Azusa Unified 5th Graders Discover History Through Ceramic Art with APU Student Mentors

Powell Elementary fifth grader Ja'Nesia Penn applies a coat of glaze on a ceramic bowl she designed with the help of Azusa Pacific University student mentors during a field trip to the campus.

AZUSA - Working with meticulous precision, 44 Powell Elementary School fifth graders recently spent a day designing and glazing ceramic pictographs as a way to learn about indigenous people and geology under the guidance of Azusa Pacific University student mentors. The collaboration is helping to fulfill Azusa Unified's commitment to engaging students in art-focused, student-centered learning oppor-

With the help of APU Art and Design Professor William Catling, Powell fifth grade teacher and art coach Cesar Govea has made it a goal to incorporate the pictographs into his daily lesson plans focusing on developing an understanding of indigenous people and geology.

"This is a very exciting opportunity for our students," Powell Principal Jennifer Wiebe said.

Upcoming Event? Let us know at SGExaminer@aol.com

"They receive hands-on training outside the classroom, and they get a chance to be on a college campus and interact with students who are giving them one-on-one assistance. Not only can they visualize the art, they can also visualize being a college student. The experience really resonates with them."

Powell was recently designated as AUSD's Visual and Performing Arts campus. Last year, Powell received a Technology Enhanced Arts Learning (TEAL) grant, which provides no-cost training and professional development for teachers and administrators who want to implement arts-integrated courses of study that align with standards-based curriculum. An art coach is appointed to support the faculty.

Through a partnership with APU's Service-Learning Department, Wiebe reached out to Catling, former chair of APU's Art and Design Department, who began his first lesson by sharing photos of Native American pictographs from the Naval Air Weapons Station at China Lake.

Students are encouraged to find symbols in harmony with their own spirit, with APU mentors helping them transform their visions into art.

"Studying pictographs is a great way to introduce students to ceramic art," Catling said. "We want to inspire the students to embrace the history of their ancestors, and to use that knowledge to create works of art that are uniquely their own."

For fifth grader Ja'Nesia Penn, the ceramics class has not only heightened her appreciation for history, but it has also given her a chance to be creative.

"It's really fun because I don't have much time to draw, so I like to come here," Penn said. "Also, I am learning about local history and Native American art."

Students plan to display their finished pieces in the new Powell art studio, a converted classroom with stools, big tables and art supplies. After the holiday break, fourth graders will participate in the same art program.

"Principal Wiebe and our partners at Azusa Pacific have helped create an innovative approach to an arts integrated curriculum and I am excited to see where our students will go from here," AUSD Board of Education President Yolanda Pena said.

Veterans Monument Gets A Sign

SAN DIMAS - Over the last several months, the San Dimas HEROES Organization and the City of San Dimas have been working together to get a Monument Sign for the veterans monument located on the corner of San Dimas Ave. and Commercial St.

San Dimas City Council adopted the name Freedom Park after the HEROES Organization requested that the monument site be named after what all veterans have fought for and sacrifice their lives for in giving us the "freedom" we all enjoy.

County To Employ Detection Canines To Serve With D.I.S.A.R.M. Teams

LOSANGELES COUNTY-A motion by Supervisors Michael D. Antonovich and Sheila Kuehl, directing the Interim Chief Probation Officer to develop an in-house canine program to assist D.I.S.A.R.M. sweeps, was unanimously approved by the Board of Supervisors.

Initiated by Antonovich in February 2000, the D.I.S.A.R.M. (Developing Increased Safety through Arms Reduction Management) program has conducted over a quarter million searches seizing nearly 11,000 weapons and drugs valued at approximately $730 million from highrisk probationers.

"The use of these speciallytrained dogs for detection of weapons and narcotics can improve safety concerns and allow residents to resume their normal daily activities sooner and with less disruption," Antonovich said. "Having personally participated in D.I.S.A.R.M. search operations, I have witnessed the challenges faced by these probation officers and the vital need for canine assistance."

The motion directs the Probation Department to implement the program in Spring 2017 and report back to the board quarterly on its status once operational.

On November 11 of this year, the Baldwin Park resident was among several military veterans honored as part of Baldwin Park's annual Veterans Day celebration. Mower, who is now 100 years old, was recognized by various state and local dignitaries during the event.

Baldwin Park commemorated its 25th Annual Veterans Day ceremony on November 11 at Morgan Park. It joined numerous cities nationwide who hosted similar celebrations in their respective communities to honor those who have served in the armed forces. Yuriko Ruizesparza, a program supervisor with the city, said Baldwin Park is one of only a few entities to host an aerial show, via The Golden Stars Skydiving Team, as part of its Veterans Day program.

Last year, a 67-year-old Golden Stars skydiver was injured when a large American flag he was carrying got tangled in a tree and forced him to crash into the ground. That veteran returned for Baldwin Park's event this year as part of the aerial jumpers' ground crew, according to organizers. He is expected to make a full recov-

Ruizesparza described the local Veterans Day celebration as a "momentous occasion [that] recognizes all of the brave men and women who have served in our military."

A national holiday since 1938, Veterans Day marks the anniversary of World War I's end.

The national holiday is often commemorated with special honors or ceremonies that pat tribute to United States veterans from all military branches, as well as victims of all wars.

Baldwin Park's event was filled with various military rituals, including the Presentation of Colors and a 21-gun salute. A special POW-MIA remembrance table was also set up to honor those military personnel who never returned home.

Anthony Castañeda, a U.S. Army veteran, said the local Veterans Day ceremony is memorable for military veterans such as himself, but it also serves as a celebration for honorees' family members and friends.

"This is a good thing to do for the community, especially for those older veterans who didn't have parades and other celebrations to welcome them back when they came home," said 47year-old La Puente resident.

"It's important that people recognize the sacrifice that these men and women are willing to make, and it's at the cost of their life. It's important for people to remember that," he added.

Return Of City Parade Met With Great Fanfare

Participants share excitement, feeling of support from spectators

BALDWIN PARK - Locals and visitors alike lined Baldwin Park Boulevard during the early morning hours of November 5 for a community-wide celebration. Children and their parents, longtime residents and newcomers each claimed a preferred spot along the sidewalk and awaited one thing: the parade was coming back to town.

"This is a great time for the city," said Baldwin Park Mayor Manuel Lozano. "There are a lot of residents that have been here for generations, and they have always come out for the parade. So an event like this brings back a lot of memories."

It has been about six years since Baldwin Park held its annual parade, which has been complemented by a carnival at Morgan Park. The anniversary parade used to be part of an annual celebration slated the first weekend of November. However, operation costs have kept efforts limited, according to Maria Moreno, one of the parade coordinators. However, with the city's 60th anniversary in tow this year, officials wanted to ensure the city tradition could be resurrected.

This year's Baldwin Park parade was themed "Celebrating a Diamond Community." Event organizers noted that, altogether, more than 80 schools, businesses, community groups and various guests from throughout the San Gabriel Valley joined in this year's celebration.

Throughout the parade, both participants' and spectators' energy resonated through the streets.

Baldwin Park's parade was a first for fourth grader Sabrina Ayala, a member of the California Youth Spirit Corps, a regional organization made up of numerous local cheer squads. Sabrina, a West Covina resident, admitted she was a bit shy about the parade at first. Her perspective changed as the crowds showed their support for parade participants.

"I liked that you get to be with your friends," said the 9-year-old Sabrina. "Doing the cheers was really fun. I would do this again."

Maria Shapen, a leader for local Girl Scouts Troop 6414, said the Baldwin Park parade helps children recognize their importance as active members of the community. Shapen said her Girl Scouts have participated in the parade in previous years, and the experience has always been a positive outcome in the girls' futures and self-confidence.

"I think they really enjoyed themselves, and hopefully this will encourage them to continue serving their community. This is when leadership starts and grows in these young girls, and this experience is an important part of that," added Shapen.

This year's parade also featured Emmy Award winner Marla Tellez as parade grand marshal. Tellez, a morning news anchor with FOX 11, has also contributed to the network's program, "Good Day

It cost the city money to maintain something that people cannot use. The field is also land locked and people have to use the QVH parking lot to access the field when it was used. It has been an eyesore and a liability.

The measure passed and it will generate millions for the city and

The old field is hardly used and will be earmarked for parkland purchases and or expansion of parkland.

As for the issue of the Sykes alleged violations, it is not sure if anyone will file a complaint with the city or the Fair Political Practices Commission (FPPC) on this issue. If there is a filing, there will be an investigation and if Sykes is found to be in violation, there could be a fine and/or a suspension of his eligibility to run for office. Sykes considered this to be parkland.

New President but Old Habits Return to Sacramento

I hope all had a very calm, happy and enjoyable Thanksgiving with family and friends leaving all the craziness of the election season behind and just relaxing.

Republican successes in D.C. with President Trump moving into the White House accompanied by a majority in the House and Senate seats made 25% of the Californians happy but many not so happy with the outcome of our state and local elections. California politicians are on edge, at least the democrats.

Whoa! Did I say relaxing and leaving craziness behind? I think I take that back.

First, we had Hillary Clinton gleefully challenging Donald Trump prior to the election requesting his unequivocal agreement to honor the presidential election outcome. Then she lost and now she is a participant in the recount that is headed up by Jill Stein and the Green Party with no doubt that the statutory requirements to finalize that count can be finished before the deadline. Cost estimate: $6 million. Press: Lots of it. Obama's take on it with Shade's translation: In very nice political language thought it was a waste of time and money. Trump's position: Says he would have won the popular vote also if the illegal votes were discounted. Synopsis: A big bunch of press and money with no determination at the end of the line.

Subtly known as the CalExit by the Yes California Independence Campaign located in Fresno has just filed with the Attorney General to prepared and circulate a ballot measure to allow California to secede from the Union. Yes California website says this state is the 6th largest economy, (I remember back in the 80's it was 5th ... wonder what happened) more economically powerful than France, a population larger than Poland and is "subsidizing other states at a loss of tens and sometimes hundreds of billions of dollars in a single fiscal year." And, they note that California has some of the highest taxes and fees than any other state and has to borrow money from the future to make things happen for the residents in this

Yes California Independence Campaign president is Louis J. Marinelli and accounts from various sources say he has been working on this for a while.

According to Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association, 80% of all the local school bonds on the November 8th ballot passed. That means the local voters who will end up paying for those bonds with an increased property tax assessment voted themselves that increase. I wonder how many will be surprised next year when they get that bill.

The good news: The Transparency Initiative, Prop. 54, passed. That means the taxpayers of California will have the opportunity to review legislation, understand the impact and comment before it is passed. Not only will they view the legislation, but ultimately be able to hold those in office supporting or opposing what comes out of Sacramento accountable.

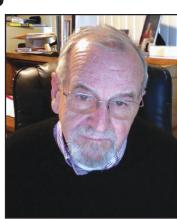

I'm sure as we recuperate from the holiday seasons in December and get into January and the legislators get back to work in Sacramento, there will be more craziness, good with the bad, happy faces and frowns ... stay tuned. And we'll find out how much of an impact President Trump has on Making America Great Again. And, California too if she is still part of the country.

Thinking About The Brain

I have recently become curious about the brain, and how it functions. I know that there is a ton of fresh research in this field, and I am trying to digest a bit of it. My concern, however, is more personal than it is academic. As I grow older I am discovering that the warm computer between my ears is growing older along with the rest of my body. In particular, my memory has taken a strange turn. I now make it a habit, when I am at a lunch table or in a meeting, or even on the streets of our community to call out to myself the names of those I encounter. But here is the problem. While I get most names right, there are several people I know well whose names have not gotten etched in my memory, and try as I might I come up with a blank when I try to name them. A few minutes later the names will come to me-unless I am still thinking about it!

There are other blanks in my memory. The other night I spent hours lying awake trying to remember the names of the three Baltic States. I could get two of them but not the third-and when the third finally came to me, one of the others disappeared. I finally looked up the names of the three-- Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, but I am still having a difficult time keeping all three in my mind at the same time.

There is another, even more curious side of this problem. Let me illustrate. The other night I had a dream and in it I told someone that his facts were wrong and I recited to him something I knew about the property of inert, or noble, gases. Where did that come from? Seventy years ago I took a high school class in chemistry. I was not particularly interested in the subject and probably faked my way through it. I am sure that I haven't considered the properties of noble gases since then. Why should I? But there it was in a dream, conjured up from some remote crevice in my

These days I also find myself humming little songs from my earliest Sunday School days when I was about three or four.

back to writing about politics. There is another aspect of this concern that has some currency where I live. It is the conviction by some of my friends and neighbors that the mind-or soul-personal consciousness lives on after the brain and the rest of the physical body have died. They find evidence for this phenomenon in what are called "near death experiences," and in concerns about a heavenly existence or reincarnation. My skepticism is rather profound, but I do listen to those who are interested in those subjects. I doubt that my level of fascination will drive me into a new career regarding the nature of brain function. But here is a request. Is there some book that discusses this subject in simple language such as "Brain Function for Dummies"? If you know of one, send the details to me.

December will be a rough month for a lot of people. With the holidays coming up, family get-together and so on can be very irritating on some people.

One date that seems to be disappearing from the calendar is December 7. There are about 2000 Pearl Harbor survivors still alive today. Over 90% are now gone. This is a day that lives in infamy as Japan attacked Pearl Harbor in 1941. This started World War II with the United States. Let's not try to forget, but remember those who lost their lives that day. Remember those that are still alive. Fly the American flag outside your home on that day, this will honor them.

With the holidays coming up at the end of the month, try to remember those that are still serving today and will not be home with their families. If you belong to an organization or some type of club that will be sending out Christmas cards to our soldiers overseas, try to participate, sign the cards. Some groups may be trying to send care on a fantastic Thanksgiving Dinner for nearly 50 people, veterans and their families on Thanksgiving Day. There was no charge for this dinner. If you left the VFW Post 8620 hungry, then that was your fault. This just had to be one of the best dinners that had ever been put on at the facility. Two other chefs also participated in donated their time to make this fantastic feast happen. There may have been as many as 500 homemade cookies made, at the end of the day there is none left.

The word soon got out about how good the dinner was and we had a number of calls from other people and other organizations letting us know what they heard. There was no doubt about it, they heard right.

So once again, a special thanks to Lizet Angulo and Chef Basil Kimbrew, an Army Veteran and Le Cordon Bleu Alumni for remembering our veterans and their families.

Lizet and Basil, you are really special people.

Azusa Unified Superintendent Appointed to State Board of Education's California Practitioners Advisory Group

AZUSA–Azusa Unified Superintendent Dr. Linda Kaminski has been appointed to the California Practitioners Advisory Group (CPAG), a committee made up of educational leaders from across the state who provide the State Board of Education (SBE) with critical input and recommendations on federal Title I responsibilities.

Appointed on November 2, Kaminski joins a group that was initially created by the SBE in March in response to changes in the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which provides school funding under Title I to improve achievement by disadvantaged students.

"I look forward to collaborating with members of the CPAG on ways to be effective stewards of Title I so that our schools can continue to boost the academic achievement of our children," Kaminski said. "This is a role I take very seriously and I am humbled to be a part of this committee."

CPAG is composed of superintendents, public and charter school teachers, principals and school board members. The group reviews state rules and regulations to provide input to the SBE on the practical implications of decisions made regarding the Local Control Funding Formula, the state funding system adopted in 2013. The group will also help the SBE create a single accountability system to satisfy local, state and federal requirements. Members serve a maximum of three years on the CPAG.

"Dr. Kaminski is an exceptional leader for the Azusa Unified School District and I am confident that her expertise will bring meaningful contributions to the State Board of Education," AUSD Board of Education President Yolanda Peña said.

A Decade After The Housing Peak

It is increasingly clear housing will never fully recover to pre-financial crisis levels. Indeed, the word "recovery" doesn't really make sense in the context of housing, because the boom from the mid-'90s to 2005 was the result of an unprecedented and - we now know - disastrously misguided financial experiment. Just a few years ago, Bernanke and other Fed officials promised a "real" economic recovery once housing recovers, but full recovery is no longer discussed.

The Fed has moved on. In Yellen's speech recently, she discussed five reasons interest rates might remain low for a long time. The transformation of housing since its last cycle peak is a major contributing factor to most of them.

Before the Fall

To understand where we are today requires a quick review of where we were a decade ago. Many economists talk about housing's contribution to the economy in terms of residential investment. That was just the start of it.

Housing's contributions to growth in the '2000s came from three sources:

- 1. Residential investment. Housing starts at the peak of the boom years were 20% higher than at any prior time.
- 2. Jobs and income. During the boom, construction employment relative to total payroll employment was 30% higher than in 1990. Construction pay grew faster than pay in the rest of the economy, and continued to grow for a few years after the housing bubble burst.
- 3. Savings and the wealth effect. Home values rose dramatically during the boom, and as Case, Quigley and Shiller demonstrated in 2006, households are far more likely to spend housing wealth than stock-market wealth. The USA's saving rate plunged as homeowners borrowed increasingly large amounts against home equity.

The economic contribution from housing wealth and its negative impact on savings was huge, contributing as much as 2.0% to GDP. Destruction of housing wealth in the financial crisis also had a bigger economic influence than the drop in investment, as it explains most of the increase in the net saving rate.

Already an important engine of growth in the Nineties, housing became the engine of growth leading up to the Great Recession. GDP was slowing, but everincreasing contributions from housing-related activity masked most of the decline. The weakness of the underlying economy was revealed only after the Great Recession, though economists, including those at the Fed, still fail to understand how bad the damage was and how long it will likely continue to impact our economy.

Economic Analyst & Former Glendora Mayor

The Aftermath

Home values were devastated in the Great Recession and have yet to recover. According to Zillow, the median value of US single-family housing is $188,100, 4.3% lower than in April 2007. Adjusted for inflation, it is down 17.7%. In 2005, housing represented 29.9% of household assets, an all-time high. It is now 21.5%, barely up from a low of 20.4% in 2011. Why?

1. Down payments are higher. Down payments have a profound effect on home prices, because high down payments are a significant barrier to entry. According to research by the NY Fed, a change in the required down payment size has a far bigger impact on affordability than a change in financing rates.

2. Loan approvals are stricter. Who cares how low the down payment requirement is if you can't get a loan? Almost all subprime mortgage lending was eliminated by the Dodd-Frank reforms. When Congress considered eliminating the FHA, Barney Frank himself warned that without the FHA there would be no subprime lending left.

3. The rate of household formations has slowed. Tighter financing terms means first-time homebuyers are in short supply. Household formation in particular was unusually rapid during the boom because it was possible to buy a home without significant income, job or assets.

Young adults are not buying houses, but the slowdown in household formations is small compared to the surge in those choosing to rent rather than buy.

Many young adults living on their own are renting, not buying. Homeownership is currently at 50year lows.

One consequence of the shift from a preference to own to a preference to rent is support for multi-family construction. Multi-family completions are as strong as at any time in the past 20 years, but single-family construction remains 41% under the 1995 levels (at the start of the boom).

While new regulations make it harder to purchase homes, people may use other forms of debt when mortgages are not available. They just won't use as much of it. The drop in borrowing, or rise in saving, explains virtually all of the slowdown in GDP from the last cycle to this one.

Bottom line:

Congress Effectively Outlawed Affordable Housing in

For several years after the Great Recession, almost every Bernanke speech on the economy included a warning: True economic recovery cannot happen without a housing recovery. Housing would recover slowly, but Bernanke insisted it would recover eventually. This persistent theme was quietly dropped in 2013, because by then it was apparent housing was not coming all the way back.

What Bernanke failed to understand is that the economic vitality lost in the Great Recession was not the result of lost income related to housing construction and sales. Rather, it was lost access to affordable credit, a loss compounded by restrictions placed on mortgage borrowing by Congress in 2010.

Mortgage terms are easing again now, but they will never be as easy as they were a decade ago unless parts of the regulatory overhaul are reversed. There's no question the combination of cheap, variable rate-financing and low equity went too far. Nevertheless, restrictions on home purchasing today will impact the housing industry's ability to again become the primary driver of economic growth. It will be difficult to recover to pre-crisis levels without some new engine for

Here's some thoughts on Holiday depression

First of all, you're not alone.

Maybe last year's holidays were less than you'd hoped for and you told yourself that you never wanted to have that poor of a holiday again. However, here you are this holiday season, still paying on your credit cards, and it looks like this year could be worse than last. Or, maybe you've had a life change (moved, changed jobs, passing of a loved one, break-up or divorce). You're going to be okay. Slow down, take some time for yourself, and consider talking with a counsellor, therapist, or pastor. Your friends and family will understand that you are going through a period of adjustment. They are standing by, ready to help and longing to enjoy life with you again. Remember that they need your ongoing love, and that they love you, too. You might also take some time to look around, see that there are others who have it worse than you. Figure out some way to help them. It's quite therapeutic. Much unhappiness can come from the commercialization (trees, lights, decorations, exchanging gifts, partying) of Christmas. And, if you are a Christian, remember that it's a time to celebrate the birth of Christ.

How much will Medicare part B cost in 2017?

It was announced that the Medicare part B premium for 2017 will be $134.00 per month.

What is RMD? When does it start? Is there a way to avoid it? Can it affect my tax bracket?

Julia Yoder RMD is Required Minimum Distribution. It's the annual amount that must be withdrawn from a traditional IRA or a qualified retirement plan (401k, 403b, Keogh). Although you are allowed to begin taking penaltyfree distributions from tax-deferred retirement accounts after age 59 ½, you must begin taking distributions upon reaching age 70½. If you delay your first distribution to April 1 following the year you turn 70 ½, you have to take a 2nd distribution that year. The amount of your RMD distribution depends on your age, your life expectancy, and the value of the account. (Refer to IRS tables.) If you do not take RMDs, you might have to pay a 50% federal income tax penalty on the amount that you should have withdrawn. Tax-deferred retirement plans are subject to ordinary income tax. If your RMDs are large, you might be pushed into a higher tax bracket. Plan ahead to figure out the best time to begin taking your RMDs. Note: Roth IRAs contain posttax money, grow tax-free, and do not fall under the RMD rules. Distributions from a life-insurance policy can be taken (if done correctly) income tax free, too. My wife is healthy, but I was 'rated' for life insurance, meaning my premiums would be higher due to some health problems. Is there another way to provide for my family whenever I die?

One choice would be to apply for a second-to-die life insurance policy with your spouse, along with a first-to-die rider. Qualifications for this life insurance would be based on your spouse's qualifications. Because of the rider, the life insurance policy would pay out whenever one of you passed. Another choice would be to invest in an annuity. This would be a contract between you and an insurance company, but without life insurance underwriting. Annuities can be used to help ensure a steady stream of income in retirement, as well as help ensure that your beneficiaries will be taken care of in the event of your death.

Southern California 'Subway' Owner Sentenced for Sales Tax Evasion

SACRAMENTO – The California State Board of Equalization (BOE) announced this week that Ajay Beri, restauranteur, was sentenced in Orange County Superior Court on November 1, 2016, to nine months confinement and three years formal probation.

Beri pled guilty to felony sales tax evasion and agreed to pay $3,021,059 in restitution to the state. Beri paid $1,250,000 on the day of the sentencing and agreed to pay the remaining balance of $1,771,059 within 18 months.

Beri, 45, of Buena Park, was the owner and operator of co-defendants Ajay Beri Corporation and Beri Restaurants Group, Incorporated. Beri and his wife operated Subway restaurants located throughout Orange and Los Angeles counties since 1998.

The BOE's investigation revealed that Beri collected sales tax from customers on the sale of food at Subway restaurants and knowingly filed fraudulent sales tax returns to the BOE to reduce his sales tax liability. As a result of the evasion scheme, Beri failed to report to the BOE more than $3 million in sales taxes collected.

The California Attorney General's Office prosecuted this case.

Section 8. A new section 14.20.085 of the Glendora Municipal Code is hereby added to read as

"14.20.085 Automatic Rate Adjustments. (a) No later than December 1 of each year, beginning in 2017, the Director of Public Works shall file with the City Clerk a schedule of revised rates, calculated pursuant to this Section, to be effective on the first billing cycle of the following year. At least 30 days prior to implementing revised rates, the Director of Public Works shall notify all customers regarding the rate revisions.

(b) Unless the City Council takes action, by ordinance or resolution, to cause such revised rates to not become effective, the revised rates shall take effect automatically, and shall be deemed to have been approved and imposed by the City Council pursuant to the Ordinance that codified this Section. (c) The Purchased Water Component Rate, imposed pursuant to Section 14.20.080(d) of this Chapter shall be calculated by adjusting that rate (including any previous adjustments made pursuant to this Section) by the percentage change between the previous year and the year for which the rate is being calculated, of the cost of water if purchased by the City from Three Valley's Municipal Water District at the District's published rates applicable to the City.

(d) Each Energy Component Rate imposed pursuant to Section 14.20.080(e) of this Chapter shall be calculated by adjusting that rate (including any previous adjustments made pursuant to this Section) by the percentage change between the previous year and the year for which the rate is being calculated, of the sum of the published rate for a kilowatt hour of electricity provided to the City by Azusa Power and the tariffed rate for a kilowatt hour of electricity provided to the City by Southern California Edison.

(e) Each rate set forth in Sections 14.20.070, 14.20.080(f) and 14.20.080(g) of this Chapter shall be calculated by adjusting that rate by the percentage change in the consumer price index for all urban consumers for Los Angeles-Anaheim-Riverside published by the US Department of Labor between October 1, 2016 and the most recently published index as of October of the year prior to the date on which the adjustment will go into effect, but not to exceed a total increase of 5% for each year since

Section 9. The Director of Public Works is authorized to provide to any water customer, at their request, the special service of water manual meter reading. The fee for this service shall be $45.86 per bimonthly billing period. This fee shall only be charged if the Department of Public Works has installed (or offered to install) an advanced meter capable of automatically measuring water consumption at the customer's connection point. The purpose of this fee is to offset the City's actual cost of providing and billing a manual meter read to a single customer located in an area where the installation of advanced meters by the City has eliminated the need to provide such manual meter reads as a part of basic water service. If the customer gives the City permission to install and utilize an advanced meter, this fee shall be waived for any manual meter reads that occur after the date such permission is given. This fee is not a fee for basic water service, but a fee for an optional additional service that is not required for the provision of basic water service to the premises. This fee may be changed, reduced, or eliminated by resolution or ordinance of the City Council.

Section 10. The automatic rate adjustment provisions set forth in Section 14.20.085 of the Municipal Code were approved by the City Council following a public hearing that was noticed and conducted pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIIID of the California Constitution, the Proposition 218 Omnibus Implementation Act (Section 53750 et seq. of the California Government Code), and applicable law. Consequently, so long the revised rates are calculated pursuant to Section 14.20.085, such revision shall not constitute an "increase" of the rate. The action of the Director of Public Works required by Section 14.20.085 is ministerial and neither requires, nor is subject to, the discretion of the Director of Public Works

Section 11. The rates set forth in this Ordinance shall be effective January 1, 2017. Prior to that date the rates calculated pursuant to Sections 14.20.070, 14.20.080, and 14.20.085 of the Municipal Code as they existed prior to the adoption of this Ordinance shall continue to apply.

Section 12. The City Council finds and declares as follows: (a) Revenues derived from water rates and charges, as imposed pursuant to this Ordinance, will not exceed the funds required to provide water service to the parcels subject to the rates and charges. (b) Revenues derived from water rates and charges, as imposed pursuant to this Ordinance, shall not be used for any purpose other than providing water service.

(c) The amount of the water rates and charges upon each parcel does not exceed the proportional cost of water service attributable to that parcel. (d) The water rates and charges are only imposed upon parcels that are actually connected to the water system, and which therefore either use, or have immediate ability to use, water service. (e) Water service is not a general governmental service as that term is used in Article XIIID, Section 6(b)(5) of the California Constitution.

Section 13. Pursuant to Government Code Section 54999.1, et seq, the capital facilities fee component, as defined in Government Code Section 54999.1, of the rate increases provided in this Ordinance shall comply with the applicable requirements of Government Code Section 54999, et seq. including but not limited to Government Code Section 54999.3.

Section 14. Severability. If any court of competent jurisdiction holds any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or portion of this Ordinance invalid or unconstitutional, such determination shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance. The City Council declares that it would have enacted this Ordinance and each section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase hereof irrespective of any determination of invalidity.

Section 15. The Mayor shall sign this Ordinance and the City Clerk shall attest and certify to the assage and adoption thereof and cause same to be published at least once in the San Gabriel Valley Examiner, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published in the City of Glendora, which newspaper is hereby designated for that purpose; and thereupon, and thirty (30) days after its passage, this ordinance shall take effect and be in force.

Partnership Provides Shoes for 150 Geddes Elementary Students

Gift ensures all students are equipped for 100-mile challenge

Geddes Elementary School students receive 150 pairs of shoes thanks to a partnership between Southern California Edison and Shoes That Fit.

BALDWIN PARK – Geddes Elementary students who are tackling a 100-mile running challenge received a boost to their efforts from a pair of community groups -- a donation of 150 pairs of shoes.

Southern California Edison teamed up with Shoes That Fit, a nonprofit that pairs schools with sponsoring groups, to provide the shoes.

"We are indebted to SoCal Edison and Shoes That Fit for this incredible gift," Baldwin Park Unified Superintendent Froilan N. Mendoza said. "It's a wonderful element of support for our children and their families."

Shoes That Fit, formed in Claremont, works with thousands of school districts across the U.S. to ensure children have new, fitting shoes -- a boost to their self-esteem.

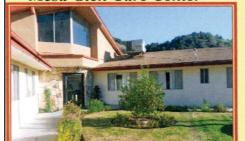

School officials identify the students who are most at need of shoes. Representatives of the community group and its employees then purchase the shoes in conjunction with Shoes That

At Geddes Elementary School, the shoes will ensure all students tackling the school's 100-mile challenge have proper shoes. The students are part of a 100 Mile Club, and work away toward their goal with weekly runs. The program is designed to build student confidence and encourage healthy lifestyles. "We are excited about this generous gift," Principal Irene Garcia said. "It will speed our children toward this terrific goal."

Beau Bentzen Eagle Scout Project Troop 491- Glendora

Logan Files, David Alba, Ryan Healy, Dominic Bottancino, Isaac Le, Josh Lankford, Jonah Ivory, Beau Bentzen (with hammer), Justin Viteri, Tristin Smith, Jaden Pirog

GLENDORA - On a sunny November 19, 2016, Beau Bentzen, 16, of Troop 491 lead 10 his fellow Boy Scouts and various volunteers in the refurbishment of the sport facilities at the Glendora Lassie League Softball Fields at Finkbiner Park.

Project work included removal and replacement of aged rotten wooden bleacher seats, sidestops and 2 backstops with all new wood planks. This work entailed cutting the new planks to size and painting to match original color. For many of the Scouts this was their first time using power tools. Adults closely supervised that portion of the work. Beau and his Scouts also painted and repaired the non-wooden benches in the dugouts and painted the electrical boxes and trash cans.

Beau Bentzen is a Glendora High School junior, Life rank Boy Scout and active member of Troop 491 in Glendora. He has been in Scouting since 2006, when he was a Tiger rank Cub Scout in first grade. During his time with Troop 491 he has held positions of Assistant Senior Patrol Leader, Troop Guide, and Assistant Patrol Leader.

Beau chose the softball field refurbishment as his project after talking with representatives at the City of Glendora Department of Parks and Recreation. Upon inspecting the facilities, Beau decided this would be a project where he could do "something for the public" that would be useful to park goers "everyday".

Funding for materials were provided through donations and help from his family. After high school Beau plans to become an entrepreneur or join the military.

The Eagle Scout Service Project, or more simply the Eagle Scout Project, is the opportunity for a Boy Scout in the Boy Scouts of America (BSA) to demonstrate leadership skills while performing a project for the benefit of his community. This is the culmination of the Eagle Scout candidate's leadership training, and it requires a significant effort on his part.
