LA PUENTE - The 22nd Senate District 2016 Veterans Service Awards was held at VFW Post 1944 in La Puente. This was to celebrate our veterans and their continued service to their communities.

Senator Hernandez was proud and honored to announce that the selected Veteran Honorees for the 2016 Veterans Service Awards, they are:

With the Keynote Speaker and 2016 Veteran of the Year was Bob "Mr. Inspiration" Wieland, an Army Veteran from West Covina. Bob Wieland was born and raised in Greenfield, Wisconsin, where he was an all-star athlete on his way to a professional baseball career.

During his service for his country in the Vietnam War, his life was forever changed. While attempting to rescue a fallen comrade, Bob stepped on and detonated an 88mrn mortar round. His legs were blown off instantly. Bob was pronounced "dead on arrival" at the hospital, however God had another plan.

Bob chose to focus on the victories. "I lost my legs, not my heart." After leaving rehab in record time, Bob began to rebuild his life, "One Step at a Time." He enrolled at California State University, Los Angeles majoring in physical education with a specialization in Exercise Physiology. He was hired by the Green Bay Packers as their strength and motivation coach. He became a nationally known speaker and still accepts invitations to share his story all over the world.

As a member of the President's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, Bob's numerous honors include People Magazine's "One of the Six Most Amazing Americans of the Past 20 Years," the NFL's "Most Courageous Man in America;' and the prestigious Victor Award.

As the keynote speaker, he punctuated his story with humor and sadness.

Senator Hernandez recognized the other recipients from all over the East San Gabriel Valley in his district. They each received their recognition and addressed the packed crowd at the VFW Post.

If you note the names on the list, Jorge V. Rosales is one of the Examiner's Contributing Writers. Special congratulations to him and all the other recipients.

LOS ANGELES COUN'I November 10 - 16, 2016 Free Food Baskets To Help Hundreds Of Families

Program designed to assist disadvantaged in time for holiday season

BALDWIN PARK - Applications are now available to local residents and families who could use some extra support this upcoming holiday season. Officials with the Department of Recreation and Community Services have officially launched their annual Christmas Food Basket program, and they want to make sure eligible residents do not miss out on this opportunity.

"There is a greater need in Baldwin Park because [residents] just have less discretionary income, so these types of programs are really valued by the community," Manny Carrillo, director for the Department of Recreation and Community Services, said.

According to Food Basket organizers, Baldwin Park's annual Food Basket Program connects disadvantaged residents with a variety of produce, meats, and canned goods that could prove helpful during the holidays, when expenses can be higher than usu-

Residents may receive and submit an application for a gift basket through November 17.

Applications are available at the Esther Snyder Community Center, 4100 Baldwin Park Blvd., or at the Teri G. Muse Familv Service Center, 14305 Morgan St. Submissions will be considered on a first-come, firstserved basis.

To help as many locals as possible, organizers stressed that gift baskets are limited to one per household and are only available to city residents. In fact, potential food basket recipients must provide proof of income and Baldwin Park residency to qualify for the program. Once a resident is approved for a basket, he or she will be assigned a pickup time and date.

Carrillo said his city has organized the Food Basket Distribution project during the holiday season for close to two decades; as many as 500 baskets are distributed to local families each year.

The project was created out of local officials' ongoing efforts to help the community, especially those who may be financially strapped. "During the event, we get so many smiles and 'Thank you''.' It's amazing," added Carrillo. Recipients of the food baskets will be given a box filled with produce, chicken, tortillas, cheese, and apples, among other fare. Primary contents of the gift baskets are provided by Navidad en el Barrio, a non-profit organization that accumulates food donations from major food companies throughout the year. Those donations are then supplemented with canned foods (donated by Baldwin Park Unified School District students), as well as other donations provided through local community groups. Once all the items are gathered into each donation box, food baskets may weigh as much as 50 lbs., Carrillo noted.

"We wouldn't be able to make this happen without all of the community partners," he said.

"You name it, and they're contributing in some way, shape, or form."

For more information about the Food Basket Program, call (626) 813-5245, Ext. 268, or visit www.baldwinpark.com.

S.G.V. EXAMINER Huff Again Earns Perfect Ranking from California Chamber

Senator Compiles Eight Year Streak of Supporting Business and Job Creation

SACRAMENTO - The California Chamber of Commerce has once again awarded the highest of scores to Senator Bob Huff (R-San Dimas) for his unquestioned support for business owners and the business community in the State Legislature. Senator Huff not only received a perfect score in the just released California Chamber 2016 Scorecard, but was once again recognized as a top recipient in the "Best Business Votes" category. He earned the perfect score by supporting legislative measures designed to spur economic growth and job development, and opposing bills that sought to impose new burdens, mandates, taxes and fees on business.

This is the eighth straight year that Senator Huff has earned a perfect ranking from the California Chamber of Commerce and also earned top honors in the Best Business Votes category.

"Business in Orange County will lose a good friend when Senator Huff leaves office, due to term limits later this year," said Lucy Dunn, President and CEO of Orange County Business Council (OCBC), which earlier named Senator Huff as the organization's Legislator of the Year. "His leadership on efforts advancing education standards and opportunities, and improving mobility for southland residents is critical to the prosperous development of our region and state."

The California Chamber 2016 Scorecard contains 17 bills, and the Chamber says Senator Huff's votes on these measures reflect his positive "attitudes toward private enterprise, fiscal responsibility and the business climate."

This is the 42nd vote record that the California Chamber of Commerce has compiled, which provides member firms and local chambers of commerce with a gauge by which to measure the performance of each individual legislator. Most of the bills in the California Chamber vote record cover major business issues that are of concern to both small and large companies.

"Senator Huff's pro-business record is reflected in his positive voting record in the key areas of education, environmental regulation, health care costs, labor and employment, legal reform and protection, water supply and quality and workers' compensation," said Allan Zaremberg, Chief Executive Officer of the California Chamber.

Senator Huff earned his perfect score by supporting education accountability measures like AB 2548, which was designed to help employers, parents, educators and lawmakers hold schools accountable for student performance and improvement. He was also cited for opposing "job killer" bills such as SB 32, which increased regulatory burdens and costs for California businesses.

"This award is indeed an honor for me because new job and business creation has always been, and will continue to be, one of my top priorities for my district and all of California," said Senator Huff. "I understand the challenges that many business owners face, and will continue to fight on their behalf."

Two Robberies In Remote Areas Of Local Mountains - One Man Wounded. Detectives Seeking Information.

By George Ogden / LASD SAN GABRIEL MOUN-

TAINS - Sheriff's detectives assigned to San Dimas Station are investigating two robberies that occurred overnight Wednesday and Thursday in the San Gabriel Mountains. While it's not clear the two incidents are connected, they were in relatively close proximity a few hours apart.

In the first incident, deputies responded to Azusa Police Department and contacted two victims who reported they were robbed at gunpoint near Highway 39, mile marker 19.23, at about 10:30 p.m. on Wednesday night (11/02/2016). The victims, a 25 year old female and a 25 year old male, said they were parked at the roadside when they were approached by two men who demanded their property. One of them appeared to be armed with a pistol. The victims surrendered a small amount of cash and two cell phones. There were no injuries, and the suspects fled into the darkness. No vehicle was seen, and the victims could not provide a more detailed description of the suspects.

At about 6:00 a.m. on Thursday (11/03/2016) deputies responded to San Dimas Community Hospital. A 38 year old male reported that he was with a friend in the San Gabriel Mountains, on East Fork Road about 1/4 mile east of Highway 39. At about 1:30 a.m. he was approached by a male Hispanic with a handgun who demanded money. As the victim retrieved cash from his wallet, a struggle ensued and the suspect shot the victim in the right leg before driving away in a newer model Chrysler. Obtained was approximately $800.00 US currency. The victim was driven to the hospital and treated for a superficial gunshot wound to the right leg. The suspect was described as a Hispanic male, 30-35 years of age, 5'8" tall, heavy set, approximately 235 pounds, wearing a white t-shirt.

Anyone having information regarding either of these incidents is asked to call detectives at San Dimas Station, (909) 450-2700. The Sheriff's Department would like to remind visitors to the remote mountain areas to exercise caution, particularly late at night in areas with no cell service. While there is no evidence of a crime pattern related to these two incidents, robberies of this nature have occurred in the local mountains several times per year.

distracted and drunk drivers" said Glendora Police Chief Tim Staab. "Time after time, we see people getting injured or killed from not wearing a seatbelt, texting or talking on the phone while driving, driving while intoxicated and speeding. This grant will help us to enforce traffic laws and to keep the traveling public safe."

After falling to a ten year low in 2010, the number of persons killed has climbed nearly 17% across the state with 3,176 killed in 2015 according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. Particularly alarming is the six year rise in pedestrian and bicycle fatalities, along with the growing dangers of distracting technologies, and the emergence of drug-impaired driving as a major problem. This grant funding will provide opportunities to combat these and other devastating problems such as drunk driving, speeding and crashes at intersections.

Election Is Over Until Local Elections Begin

By Lois M. Shade Former Mayor of Glendora

By the time you read this you will have cast your vote for President of the U.S. at your local polling place, or perhaps you are one of those who stood in some of the long lines - I heard a 2hour wait in some cases - to vote early. Or maybe the more convenient way, using an absentee ballot or vote by mail. In any case, I hope you voted.

Everyone I've talked to without exception cannot remember ever having an election like the one we've just been through. Seventeen major Republican candidates entered the race for the White House, all with political experience and a track record except one. All with political track records were knocked out one by one until survivor Donald Trump became the Republican nominee for President. A businessman, a TV show host, at times, with an outrageous and obnoxious stage presence and with a family that stood behind him 100% even when he slid down the polls. Even when, what was it, 12 or 13 women danced out all of sudden remembering his bad behavior with nothing to back it up except Gloria Alred, attorney, always present when these issues pop up. But still behind him, the average American who believes he is the right choice for America today.

What impressed me the most was his ability to hit on every hot button issue - every concern -the average American has regarding the condition this country finds itself in today. Trump's book, Crippled America - How to Make American Great Again, provided answers to those issues. Second impression, were his children. Well-spoken, well-educated and well-aware of the importance of this election.

Hillary Clinton, a Democrat with a Secretary of State track record and a file of emails from a private server that would make the Encyclopedia Britannica look small. Yes, she has the background and political insight from experience but the questions that came up in my circles: So with that background what has she done for me or for this country? Has the economy improved and have we had job growth so every American who wants to work can work? Most of those I talk to are still struggling to make ends meet.

Health insurance is a huge dark cloud looming over everyone's head. The fear of not having health insurance because it is unaffordable or taking such a huge chunk out of the family checkbook there is barely enough for basic necessities. As far as I know, Hillary does support Obamacare or the Affordable Health Care Act ... I never heard her say it needs fixing or undoing. What I do hear is health care costs in California are going to be going up. Some are estimating 13 to 20% over the next 2 vears.

The other dark cloud above Hillary's bid for President is her husband, Bill Clinton, former President, with a track record of his own hitting on women. But primary concern I heard on-going: If Hillary is elected will that be Bill Clinton's 3rd term? We should know by the time you read this.

I spent my grade school years on the east coast where U.S. History was an extremely important component of our education. Part of what we learned way back then was originally our federal government, Congress especially, was operated by volunteers who served a term or two and then went back home to their jobs, their real jobs, most times as farmers. Serving their states and communities was not a full-time permanent job because they didn't make hundreds or thousands of dollars a year to do that job. Their families sacrificed a regular income so the man of the house could serve his country in Washington D.C. as a volunteer.

My, how times have changed! Sorry to say, I'm concerned that we no longer have the average citizen deeply involved in electing the person who will impact their every day life until the next election. Many I talked to were overwhelmed and very grateful to have recommendations on how to vote on the initiatives from those who had the time to read, study and create those recommendations.

Those same people were just as happy to get recommendations from sources they trust on candidates. They were absolutely lost and concerned about choosing the right candidate. Again, they were happy to get recommendations from those they trusted to interview the candidates, know their platforms and make those recommendations.

We need to find better ways to communicate and get the average citizen more involved in the day to day process of politics in California. We all know ... "money is the mother's milk of politics" ... but it also drives the passage of special interest candidates and special interest legislation, not always the best for the majority.

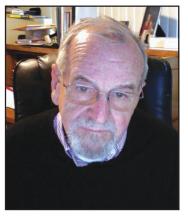

Oh, and by the way, we have some very important local elections coming up in March 2017 and then again in November 2017. Get prepared, get informed.

My Best Guess

A political candidate, facing what is believed to be a close election, hedges his/her bets. Two speeches are drafted. One graciously thanks supporters for their hard work throughout the campaign, while congratulating his/her victorious opponent. But in the back pocket is a second speech, humbly accepting the victory and making a commitment to serve all the people. I have personally both won and lost municipal elections, and if I didn't have written prepared responses of what I would say in either case, was clearly in my mind.

Charles H. Bayer

Pity this poor amateur columnist. The election was vesterday, and this week's column had to be finished and filed three or four days ago. Since I suffer from dyslexia and wouldn't dare submit anything for publication without having it first carefully checked, this adds a couple more days to the process. But my level of confidence suggests that not only did Hillary win an over whelming victory, her party did as well.

So I really have nothing more to say, and using what wisdom I still posses, I think I'll just quit for this week and wait a few days until the smoke clears.

By Now, I Guess the Votes are In

By George Ogden

By now you should know who's going to be our president for the coming four years. It has been an interesting two-year campaign and probably one of the best comedy shows you'll ever see, starring one rich egotistical dudes with a hot looking wife and a woman coated in Teflon who appears not to be all that honest.

As I write this, I don't have a clue who is going to win. Out of the two, I do have a preference of which candidate I would like to see win; it should be real interesting for the next four years.

They are both screamers and are very loud. One can surround herself with professional politicians, many who people can't George Ogden That's just the way it is! trust. The other has no politicians to surround himself with, however, he has plenty of money to buy the best advisors that he would need. In my opinion, he will need them if he won this.

Even though we have a right to vote, often times that vote doesn't count at all. The candidate can win the popular vote, in other words the majority of the citizens across the United States voted for a particular candidate and they did not win. This is because it is the Electoral College that will place that individual in office. As we have seen in the past, namely the city of West Covina, the people's vote means nothing to our legislators. The people of West Covina voted "no" on "districting" in their city, and the legislators created laws to override the votes of the citizens. Special thanks to our veterans who died protecting our right to vote, too bad it no longer means anything.

Is the Truth Actually Out There Somewhere?

By Don Ingwerson

When individuals, alone, or as part of a company, political party, or government present untrue or inaccurate information to the public through the media or other avenues, inevitably there is damage - individuals hurt, jobs lost, economies damaged, communities destroyed. The most recent example being the German car manufacturer, Volkswagen, and the individuals within it who were willing to lie about the Company's vehicles meeting the emissions needed to be sold in certain countries. Not telling the truth damaged the company's reputation and prosperity, public safety, and the economy in communities where Volkswagens were manufactured and sold. You and I may not have been damaged in any way by this scandal, but every day we are challenged to discern if what we are being told is the truth - in the media, at city council meetings, by a salesman, by our kids. What is truth? How we discern and understand it is explored in a Christian Science Monitor article (August 8, 2016) with the headline: "Keeping Facts in the Zone." Idea (http:// www.csmonitor.com/Commentary/upfront-blog/2016/0808/ Keeping-facts-in-the-idea-zone The article includes this profound statement by Daniel Patrick Moynihan, "You are entitled to your own opinion. But you are not entitled to your own facts," – reminding the reader not only to analyze how the presenter gathered his or her facts but also to analyze what was presented as fact a little more thoughtfully than often happens today. Like others, I've found that my view of truth matters. I find that my view of a person, issue, or event is developed and held in light of my level of information, how I view the ethics surrounding the situation, and the moral philosophy of the person I am viewing. As the credible information level builds, facts become more stable and reliable. Reflecting on the different beliefs and theories in all situations allows a person to navigate life with more clarity and consistency.

But is there something even greater than human reasoning and evaluation that is needed to bring us to the heart of truth? I've found that spiritual discernment is another important aspect of evaluating the information presented to me.

One experience I had some years ago is a good example of how this approach can result in outcomes where the truth of a murky situation becomes clear.

rity, and homelessness, searched the Scriptures for years for clarity about her relationship to God to find healing to address these issues. The truth she found was that God was all, God was good, and man was the reflection of this infinite, all-powerful God. This conclusion didn't come from evaluating the hard "facts" around her – how much money she had or how long she'd struggled with an illness. It came from time spent in communion with God, where a new view of reality emerged. When she later reflected on what she experienced and wrote about this discovery, she stated, "...when I practiced its precepts, healing the sick and reforming the sinner, then I learned the truth of what I had written." In other words, she had discerned truth in her prayers, then she tested the truth she had found to determine if it had a tangible healing impact. When it did, she felt she could trust this truth. Finding trustworthy facts continues to be important to me in every aspect of my life. As we each seek truth amid the information and misinformation coming at us from all quarters, spiritual discernment can definitely help any one of us find a secure path to something as big as our health or as minor as a real estate transaction. encourages eligible donors to give the perfect gift – a blood donation - to help ensure a sufficient blood supply throughout the holiday season.

A decline in donations occurs from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day when donors are busy with family gatherings and travel. However, patients don't get a holiday break from needing lifesaving transfusions. In fact, every two seconds, someone in the U.S. needs blood.

Timothy Sheely's wife received 12 units of blood products during emergency surgery after the birth of their son. "If it had not been for blood donors, she may not have survived that ordeal, but thanks to generous blood donors, I still have a wife and my kids still have their Mom," he said. "I can't possibly thank those people in person, but greater good. Thanks to those who are able to donate and choose to donate!"

The Red Cross encourages donors to start a new holiday tradition and bring family and friends together to donate blood or platelets. Donors of all blood types are needed to give this November to help ensure a sufficient supply for hospital patients. As a thank you for donating around the Thanksgiving holiday, all those who come to donate Nov. 24-28 will be invited to download a set of recipes from celebrity chefs.

The San Gabriel Valley Lexaminer

My wife and I were engaged in a real estate transaction for a new tract home in Southern California. We had just signed all the papers and given our down payment. But as we prayed further and engaged in more in-depth research into the transaction and the contractor/developer, we found honesty had been lacking in the information he had presented to us. Further prayer led us to request a late Saturday evening meeting with him and ask for our money back and to cancel the transaction. He agreed to our requests, and once the papers were negated, we had a peaceful evening at home. The next morning the media reported that the developer had been in violation of real estate law and had left the country just after meeting with us.

This active listening and prayer, instrumental to the harmonious progression and outcome of any situation, is summed up so concisely in Proverbs: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths."

Perhaps one of the biggest areas in our lives where we are looking for truth is in what we read, hear, and see about how to maintain or restore our health. Over one hundred years ago, Mary Baker Eddy, a devout Christian who had experienced prolonged illness, financial insecu-

Coincidence? I Think Not!

As the divisiveness continues bubbling to the surface and the finger pointing from each presidential candidate continues, I for one hope we can eventually return to more historically normal concerns with less fears about our declining Country. For a brief breath of fresh air, I would like to talk about Honest Abe, one of our greatest presidents.

Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president of the United States, is widely regarded as one of America's greatest heroes. He is also central to some pretty astounding coincidences when compared to JFK. Lincoln and John F. Kennedy were elected 100 years apart (Lincoln in 1860, Kennedy in 1960). They both were succeeded by Southerners named Johnson who were also born 100 years apart (Andrew in 1808, Lyndon in 1908). Each of their assassins was born 100 years apart (Booth in 1839 and Oswald in 1939) and each killer died before trial.

Lincoln was shot in Ford's theater, while Kennedy was shot while riding in a Lincoln made by Ford. While Lincoln was shot in a theater and his killer was captured in a warehouse, Kennedy was shot from a warehouse and his killer was captured in a theater. Kennedy had a secretary named Lincoln while Lincoln had a secretary named Kennedy. In an even stranger twist of fate, just months before Booth shot Lincoln, the President's son, Robert Todd Lincoln, fell from a train platform in Jersey City. He was pulled from under a slow-moving train before any harm ensued. His rescuer was the well-known actor Edwin Booth, the brother of John Wilkes Booth; so the son of a president was rescued by the brother of his assassin.

Even though this is a mindtwisting overlap of history, I would imagine that many of you who read it may feel somewhat blasé about it, not because it's uninteresting, but because you've either heard it before or you already know the world is filled with bizarre twists. The rule of thumb on Wall Street is this: If you are feeling that way, everyone else is feeling that way. On Wall Street, as emotional reactions come closer to exuberance or fear, so did everyone else's and thus the market came closer to its highs or lows. While this sounds unscientific, studies are now being done to test the possibilities of a human collective consciousness. The term used on Wall Street is "The Herd" response.

The reason I bring this up is because I can tell you how I felt when I discovered Lincoln's coincidences, and how I currently feel. I was interested by what I saw but it was darkly overshadowed by other thoughts and feelings. I felt (and still feel) tired of this election cycle and want it over with. I am tired of emails and tax-returns, groping's and Wiki leaks. There is a negativity, divisiveness, and a moral low unprecedented in any prior presidential election of our collective lifetimes. This is a fact. I am frustrated with the fear-mongering in the media in regards to Russia and the geopolitical environment. I am worn out with Julian Assange's saga in the Ecuadorian embassy. Mosul, Yemen, Aleppo, Putin, Trump, Hillary, classified secret thefts, accusers, and on and on. The news media is a bona fide three-ring circus and peddler of ideological propaganda. Yet it's the biggest show in town. I believe that this all translates to what can be witnessed in today's market, and I suspect the way I feel is the way a lot of other people feel. I am tired with the market's indecisiveness and want some clear direction. The uncertainty hanging over this market reflects a directionless nation. The S&P 500 has been in a fairly tight, range-bound pattern. Since July 8th, when the index vaulted and stayed above 2100, we have been in a 2.96% trading range. The 50-day moving average on the VIX is a low 13.83. The market is essentially flat. Earnings have been moderately positive, but some argue that with a low bar of expectations, it's easier to delight. What we have seen is a sideways grinding of the market and of nerves.

We are in the home stretch of the ugliest election of our lifetime resolving itself. But the picture abroad is not necessarily rosy, with military offensives in Mosul, military action in Yemen, Aleppo still under siege, and Russia/U.S. tensions bubbling - not to mention Brexit's repercussions and Europe's and Asia's central bank self-serving policies.

Sure, several U.S. companies are beating earnings expectations, but the big picture is clear: Uncertainty looms and it looks as though we're a house divided under the surface of the S&P 500. In an appropriate quote to both the election and the market, the great Abraham Lincoln said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." I bet many other people feel the same as I do: if only he were running for President...

Your Money - Ask Julia

My annuity (IRA) contract says I would have to pay a penalty if I take the money out too soon. I turn 70 next year, so I'll need to start taking Required Minimum Distributions. Is there a way to do that without a penalty?

Even though the annuity contract states there's an early withdrawal penalty, it is waived for RMD.

I have a lump sum of money from a CD. Is there an investment that is safe, and that will give me lifetime income right away?

An immediate annuity would give you exactly what you are looking for - safety and immediate income. The insurance company gives you choices for payout: for a fixed period of time, for the rest of your lifetime, or for the rest of your and your spouse's life, and more.

We have really good credit and we rent an apartment. I want to buy a small home or condo, but my husband doesn't think we can afford to make this change. Do you think we could afford to buy?

Either get the facts and present them to your husband, or let your husband know that you'd like to sit down with a professional and figure out whether or not you could afford to purchase instead of continuing to rent. He'll probably react in one of two ways agree or disagree. If he agrees, act before he changes his mind. If he disagrees, he might have another reason.

Is a MyRA a good investment?

This Obama-created way to invest went into effect in January of 2015. From my research so far, it has its pro's and con's, and some unknowns. Basically it is very similar to a Roth IRA you invest money after you've paid taxes, then it grows, and you can take the money out incometax free. If you exceed the income caps, you cannot get a MyRA. There is a $25 minimum to open a MyRA account. You pay no fees. You are limited to contributing up to $5,500 a year / $6,500 if age 50-plus (the annual limit for all your IRA's combined). You will be required to roll the balance into a regular, private IRA once it reaches $15,000. Your principal (the amount of money you put in) is guaranteed (backed by low interest rate U.S. Savings Bonds), and the earnings are not guaranteed. There's no penalty for emergency-early withdrawal of the money you put in, but there is a 10percent penalty for early withdrawal (before age 59 <sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>) of the earnings. Interest earned is variable. Once you roll the money out of your MyRA, you cannot open another MyRA account.

A MyRA account might be a good way for young, low-to-middle income workers to start saving.

What is this secret, tax-free method of investing that I've read "Washington insiders" (Senators, Congressmen, etc.), and the very wealthy, are using to save for retirement? Can I get it?

You've seen the hype, reported as a much better retirement account than a 401(k) or IRA. It's referred to as a 702(j), or 7702 (IRS code that regulates life insurance contracts). But, these life insurance policies are not like the old whole-life or universal life insurance policies. Today there are permanent life insurance policies which offer much more than the death benefit. The cash value component of these policies can be equity-indexed (similar to many of today's annuities), with company-backed guarantees to protect your funds. These policies have much more transparency, allowing you to choose between several equity indices, and several crediting methods. Basically, you pay for insurance, plus you fund the policy with additional funds. If used as a part of your retirement plan, you could later 'borrow' from that cash value component during your retirement years. Loans are not taxed. Typically, death benefits from a life insurance policy are not taxed. Getting one of these policies is like getting any other life insurance coverage.

car drips can leave your driveway and garage floor a mess...in fact everywhere you park becomes a victim to this mess. They are also a sign that something is wrong and needs to be taken care of. The only drip you don't need to be concerned with is the condensation from your air conditioner. Everything else is a signal that there is a problem. The small drips are giving you fair warning that if ignored, serious prob-

Those annoying under the lems are in your future. Here are a few examples:

> • A reddish brown drip may mean one of three things; leaking transmission, over tightened pan gasket or a leaking front seal.

> • A green or orange-red drip suggests a cooling system problem such as leaking hose or radiator.

• A brown to brownish-black drip that is thick in consistency is more than likely engine oil. This is not a huge problem if it is slight but when it grows to puddle size it is a sign of something serious and if not kept under control could mean severe engine trouble.

• A leak that looks like tea and feels oily is brake fluid. This type of drip or leak is alwavs serious!

If you notice a puddle three inches or larger under your car don't ignore it. Get it to the professionals as soon as possible. A puddle between one and two inches isn't as serious...yet...unless it is brake fluid. Don't put off having it looked at too long though...it could become a much more serious problem.

It is a good practice not to ignore drips because if left unchecked those drips will turn into puddles that get bigger and bigger until you no longer have a small problem, you have a major problem. Make an appointment with us today, and your car's health care professional at Certified Automotive Specialists will stop the drips.
