by Cubmaster Mark Peters CITY OF INDUSTRY -Monrovia Cub Scout Pack 66 had the privilege to visit and tour the state-of-the-art waste collection and recycling service plant that provides services to the City of Monrovia. Pack 66 Bear Den Leader Julie Bank organized this special tour for her Cubs. Pack 66 is fortunate to have such amazing leaders who reach out to the local communities to ensure that the Cub Scouts are enriched in knowledge and experiences. Accompanying the Den is Bear Den Leader Andrew Gentile and Wolf

Den Leader Christine Caudillo. The tour of the Athens facility was made extra special with the Executive Vice President, Gary M. Clifford II personally guiding the future leaders of our country through the plant, educating them on the latest technology in recycling and waste management. Accompanying the tour were elected City of Monrovia officials and City of Monrovia Library management. Pack 66 was in for a special treat on this tour. Mr. Clifford educated the Cub Scouts on recycling sorting and just how much work it really is to sort your trash. The Cubs were memorized at all the materials that can be considered recyclable and just how Athens sorts the materials. The Cubs were allowed into the operations room

We even had the privilege of having a Girl Scout from Monrovia Troop 361 Sophia P., with Ammon's sister Fifer to join us.

Pack 66 wants to thank Mr. Clifford for such an enriching tour and taking the time to teach our Scouts, and to our AMAZING Pack leadership, Wolf Den Leader Christine Caudillo, who has 3 sons in scouting at all levels, Lucas, Gavin and Adrian and is a leader in each; Andrew Gentile who is a Bear Den leader along with his son Bear James M.; Bear Den Julie Bank with her son Bear Stefin B. and John Griffin who has two sons in Pack 66 Julian and Elan.

More than 50 volunteers turned out at this year's event on the Haynes campus in La Verne wrapping gifts provided by the community. The gifts -- from skateboards and remote controlled race cars to gift cards -- will go to the 72 boys and teens in residence (ages 7 to 18), 190 boys, girls and teens with autism, developmental and learning disabilities attending school on the La Verne campus (ages 5 to 22), and nine young men who have "aged out" of foster care. Today, Estavillo lives in

By Jayam Rutnam

GLENDORA - On Thursday December 8th, the Chambers of Commerce of Glendora, La Verne, San Dimas and Azusa had their Annual Holiday Mixer at the Glendora Country Club. The Committees and many of the members attended this very enjoyable event, with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres of all kinds.

The Director of the Glendora Chamber Joe Cina and Michelle Street kept the party going, with Santa Claus and his elves handing out the gifts that were drawn from raffle tickets. The Presidents of the four Chambers spoke and introduced their Committees.

GLENDORA - It was a sad day indeed, December 16, 2016, the day that it rained in the morning and the sun came out just in time, to be a perfect setting for the farewell/retirement ceremony of Glendora Police Chief Tim Staab.

It was 4 p.m. when Chief Tim Staab walked out of his office, at the Glendora Police Department. He hung his picture on the wall along with those of all the former Police Chiefs and then walked through the corridor, for the last time as Police Chief. The corridor was lined with Police personnel, who stood at attention and saluted him. He exited to the back of the building where Police Officers, Members of the Auxiliary Police, Cadets and employees of the Police Department stood on either side, with a backdrop of police vehicles with their emergency lights on. There also was the famous Glendora Police Department Honor Guard in their pristine uniforms, who waited to greet and honor their outgoing chief.

Chief Staab stood in the middle of those surrounding him while police radio recordings of the officers of the police department poured out, touching and humorous comments on their relationships and friendships with their Police Chief, whom they respected and loved. They thanked him for being a friend, a mentor and a superior.

At the age of 54, Glendora Police Chief Timothy Staab retired after 33 years of service in the Glendora Police Department. There will be a farewell dinner for Chief Staab, to be held at the Glendora Country Club on Saturday, January 21, 2017. RSVP Lisa Taylor (626) 914-8262.

Arcadia Unified Named to College Board's Christmas Tree Safety and Prestigious AP District Honor Roll

Unified School District is one opportunities for success for of just 22 school districts in California being honored by the of the work of our AP teachers College Board with placement on the 7th Annual AP® District Honor Roll. To receive this national recognition, the Arcadia Unified School District had to, since 2014, increase the number of students participating in AP courses while also increasing or maintaining the percentage of students earning AP Exam scores of 3 or higher. Reaching these impressive milestones demonstrates that Arcadia Unified is successfully identifying motivated and academically prepared students who are ready for AP courses.

"Three years ago we made a drastic change to our Advanced Placement program at Arcadia High School by allowing all students to enroll in AP and Honors courses," said Arcadia Unified School District Superintendent Dr. David Vannasdall. "This is a great validation of that transition, and we

ARCADIA - The Arcadia have opened up many more our students. I'm very proud and staff, along with the astonishing pass rate of our students.'

> Arcadia High School has a very robust AP and Honors program which offers students 20 AP courses along with eight Honors courses. Since transitioning to this "open access" format in the 2014-2015 school year, Arcadia High School has seen a significant increase in the number of students who are enrolling in AP and Honors courses, and the pass rate on the AP Exams has also increased. In 2016, 2,266 AP Exams were taken by 1,182 students with a remarkable 83.9% pass rate.

National data from 2016 show that among African American, Hispanic, and Native American students with a high degree of readiness for AP, only about half are participating. The Arcadia Unified School District is committed to expanding the availability of AP courses among prepared and motivated students of all backgrounds.

"Congratulations to all the teachers and administrators in the Arcadia Unified School District who have worked so tirelessly to both expand access to AP and also to help students succeed on the AP Exams," said Trevor Packer, the College Board's head of AP and Instruction. "These teachers and administrators are delivering real opportunity at Arcadia High and classrooms, and students are rising to the challenge."

In 2016, more than 4,000 colleges and universities around the world received AP scores for college credit, advanced placement, or both, and/or consideration in the admission process.

Inclusion on the 7th Annual AP District Honor Roll is based on a review of three years of AP data, from 2014 to 2016, looking across 37 AP Exams, including world language and culture. The following criteria were used.

Districts must:

Increase participation/access to AP by at least 4% in large districts, at least 6 % in medium districts, and at least 11% in small districts;

Increase or maintain the percentage of exams taken by black/African American, Hispanic/Latino, and American Indian/Alaska Native students who scored 3+ on at least one AP Exam; and Improve or maintain performance levels when comparing the 2016 percentage of students scoring a 3 or higher to the 2014 percentage, unless the district has already attained a performance level at which more than 70% of its AP students earn a 3 or higher.

When these outcomes have been achieved among an AP student population in which 30% or more are underrepresented minority students (black/ African American, Hispanic/ Latino, and American Indian/ Alaska Native) and/or 30% or more are low-income students (students who qualify for free or reduced-price lunch), a symbol has been affixed to the district name to highlight this work.

Arcadia Unified is one of only two districts in Los Angeles County, Lynwood Unified School District is the other, to be named to the prestigious AP District Honor Roll. Arcadia Unified was also named to the AP District Honor Roll in 2010.

While they provide a delicious turkey, they also present a unique danger if not used safely. The Monterey Park Fire Department would like to share a few tips to ensure you have a safe and joyous holiday season.

BALDWIN PARK - Baldwin Park Unified property owners saw their first savings on December's tax bill from the District's refinancing of $74.8 million in facility bonds, a decline in the tax rate of $57.78 per $100,000 in assessed valuation over 2015-16.

The savings, which take advantage of a drop in interest rates, add up to $20.8 million over 21 years. The refinancing lowers the 2016-17 repayment costs for the bonds to $105.10 per $100,000 in assessed value. Rates can fluctuate year to year until the bonds are repaid in 2037.

• Use lights that have the label of an independent testing laboratory. Some lights are only for indoor or outdoor use.

• Replace any string of lights with worn or broken cords or loose bulb connections. Read manufacturer's instructions for number of light strands to connect.

• Never use lit candles to decorate the tree.

• Always turn off Christmas tree lights before leaving home or going to bed.

After Christmas

• Get rid of the tree after Christmas. Dried-out trees are a fire danger and should not be left in the home or garage, or placed outside against the home.

• From January 2 - 13, 2017, residents may put their tree out of pick up by Athens Disposal on their trash day. After that, residents may cut up the Christmas tree and place in the green waste container or call Athens at 626-336-3636.

Baldwin Park Unified also refinanced about $3.9 million in lease revenue bonds backed by its general fund, generating direct savings to the District of approximately $45,000 a year – which totals more than $900,000 over the bonds' 20-year repayment period. The move improved the District's credit rating for lease revenue bonds from an A- to an A.

Unjustifiable Suing of Cities Hope Wrapped In Swaddling Cloths "I am sure I have always are Crimes in Itself thought of Christmas time,

By George Ogden

How many times have we seen families of criminals who died at the hands of police, sue the police because they had to kill the suspect. What is even more bizarre is when they sue the police for the death of their so-called loved one, even when the family didn't want to have anything to do with the deceased prior to his or her departure from this world.

We can go back to the North Hollywood bank robbery and the shooting on Feb. 28, 1997. Larry Phillips, Jr. and Emil Matasareanu robbed the bank and had a major shootout with police and were killed. However, before they were killed, they shot twelve police officers and eight civilians. Many of us older folk remember this like it was yesterday. After Emil Matasareanu was shot in the legs, paramedics didn't arrive for about 70 minutes. There was a number of reasons for the delay. They were not sure if he had a bomb, there was a possibility of a third shooter and lack of aid because the paramedics were already saturated with other injured officers and civilians.

The "miracle" of this whole event is that nobody died in the crossfire of this gun battle, however, many were critical and some never recovered fully from their injuries. Only the bad guys died.

So what happens after this? Emil Matasareanu 's "mommy" sued the police for killing her son. Really??? The victims and the police should have sued his mother for giving birth to this piece of trash. Furthermore, his mother wouldn't cooperate with police to recover money from other recent bank robberies which added up to about $2 million in cash. Only a small amount was ever recovered.

According to reports, West Covina police was sued a few years ago when their "rejected" family member, Omar Garcia, attempted to break into cars at Target and was confronted by two police officers. The subject soon became combative and there was a fight. Reports stated that Omar gained control of one of the officer's batons and attempted to use it on the officers. Both officers were on the ground when the suspect was shot. Both officers were injured and hospitalize and the suspect died. However, the family's version of the events and the relationship of the suspect changed. They sued and got a sizable settlement. This was in November 2008.

Today we have the brother and sister of Gevork Alachadzhyan who stole a police car from a West Covina police officer on March 13 of this year. He led officers on a televised chase throughout the San Gabriel Valley. He yelled profanities over the radio while driving crazy. Finally, officers were able to PIT the police car around 10:30pm in Glendale. He attempted to flee by accelerating the vehicle, burning rubber and crashing into another police vehicle that he was pushing backwards. Smoke covered the vehicle. Officers knew he had a shotgun in the vehicle and feared for the safety of others. They fired into the vehicle striking the suspect.

The brother and sister are suing; they state the police "negligently assessed the circumstances presented to them and violently confronted and proceeded to assault and batter, inflicting several gunshot wounds, which proved to be fatal," They also state that Alachadzhyan was unarmed and did not pose a threat to the officers.

Really? He had a shotgun in the car and tried to run down police officers, using the car as a weapon??? That's not armed or posing a threat? Get real people.

Basically, in my opinion, these people chose their own actions and their own way to die. Why should anyone be financially responsible for this as if is a justifiable police shooting? All of these people try to get free money as the result of their criminal relative's death. Most have been alienated by their families and were not wanted. They are dead because of their own behavior.

"That's Just the Way It Is!"

when it has come round—apart from the veneration due to its sacred name and origin, if anything belonging to it can be apart from that—as a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely, and to think of people below them as if they really were fellow-passengers to the grave, and not another race of creatures bound on other journeys. And therefore, uncle, though it has never put a scrap of gold or silver in my pocket, I believe that it has done me good, and will do me good; and I say, God

So spoke Scrooge's nephew to his miserly uncle. Ready or not, here comes Christmas again. For many of us it will be the "kind, charitable, forgiving, pleasant time" the nephew believed it to be. But not for everyone. Many will find that vacant place at the table a cruel reminder of the unrelenting march of time. But even that distress will be moderated by visits from friends, the joy in a child's eye, Christmas Eve at church, the telling one more time of the story about a manger birth, shepherds, a star, and a weary couple of travelers seeking a place for the night.

bless it!"

For many of us there will be a suspension of the grimness that today engulfs the world. It will be a time to find, wrapped in swaddling cloths, hope for a new world order of peace, justice, equity and understanding across all sorts of divisive barriers. It will be a time to offer our honest commitment to one who was called "the prince of peace" and to turn modern weapons of war into new plans for peace. It may offer an opportunity to build bridges of understanding instead of walls of bigotry and bitter nationalism.

For us it may involve an opportunity to share ourselves with a Muslim or a Mexican family sick with wondering if they are to be escorted out of the country they have learned to love and where their children have lived since birth. It may invite us to work for a way to provide good health care for everyone, a universal opportunity for a solid education, safe and decent shelter for the homeless, welcome for the strangers in our midst and dignity for the aging. Aren't those the dreams for the world we might find in the coming of the manger child?

This child who become a man for others never asked us to believe things about him, but to follow him in lives of compassion, openness and affirmation. When the religion which was drawn from what he taught is reduced to doctrines about him and what follows are walls of separation, an arrogance which says we are right and all others are wrong and bound for eternal torture, and a super nationalism which puts us at odds with anyone who does not look like us, speak with our language, and are struggling to be who they are in a world which wants them to be something else. And when that happens Christmas may be the "humbug" Scrooge thought it to be.

I believe God has offered the world a new way to live. And what is that new way? It can be found in simple language. So after reading the Christmas story in Luke 2 and Matthew 1 and 2, you may discover what a new world order might look like when these words of Jesus in Matthew 5 are taken seriously.

"Blessed are the poor in spirit,

for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they who mourn, for they shall be comforted. Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. Blessed are the pure of heart, for they shall see God. Blessed are the peacemak-

ers. for they shall be called children of God.

Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness.

for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

Have a blessed Christmasand perhaps the best way to do that is to be a blessing in world terribly short of that life-changing commitment.

As Tiny Tim said, "GOD BLESS US, EVERY ONE."

"Time Jockey" - California Grants

By Joe Castillo

Rancho Beginnings ....From 1770 through 1848, the Mexican Land Grant system was one of the most important influences in California history. Originally established by the Spanish as part of their feudal system of land ownership, the California land grants allowed land to be distributed to a limited number of worthy owners. Although popularly known as "Spanish Grants", only 30 of the 800 plus land grants in California were granted by the Spanish government and all others were actually awarded under Mexican rule. Under the Mexican Land Grant system, any person could apply to the Governor for a land grant. An applicant needed to include his or her name, age, vocation, amount of land and why he should be awarded a land grant. Usually a hand drawn map was included with the application which provided enough detailed definitions of the land to document its location. The Governor consulted with local officials and based on the information included with the request would decide to award a request or not. If the grant was accepted, a favorable reply was sent by the governor to the applicant identifying the amount of land being awarded. Usually a grant was awarded for hundreds or thousands of acres which caused difficulties for future title claims. The Mexican government measured land parcels in leagues which was the distance a horse could travel in one hour. The American government used a measurement of square sections usually one square mile or 640 acres. While the American measurement was easier to survey, the Mexican measurement followed certain land characteristics like rivers, hills and canyons and thus created irregular land parcel boundaries. In Los Angeles County, 60 land grants were awarded during the Spanish-Mexican land granting era. The largest land grants were the extension of land around the San Fernando Mission (116,858 acres) and the Simi land grant in Ventura (113,009 acres). The smallest land grants were acres awarded to the two local mission churches San Fernando (77 acres) and San Gabriel (190 acres). The land grants were eventually named for their owner using the prefix of "rancho". Among the local land grants were Azusa de Dalton, renamed to Rancho Azusa de Dalton, which was a 4,431 acre parcel awarded to Henry Dalton. Dalton was a wealthy merchant who created a fleet of merchant ships to import and export goods to South Amer

Christ Healing - Still Possible Today

To everyone engaged in the current quest for health, the healing works that Christ Jesus did centuries ago invite a search for truth about our own relationship to God and how that relationship directly affects our health. Jesus' influence on life and spirituality still speaks to us, and his success in treating disease remains unparalleled by modern medicine.

gained through her study of Christ Jesus' healing works, a new paradigm was presented to spiritual seekers - our divine right to health and harmony. A while back, I published an article on health from this spiritual perspective, and one reader was irate over the description of Mary Baker Eddy as a theologian and religious leader. But as Jesus expressed litzer-prize-winning newspaper dedicated to fair and balanced reporting of the news. She continued to emulate Christ Jesus' love for mankind in her writings and her life, as reflected in her statement in No and Yes, "True prayer is not asking God for love; it is learning to love, and to include all mankind in one affection." These are powerful statements and examples of Eddy's contributions, but probably her most profound contribution was discovering that Christ Jesus' healing method continues to be demonstrable today. She presented her findings in Science and Health, taught the healing method she had discovered, and healed many who came to her for help with health issues. A powerful component of these healing results was the voluntary and inspired sharing of healings that helped encourage others to find a higher, more spiritual view of themselves. Perhaps this is one aspect of what Eddy meant when she wrote in Science and Health, "...progress is the law of God." What she accomplished still offers healing answers for anyone looking not only for better health but also for their connection with God, divine Love.

land grant awarded to Ygnacio Palomares and Ricard Vejar. Today, the Rancho San Jose grant includes the cities of Pomona, San Dimas, La Verne, Diamond Bar, Azusa, Covina, Walnut, Claremont and Glendora. The La Puente land grant was 11 leagues or 49,000 acres awarded to William Workman and John Rowland. Named Rancho La Puente, the size of the land grant was the maximum allowed under Mexican land laws and extended from the San Gabriel River to the 57 Freeway. There are 13 cities which today fall within the boundaries of this huge land grant and all but 40 acres were located in Los Angeles County. Through-Criminal Defense out California, land grants were established during the Mexican governance era and were honored until the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was signed in 1848 ceding most of California to the United States. The task of establishing ownership of Mexican land grants would prove to be the end of the rancho period as well as large acreage land owners in California.

For centuries people believed that his healing works couldn't be repeated. But as the age of scientific inquiry dawned, the question inevitably came up: were there scientific laws behind what Jesus did that could be repeatedly demonstrated?

One person whose life was directly affected by Jesus' healing message was Mary Baker Eddy. Almost 2000 years after Christ Jesus, Eddy experienced and consistently demonstrated the same healing power of God and went on to write Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, found the Christian Science church, and profoundly affect the current conversation on health, healing, and mankind's unbroken connection to God by proving that Jesus' healing method continues to be practical todav.

What his comment did do was inspire me to explore what others have said in support of Mary Baker Eddy and Science and Health. She received many awards and comments about her work and healings. One in particular was by Mitch Horowitz. In The Atlantic's "100 Most Influential Americans," Horowitz put Science and Health in the category of thought-provoking books that may change your life. Haynes Family Of Programs To Host Emergency Preparedness Training To Help Prepare For A Major Disaster

LA VERNE - The Haynes Family of Programs will host a free communitywide emergency preparedness training presented by the American Red Cross in January to help families prepare for a major disaster under a grant from Southern California Edison.

The event, which is open to the public, is scheduled for 5:30 to 7 p.m. Thursday, January 26, on the Haynes campus in La Verne.

Included will be a 45-minute presentation by a representative of the American Red Cross reviewing what to include in an emergency kit and more in the event of an earthquake, fire or flood.

In addition, a staff member from the Haynes mental health department will speak on extra steps families should take if they have someone with special needs in the home.

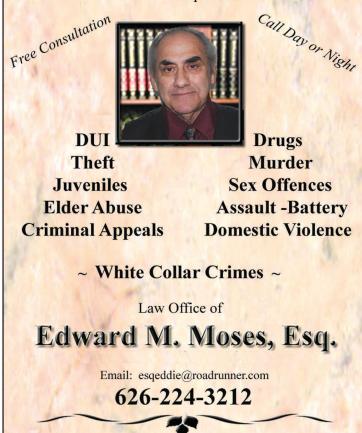

"We never know when we'll be caught up in the midst of a disaster and obviously it is important for all of us to learn how best to prepare," said Haynes

President and CEO Dan Maydeck. "Preparation and knowing how to deal with disaster is even more important when there is someone with special needs involved - that's when dealing with disaster or crisis can be even more frightening or stressful."

The first 50 participants will receive a free Red Cross first aid kit.

Refreshments will be served. For more information, contact (909) 593-2581.

As Expected Fed Rate Hike - Markets Get Rattled

In the three hours after Wednesday's FOMC announcement, the entire yield curve from the 2yr Treasury to the 10yr Treasury increased 10bp in yield. They rose another 3bp overnight. The dollar rose 2.0% and stocks dropped a little less than 1%, all because the Fed - did exactly as expected. How is that even possible?

The answer clearly lies not in what the Fed did - this was a quarter point hike the world saw coming from a mile away - but in what the Fed said. The FOMC's increasingly complicated messaging got it in trouble again, pushing market interest rates to levels likely close to the highs for this move.

A Trumpian Tower of Worry

There are at least four credible explanations for the post-hike bond sell-off. Not surprisingly, three of the four center on Trump.

1. Traders missed an economic upturn. Investors were so focused on Trump and what he might do, they failed to notice the economy accelerated in the late third and early fourth quarter. Inflation turned up at the same time. When the Fed acknowledged both in the statement, it caught people off guard. Note, however, the statement also noted "market-based measures of anticipated inflation have moved up considerably." These inflation expectations are by definition already included in yields. The market has already priced in a considerable rise in inflation.

2. Traders fear the Fed will not pre-empt Trumpian inflation. It is entirely reasonable for Yellen to insist FOMC participants should not try to anticipate the economic impact of policies when they don't know what the policies are. By the same token, that implies the Fed cannot be preemptive if Trump's policies are inflationary.

3. Some Fed watchers caught Trump fever. Yellen downplayed the FOMC's need to anticipate Trump's fiscal policy, but the fact that some FOMC participants think the economy will need more rate hikes next year than equity investors. Even a couple of participants buying into expectations of faster growth and inflation gives traders' fears legitimacy.

4. The forecast rose. The Fed's rate forecast barely changed. GDP growth next year is expected to be a touch higher and the median fed fund forecast implies three rather than two rate hikes.

Context is Key

Last year, the median FOMC rate call for 2016 was four rate hikes, a prospect so far-fetched it was dismissed. After all, inflation was super-low and not rising, consumption was slowing and business investment was falling. Fed officials insisted four hikes were likely nonetheless.

In 2016, four rate hikes were only going to happen if the FOMC was willfully blind, and were only given credence after Fed officials insisted they would be. In 2017, the three hikes implied by the forecast seem more sensible, and therefore more likely. But to really make sense, inflation has to continue to pick up, which seems unlikely, especially with the dollar on a tear.

Bonds and Inflation Expectations

The bond market is getting way ahead of itself in reaction to the election. Yields are likely close to topping out, and the case for a drop in yields in 2017 is strong.

The market's long-term inflation expectations rose from just under 1.5% in early July to 2.15% in the days before the December FOMC meeting. The 65bp increase was in response to several factors, including higher oil prices, faster current inflation and Trump's economic policies. Inflation expectations rose 14bp the day after the election, by far tion expectations and the rise in real yields, there is now 75-100bp of yield in 10-yr Treasuries to compensate for inflation stemming from stronger global demand and Trumpian economics plus the Fed response to these inflation pressures.

As for inflation, Wall Street's forecast is little changed in 2017. Probably the biggest surprise is how little energy inflation has changed, given the 45% rise in oil from its low. That's because Wall Street expects oil will end next year in the same $45-55 range it is in now.

Wall Street expects the dollar will continue to rise next year, but not at the same pace as in the past month. One alternative scenario reflects the effect of a significantly stronger dollar, which would result in lower import prices, reducing the cost of goods. The other reflects an overheating economy, which would increase the cost of services.

If inflation deviates from Wall Street's forecast, it is more likely to be lower than higher, because there is a significant risk of dollar strength, in part because there is a significant risk of weakness in other currencies, and in part because the Fed is determined to raise rates at least twice. As for an overheating economy, it is possible, but not likely in 2017, because passing the kind of sugar-rush stimulus that would blow out the deficit will be nearly impossible and because Congress simply won't have time to put major stimulus in place.

Bottom Line: Significant rate increases typically occur in two parts. A rapid move accounting for 80-90% of the yield rise followed by a drawn out, more volatile phase. We are likely entering the second phase now the Fed rate hike is behind us. Wall Street's forecast 2.65% peak in 10-year notes still stands, as does the ensuing rally. The market has run too far, too fast. It may run just a little further, but yields are not likely to get much more attractive than they are now for some time to come.

Your Money - Ask Julia

Be kind to one another Look for opportunities to be kind. It will make your Christmas and Holidays more pleasant, too. Be nice to cashiers, restaurant servers, public transportation drivers, flight attendants - all those who are working while you are shopping, traveling, or partying. My son gave his only sleeping bag to someone who looked destitute. The person was extremely thankful, my son felt really good, and I'm proud of him, too. Do you have a collection of sleeping bags, coats, umbrellas, rain gear, gloves, etc. that you could GIFT to someone living on the street? Sure, you won't get the tax deduction you'd get if you gave to a charity, but those without money cannot afford to buy from those stores that sell your donations. Christians, be the Good Samaritan.

Is there an investment that will pay me like a pension, starting now, so I have income for life?

Depending on your specific situation, you might have several options. If it turns out to be the best and right thing for you, you might consider an immediate annuity. You can get the same security as a monthly pension check, it's simple, and tax-efficient.

I have some money in stocks. I regularly contribute a set amount, and the same stocks are purchased. Should I sell my stocks and buy different ones?

I am not licensed to give you advice about stocks. I encourage my clients to invest where their money is safe (based on the strength of the company). As Will Rogers said, "I'm not as concerned about the return ON my money as I am the return OF my money." That said, my clients did not lose a penny in the investments I recommended over the last 10 years; they gained.

I'm currently paying 5 3/4 interest rate on my old 30-year mortgage, which seems to be a high rate. I currently owe $110,000, and [I'm] on a fixed income. Is it too late to get a lower rate without a lot of origination, etc., fees?

For a better answer, I'd need to know how many years you have left on your loan, and your current payment amount. For those who don't want to get into a long term mortgage, there are refinance loans available now that match the number of years you have left in your current loan. Refinancing does cost and it takes time to recover those costs. Another option might be a reverse mortgage. In general, I'd say you should be looking into a change of rate and payment. When we decided to buy a newly constructed home, the builder was emphatic, saying that we have to get our financing from his lending company to get the discounts and perks that we can apply to the closing costs or to upgrades. Is that true?

The bottom line is that builders can entice, wheedle, and woo buyers with great deals, but they cannot threaten them; that's illegal. If a buyer does feel threatened, they should first stand their ground, then complain to the builder and to the state and federal consumer affairs officials.

imply that when you buy a new vehicle from them, you must have it serviced by them. This is not true! I hear this from my customers all the time! Here is what you need to know:

There is a law (Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act) that an independent repair shop can service your car and you will not be jeopardizing your warranty in any way. This law has been around since 1975. Just like you would have to do if you got your vehicle serviced at the dealership, you need to keep records of services and have them done as recommended in your owner's manual. The good news is we make it easy for you. You always get a copy and we keep your vehicle's records as well. We can download a copy for you any time you need it.

Many consumers have gone to the dealership to take care of a warranty issue, however, and have been told their warranty is void because the vehicle has aftermarket parts on it. If they didn't inspect the vehicle to find out if the aftermarket parts cause the problem that is illegal. The mere presence of aftermarket parts on a vehicle cannot void a manufacturer warranty.

There are two types of warranties; expressed and implied. An expressed warranty is for a specific amount of time on certain parts. An implied warranty states that the manufactured product should meet certain standards. Aftermarket parts do not void either warranty. If you feel you have been wronged in this area contact the FTC (Federal Trade Commis-

There are also two types of emission warranties; defect and performance. At the time of sale, the defect warranty insists that the manufacturer make a vehicle that will meet required emission levels. The performance warranty says the vehicle must maintain certain emission levels during its useful life cycle. Should the vehicle fail to meet these criteria the manufacturer must make the repairs free of charge even if an aftermarket part was the cause for the warranty claim. If that seems strange it is because the consumer is protected by the parts self-certification program that the EPA developed with SEMA (Specialty Equipment Market Association).

When an aftermarket part does fail, and is responsible for a warranty claim, the vehicle manufacturer must arrange a settlement with the consumer but the new vehicle warranty is not voided by this.

they refuse to cover any defective manufactured items just because you have aftermarket parts on your vehicle, without bothering to find out if the aftermarket parts were at fault that is illegal!

The laws dealing with warranties are very simple. The only time a new vehicle warranty can be voided is if an installed aftermarket part has been proven to cause the problem. If you feel you have been denied a claim take a written explanation from the dealership. Check your owner's manual for instructions on what to do next. If you still don't receive satisfaction contact the EPA at 202.233.9040 or 202.326.9100.

FPH Auxiliary Installs 2017 Board of Directors

GLENDORA - On Friday, December 9th, the Foothill Presbyterian Hospital (FPH) Auxiliary introduced their 2017 board at a breakfast provided by the hospital. Leading the group will be Garry Reynolds (President), Mary Barham (1st VP publicity), Jack Mateer (3rd VP finance), Dlorah Gonzales (secretary), and Patty Mateer (membership). Helping them to make this a successful year will be the many members that volunteer their time and services.

Because of the hard work of last year's auxiliary, a check for $27,500, the second installment of the promised $100,000, was presented to the hospital. This donation will go to help finishing its education building. A second check for $5,000 was given for beds and monitors for the neonatal intensive care unit at Queen of the Valley and Foothill Presbyterian. These generous donations were made possible by the support the community gave to the 2016 auxiliary fundraiser, Corks and Forks, and the hospital's Gift Shop.

If you would like more information or would like to become a part of this very worthwhile community organization, please call the volunteer office at (626)857-3103.

Bonnie Singleton, 2016 FPH President, introduces the 2017 board: Garry Reynolds, Mary Barham, Jack Mateer, Diorah Gonzales and Patty Mateer.

Bonnie Singleton presents the donation to Melissa Howard, Chief Nursing Executive at FHP, for beds and monitors for the NICU.

Bonnie Singleton gives Michelle Stoddard, member of the Citrus Valley Health Foundation and Joe Zenetta, president of the Citrus Valley Health Foundation a check to go towards helping to complete the new education building.
