America's Christian Credit Union Honors Heroes on Memorial Day

GLENDORA - America's Christian Credit Union (ACCU) held its third annual Patriot Week commemoration, May 23-27 in partnership with Project Glendora Yellow Ribbon and Project Chaos.

This tradition began with the intent of inspiring the community in celebrating, honoring and supporting the U.S. military, veterans and first-responders.

Among the speakers was Nancy Bennett of Glendora who spoke about her son Staff Sgt Kenneth (Wade) Bennett, 26, who died in Afghanistan in 2012, when he encountered an improvised explosive device (IED) during combat operations. Wade, who joined the Army in 2004, was trained as an Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) specialist and was on his third deployment to the region. He is survived by his parents Nancy and Ken Bennett, sister Rene, wife Mandi and 6-year-old daughter Lila Grace.

This year, the celebration continued with planned events including the Opening Ceremony on Tuesday May 24th, a presentation of homemade treats and baked goods to local first responders on Wednesday May 25th, and a Family Day & Awards Ceremony to wrap up the week on Thursday, May 26th. ACCU welcomed veterans, first responders, and other community heroes to come out and be recognized for their service and sacrifice.

In previous years, the Credit Union has been able to raise much needed funds during Patriot Week for various charities that support our heroes. "We express our gratitude as a community to those that have sacrificed so much for our freedom," said President/CEO, Mendell L. Thompson.

Project Glendora Yellow Ribbon is a grassroots effort to gain public recognition for Glendorans presently serving in the Armed Forces. Through solicited funding, PGYR arranges for the printing, purchase and installation of recognition banners to hang along various lamp posts within the City of Glendora. For additional information, visit http:// glendorayellowribbon.org/

The mission of Project Chaos is to bring awareness of the ongoing needs of wounded warriors and Families of the Fallen/Gold Star families. They are a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, EIN 47-4527507. By creating and selling Glass Art work and other items their goal is to offer support to established veteran organizations and the EOD Warrior Foundation (EOFWF). Porter Ranch Homeowners Hurt by Gas Leak Get Help from Senate

Huff Measure Allows Homeowners to Apply for Property Tax Reductions

Senate took action today to approve urgency legislation authored by Senator Bob Huff (R-San Dimas) that could provide taxpayer relief to some Los Angeles County homeowners. SB 1304 will allow homeowners hurt by the Aliso Canyon natural gas leak in the Porter Ranch subdivision to apply for and receive property tax reassessments, which could possibly lead to a reduction in property tax bills.

"A recent, official report conducted to test the homes in Porter Ranch for contaminants found traces of metals believed to have emanated from the gas leak," said Senator Huff. "As this Legislature works through policies and regulations that will hopefully prevent future gas leaks from the Aliso Canyon facility, my legislation provides an opportunity to help Porter Ranch families during their time of hardship."

Current state law permits any property owner to apply for a reassessment of their property if it

SACRAMENTO - The State was damaged or destroyed in a disaster. It also authorizes a property tax reassessment if the Governor declares a "state of disaster." Current law does not include a "state of emergency" declared by the Governor, which took place following the Aliso Canyon gas leak. It also doesn't include damage from environmental contamination.

SB 1304 expands current law to include Governor declared states of emergency and adds "environmental contamination" to the eligible causes of damage for reassessment. It will also apply, retroactively, to the Porter Ranch neighborhood affected by the methane gas leak.

"Since October of last year, residents of the Porter Ranch neighborhood have struggled to return to normalcy following the events that forced the relocation of thousands of families," said Senator Huff. "SB 1304 will help to restore the normalcy that these homeowners deserve."

LOS ANGELES COUNT

Over a period of four months before it was finally plugged in late February, the Aliso Canyon natural gas leak forced the relocation of more than 8,000 families and spewed nearly 100,000 metric tons of methane into the atmosphere.

The legislation has the support of Board of Equalization member George Runner and Los Angeles County Assessor Jeffrey Prang. Co-Authors include Senate President pro-Tem Kevin de León, Senator Sharon Runner (R-Antelope Valley) and Senator Fran Pavley (D-Sherman Oaks). There is no known opposition.

SB 1304, which is an urgency measure and will take effect immediately upon the Governor's signature, now moves to the State Assembly.

Learn "Hands Only" CPR in 10 Minutes with "Sidewalk CPR"

CPR Trainings to be held at locations across Los Angeles County

LOS ANGELES – Ninety percent of people who suffer out-ofhospital cardiac arrests die. It takes 10 minutes or less to learn how to keep a cardiac arrest victim alive until paramedics arrive! The County of Los Angeles Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Agency, the Los Angeles County Fire Department, and the American Heart Association (AHA) are once again coordinating free hands-only CPR training on Sidewalk CPR Day, June 2, at over 50 sites across Los Angeles County to help improve cardiac survivability. Last year, more than 10,000 people in Los Angeles County learned how to save a life in just a few minutes with a quick lesson from local firefighters and medical professionals. This year, the goal is to train at least 10,000 more.

"Bystanders are the first link in the chain of survival when every minute counts," says Cathy Chidester, director of the County EMS Agency. "Learning Hands-Only CPR empowers anyone to be able to save a life when someone suffers sudden cardiac arrest. With 70 percent of all cardiac arrests occurring at home, family and friends can double or triple their loved one's chance of survival by learning CPR."

Hands-only CPR focuses on the first few minutes following a cardiac arrest, since the lungs and blood contain only enough oxygen to keep vital organs healthy for that amount of time. While emergency responders are on their way to the scene, chest compressions using hands-only CPR will provide the ongoing blood flow needed to give the patient a much better chance of survival once responders arrive. Once trained, citizens are encouraged to download the PulsePoint mobile app for iOS and Android to receive notifications that someone nearby is in need of CPR. To learn more, visit the PulsePoint Foundation website at www.pulsepoint.org.

Less than 10 percent of the nearly 350,000 out-of-hospital cardiac arrest victims survive nationwide. Only 46 percent of victims receive CPR from a bystander. Don't be a bystander in a cardiac emergency - be a lifesaver! For a list of training sites, visit www.fire.lacounty.gov/ sidewalkcpr/.

Suspect In The Shooting Of A West Covina Police Officer Captured

By George Ogden

WEST COVINA - The suspect in the shooting of a West Covina Police Officer, Jose Luis Chavez, 47, of West Covina has been captured 6 days after the shooting. He was charged for the attempted murder of Officer Kenny Benitez.

After a $20,000 reward was offered for information of Chavez, information materialized that provided an address in the 1200 block of Foxworth Ave. in Valinda. In the early morning hours of Thursday, May 26, SWAT Teams gathered and surrounded the home. They ordered him out of the home and he complied and they took him into custody without incident. He is being held without bail for attempted murder of a police officer and a number of other charges. He was first taken to a hospital to treat the gunshot wound from the officer he shot.

The incident began Friday, May 20 around 11:20 p.m.; Of-

Jose Luis Chavez, 47, arrested for attempted murder of a West

Covina Police Officer. ficer Benitez saw Chavez and a female walking down the street with a bicycle. Officer Benitez wanted to check to make sure the couple was alright. When the officer turned north onto Yaleton Avenue from Badillo, he stopped his patrol car and went to talk with the couple. This is when Chavez pulled a gun and shot Officer Benitez. The bullet missed the protective vest and passed through his body. The officer returned fire and a shootout in the street occurred as the woman ran north on Yaleton. During this gun battle, Chavez was hit and he also ran north leaving his bike behind.

It was believed that he ran to a home that he stayed at with his girlfriend. It was also believed that someone from that home drove him away from the scene before a containment area could be set up.

The home was identified and a number of SWAT teams engaged the home and a large tree house in the back yard. The home was cleared and then they checked the tree house as he had often stayed there. He was not located in either location. The girlfriend was later arrested and has not been identified.

Officer Benitez was taken to the hospital in critical but stable condition at that time. He is now home with his family recovering.

Officials Prepare To Break Ground For L.A. Fitness Club

Project expected to revitalize long-time vacant lot in Baldwin Park

BALDWIN PARK - Local residents who have been trying to integrate exercise amid their dayto-day schedules may be happy to learn that a new fitness center is coming to town. City officials have announced that construction of the new L.A. Fitness center at 13822 Garvey Ave. will begin early next month.

A special groundbreaking ceremony for the project is scheduled for Thursday, June 9, at 11 a.m. Construction of the twostory, 45,000-square-foot project will then begin June 15, according to city associates.

"All of a sudden it's here, and I'm extremely excited," said Baldwin Park Mayor Manuel Lozano, adding that the gym project will be the first of its size in this city.

The new L.A. Fitness center will be built on the five-acre property at the southeast corner of Francisquito and Garvey avenues, just north of the San Bernardino (10) Freeway. That area rests across from the original Inn-Out store, a popular Baldwin Park staple. Lozano said the project lot has been vacant for years, although it is also well traveled by hundreds of pedestrians and commuters every day.

"We're turning that whole landscape that is now dirt into a great structure. This project will lighten up that particular area," the mayor added. "I think it's going to be a really nice place."

Blueprints for the incoming fitness club call on a 35,000square-foot main level, as well as a 10,000-square-foot mezzanine. The Baldwin Park L.A. Fitness location will mirror the West Covina club, according to the floor plan. Amenities include full-court basketball, a swimming pool and spa, men's and women's lockers with showers, and saunas. The local venue will also offer spinning, free weights, traditional cardio equipment and personal training areas.

Although specifics have not yet been confirmed, officials noted that the incoming L.A. Fitness center eventually would be complemented by three to four additional businesses on the lot. Several companies, including retail stores and eateries, have already expressed interest, Lozano said, but nothing has been confirmed at this point.

For more information about the L.A. Fitness groundbreaking, contact Yauchzee at (626) 813-5204 or via e-mail at syauchzee@baldwinpark.com.

Hillary - Take Three

In previous columns I have insisted that it is Bernie's political obligation to lead his multitudinous flock of followers in Hillary's direction. It is doubtful that the November election can be won without a substantial number of them. But they are not only critical in securing a Democratic victory in the coming contest, they are the future of the Party, and hopefully the nation. Bernie has made his point. It is where I hope to see the US headed. Now he must move these masses of young voters and independents in Hillary's direction.

But there is another change in direction to which many of us have given scant attention. In the next few weeks Hillary will be pivoting away from the internecine arguments of the primaries to the hard issues she will face in the general election. But not so fast, Madam Secretary. Before you move down that path, there is another pivot you must first make. It is toward Bernie's ten million enthusiastic voters. Hillary must take them seriously enough that they are drawn into her agenda as she is drawn into theirs.

In many ways the job is less problematic because she and Bernie do not significantly differ on many issues. On the need for universal health insurance, the need to find a way for all capable young people to attend college, the need to narrow the gap between the very wealthy and the rest of us, the increased regulatory control of the big banks, the reversal of the Citizens United decision, taking seriously climate change and the use of alternate energy in place of fossil fuels, effective gun control, raising the minimum wage, the right of women to control their own bodies, equal pay for equal workand in much more, Hillary and

Bernie are almost in lock step.

But there are two others issues on which Hillary must pivot toward Bernie, and they are both matters of foreign policy. First, Hillary's basic orientation is as a hawk. In terms of the support of America's devastating current wars, she stands to the right of Donald Trump. While she now says she regrets her vote to invade Iraq, if you trace her stance on the use of America's military force to control much of the world, she tends to see the nation's uniqueness in terms of its iron fist. Her almost complete captivity by the rulers of the Pentagon makes any amelioration of the nation's foreign policy under her presidency a dim possibility. And that is NOT where Bernie's throng stands. They may not be pacifists, but neither do they look on the rest of the world as pawns we ought to control no matter the size of the military force we need

The other issue is her absolute commitment to the state of Israel, with no significant concern for the rights of the Palestinians. Repeatedly the United States has called for Israel to abandon the further development of communities of Israeli settlers in the West Bank, the destruction of Palestinian homes in East Jerusalem and the apartheid which holds the Palestinians in bondage. With every request by the United States for Israel to construct no new settlements, Netanyahu insists on building even more. Our answer has been more millions of dollars given Israel and dedicated to increasing that nation's capacity to control both Gaza and the West Bank. Similar calls by the United Nations, often vetoed by us, have only hardened Hillary's absolute support of Israel, and she needs to recognize the seriousness with which Bernie's supporters are committed to fairness in that part of the world.

Perhaps no single decision on her part would be more indicative of her willingness to recognize the vital importance of Bernie's constituency than the naming of an acceptable candidate for Vice President.

Walmart Celebrates Anniversary of Veterans Welcome Home Commitment with Announcement of 5,330 Veteran Hires in California

Company has hired 130,828 veterans nationwide since commitment began in May of 2013

LOS ANGELES – Walmart announced it has hired 130,828 veterans since it announced its Veterans Welcome Home Commitment in May 2013*, including 5,330 in the state of California. Of those 130,828 veteran hires, 15,176 have been promoted to jobs with higher pay and greater responsibility.

"Walmart helped to make my transition from military service to civilian life much easier by being the first company to offer me a job after I had applied everywhere for three months," said Walmart associate Eric Urzua, who served eight years in the Navy split evenly between active and reserve duty.

Urzua received an Associate of Arts degree in Criminal Justice from Long Beach City College before joining Walmart as an asset protection associate in 2012. He was promoted to asset protection manager at the Santa Fe Springs store last year.

On Memorial Day 2013, Walmart introduced the Veterans Welcome Home Commitment, which guaranteed a job offer to any eligible, honorably discharged U.S. veteran who was within 12 months of active duty. The initial goal was to hire 100,000 veterans by the end of 2018. In May of 2015, Walmart announced the expansion of that original projection, with the goal of hiring 250,000 veterans by the end of 2020. Walmart has also changed the eligibility from within 12 months of active duty, to any veteran who has been honorably discharged since the announcement of the commitment in May 2013.

Despite unemployment among veterans being at its lowest in eight years, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, veterans from the Gulf War era continue to be under- or unemployed.

"As a veteran, I know how critical it is for our men and women in uniform to have a strong support structure when transitioning back to civilian life," said Retired Brigadier General, Gary Profit, senior director of military programs for Walmart. "A job is an important part of that transition, and at Walmart, we're proud to use our strengths as one of the nation's largest employers to be a part of that bridge back home by providing meaningful opportunities to 5,330 veterans, and counting, in California to use their unique talent and skills. Veterans are among some of our strongest associates and we are pleased to see the growth and success they have achieved at Walmart."

The Walmart Foundation's Commitment to Veterans and Military Families

Beyond Walmart's Veterans Welcome Home Commitment, the Walmart Foundation is also reinforcing its support for transitioning military members and their families with the announcement of $2.6 million in grants to nonprofit organizations that support veteran reintegration - The American GI Forum and Swords to Plowshares:

• Texas-based American GI Forum National Veterans Outreach Program, which stabilizes veterans through housing and job assistance among other services, will receive a $1 million grant for employment placement assis-

 California-based Swords to Plowshares will receive a $1.6 million grant to enhance innovative employment and training programs at the California Veterans Employment and Training Collaborative and the Texas Veterans Employment and Training Collaborative.

"Veterans today face a number of unique challenges when it comes to transitioning to civilian life," said Michael Blecker, U.S. Army veteran and executive director of Swords to Plowshares. "Walmart and the Walmart Foundation understand this challenge, and continue to serve our men and women in uniform both in the workplace and through making investments in programs, like ours, that help veterans reintegrate to civilian life."

In addition, Walmart and the Walmart Foundation have supported several veteran and military family-focused organizations in California over the last year, including Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10218 in El Monte, which recently received a $5,000 grant from company.

"Walmart's support will be critical to help us physically upgrade our post hall and allow us to continue our veteran's support and recognition programs in El Monte," said Post Commander Mike Felix. "We applaud Walmart's Welcome Home Commitment program because it's a great way to salute veterans and accelerate their transition to civilian life."

Walmart and the Walmart Foundation have demonstrated a strong commitment to supporting our nation's military service members. In October 2015, Walmart launched the Greenlight A Vet campaign to help create visible and actionable national support for veterans nationwide. Walmart invited all Americans to show support for veterans by changing one light bulb in their home to green, raising awareness on social media, volunteering and serving with veteran groups in their community, or starting a mentor/mentee relationship with

While a job is a vital piece of transitioning from military to civilian life for a veteran, it also takes a coordinated, multi-sector effort to create healthy transitions to civilian life. In 2011, Walmart and the Walmart Foundation committed $20 million by 2015 to support veterans and their families with assistance from programs that provide job training, transition help and education. With the early completion of the commitment in May of 2014, Walmart and the Walmart Foundation renewed their commitment, announcing an additional $20 million through 2019 to support veteran job training, education and innovative public/private community-based initiatives that address the challenges many of our veterans face when returning to the civilian workforce and their communities. This includes $1 million in support for Welcome Home North Carolina, a pilot initiative to strengthen regional collaboration among veteran-serving organizations.

Thanks to Those Who Attended a Memorial Day Event

I would like to thank everyone who attended a Memorial Day ceremony to honor those veterans who are no longer with us. I want to send out a special thanks to those people that showed up to one of these events that have no connection to our military whatsoever. What I mean is, they never had a family member or close friend in the military. They attended an event on their own to give thanks. So often today, the veterans and their families are the only people that attend these Memorial ceremonies. Many of the general public cannot be bothered and consider it a holiday. With those of you that did take your time to attend, thank you. You have our respect.

On a sad note, it is a sad day for Americans, veterans and their families when criminal terrorists went out of their way to destroy the Veterans Memorials. Memorials to veterans in a Los Angeles neighborhood (Venice) and a town in Kentucky, as well as a Civil War veteran's cemetery in Virginia, were damaged as the nation prepares to mark Memorial Day.

The one in Venice was the 100 foot long mural that had the names of all those missing in action were possibly prisoners of war that never came home. Criminal terrorists painted over the lower half from one end to the other. The graffiti is in a foreign language it appears it's been done by a number of different people. I'm sure you saw what they did on the news. It appears that this Memorial will end up being a total loss and most likely will not be replaced.

It appears that these people did just exactly what they wanted, to destroy our Memorials. In my own opinion, I can't help but feel that we let this happen. Our laws are not strong enough, and our penalties are not tough enough. So, this is what we get.

Inspiration to Look Beyond Pain Medication

By Don Ingwerson

A fresh look at relieving pain - especially chronic pain - is turning attention to finding nonmedical routes in place of addictive painkiller use.

One such way is by prescribing meditation instead of medi-

"Increasingly, both doctors and patients are looking for a more holistic way of treating pain," writes Jeena Cho in an article about an orthopedic surgeon doing just that.

An impetus for the medication-alternative search, a move the Food and Drug Administration supports, are the statistics showing prescription drug overdoses in the United States tragically kill more people than car

With an estimated 50 to 100 million people in the US who are dealing with this issue of pain, finding effective alternatives to medication is paramount.

While prayer and meditation may not at first appear to be similar, many now see that the stillness and openness inherent in meditation is also found in deep, spiritual prayer. As writer, Douglas Todd, comments, "Prayer versus meditation, They're more alike than we realize."

Yet that quiet prayer is expressed by the phrase, "Let go. Let God," indicating that it is not so much an emptying of thought as filling consciousness with an awareness of God and our substance as the expressions of God. This is what enables a person to align with, and evidence, their God-given health.

This non-medical, spiritual approach was advocated by an early proponent of prayer-based viewed from an individual's spiritual understanding of God.

"It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony," said Mary Baker Eddy, in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, the book that details her research into the relationship between spirituality and wellbeing and her thoughtful results. Eddy found that looking beyond the limited materialistic sense of a self apart from God through prayer was integral to restoring and maintaining health.

What could this powerful idea about prayer's efficacy in dealing with health issues mean to those currently suffering from pain?

Many, like me, have found that prayer can consistently lead to relief of all sorts of discomfort and health challenges.

As a reduction of pain medication through more holistic approaches is explored, it's encouraging to hear of more people who have found healthy results through such prayer. The inspired sense of our relationship to God is the cup of cold water that Eddy talks about in Science and healing to address health needs Health: "Millions of unprejudiced minds?-?simple seekers for Truth, weary wanderers, athirst in the desert?-?are waiting and watching for rest and drink. Give them a cup of cold water in Christ's name, and never fear the consequences."

> Drop by drop, this inspiration will increasingly be sought and found to lead to more health and healing.

Data Dependent

When the Fed began contemplating rate hikes in January of last year, the FOMC adopted its "data dependent" language, intended to communicate the possibility of "a path of the federal funds rate different from that currently expected by investors or policymakers." Good thing, too, as early 2015 forecasts suggested fed funds would be 1.25-1.50% by now. In hindsight, the phrase "data dependent" is clearly code for "we will likely have to raise rates more slowly than we'd like to." The Fed claims data dependency as a free pass to maintain a forecast built around the assumption the persistent headwinds blowing since 2008 would diminish to occasional light breezes.

The April minutes included a particularly distinct mix of rate hike warning and data depen-

"Most participants judged that if incoming data were consistent with economic growth picking up in the second quarter, labor market conditions continuing to strengthen, and inflation making progress toward the Committee's 2% objective, then it likely would be appropriate for the Committee to increase the target range for the federal funds rate in June."

Some have said the Fed's hesitancy can be explained by fear of a wipe out in the stock market. Alarms seem to go off at the Fed when stocks are dropping, and are silenced only after the market is clearly back on solid footing. But the two drops in US equity prices since last summer didn't happen in isolation. They were part of a global financial tempest centered on a combination of Chinese capital flight and a Chinese stock market collapse.

Will the Fed raise rates in June? Clearly, they would very much like to. But if the decision is really data dependent, there's a problem: Second quarter growth is still unknown, while growth was disappointing in the first quarter.

Pro: Reasons to Raise Rates in June

What's up in the Economy?

Economic Analyst & Former Glendora Mayor

Wall Street colleagues could not help but do so.

>"I see risks from global and financial developments having virtually entirely dissipated." (Virtually entirely is a nice touch. China is barely back from the brink. The emerging markets remain in grave danger.)

>"Holding the rate down is getting more perilous as wage pressures become more appar-

(Where is this wage pressure of which you speak? Outside of cities with higher minimum wages, there still isn't any.)

>"The risk seems to be growing to me that we overshoot on the high side [of the 2% inflation target] and find ourselves forced to raise rates abruptly." (Getting inflation to rise to 2% has been a persistent challenge since 2009. There is no reason to think it will rise now, especially given the inflation picture outside the US. Indeed, the first inkling of core inflation pressure last year came from rents, and rent inflation is in retreat now.)

Con: Reasons to Remain on

The best reasons not to hike are real questions about the strength of employment and economic growth, closely followed by ongoing risks in China.

>Year-to-date average payroll growth is 208k. The unemployment rate is unchanged since

And remember, construction and retail payrolls were boosted by warm weather in O1.

>The Atlanta Fed's O2 GDP stands at 2.5%, implying average first-half growth of 1.5%. Between now and the June 15 policy meeting, there are only a handful weakness in capital spending.

>April consumption: Retail sales were good enough to imply 3.7% Q2 consumption growth. We need very strong April consumption to confirm it.

>May employment: Is one consecutive strong jobs report enough? What if it's not strong?

>May retail sales: The most important of the four, because last year strong spending through the quarter was the foundation of the O2 rebound. Because this report prints on June 14, the first day of the two-day FOMC meeting, however, it may escape the Fed's notice.

Most importantly, until the data show otherwise, the US economy is losing momentum. Yes, Q2 is likely to be stronger than Q1 for the third consecutive year. But how much stronger? Consumption has been slowing for nine months. Business investment has been losing steam for a year and a half. It will take a decisive bounce in Q2 and Q3 to reverse these trends.

DETERMINED TO HIKE

Once the Fed embarks on a series of rate changes, whether easing or tightening, they are remarkably stubborn about it. Hence, it is a safe bet rates will rise eventually. But in June, there just isn't enough good news to justify it - yet. And when they do hike, there will be fallout that will put them back on hold for months. At the moment, July seems like a better bet than June for the second hike of the cycle, but it is far from a sure thing. Market odds of 50% seem about right as the persistent headwinds that have buffeted the economy for six years are likely to continue to blow.

If the FOMC cannot go in July, the next opportunities are September 21 and November 2, in the heat of Presidential campaign season. Raising rates in September seems unlikely; November even more so. Hence, if they don't hike by July, the first opportunity to raise rates in 2016 could be December 14.

We lived in our home for 7 years, but could no longer afford our full mortgage payment. For about a year now, we've been renting our house out. This rental income just about covers the mortgage payment, taxes and insurance. We're okay for now, but what should we be thinking about doing

Since you lived in your house 2 of the last 5 years, you still qualify for the homeowner's exemption ($250,000 single/ $500,000 couple) - deducted from the profit of the sale of that property, before capital-gains taxes. Once you have rented that house out for more than 1 year, you might want to convert that property to a 1031 exchange property, sell it, and reinvest all the proceeds to a "like" property. The definition of "like" property means any property that is not foreign. In other words, you could sell your home and buy a piece of land, a couple of smaller homes, an apartment complex, or a commercial building. These transactions have specific guidelines and timeframes. 1031 exchanges allow you to defer taxes. Ideally, you would time your transactions to defer, defer, defer, and then die, leaving the final property(-ies) to heirs. Since this inherited property would have a stepped-up value at that time, they should not have to pay the income taxes you'd deferred over the years.

We're thinking it's time to buy a house. Do you have any guidelines?

First, get pre-approved for a mortgage loan. (This is different than getting pre-qualified.) Pre-approved means that a lender has your application and supporting documentation, and has agreed to lend you 'up to' a specific dollar amount. With your pre-approval letter in hand, the offer you submit on the house you want can be taken much more seriously. While you are getting pre-approved, make and prioritize a list of "must-haves," "don't wants," and "might consider." For example, a "must-have" might be the number of bedrooms and bathrooms, while the "don't wants," might be a condo, or a busy street, and "might consider" might be a pool. Also take the time to select the neighborhoods you'd really like (perhaps for school district, or community amenities), some you "might consider" (those bordering areas you'd really like), and those you definitely wouldn't live in (for example, too close to a freeway or railroad tracks). borhoods we might like to live in, see a house-for-sale sign, call the agent and never hear back. Is there a quicker way to get this info?

If you have a smart phone, text HH6 to 78887. Follow the instructions and you'll have use of a free app that lets you drive around and see the information on all the houses for sale in that area. You can use it at home, too, to see the houses for sale in your neighborhood.

I'm in my mid-60's and have a $130,000 IRA. I'm concerned that when I begin my RMDs, if the market goes down again, I'll run out of money. Is there somewhere better for me to put my money so it has a better chance of lasting my whole life? If you qualify, you might want to consider a Fixed Income Annuity with a Lifetime Income Benefit Rider. You'd be guaranteed no losses, and your initial funds plus any gains could then be paid to you over your lifetime. (Legal Disclaimer: Guarantees are based on the strength of the issuing company.)

Passing The Smog Test

Glendora is vitally important, of course, and here a few tips to make sure your car or light truck can ace its test!

1. Bring your DMV renewal notice with you to the smog check facility. There is a bar code on it that we have to scan

2. Drive around about 30 minutes' prior so your car can be at full operating temperature. On the freeway for 10 minutes at 60MPH can also help.

3. Use the correct grade of fuel (see your owner's manual) and fill up your vehicle prior to

4. A clean air filter and fresh engine oil is always a good idea.

5. If you are a short trip driver take your vehicle on an extended spin the week of your test. Try to go on the freeway so you can get up to speed. Your vehicle actually performs better on longer freeway driving trips than short stop and start trips. To really help it along take it uphill, on surface streets and overall make the trip at least 30 minutes long.

6. One of the most impor-

Passing the smog test in tant items is your car's gas cap. Does it fit properly? Is it in good working condition? If you don't even have a gas cap your car will automatically fail the test.

> 7. Lighten up your vehicle! If your trunk or other storage space is filled with weighty items, it hurts your vehicle's chance of passing the test. The dynamometer does weigh your vehicle.

> 8. We strap your vehicle down on a dynamometer for the test to assure that it does well under stressful conditions. Make sure it doesn't have fluid leaks and other safety issues prior to the test.

9. Tires must be the original specified as the test is cali-

New Law Raises Licensing Fees for Cigarettes and Tobacco Products

SACRAMENTO – Sellers of cigarettes and tobacco products will see their licensing fees increase starting June 9, 2016. The increased fees are a result of Assembly Bill x2 11, which was signed into law on May 4 and increases the Cigarette and Tobacco Products License application and renewal fees for retailers, wholesalers, and distributors to provide additional funding for cigarette and tobacco products tax compliance. This new law is effective the same day that the age for purchasing cigarettes and tobacco products raises from 18 to 21 years old. License applications can be submitted through the Board of Equalization's (BOE) online registration sys-

The BOE administers a statewide program to license cigarette and tobacco products manufacturers, importers, distributors, wholesalers, and retailers. Currently, retailers pay a one-time licensing fee of $100 per location where these products are sold. The new law will require them to pay $265 annually for each location. Distributors and wholesalers currently pay $1,000 per calendar year per location. The new law will require them to pay $1,200 per calendar year per location.

Homeless Children Initiative Collaborative Formed

DUARTE - Many people associate homelessness as those we see walking through, and sleeping in our community. While those are typically who we think of, there is a segment of our population that is considered homeless, yet they are not reported in the Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority (LAHSA) count. They are the students in our community. The chronic homeless population is increasing throughout the San Gabriel Valley, the LAHSA count performed on January 26, 2016 in Duarte observed or identified nine individuals deemed home-count for Duarte Unified School District. Duarte currently has over 100 students that have selfidentified as homeless. The federal standards established by the McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act, define a homeless student as between the ages of 0-22, "who lacks a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence". This could include living in a park, car, shelter, camping area, doubling up with another family, abandonment, emergency shelter, or a runaway or pushed

"We have to do something for these kids!" After a few phone calls, a new collaborative was born. Southern California Gas, Duarte and Monrovia Chambers of Commerce, New Life Assembly of God, Duarte Unified School District, DLL Technologies, Duarte residents, Foothill Unity Center, ChapCare, City of Monrovia Public Service, Monrovia Ministerial Association, and the City of Duarte Public Safety came together at the end of April to kick off the ini-

Duarte Chamber Chair Bob Cruz opened the inaugural meeting at the chamber offices by highlighting that this entity is not meant to reinvent the wheel, or take away from any current homelessness efforts throughout the region, but is a vehicle to connect the resources currently available and have the cities of Duarte and Monrovia working together to help educate the community and assist in removing barriers to educational for those who are in need. The focus is to identify what resources are available to help these families and assist in ensuring that their needs are met.

Ms. Naelh Othman has been a champion for this segment of DUSD students for several years. Her role with the district has expanded due to the identification and assistance needed by our students. Starting with a modest goal by the Community Youth Task Force to help, The MIT Closet was started two years ago that provides gently used clothing. Her new endeavor is to create a DUSD Homeless Resource Closet with basic necessities such as school supplies, hygiene kits, and more. Not only does Ms. Othman coordinate the Closet, she works tirelessly with those families in need. "Often these families are going through situational homelessness such as an unexpected job loss, family status changes, medical expenses or simply not able to make ends meet. They are humble in what they are needing. It could be as simple as clothes for school or job interview, or pencils and paper for them to do their school work, or helping fill out a form for aid." She is challenged with trying to identify resources to meet the ever changing needs of the homeless students. "It breaks my heart to not able to provide something as simple as a meal voucher because the resources have dried up. As a community we can come together and remove barriers to our student's education." Her plea is heartfelt and shared by those who have joined the Homeless Children

So what are the next steps? We need your assistance. We are looking for residents and businesses that could aid these students. It could be services, school supplies, or meal certificates. We are also looking for resources that are out there and building a database that both Duarte and Monrovia school districts can access that includes current and relevant information. Please contact the Duarte Chamber offices at 626-357-3333 or jim@duartechamber.com if you are interested in joining the collaborative.

Antonovich Expresses Support For Californians For Death Penalty Reform And Savings Act

County Sheriff Jim McDonnell, Supervisor Antonovich, Association of Los Angeles Deputy Sheriffs President George Hofstetter, LAPD Chaplain Rev. Ferroll Robins, West Covina Police Chief Faulkner and West Covina Police Captain Doug Murray

LOS ANGELES COUNTY

 At a press conference today, Supervisor Michael D. Antonovich joined Sheriff McDonnell and law enforcement leaders to express his support for the Californians for Death Penalty Reform and Savings Act of 2016, a measure which will appear on November's ballot. "This initiative will promote justice for murdered victims and their families, save taxpayers millions of dollars per year, and assure due process protections for those sentenced to death," said Antonovich. "At a time when crime rates are spiking, it is vital to enact reforms to make the death penalty an effective deterrent and appropriate punishment for murderers and provide justice for victims and their families."

Currently, the State of California has 746 inmates on death row and has not executed an inmate since 2006. Of those 746 inmates:

- 126 involved torture before
- 173 killed children
- 44 murdered police offic-

Proponent of the initiative, Reverend Ferroll Robins, whose brother, Joseph Paul, was murdered in south Los Angeles, is also a Los Angeles Police Department Chaplain and head of the nonprofit Loved Ones Victims Services, an organization that provides grief counseling for people whose family members are murdered.
