car had been broken into and everything they bought for their family and friends has been stolen. This happens too often.

For those lowlifes out there that commit these crimes, you're lucky to be alive. Today, citizens are taking care of business themselves. Personally, I don't blame them. And for the mothers of these lowlifes, in my opinion you are nothing but dirt bags that did not have the ability to raise children to become responsible people and/or adults. You should be punished as well for giving birth to such garbage that infects our community and victimizes the innocent and their families.

May Satan and his disciples welcome you with open arms!

Grinding Toward Twenty Thousand

Those that are invested in the stock market have an extra measure of holiday cheer that came almost totally unexpectedly. The benchmark U.S. stock indexes have rallied sharply in anticipation of fiscal stimulus measures by the incoming administration of President-elect Donald Trump with the S&P 500 stock index surging over 8% since the November 8th election, due in large part to sectors that are expected to benefit from his proposed pol-

The S&P financial sector has led the way with a gain of more than 17% as bond yields have spiked. Rising rates positively affect Net Interest Income, the lifeblood of a bank's core earnings growth. The yield on the U.S. 10-yr Treasury Note touched 2.62% on December 9th, up from 1.78% the day before the election - a 47% jump in yield. This is a remarkable move - more remarkable than the gains in the stock market.

And then there is the breakout in the greenback. The U.S. Dollar Index (DXY), which trades against the other major currencies in the world, surged from 97.3 to 103.5, and is now at the highest level against the euro in over a decade with the ECB telegraphing a continuation of QE well into 2017. This has currency speculators predicting the euro (currently $1.0435) trading at parity (1:1 with the dollar) as the next target.

There is little argument about what sparks a sudden and tremendous stock market rally such as /hat's up in the Economy?

Economic Analyst & Former Glendora Mayor

we've seen: Rising expectations coupled with pent up demand account for part of the recent rise. Since November 8th investors have poured fuel on the fire of lofty expectations, but while everyone is acting like Trump's policies are already working, he hasn't taken office yet. High expectations, along with improving economic data and the Federal Reserve's recent decision to raise interest rates while signaling a quicker pace of hikes next year, have also served to strengthen the U.S. dollar and push bond yields rapidly higher.

As such, the strong U.S. dollar and rising bond yields could be laying the seeds for a sizeable pause in equity prices once the year-end window dressing by fund managers is complete. No one argues that rising bond yields are beneficial to banks, but they also lift the overall cost of capital for companies and shrink the relative valuation advantage some stocks have over fixed-income investments. The strong dollar and higher interest rates will at some point start to constrain earnings. In my opinion, it's not a matter of "if," but merely

In the first quarter of 2016, large multinational firms blamed the rising U.S. dollar for undercutting earnings. And just when the overall earnings from S&P 500 companies were ending an earnings recession in the latest quarter, the greenback vaults higher, threatening to be a major earnings headwind. Adding to that, stocks appear to be getting pricey, ending last week with a current price-to-earnings ratio for the S&P 500 at 20.8, well above its long-term average of 16.6, according to Thomson Reuters data. That certainly can be resistance that could lead in slowing forward progress.

What is going on is quite normal for a recovering economy and especially one that is forecast to move into a higher gear in a market where technology affords capital to make gigantic adjustments in a rapid time frame. The recent rise in rates and the U.S. dollar are hallmarks of economic growth, provided the increases happen at a steady pace. As long as rates are rising for the right reasons - and the economy is proving that out, for now - it should be a potential positive for equities, because any market pause should be temporary as earnings eventually rise to close the spread on today's high market multiple.

Happy New Year--2017! New Year. New Start.

Live to MAKE and KEEP your New Year's resolutions. Plan ahead to either have a designated driver or take a taxi/Uber/Lyft home. Be aware of your surroundings. Please be safe.

This year I'd like to accomplish my New Year's Resolutions, but it's hard to set goals because in the past I've failed. Any advice?

Most of us don't remember what last year's resolutions were, let alone which ones we accomplished! Why? Lack of a written plan. Write down your goals in a very specific manner. Write down the daily actions necessary, and a date to accomplish this goal. Add WHY you want to accomplish this, and the reward you'll give yourself. Now, give a copy of your written plan to a friend or coach. Read your goals every morning and take action. Every evening review what you did that day and decide to do even better the next day.

I know that I'd save time and money by being more organized, but I cannot seem to get into a routine. Do vou have any recommendations?

"Time is money" - you're right, you can save money by being more organized. Start with a budget. Using your bank and credit card statements, receipts for cash payments, and memory, write down every expense you've had for the last 2 or 3 months. Include cash withdrawals from ATMs. Make special note of semi-annual and annual bills (taxes, car registration, etc.). Take that information and create a

We're concerned that our old company won't transfer our funds to our account with a new advisor in a timely manner. What can we do to make this happen?

Recent changes to laws regarding transfers make it better, in almost all cases, to do a company-to-company transfer. I suggest you grant the new company permission to obtain the transfer from the old company. A good company will do all the follow up to remind the old company about the need to process the transfer request in a timely manner, informing your new agent of their progress. In turn, that good agent will keep you informed.

Why wouldn't my Realtor answer my questions about the legal stuff in the listing contract?

Although a Realtor must know and understand the laws related to real estate contracts, he must not cross the line into "practicing law" by answering questions that go beyond what's printed in those contracts. It is not considered offensive for you to talk with your Realtor's broker to see if your agent is just staying within established boundaries, or if he's being overly cautious.

Q: I'm always being told I need my filters changed. What's that all about?

A: Oil, fuel and air filters all work hard to improve your engine's running condition. When they get dirty, contaminants enter the system. This causes rough idling, loss of acceleration, decreased power and lower gas mileage.

Q: I usually fill up with gasoline when my car is almost on empty. I was told that isn't necessarily a good thing. What's wrong with that?

Q: I have heard that "exchanging" transmission, radiator, brake and power steering systems are a good idea? Why?

A: In all cases, mileage and use means more contaminants and breakdown of important fluid additives which help prevent wear and corrosion. When the systems are exchanged and new, clean fluid is added, you now have the protection of new fluid loaded with additives and without harmful contaminants that are creating excessive wear. A: Call your car care provider as soon as possible. If they think it needs immediate attention they will tell you to bring it in. Safety comes first and they will never advise you to drive a vehicle that needs attention now.

O: What can I do to lower repair costs?

A: Maintain components before they become major problems. This is the key to saving money. When you bring your car in for service, your car care provider can alert you to future repair needs or replacement parts so you can budget accordingly.

SACRAMENTO - With the New Year just around the corner, the California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) wants to inform the public of several new laws or changes to existing law that, unless otherwise noted, take effect on January 1, 2017. The following are summaries of some transportation-related laws taking effect.

Use of Electronic Wireless Devices (AB 1785, Quirk): Driving a motor vehicle while holding and operating a handheld wireless telephone or a wireless electronic communications device will be prohibited, unless the device is mounted on a vehicle's windshield or is mounted/affixed to a vehicle's dashboard or center console in a manner that does not hinder the driver's view of the road. The driver's hand may only be used to activate or deactivate a feature or function on the device with the motion of a single swipe or tap of the driver's finger, but not while holding it. The law does not apply to manufacturer-installed systems that are embedded in a vehicle. Child Safety Seats (AB 53, Garcia): This law requires a parent, legal guardian, or the driver of a motor vehicle to properly secure a child who is younger than 2 years of age in an appropriate rear-facing child passenger restraint system, unless the child weighs 40 or more pounds or is 40 or more inches in height (3 feet, 3 inches).

Motorcycle Lane Splitting (AB 51, Quirk): This law defines "lane splitting" as driving a twowheeled motorcycle between rows of stopped or moving vehicles in the same lane. The law authorizes the California Highway Patrol (CHP) to develop educational guidelines relating to lane splitting in a manner that would ensure the safety of motorcyclists, drivers, and passengers. In developing these guidelines, the law requires the CHP to consult with specified agencies and organizations that have an interest in road safety and motorcyclist behavior.

Vehicle Registration Fee (SB 838, Committee on Budget and Fiscal Review): This law increases the vehicle registration coach from $43 to $53 beginning April 1, 2017. Environmental License

Plate (SB 839, Committee on Budget and Fiscal Review): This law increases the fee for the issuance of Environmental License Plates from $43 to $53, starting July 1, 2017. This law also increases the fee for the renewal, retention, transfer, or duplication of Environmental License Plates (personalized) from $38 to $43, starting January 1, 2017.

Accident Reporting (SB 491, Committee on Transportation and Housing): This law increases the minimum financial threshold for property damage that is required to be reported to the DMV from $750 to $1,000 when a driver is involved in a motor vehicle collision.

Vehicle Safety Recalls (AB 287, Gordon): This law enacts the Consumer Automotive Recall Safety (CARS) Act, and requires the DMV to include a general advisory regarding vehicle recalls and needed repairs on each vehicle registration renewal notice. This law prohibits a dealer or a rental car company from renting or loaning a vehicle with a manufacturer's recall no later than 48 hours after receiving the notice—until the vehicle has been repaired. This law gives a limited exception for a licensed dealer or a rental car company with a fleet of 34 or fewer loaner or rental vehicles. The law authorizes the DMV to suspend or revoke a vehicle dealer's license if they violate the CARS Act.

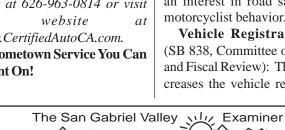

Year of Manufacture License Plates (SB 1429, Nielsen): This law expands the Year of Manufacture (YOM) license plate program to include vehicles and license plates manufactured through 1980. This law benefits owners of vintage motor vehicles who obtain license plates from the year corresponding to the vehicle's model-year, and wish to use those vintage plates in lieu of regular license plates. Such plates are commonly found from different sources, including relatives, garage sales, estate sales, etc. The program will include the blue and yellow license plates issued for use on California mo-fee on every vehicle or trailer tor vehicles from 1970 until

Background Checks of Drivers of Transportation Network Companies (AB 1289, Cooper): A transportation network company (TNC) will be required to perform a comprehensive background check of all their drivers. This law also specifies penalties for a TNC that violates or fails to comply with this requirement. A TNC will be prohibited from contracting with, employing, or retaining a driver if they are registered on the U.S. Department of Justice National Sex Offender public website, has been convicted of specified felonies, or within the previous seven years, has been convicted of a misdemeanor assault or battery, domestic violence, or driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. Any TNC in violation of the specified requirements is subject to a penalty of not less than $1,000 or more than $5,000 for each offense.

Installing Counterfeit or Nonfunctional Air Bags (AB 2387, Mullin): This law prohibits knowingly and intentionally manufacturing, importing, installing, reinstalling, distributing, or selling any device intended to replace an air bag system in any motor vehicle if the device is a counterfeit or nonfunctional air bag system, or does not meet federal safety requirements. The law also prohibits selling, installing, or reinstalling any device that would cause a vehicle's diagnostic system to fail to warn when the vehicle is equipped with a counterfeit, nonfunctional, or a case in which no air bag was installed. This violation is a misdemeanor punishable by a $5,000 fine and/or up to a one year in county jail.

Religious displays of the nativity scene and birth of Christ are placed on front lawns and popular Christmas characters like Santa Claus, Frosty, Rudolph and the Grinch can be seen throughout our many neighborhoods. But the most popular of all Christmas symbols is the Christmas tree. Whether it's a real pine tree, an artificial aluminum tree or a plastic inflatable tree, the image of the Christmas tree is in nearly every household. But the five year-old drought has been difficult for the one-hundred and thirty-year old trees causing them to be weakened and threatened by unforeseen insects, diseases and water deprivation. Funds have been raised to help save the trees and new irrigation drip systems have been installed at the base of each Christmas Tree to help keep them alive for generations to come. Christmas Tree Lane, a California Historical Landmark, will continue to light up our lives, thanks to its many volunteers, to bring the Christmas spirit to all of Southern California.

The lowest branch is 129 feet above the ground and at its base, the General Grant has a diameter of 40 feet making it the widest of all sequoias. It takes 20 people, each with extended arms and holding hands, to completely encircle the tree. It has stood the test of time and its size is a testament to its magnificence. In 1926, President Calvin Coolidge proclaimed the General Grant tree to be the Nation's Christmas Tree, a prestigious honor for a tree in a nation sprinkled with older and taller trees. The recognition kept coming and in 1956 President Dwight D. Eisenhower designated the General Grant as a National Shrine, dedicated to those who gave their lives for our country. Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz led the General Grant tree dedication ceremony in the shadow of the tree itself. It was eleven years after the conclusion of World War II, and the peace and stability of the ancient and majestic General Grant sequoia embodied the true spirit of Christmas, the spirit of peace on and circumstance of a university commencement, more than 200 Azusa Unified fourth- and fifthgraders received diplomas at a graduation ceremony recognizing their completion of Azusa Pacific University's College Headed and Mighty Proud (CHAMP) program.

As family and friends cheered them on, 216 students from Magnolia, Murray, Paramount and Valleydale elementary schools formed a processional at the Richard and Vivian Felix Event Center, with their principals and teachers calling out the graduate's names, along with their future professions and college majors.

"I learned reasons for going to college that I would never have thought of without this program. We even filled out college applications," said Magnolia Elementary fourth-grader Valerie Palacios, who excitedly detailed the highlights of CHAMP as she addressed the auditorium. "It may seem like college is a long way off, but we'll all be there in

More than 200 Azusa Unified fourth- and fifth-graders experienced first-hand how attainable a college education is after graduating from the College Headed and Mighty Proud (CHAMP) program at Azusa Pacific University.

Now in its 25th year, CHAMP, administered through an exclusive partnership with the APU Academic Service Learning and Research Department, is a semester-long program designed to inspire elementary school students to begin planning their postsecondary education, with the assistance of APU student mentors.

AUSD students met with their mentors once a week for eight weeks, discussing a wide range of topics related to preparing for college, including college admission, financial aid and career exploration. The highlight for many was a campus tour of APU.

As part of the program, students were tasked with imagining what their college major and career would be. There was no lack of ambition in their choices. At the graduation ceremony, Paramount Elementary fourth-grader Anthony Rodriguez was announced as "Future President of Former Magnolia student and CHAMP graduate Natalie Sanchez, now a freshman at APU, spoke about how the program motivated her to start believing that a college education was achievable.

"I want to be an elementary school teacher," Sanchez said. I'm so blessed to have been in a program that allowed me to chase my dreams. I truly believe I can do anything I want to."

Recognizing that parents play the most crucial role in determining whether their children will attend college, the CHAMP graduation ceremony serves as a way for families to be comfortable with being on a college campus.

"CHAMP is one part of a longrange plan to get your children into college, and there is so much you can do as parents to help them," Assistant Superintendent of Education Services Arturo Ortega told the crowd. "Three things you can do now is learn to love learning, instill high expectations and set an example.'

St. Teresa of Calcutta said, "We often think that poverty is only being hungry, naked and homeless. The poverty of being unwanted, unloved, and uncared for is the greatest poverty.

The East San Gabriel Valley Coalition for the Homeless (ESGVCH) is a faith-based 501c3 non-profit charitable organization incorporated in 1994. ESGVCH's mission is to bring hope and restore dignity to people without homes by providing shelter, alleviating hunger, assisting with basic daily needs and assisting families to regain housing. The ESGVCH also strives to raise community awareness and works collaboratively with other organizations to end hunger and homelessness primarily in the East San Gabriel Valley. All those we serve live below the federal poverty level.

Interfaith Homeless Memorial Service The East San Gabriel Valley Coalition for the Homeless brought faith leaders from across the region together Wednesday, Oct 26 to pay tribute to the 561 homeless people who died in the county from November, 2015 through September, 2016. "We wanted to give them the love and recognition they deserve." Here to Serve - Ready to Help with the Holidays

DUARTE - Katie Quintas certainly knows what it takes to be a caregiver. In one short period of time, her husband and her son were both diagnosed with cancer. One was being treated at UCLA, the other at the City of Hope. So juggling work, home and various trips to doctors, hospitals and treatments certainly became a burden. Katie was determined to help others after her own experience. That lead to the creation of "Here to Serve" - a unique organization to support Caregivers.

Here to Serve focuses on providing support to families with children who are experiencing serious illnesses. These families earn "too much" to qualify for governmental assistance. Katie's vision includes an amazing website where families can create "Care Communities" - volunteers who can help with things as simple as doing the laundry or walking the dog - all those little things caregivers can't focus on when dealing with a seriously ill child.

One of the greatest lessons many caregivers must learn is how to receive. Many are accustomed to being those who help others, and need to learn to accept help themselves. Katie is an expert at sharing those sentiments in a gentle, truthful way. The Duarte Kiwanis Club was happy to have Katie back at a recent holiday meeting to share an update on how Here to Serve is doing - and to learn how we all can help. Duarte Kiwanis was proud to present Katie with a check to support Here to Serve's ongoing needs.

Duarte Kiwanis Honors One of Their Own

DUARTE - It isn't every day that you get to honor a true "pillar of the community". Today, Duarte Kiwanis got to do just that. Past-President, Mirna De Lira Lopez is moving to Reno (although her business is just expanding to two locations) and the club wanted to be sure to honor her for her many years of service in Duarte. There was truly a "full house" with representatives from Monrovia Kiwanis Club, Hacienda Heights Kiwanis Club and Glendora Kiwaniannes as well as members from the Duarte Rotary Club, City Council Member, Liz Reilly and even Mayor Margaret Finlay. There were well over 40 people in attendance. Mirna will be truly missed - and we have all been honored to serve with her!
