West Covina Police K-9 "Rocky" Receives the Apprehension of the Year Award

Mark Hamill & Assm. Chang Join Forces to Stop Fake Signatures

AB 1570 helps ensure fans purchase only authentic memorabilia

SACRAMENTO-Assemblywoman Ling Ling Chang (R-Diamond Bar) joined actor Mark Hamill at The Walt Disney Studios to announce that her legislation to crack down on fake signatures will now become law. Mark Hamill - known for his portrayal of Luke Skywalker in Star Wars – has been a strong advocate for the bill. In some memorabilia markets, forged signatures make up over half of the supply - making it all too easy for consumers to be defrauded. AB1570 will put safeguards in place as well as provide civil recourse for buyers of autographs. "This will really provide some much needed protections in a market that has gotten out of control," said Assemblywoman Chang. "Let it be known that anyone who wants to swindle people with fake signatures, your job is about to get a lot more difficult." AB 1570 will require dealers of any signed memorabilia to provide a certificate of authenticity upon sale of the autograph. The bill will also provide victims of forged memorabilia with civil recourse including ten times the amount of actual damages. Current law already protects consumers in the narrow case of sports related memorabilia.

In a letter of support for AB 1570: Mark Hamill writes: "I cherish the fans who have given me their support for decades. I will do anything I can to protect them from predatory and fraudulent dealers and AB 1570 has my unqualified support."

In fact, Mark Hamill recently took to Twitter to tell fans which of their signed collectibles were forged and which were genuine.

PSA/DNA, JSA, and other professional authenticators evaluate hundreds of thousands of autographs annually worldwide, and often determine the signatures to be forged. According to industry experts, the rejection rate can reach over 50% of submitted items for the more prominent names, including Neil Armstrong, Michael Jackson, and others. For example, experts estimate that 94 percent of all autographed Beatles memorabilia is forged, as are 76 percent of Marilyn Monroe and Elvis Presley collectibles.

In the last twenty years, the FBI instituted two major investigations uncovering millions in forged sports, entertainment and historical autographed memorabilia-both cases involved operations in California.

WEST COVINA - West Covina City Council was honored to give recognition to K-9 Officer Jesse Miller and K-9 "Rocky" for Being Awarded the K-9 Apprehension of the Year Award from the National Police K-9 Association at their Sept. 20 council meeting.

Last year on Sept. 11, 2015, two CHP officers pulled over a Cadillac Escalade around 1:30 a.m. for a traffic violation on the 10 Freeway at Sunset and Garvey avenues in West Covina. At that time, 30-yearold John Alfred Garcia was waiting for the officer to approach. Just as one of the CHP officers started to make contact, Garcia shot him with a shotgun. The wounded officer made it back to the patrol unit and both officers engaged in a gunfight with the suspect who got out of the vehicle with the shotgun. The suspect was hit; however he took off in the Escalade.

Back-up was called and a West Covina unit set up on the freeway and saw the speeding Escalade go by. He radioed that he was in pursuit of the suspect and about that time, the suspect stopped in the middle of the freeway. The officer pulled his automatic rifle from the patrol unit and leveled it at the suspect. The suspect then took off at high speed.

With a number of agencies in hot pursuit, the suspect was actually able to get away and was lost. However, police officers were able to locate him again and the chase was on once again.

Garcia ended up in a field in Fontana where he rammed police cars and finally his SUV became disabled. He refused to comply with officer's demands and stood by his SUV bleeding from his gunshot wounds from the earlier shootout with the CHP officers. It appeared that he was trying to bate the officers to come near him as he had a weapon on the seat ready to grab and shoot at approaching officers.

This is where Rocky comes in. He was released to assist with the apprehension of Garcia. The deployed K-9 was able to pull the suspect away from the vehicle and also took him down. Garcia was dragged away from the vehicle and out into the open.

Officers were soon able to able to handcuff Garcia and get him medical aid for his gunshot wounds. The K-9 apprehension kept the officers safe and also kept Garcia from doing anything stupid that could have forced the officer's hand and possibly killing him if he went for his gun.

Garcia has a court appearance in October and is being held on $2,075,000.00 bail.

5 Tips to Help Your Children Settle Back Into School

GLENDORA - It's difficult to believe that October is here, and while Thanksgiving and Christmas are just around the corner, there are parents still trying to help their children settle back into the school year.

"With all the dynamics our children are facing today, it's easy for them to get overwhelmed, " DeVonna Drey new Children's Pastor at Church of the Open Door. "As parents, we need to help our children navigate the day-today of school and to actually be excited about school and community."

Though there isn't a manual outlining the "best steps" every parent should follow to help their children get motivated, involved and overcome fears/ obstacles they may face, DeVonna, mom of three and grandmother of three, shares these 5 Points on Helping Your Children Settle Back Into School: 1. Be flexible. This applies to parents and children alike things will change rapidly with new school classes and sports. A word of advice - master the mantra: "learn to roll with the punches."

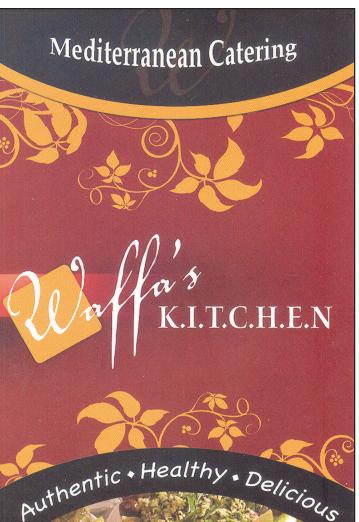

your faith base - talk and pray with your children. Whatever your belief system, engaging in regular conversation with your children and praying for them and with them, are powerful ways to strengthen the parent/ children relationship and set the tone for a more peaceful environment.

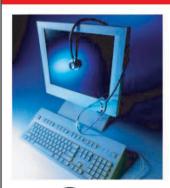

3. Help your children be good friends and even encourage them to find the kid at school without friends. Many have seen the picture which recently went viral about the Florida State wide receiver who asked to sit at the table of a boy sitting by himself in the middle school cafeteria. The player, who, along with his football teammates, was visiting the middle school that day, didn't know it, but the boy has Autism, which makes it challenging for him to make friends. A friend sent the picture to the boy's mother, who was overcome with gratitude for the nice gesture. Teach your children to be brave. The more we give, the more we get. (And, parents remember . . . children model what they see.)

measure caution . . . at home, at school, in sports and with peers. Take time to talk with your children about what to do in the case of an emergency or at any time they are uncomfortable in any given situation.

5. Be teachable - this one goes for children and parents alike. Maintaining a desire to keep learning is a life skill we should all nurture. And, keep in mind that it's ok to fail too. There's a lot of learning that happens when we fail and try again!

Church of the Open Door holds two services on Sunday mornings, 9:00AM and 11:00AM, and has very exciting children-geared holiday events planned -including a Christmas musical with kids! For more information, call (626) 914-4646 or visit the church web site at: www.churchoftheopendoor.com

By George Ogden

BALDWIN PARK - After 35 years with the city and about 3 years as Police Chief of Baldwin Park, Chief Michael Taylor was let go last week by a surprise vote by the City Council which voted 3-2, in a closed session, Wednesday night, Sept. 21, to let Taylor go and have him replaced "without cause."

Mayor Manuel Lozano made the announcement at the start of the council meeting. There was no reason given for the dismissal.

Lozano gave accolades to Taylor for his 35 years of service to the city as a police officer, but

Baldwin Park Police Chief Michael Taylor terminated. still didn't hint as to why he was terminated. It was simply a surprise move by the council for many residents.

Councilwoman Cruz Baca and Councilman Ricardo Pacheco voted to retain the chief and did not support the termination. Mayor Manuel Lozano and Councilmembers, Monica Garcia and Susan Rubio voted for the termination.

The chief was making a base salary of $165,000 per year. Captain Joe Bartolotti has been appointed interim chief and it was unclear if they will seek a replacement from outside the department.

Assemblyman Mike Gatto's Bill to Protect Children from Identity Theft Approved by Governor

SACRAMENTO – Governor Brown signed Assemblyman Mike Gatto's (D-Los Angeles) legislation to protect children from identity theft. AB 1580 will allow parents to freeze their children's credit with bureaus to prevent identity thieves from opening fraudulent credit accounts and ruining their credit scores.

"In an era where hackers have stolen millions of records including names, birth dates, and social-security numbers belonging to children, AB 1580 will give parents practical tools to protect their child's financial future," said Gatto, a member of the Privacy and Consumer Protection Committee.

Current law allows parents to freeze a child's credit only after the child has become a victim of identity fraud. However, because children don't typically have accounts or check their FICO scores, the damage caused by identity thieves is often not discovered until years later, when a child applies for a student loan, a job, or a credit card.

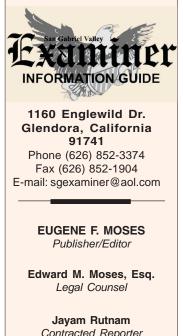

"Children start out with a clean slate, which has made them the most sought-after target for cybercriminals. In fact, a recent child-identity theft study found that 10.2% of the children in the study had someone else using their social-security number; a rate 51 times higher than adults in the same population sample," said AB 1580 co-author, Asm. Jacqui Irwin.

"California needs to protect its youngest citizens. This change is long overdue," said Gatto.

Forest Service Partners to Host Pilot Shuttle to Chantry Flat

ARCADIA - The Forest Service in collaboration with a variety of local community partners are using a grant from Car-less California to operate a weekend "pilot" shuttle to Chantry Flat running through Oct. 9. This pilot project will assess the feasibility and interest for future transportation projects that may be possible by partnering with local communities and organizations.

Three 18 passenger shuttles will transport visitors to and from the "Arcadia" Gold Line Station. Pick up and drop off will be from the adjacent REI parking lot at E. Santa Clara St. The shuttles will run throughout the day to the Chantry Flat picnic area with the first trip of the day beginning at 7:00 a.m. and the last shuttle leaving Chantry at 4:00 p.m. (*Estimated 30 to 45 minutes intervals between the stops.)

This pilot program was created as a small-scale version of what might be possible, in a large urban area, if we work collectively together to connect underserved communities with their public lands. "Our hope is that this pilot will be seen as a positive way to connect visitors to the Forest in a more engaging, convenient and environmentally green way." said Jeffery Vail, Forest Supervisor of the Angeles National Forest - San Gabriel Mountains National Monument.

Two Stabbed in Azusa Gang Fight

By George Ogden

AZUSA - An old fashion style gang fight in the middle of a parking lot was interrupted by a patrolling Azusa Police Officer when he tripped across 7 to 8 people fighting around 1:30 a.m. Sunday morning, Sept. 25. He saw the group fighting each other with two men on the ground. Once he made himself known, the men in their late teens and early twenties took off leaving two men on the ground. The lone police officer gave chase and caught on the fleeing men and took him into custody. Another was seen running into a home in the 100 block of Alameda which is a block away from where the gang fight was taking place. The officer called for p medics and backup. Paramedics treated the two stab victims who had stab wounds and lacerations to their arms and upper body. It appears that officer showing up when he did may have saved their lives.

When backup arrived, they ordered the man who ran into the house to come out and he refused. A SWAT was called to the scene. They deployed around the home and the order was once again given for everyone to come out of that house.

Once those in the home saw the SWAT Team, two men and a young woman voluntarily exited the home and were taken into custody. During the investigation, it was determined that the woman and one of the men were not involved and were released, however, one man was held.

Police still have 3 to 4 suspects outstanding and investigators will most likely look at closed circuit recordings to see if they can ID any of the other suspects. No names were released because of an ongoing investigation. Those arrested may be charged with attempted murder.

No reason was given as to why they were fighting.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Azusa police at 626-812-3200. Tips may also be submitted anonymously to L.A. Regional Crime Stoppers at 800-222-8477.

Motorcyclist Crashes into Car, Fatal for Two and a Third Critical

By George Ogden

IRWINDALE - Around 12:30 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 25, Irwindale police and other first responders responded to a motorcycle vs. car crash in 14900 block of Los Angeles Street. When they arrived, they found a high impact collision between a motorcycle and a Toyota Scion. They found the motorcycle had impaled itself into the driver's side door killing both the cyclist and the driver of the Scion. A female passenger in the Scion was critically injured from the high impact from the bike.

It appears that the motorcycle was traveling east bound on Los Angeles Street at a high rate of speed. The driver of the Scion pulled out of the driveway to make a left turn to go west on

Los Angeles Street from the drive way of the AMVETS Post 113. The driver apparently did not realize the speed of the bike and pulled in front of him where he impacted the Scion. All the victims were not identified at the time of this writing, however the man on the bike was a 22-yearold Baldwin Park man and the driver of the Scion was said to be a 38-year-old Inland Empire man from Ontario or Riverside. No information was given on the woman outside of the fact she was transported to a trauma center critically injured.

It was not stated if the people pulling out of AMVETS were members or guest of a possible party reception.

The investigation will continue and toxicology tests will be administered to both drivers to see if they were impaired because of alcohol and/or drugs.

The cause of the crash remaines under investigation. Any witness, or anyone with information, is urged to contact the Irwindale Police Department Detective Bureau at 626-430-2245.

Examining Use Of Child Safety Data Tools Approved

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -- The Board of Supervisors approved a motion co-authored by Supervisors Michael D. Antonovich and Mark Ridley-Thomas that directs the Office of Child Protection to report on the use of the Structured Decision Making (SDM) tool by the Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS).

"This motion will provide an overview of the use of the SDM tool, including its strengths and weaknesses, while exploring possible enhancements and alternatives to further support risk assessment for at-risk children," said Supervisor Antonovich. "Through these efforts, we anticipate continued improvements to child protection."

The SDM tool, an evidenced and research based system, is utilized by the Department of Children and Family Services along with child protection agencies throughout the nation, to assist workers in assessing the safety and well-being of children.

Today's Board action directs the Office of Child Protection and the Department of Children and Family Services to report back on the current use of the SDM tool, it's strengths and weaknesses, and opportunities to explore other alternatives such as predictive analytics to support child safety and welfare.

Guest Opinion | Bill Paparian: Why I'm Supporting Antonovich for State Senate

By William M. Paparian Attorney at Law

In 1992 as a second term Pasadena City Councilman I ran against Mike Antonovich for the LA County Board of Supervisors finishing second in a crowded field of candidates. I don't agree with many of Antonovich's political positions but I am supporting him in the race for State Senate because he has always been an elected public official of solid integrity who has consistently delivered reliable constituent services. His opponent, Anthony Portantino, is a washed up political has been.

During his tenure in the Assembly, Portantino was one of the worst abusers of the gift laws in Sacramento. He earned a reputation for greedily taking everything he could. He was the recipient of thousands of dollars in free meals and booze and travel. But the real insight into his mendacious character comes from an examination of what happened once he was termed out in the California Assembly and began flaying about searching for another political office. Rather than return to his alleged career as a "filmmaker", which a review of his credits on the internet movie database reveals is a sham, he actually attempted to run for

William M. Paparian

Congress in three separate districts in less than one year: On February 28, 2011, he declared himself a candidate for Congress in the 26th Congressional District against David Dreier; six months later he declared for Congress in the 32nd District against Grace Napolitano; finally, he campaigned against Judy Chu in the 27th District.

Then in 2012 Portantino declared himself a candidate for State Senate against Carol Liu in the 25th District then switched over to the 21st District filing a declaration against Steve Knight in the Lancaster-Palmdale area, then back to the 25th District. By the time the election is held in November he will have been campaigning for 4 years! Along the way he has become increasingly desperate and actually engaged in voter fraud in a Democratic Party caucus. Previously, this was considered a little inside baseball, but this year, everyone knows what a caucus is. The fraud was so bad that the Democratic Party overturned the results.

Does he have any record of political achievement? Not really. Portantino was an avid supporter of SB 731 in 2008, which forbade our local communities from regulating massage parlors. Thus, houses of ill repute sprung up in our neighborhoods, which became hubs for human trafficking, ruining our property values and the lives of young women. No one wants houses of prostitution in their neighborhoods. This became a huge problem in cities throughout the district, and fixing it became a huge priority for local pols, like my former Pasadena City Council colleague Chris Holden.

Portantino's shameless opportunism manifests itself in his unbridled pandering. He's been breathlessly running around the community, from one free chicken dinner to the next, pretending to be everyone's friend when in fact he's a friend to no one. The glad handing shenanigans of this unemployed former Assembly member has continued unabated for 4 years. Thankfully on election day it will finally end when we elect Supervisor Mike Antonovich to the State Senate.

Coming Up For Air - A Third Deep Breath

I need to take one more deep breath before I plunge back down into the raging political ocean.

While I have occasionally alluded to the community where I live, I have never taken an entire column to spell out just why Pilgrim Place is right for Wendy and

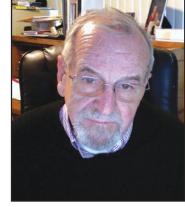

We decided that Pilgrim Place was to be our final address and arrived here fifteen years ago, following seminary teaching assignments in Australia. This CCRC (Continuing Care Retirement Community) is known for being a unique place for retired religious workers who want to continue to expand their horizons. We refer to it as an intentional community, and by that we mean there are values we intend to live out as we continue to make a difference locally and in the wider world.

We maintain the traditional three-level system of care-independent living, assisted living and skilled nursing-the last facility also being available to non-residents. We will shortly be opening a secure memory house for our residents and perhaps others.

Applicants may seek admission after their 62nd birthday, and those who are admitted must be in residence before their 78th birthday-that age restriction rose recently from 75. Even this older age is lower than most other CCRCs, and by it we seek to recruit somewhat younger residents who intend to fully participate in our work and vision.

Substantial to our intention is a commitment to stay actively involved not only with each other, but also with Claremont area, and with the wider world. This we have done throughout the hundred and one years of our existence

Our intention is to care deeply for one another. Instead of hiring activity directors or a resident chaplain or someone to take us to medical appointments, airports, outings or even shopping. we take each other. Most of us have a resident health advocate, and also serve as an advocate for someone else. In our daily lives we evidence a profound interpersonal commitment, and at our memorial or funeral services significant numbers of us are present. We call ourselves "the beloved community." Supported by a superb administrative staff and Board, we are largely selfgoverned. We generate our own programs, lectures and a myriad of other vital activities.

Pilgrim Place was originally founded as a home for retired Congregational missionaries. In recent years we have dramatically expanded our initial vision to welcome from other Christian bodies, ministers, missionaries, theologians, seminary faculty and administrators, as well as those of other world religions, and those who have worked in a variety of charitable vocations as servants of the common good. We continue to widen our inclusion of additional persons from racial and ethnic minority groups.

We count among our members a significant number of gay and lesbian persons-married, partnered, or single. While there is no political test, we are mainly a liberal collection of activists. Our recently revised investment policy reflects our commitment to "peace, economic justice and environment sustainability." The social and political implications of that credo should be obvious.

From the beginning, and substantial to our intention, has been a commitment to welcome those who either do not quite meet our financial goals for admission, or who run short of funds during their years here. Many of us arrived in Pilgrim Place with less than adequate financial resources, so we are sensitive to those in similar circumstances who seek inclusion. We have always found ways to open our arms to a few with modest means, including those who have worked on the mission field or in smaller churches or agencies.

No one has ever had to leave Pilgrim Place for financial reasons. We have recently expected all who apply to submit records of their resources together with recent tax returns, current income statements and other investment records including real estate holdings, and to certify that they have not and will not disburse any of their resources to family or others in order to apply for financial help.

We have a sizeable invested fund whose income is used to care for those who qualify for support, and we seek to raise another two hundred thousand dollars for this purpose annually. Over 10% of our residents are offered monthly support when they have exhausted their own funds. Only our CEO knows who they are.

While historically we have needed to keep one eye on the financial stability of the community, we have kept the other eye on those with diminished resources. This balance has become more difficult with the rising cost of operations, but we stubbornly reject the notion that we are only a haven for the already modestly affluent. We are presently working on a fresh way to maintain a balance between the financial health of the community, and our ability to welcome a limited number who may eventually run out of money.

We intend to demonstrate "simple living," but find that goal difficult even to define in this technocratic age. Many seniors seem to demand more and better amenities, and we struggle to understand how we can live together more modestly.

We celebrate life to its fullest, and die in the arms of God and of those beloved partners with whom we have shared life in this l intentional community.

Is This Racist or Not?

By George Ogden

In West Covina, the people voted NOT to have Districting in their city. I believe this was in 2009. The proposal was put on the ballot and it was defeated by a landslide. Please note that the majority of the population in the city is Latino. With this said, let's move on.

There are still a few people out there that don't give a damn about "The Will of the People" and are willing to take the city to court to force them into districting. This means a city with a population of 100,000 or more will be broke up into sections and there will be only one representative or councilmember for each district.

George Ogden That's just the way it is! ning. If they don't put their name in the ring, then whose fault is it?

These attorneys from "up north" and Santa Monica, that don't live around here and know nothing about the city and throwing out the "race card" to make a name and a buck for themselves have no respect for the people. Really??? Let's see if I have In my opinion, they are racists. Their job should be to educate and train people "of the Latino community" to take an interest and consider running for city council. Since the majority of the population is Latino, many vote according to race and not for the person. Should I really say that? Look what happened in the last few elections. Our Latino community is not stupid. They vote for someone who will serve the best. I thank all voters for thinking that way.

Out of this, maybe a little more the 10% are not citizens of the U.S. So, should they actually be counted? The rest of the population is either not registered or not old enough to vote. Should all this be deducted from that, (conveniently stated number) 100,000 population?

The City of West Covina has had all races represented on the council at one time or another and all races served as Mayor. The complaint, which appears to be racist in itself, points out that no Latinos are currently serving on the City Council. Although Latinos ran in the last two elections, they were unsuccessful in winning a seat. REMEMBER, Latinos outnumber all other races put together in that city. They elected NOT to elect a Latino, but instead voted how everyone should, they voted for the person who would do the best job. Okay, so the council ended up with a Cowboy White Boy, a Mormon, a Jewish fellow, a Japanese American and a Chinese American. Quite a mix, ya think? They are all doing the best job they can for EVERYONE. Some Latinos are not interested in runbers of the legislative body to be elected by district or by district with an elective mayor without being required to submit the ordinance to the voters for approval.

This bill would delete the population limitation in that provision, thereby authorizing the legislative body of a city to adopt an ordinance that requires the members of the legislative body to be elected by district or by district with an elective mayor without being required to submit the ordinance to the voters for approval.

The bill also would make a conforming change to these provisions.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1.

Section 34886 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Notwithstanding Section 34871 or any other law, the legislative body of a city may adopt an ordinance that requires the members of the legislative body to be elected by district or by district with an elective mayor, as described in subdivisions (a) and (c) of Section 34871, without being required to submit the ordinance to the voters for approval. An ordinance adopted pursuant to this section shall include a declaration that the change in the method of electing members of the legislative body is being made in furtherance of the purposes of the California Voting Rights Act of 2001 (Chapter 1.5 (commencing with Section 14025) of Division 14 of the Elections Code).

Please exercise your right to vote... although it may not count. "That's Just the Way It Is!"

Never in American history have voters been asked to choose between such deplorable candidates as the two the Republicans and Democrats are running for the presidency in November. The Democrats have nominated a woman who acts as though the office of president was her entitlement, and the Republicans chose a man whose conduct on the campaign trail resembles that of a playground bully.

In other times, disgruntled voters may have defected from their allegiance to one or the other of the two major parties and cast their votes for a third party candidate. Not this time. While many Republicans will find the Libertarian platform to their liking, in this day of worldwide terror and nuclear threats it would be hard to vote for a candidate who never heard of Aleppo!

While the Green party appeals to many progressive Democrats, voting for a candidate who cannot possibly carry even a single state in November would be not only a wasted vote but one that elects a man whose philosophy is the antithesis of progressivism.

This is the election that ought to have on the ballot a box for "None of the Above." If ever there was an election in which neither major party candidate was qualified or fit for the presidency, this is it. Were that choice available, "None" would win a solid majority in most states and an overwhelming popular vote nationwide.

Hillary Clinton has too much baggage for a seat on Air Force One. Bernie Sanders may dismiss her email transgressions, but FBI director James Comey did not, making clear that she should have known that classified mail came in on her unauthorized server. The relationship of the Clinton Foundation to her state department activities is more than dismaying. And now, her health is an issue as well.

Donald Trump is not the man most mothers would want their children to emulate. His language and temperament on the campaign trail was gross. His off the cuff statements on Muslims, immigrants, refugees and minorities mark him as a throwback to the discrimination and prejudice that was rampant before the Warren court began to force adherence to the Constitution on matters of segregation and other forms of discrimination. Trump's secret solution to the Isis crisis leaves the country wondering if this is the man who should have control of nuclear weapons.

There was a moment, prior to the two national conventions, when rational voices urged the delegates of each party to "Pillory Hillary, Dump Trump." Had the Republicans listened to that voice of reason, they would have freed all delegates from their pledges and allowed them to vote for a responsible candidate. A mainstream Republican nominee would have won easily in November against Clinton.

By July, Clinton's flaws were so many and so well known that her nomination was a mistake. Those millions of votes for a democratic socialist were in part a protest against Clinton, not an indication that nearly half the Democrats were committed to the views of Eugene Debs and Norman Thomas. The Democratic convention should have chosen Joe Biden, who would have had no trouble beating Trump.

None of that happened. The Republicans refused to change the rules so that delegates could vote for anyone they wished, and the Democrats made no effort to find an alternative candidate.

Unfortunately, that choice of "None of the Above" isn't ours. Reality demands that voters make a choice between Clinton and Trump. Which one of the two in the White House would make you less sick? Or, which one in the oval office would do the least damage?

Who would you prefer at the annual egg roll on the White House lawn? Do you want Clinton or Trump with the power of pardon when it comes to that Thanksgiving turkey? Trump, the hardliner, might not pardon any. Clinton, by executive order, might pardon the one that would have been on your table.

Then there are the real questions. Not "Which one might bring about a lasting peace in the Middle East?" Instead, the question ought to be: "Which one will get us into the most wars?"

In the end, the choice might simply rest on a very vital question. With the Supreme Court's direction dependent upon this election, which of these obnoxious candidates will appoint justices that agree with your views? That, alone, might determine how votes are cast on Election Day.

This November will be remembered as one of those legendary races in which most voters were forced to follow that old maxim, "Hold your nose and vote!"

Ho Hum - As Expected

The FOMC left rates unchanged last Wednesday, as expected, but they indicated their eagerness to restart the process. In the statement, the biggest surprise is three dissents in favor of a rate hike. All three wanted a quarter point hike now.

The takeaway from the meeting:

1. Three of the twelve members who dissented in favor of tightening were recognized by Yellen as an example of the "diversity of thinking" on the FOMC.

2. The Fed characterized consumer spending as "growing strongly," despite two months of weak retail sales and 10-months of car sales trending downward. Retail's 2016 strength was in the second quarter.

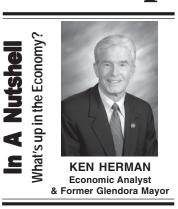

3. The statement contained new language: "The Committee judges that the case for an increase in the federal funds rate has strengthened but decided, for the time being, to wait for further evidence of continued progress toward its objectives."

Since the Fed's meeting in Jackson Hole key economic data included August car sales, bad enough to suggest consumption might not have grown at all; employment, not a deal killer at 151k but weak enough to at least give the Fed pause; the Institute of Supply Management report, which was downright bleak; and much-weaker-than-expected retail sales.

The Fed tends to discount weak data. But then there are the markets, several of which are teetering at key levels.

CONSTANT THREATS, NO FOLLOW THROUGH

The Fed left rates unchanged at every FOMC meeting so far this year, but in each instance at least one FOMC participant promised rate hikes before the ink dried on the statement. In the spring they said the hike would come by the end of summer, if their forecasts were right, and in the summer they promised a hike by the end of the year, again dependent on their forecasts.

Considering the FOMC's forecasting track record this year, it's a wonder anyone puts any credence on these policy calls. But (perhaps because the FOMC members in question are such ardent believers) these predictions still carry weight. Interestingly, even as the probability of a September hike had collapsed prior to the meeting, the market odds of a December hike remain over 50%.

The best argument against a December hike is Governor Lael Brainard's: Preemptive tightening makes even less sense now than it did when the Fed opted against it in the first quarter. Economic growth has slowed to 1.2% year-on-year. Wage growth has picked up a bit, but it too is still low, especially considering minimum wage increases in pockets of the country. When the minimum wage rises, average hourly earnings tend to increase for a brief time, then level off. Besides, core inflation is no longer rising toward 2%, as it did briefly in the first quarter.

At almost every meeting, the FOMC made a case for tightening based on the domestic economy. The decision not to raise rates was explained by exogenous factors like weak financial markets, slow global growth, a fragile Chinese economy, Brexit or the vulnerability of the European banking system. No one at the Fed has yet explained why-despite rates now 50bp lower than the FOMC wanted based on domestic economic fundamentals-GDP and inflation are lower than the FOMC expected, while the unemployment rate is likely to be higher. The GDP miss is particularly egregious. Unless the economy accelerates soon, GDP growth will be a full percentage point under their median forecast.

The most often-made argument for raising rates is early increases do not constitute tightening. Rather, they take rates from accommodative to neutral. Hence, the Fed's constant talk of "normalization" and "removing accommodation."

What the FOMC means when they say fed funds are accommodative is the fed funds rate is lower than the natural rate plus inflation. (The natural rate is the real interest rate consistent with stable inflation. Add inflation to that and you get a neutral fed funds rate.) But the Fed's most recent guess at the short-term natural rate was -1%, meaning a neutral fed funds rate is about 0.5%. That's the very top of the current range, so one rate hike might be justified if the Fed's natural rate estimate were precise. But the Fed's natural rate models are typically within percentage points, not tenths of percentage points. The simplest explanation of slower GDP growth, lower inflation, and a higher unemployment rate, despite the lack of tightening to date, is that the Fed's natural rate forecast was too high.

In other words, tightening was not justified in the first three quarters of this year based on domestic economic conditions alone and there's no reason to think it will be justified in the fourth quarter either unless the data starts to run considerably stronger than it has year to date.

Your Money - Ask Julia

We've been our own financial planner. We're nearing retirement. Is there a way to get some financial advice without being pressured into moving our money unnecessarily?

It's never too late to get a second opinion - even when you are your own financial planner. An ethical, licensed professional will look at your entire financial picture, talk to you about the lifestyle you want in your retirement years, and design a plan with a couple of options for you to select from.

My husband and I should have bought long-term care insurance a long time ago. Now that we're older, we're pretty sure we cannot afford the premiums. We have quite a bit of money in CDs and annuities. Is there anything we can invest in that will also give us long-term care benefits?

Take a careful look at the annuities you already own to see if they already have any long-term care benefits included. If not, you might consider doing a 1031 exchange of your annuity money to a newer annuity policy. Look for policies which include living benefits for retirement, including critical illness and/or longterm care benefits. You could also consider using some of your CD money to fund a life insurance policy with living benefits.

We live off my Social Security and Pension. All of my wife's Social Security goes into the bank. We're both in our 70's. Is there a better place to keep this money?

It would probably be a good idea to move some of your money to a different safe place. Preferably this safe place for your money would also be taxadvantaged, or tax-free for you and for your beneficiaries. Consider putting some of your money into an immediate annuity, a fixed or fixed-indexed annuity (sometimes with a bonus on your investment dollars), or a fixed-indexed universal life insurance policy with access to your money while you are alive.

I'm a one-person business, as a Realtor. What's available for me as far as a retirement account?

Doctors, architects, attorneys, CPAs, insurance agents, recruiters, barbers, consultants, realtors, and other one-person business people need to pay attention here. According to an IRS rule, if you're age 45 - 70, and have had $75,000 - $100,000 or more income for a minimum of 3 years, you can put away up to 100% of your income, up to a $177,000 annual limit. (A 401k has a limit of less than $50,000). Your defined benefit plan must be set up by December.

We bought a house, and have received several pieces of mail from companies offering (for a fee) to file some Homesteader's paperwork so we can save on our property taxes. Is this legitimate?

With these offers, you are paying for the service of someone else handling the paperwork for you. However, you can get the instructions and paperwork (one page) for free from your County Tax Assessor's website or office. Fill it out, and follow the instructions to file your own claim for Homeowners' Property Tax Exemption. California property tax laws provide up to a maximum of $7,000 to be subtracted from the assessed value of your primary residence before taxes are calculated. Forms are available in English and Spanish.

LOS ANGELES – An investigation by the state's Tax Recovery and Criminal Enforcement (TRaCE) Task Force led to the arrest of Xiaochun Gao on three counts of counterfeiting under California Penal Code Section 350(a)(2). Gao imported counterfeit laptop batteries and power adapters from China and sold them on Amazon.com and eBay.com to unsuspecting customers who believed the merchandise was indeed genuine and authentic.

Acting on a search warrant, TRaCE seized 6,500 counterfeit laptop batteries and power adapters from one of Gao's warehouse operations in Irwindale. Gao operated several corporations in Los Angeles County.

On September 16, 2016, Gao pled guilty to one count of counterfeiting registered trademarks and was sentenced to three years of summary probation. The counterfeit items were forfeited to the State and Gao paid a $74,628 tax assessment to the Board of Equalization (BOE) for the use tax associated with the purchase of the seized counterfeit merchandise. In addition, Gao also paid $19,145 in restitution to Hewlett-Packard, and $8,800 in other related costs associated with the investigation.

"The TRaCE team members are worthy of recognition, not only for their role in this successful prosecution, but for the work they perform, day in and day out: protecting California consumers, leveling the playing field for California businesses, and delivering sorely needed tax revenue to our General Fund," said Board of Equalization Member Jerome E. Horton.

"The trafficking of counterfeit goods poses a triple threat," said Joseph Macias, special agent in charge for Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) in Los Angeles. "Such activities deliver shoddy and often dangerous goods into the economy, rob Americans of good-paying jobs, and generate proceeds that are often funneled back into other criminal enterprises. HSI will continue to work with its enforcement partners to combat the distribution of counterfeit products, like those seized in Irwindale, that could put unwitting consumers at risk."

human makeup! Seriously!

Clogged Filters - When your filter gets full of debris, it can't do its job. It is how a human with asthma must feel! Most of us know we need to change the filters in our homes but some might not realize that they also need to change the filter in their cars. In vehicles built in 2007 and later you will find 80 percent of them have a cabin air filter and its function is to protect drivers and their passengers from contaminants such as pollen, mold spores, dust and other small and annoying particles.

Sludge - This is similar to clogged arteries! It is actually a gooey, tar like substance that deposits itself inside your car's engine. One of the roles of motor oil is to keep your engine cool so it has to be able to take the heat...when it fails to do so these deposits form in the engine. Some vehicle's engines have more trouble than others due to poor design. Their passages are smaller and they actually bake the oil inside the engine.

Smoke - We all know by now smoking issue, it is literally telling you to pay attention...it needs help!

Black exhaust smoke means the engine is burning too much fuel. The first thing you should check is your air-filter and other intake components like sensors, fuel injectors and the fuel-pressure regulator.

Blue smoke is a clear sign that the engine is burning oil. What happens is that the valve guide seals or piston rings are worn out, and oil is leaking past from where chamber where it's being burned up with the fuel.

Gray smoke can mean that the car is burning oil or suffering from a bad turbocharger. It can also be an issue with your automatic transmission fluid getting burned up in the engine or could mean a stuck PCV valve.

2nd Annual Dumpling & Beer Fest

SAN GABRIEL - San Gabriel is known for its delicious, authentic Asian cuisine and one of the hottest foods in the city is dumplings. Many of the amazing dumpling spots in San Gabriel have been recognized by restaurant critics and food bloggers including the Los Angeles Times' Jonathan Gold. At the same time, the craft beer scene has taken off in recent years, and beer festivals are a popular weekend activity. The San Gabriel Dumpling & Beer Fest is an annual event that brings those two great loves together.

The festival offers dumpling vendors and craft beer tastings in the city's historic Mission District, making a fun night for the community to come together at our local twist on Oktoberfest. There will also be live entertainment. In 2015, the inaugural festival was a massive success and was the most well attended city event in recent memory. This year, the festival promises to be even better, with improvements made based on lessons learned from the first festival.

San Gabriel Dumpling & Beer Fest will be on Thursday, Sept. 29 from 6:00-9:30 p.m. in the Mission District (320 S Mission Drive).

Admission into the festival is free. Beer tasting wristbands can be purchased in advance online through Eventbrite. Food will be available for purchase directly from vendors and food trucks at the event.

Quake Swarm at Bombay Beach Raises Eyebrows

Timely Seminar to Prepare Your Business

IRWINDALE - After about a week of increased global seismicity, a quake swarm at the Bombay Beach "sweet spot" started with an M4.3 on Monday, September 26. Bombay Beach has been identified by scientists as the most likely location where the next "Big One" on the San Andreas Fault will someday start to fracture. The location is near the south end of the Salton Sea.

The fault is significantly overdue and when it fails will essentially trap nearly 25 million Southern Californians inside the region with no viable roads in or out and no access to any modern infrastructure such as electricity, water, natural gas, and fiber optics communications. Medical services will be extremely compromised, and supply chains for food and other vital necessities will be cut off.

Shaking will last in most SGV areas for about two full minutes as compared with the mere seconds of the Northridge earthquake. Displacements will approach six feet per second. Many more structures will be damaged than in past quakes, and about 1,600 fires are expected. If unchecked, some will likely spread through whole neighborhoods.

In a coincidence of timing, the Environmental Committee of the Irwindale Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a disaster planning seminar for businesses on Wednesday, October 5 from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Every business has a basic legal compliance obligation to protect their occupants, although the number and types of additional obligations vary from one business to another.

According to the Federal Emergency Management, the historical record shows that 75% of businesses which fail to have a functional and tested emergency plan when crisis hits will be out of business within three years. Some fail immediately, while some struggle for a while before shutting down. The losses of jobs and resources can greatly impede the ability of an entire community to rebuild and recover.

The October 5 seminar for businesses will be led by awardwinning speaker and business owner April Kelcy, Founder and CEO of Earthquake Solutions.

It will be held at the City of Hope facility at 4920 Rivergrade Road in Irwindale. Registration is required and there is a small fee. Registration can be accomplished either on-line at www.register.irwindalechamber.org or by calling 626-960-6606.

"We are very excited about the educational opportunities that we get to provide the Pasadena community," says OFL Principal and Pasadena resident, Richard Moreno, "especially to students who may not have excelled at a traditional school. We welcome members of the community to come and witness the learning taking place at our new center."

LOSANGELES - The American Red Cross urges eligible donors to give blood and platelets this fall to help restock the shelves following a significant summer shortage to ensure an adequate blood supply for patients in need.

Through the first two weeks of September, the Red Cross is down more than 10,000 donations from what is needed to replenish the blood supply and be prepared for emergencies large and small. Declines in donations can lead to blood shortages and make it difficult to meet patient needs should a disaster or emergency occur.

U.S. Forest Service Prepared For Santa Ana Winds

Despite recent rains and decreased fire activity in some parts of California, fire season is not over. Across Southern California, U.S. Forest Service firefighters and those from cooperating departments are preparing for strong Santa Ana winds and extreme fire danger this weekend. Residents should prepare also.

Santa Ana winds can cause dangerous fire conditions, especially in the fall when vegetation has been dried out by months of warm, summer weather. Contributing to conditions in Southern California was the lack of significant moisture across the region last winter.

In preparation for Santa Ana winds, the U.S. Forest Service has initiated 24-hour firefighter staffing on national forests in Southern California. Additional hotshot crews, engines and aircraft resources not already committed to other wildfires have also been mobilized to respond if necessary.

To track the frequency, location and expected strength of Santa Ana Winds, as well as find information on how residents in fire prone areas can prepare, visit the Santa Ana Wildfire Threat Index at: www.SantaAnaWildfireThreat.com.

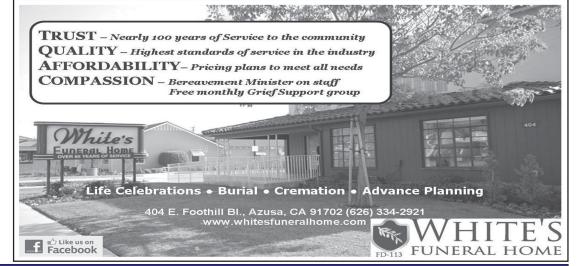

Santa Ana winds expected to impact the Los Angeles and Ventura County areas (Angeles and Los Padres National Forests) on Sunday have been gauged as "High," a level not reached in the area in over 2 years. "Moderate" events are expected in the Orange County-Inland Empire zone and in the San Diego zone on Sunday and Monday.

Sustained hot, dry offshore winds can also dry out vegetation in areas that have recently received rain such as the Cleveland National Forest in the mountains of eastern San Diego County.

The number of Santa Ana wind events this fall is expected to be near or slightly below normal as forecast by Predictive Services located at the Southern California Geographic Area Coordination Center in Riverside, Calif. Fire Weather Meteorologist Tom Rolinski explains, "We have developed new methods which allow us to forecast the number of Santa Ana wind days out to three months, which is depicted in the Santa Ana Wind Season Outlook."

WHEREAS, the City Council desires to insure that during the pendency of the necessary study activity for the formulation and implementation of potential amendments to the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan that additional mixed use residential development is not initiated, constructed, or modified, so that the amendments produced by the City's study activity will be fully effective; and

WHEREAS, the review of the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan and the amendment process may stimulate an accelerated amount of mixed use residential development permit requests. If approved, such accelerated mixed use residential development may lead to further deterioration of the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan area and may cause further deterioration in the level of service on existing roadways, and may lead to irreversible environmental degradation.

WHEREAS, the approval of additional mixed use residential subdivisions, use permits, variances, building permits, or any other applicable entitlement for mixed use residential development which is required in order to comply with the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan may result in a current and immediate threat to the public health, safety, or welfare during the formulation and implementation of more comprehensive regulations as envisioned by amendments to the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan.

WHEREAS, on September 22, 2015, the City Council adopted a 45 day urgency ordinance enacting a moratorium on mixed use development within the Route 66 Specific Plan, and on October 27, 2015 extended the moratorium for a full year, to September 22, 2016; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 65858(a) of the California Government Code, to protect the public safety, health and welfare, a City Council may extend an interim ordinance prohibiting land uses that may be in conflict with a contemplated General Plan, Specific Plan, or Zoning proposal that the legislative body, planning commission or the planning department is considering or studying or intends to study with a reasonable time.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GLENDORA, CALIFORNIA, DOES RESOLVE, DECLARE, DETERMINE AND ORDER AS FOLLOWS:

The Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan area is defined as the area currently zoned by the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan within the City of Glendora.
- Section 2. Exemptions to Moratorium. The following development activities are exempt from the moratorium:

Section 3. Waivers. The Planning Commission, after a public hearing, may grant a waiver to the moratorium provided above relating to the issuance of the appropriate additional mixed use residential subdivisions, use permits, variances, building permits, or any other applicable entitlement for a mixed use residential use which is required in order to comply with the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan of the City of Glendora where the specific activity will not detrimentally affect the outcome and implementation of the comprehensive study process being undertaken by the City for the development and adoption of amendments to the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan.

- Section 8. Term. The moratorium imposed by this Ordinance is temporary and, unless dissolved earlier by the City Council, shall be of no further force and effect after September 21, 2017.
- Section 9. Findings. There is a current and immediate threat to the public health, safety, or welfare, and that the approval of additional mixed use residential subdivisions, use permits, variances, building permits, or any other applicable entitlement for mixed use residential uses in the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan area which is required in order to comply with the City of Glendora's Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan would result in that threat to public health, safety, or welfare, in that: (1) The City Council of the City of Glendora has directed the Planning Commission to study and make recommendations to the City Council for amendments to the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan, including but not limited to mixed use residential uses and development; (2) The City Council of the City of Glendora wishes to study the development and adoption of possible amendments to the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan governing development and/or redevelopment of the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan within the City of Glendora; (3) The City Council of the City of Glendora wishes to implement comprehensive amendments to regulations for development and/or redevelopment of the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan area, so that the public health, safety, or welfare, is protected, and the market values and aesthetic and visual qualities of the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan area are protected from impairment by further development of mixed use residential development that may be contrary to the future amendments to the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan; (4) The City Council desires to insure that during the pendency of the necessary study activity for the formulation and implementation of amendments that additional mixed use residential development is not initiated, constructed, or modified, so that the regulations produced by the City's study activity and the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan will be fully effective; (5) The Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan amendment process may stimulate an accelerated amount of mixed use residential development permit requests. If approved, such accelerated mixed use residential development may lead to further deterioration of the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan area and may cause further deterioration in the level of service on existing roadways, and may lead to irreversible environmental degradation; (6) The approval of additional mixed use residential subdivisions, use permits, variances, building permits, or any other applicable entitlement, for mixed use residential uses which are required in order to comply with a zoning ordinance along the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan would result in a current and immediate threat to public health, safety, or welfare during the formulation and implementation of more comprehensive regulations as anticipated by amendments to the Route 66 Corridor Specific Plan. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for immediate protection of the public health, safety and welfare.

Section 10. Severability. The provisions of this Ordinance are declared to be severable and if any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections, sentences, clauses, and phrases of this Ordinance but they shall remain in effect, it being the legislative intent that this Ordinance shall stand notwithstanding the invalidity of any part.

Section 11. Effective Date. This Ordinance is hereby declared an urgency ordinance measure for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and welfare and shall go into effect immediately on September 21, 2016 and shall terminate automatically on September 21, 2017

Be Prepared For Whatever Nature Throws At You

You have a better chance of keeping yourself, your vehicle and your passengers on the road to safety even when the weather is bad if you prepare in advance so your vehicle can be your refuge. These seven tips can help.

Take Inventory Inside

Make sure you know what's inside your vehicle. See that you have a blanket, first aid kit, current snacks and an inflated spare tire; also, a cell phone charger and some basic tools. All those can be useful if your vehicle leaves you stranded.

Clean and Coat

Your windshield allows you to see what's coming. Clean the inside thoroughly to remove buildup, smoke and haze. On the outside, use a product such as Invisible Glass Clean & Repel to add a protective coating to help shed rain, snow and ice while increasing visibility.

Inspect the Outside

See that all your lights work, front and rear. Working lights are key to seeing and being seen. They're not just for looks. Plus, driving with burned-out bulbs can result in a hefty fine.

Checkups Count

Perform regular maintenance, including checking that little oil change sticker on the windshield. Regular maintenance is similar to a checkup. Metal shards in your oil, discolored coolant or an irregular noise can help diagnose something that could go wrong with your ride.

Keep Your Wheels Turning Your vehicle's tires and wheels take a beating every time you drive. Brake dust, grease, oil, and road grime can cause permanent damage over time. A simple cleaning can help protect your tires and wheels, prolonging their life. For example, Stoner Wheel Cleaner quickly penetrates deep into hard-to-reach areas, making cleanup fast and easy.

Don't Pass Gas

If you have the chance to fuel up, take it. On any trip, never let your tank drop below half full. Doing that means you should always have enough gas to get back to where you were. Charge Your AC

The air conditioner system does more than cool your vehicle. It also removes excess moisture. Fogged windows are a sign that your defrosters may not be able to keep up the pace. Have your mechanic top off your refrigerant.

Proactive Steps To Reduce Your Fall Risk

Research by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention shows that falls are the leading cause of fatal and nonfatal injuries for seniors. Fortunately, through a combination of technology solutions and lifestyle choices, seniors can be prepared for the event of a fall, as well as take proactive measures to decrease the likelihood during Fall Prevention Awareness Week (September 22 to 28) and all through the year.

For example, medical alert devices, such as Philips Lifeline, can provide access to a Response Center to contact emergency help should a fall occur. In the event of a fall, time between the fall and getting medical attention matters. Studies show that seniors using a medical alert device saw an emergency response time more than 320 times faster than seniors having to call for help on their own. Beyond using these devices, Fall Prevention Awareness Week marks an occasion to remind seniors that staying physically and mentally active can help prevent falls. To begin and maintain this activity, here are three recommended steps seniors can take to support an independent and healthier life:

• Establish a regular fitness regimen. Sedentary lifestyles can gradually cause poor flexibility, loss of strength and decreased bone mass-all of which will increase the chances of falling. Establishing a consistent fitness routine will put your body in better shape and make exercise easier as you get older.

• Adhere to medication and physician orders. Eighty-seven percent of adults aged 65 or older take at least two medications and 42 percent take five or more. With long lists of medication, adherence can be difficult-but it's vital to follow all directives and advice from your physician to avoid mistakes that can lead to falls.

• Stay social in your community. Although many older Americans value their independence, it's important to be social and surrounded by others who care about you. This will help lower your chances of depression, make you happier as you age, and increase the chances of someone being there for you if you fall and need help.

If you or a loved one is concerned about fall risk, take this advice to heart and consider sharing with friends. By combining this advice with available technologies, such as medical alert devices, you can be properly prepared for all circumstances. Learn More

Works and Wonders

GLENDORA - You've probably heard that it's called "October" because in the early Roman calendar it was the eighth month.

You may remember that October is an autumn month in the northern hemisphere, and a spring month in the southern.

But did you know that October is the month when we celebrate "comprehensive, community-focused and enhancing choices"?

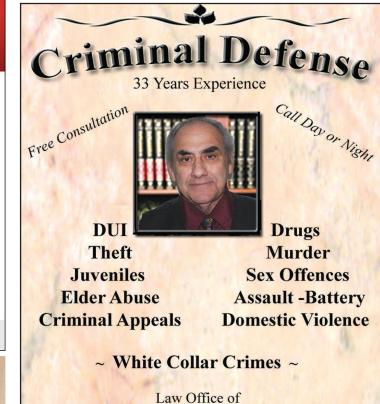

Huh? What does that mean, anyway?

"Comprehensive, communityfocused and enhancing choices" is just one way of describing community planning.

The American Planning Association (APA) says it beautifully:

Planning is important. Planning provides a vision for the community, today, and what we want our community to be in the future. This involves thinking about how we can move around our community, the businesses and attractions in our community, where we want to live, and opportunities for recreation. Most of all, planning helps create communities that are healthy, safe and have lasting value.

Take a walk through our community. That park. Brought to you by planning. Dedicated bike lanes. Brought to you by planning. Transit options. Brought to you by planning. Housing – homes, townhomes, condos or apartments. Brought to you by planning.

What would happen without planning? Chaos. Planners are working hard to make sure the community you love today remains the one you love tomorrow. Planning involves balancing varied interests, for the overall greater good.

Thoughtful planning means everyone gets a seat at the table. Share your opinions, provide input on plans, attend planning meetings. Learn about what is happening in your community. A community that has been brought to you by planning.

So this October, during National Community Planning Month, know that your community is in good hands. As you go about your daily activities, notice how much of your community has been brought to you by planning, and planners.

Yes, this October the Glendora Public Library is honored to partner with the City of Glendora Planning Department in celebrating National Community Planning Month.

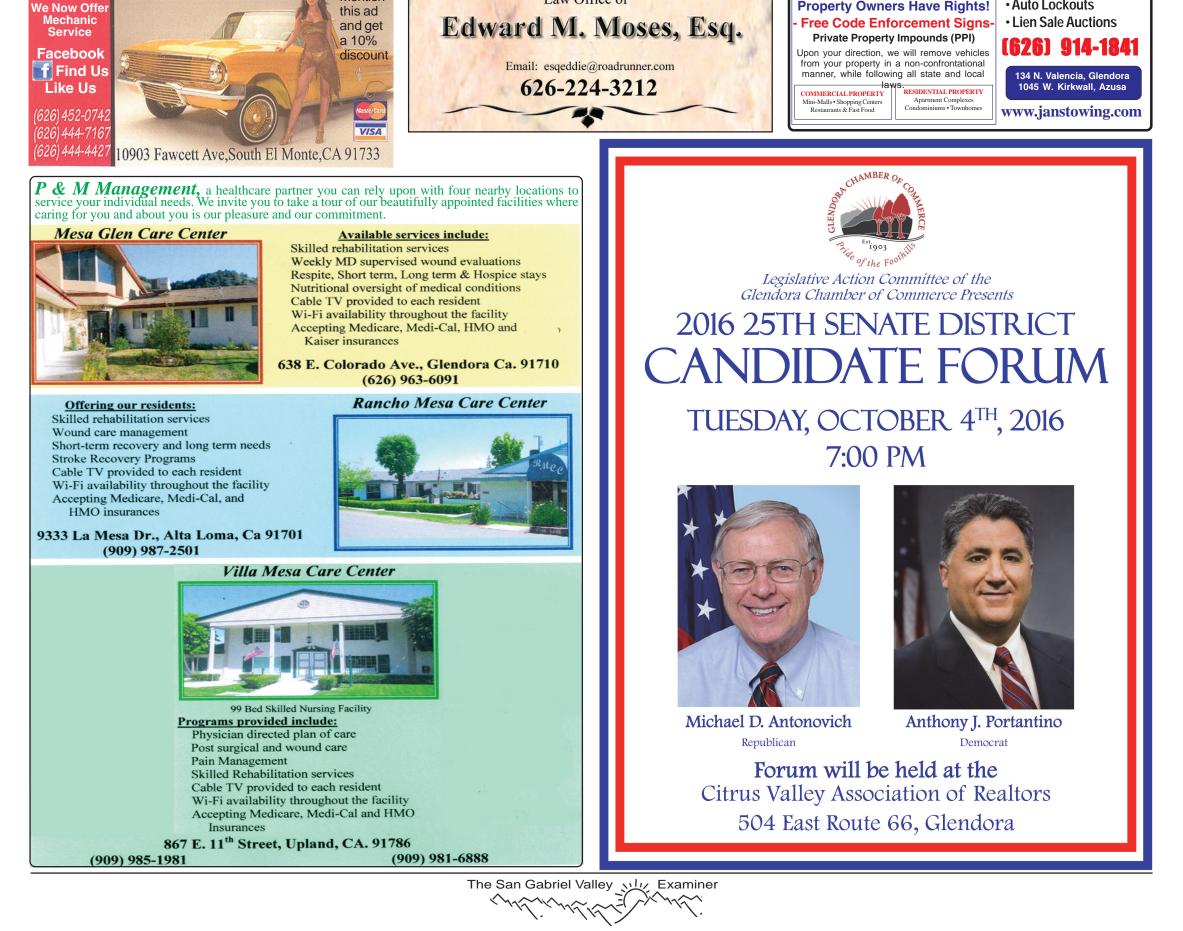

• The Glendora City Council will issue a proclamation at a public meeting proclaiming October as "Community Planning Month" - October 11th @ 7pm

• "Future Planners Workshop - What it takes to make a City," -Monday, October 24th, 2016 -Time to Be Determined

• Photo celebration photos displayed on City website and/or social media and appearing in a future episode of Go, Glendora!

From where you live, to how you commute, to the type of home you live in, planning plays a vital role in your day. So visit the APA < www.planning.org > and the City of Glendora < http:// /www.cityofglendora.org/departments/planning > and join in the celebration!
