5 Life Insurance Myths Busted

Life insurance. It's something that most people need but a topic that no one wants to discuss, leading to many misconceptions.

To help you make sense of it all, here are five common myths debunked -- just in time for National Life Insurance Awareness Month in September:

1. I'm single; I don't need life insurance. Most people think life insurance is more necessary for married people than for singles, according to the 2017 Insurance Barometer Study by Life Happens and LIMRA. But even if you're single and don't have children, you may still leave behind loved ones who would have to pay your debts. For example, if you have a cosigner on a loan, he or she would be responsible to pay it back. Life insurance can provide peace of mind by potentially paying off any remaining debt. Or, if you want to leave money to a charity, life insurance can help ensure your wishes are carried

2. It's too expensive. Cost is one of the top reasons people don't purchase life insurance. Sixty-six percent of participants in the Insurance Barometer Study said it's too expensive.

The same consumers overestimated cooking. A stay-at-home parent in the price by more than three times the actual cost. It can cost as little as $14.24 per month for a $250,000 policy at Erie Insurance, for example. That's less than 50 cents a day. Millennials can get an even bigger break by purchasing while they're still young. Premiums are typically less expensive since they're generally healthier and have fewer assets.

3. My employer provides life insurance; I don't need my own. While it's great to have coverage through an employer, it often isn't enough. "A typical group life benefit is two times your annual salary, but you may need more like six to eight times your salary just to break even," says Louis Colaizzo, senior vice president for Life at Erie Insurance.

What's more, if you take another job, your policy may not be transfer-

4. I'm a stay-at-home parent. If you're not the breadwinner in your household, you may think your family doesn't depend on your income. However, think about the value of all the unpaid services that would need to be replaced, such as childcare, household cleaning, transportation and

2018 contributes a salary of $162,581 annually, according to research by

5. I don't have the time to research this or sign up. An insurance agent can quickly walk you through the process to identify what you need and your options, as well as explain the terms. Think of your agent as a trusted partner who will keep an eye on how your policy is keeping up with your life. Plus, the application at such providers as Erie Insurance only takes about 15 minutes, doesn't include complicated forms and may not require doctor's visits.

Bottom line: most people could benefit from life insurance, but it's not a one-size-fits-all scenario. The amount needed really depends on individual circumstances. To protect those who matter most, check with your insurance agent to make sure you get the right coverage. (StatePoint)

How to Cut Years Off of the Mortgage of Your Home, Sweet, Home

Whether you've just moved payment and you could shortinto your dream home and are en the term by seven and a half experiencing the elation of making it your own or you are a few years into paying off your mortgage, if you are like most homebuyers, chances are you have the standard 30-year mortgage and may feel daunted as you anticipate decades of payments.

way to cut years off that mortgage and potentially save yourself thousands of dollars in interest? By making just one extra payment a year to your mortgage or by spreading that one payment over 12 months, you can do just that, say experts.

"If you have a nest egg and are in a good place financially, put a little extra money to work to cut the mortgage term and add equity faster, suggests PNC Bank's Staci Titsworth, a regional manager for mortgages.

Titsworth offers strategies to help make the extra payments easier to handle.

"A good rule of thumb is to take a tax refund or year-end bonus and apply it to the principal of your mortgage. It's simple to do on a yearly basis, plus you are not parting with a large portion of your regular paycheck to fund that extra payment," she says.

Another strategy is to add a little extra to each month's mortgage payment and apply to the principal. That way it doesn't hurt quite so much.

As an example, with $200,000 borrowed at a 4.5 percent fixed rate, making one extra payment of $1,013 annually can take 4.25 years off the loan and save more than $2,500 in interest. Double that extra years and save more than $9,600 in interest.

In the early years of a 30year mortgage, the bulk of the payment goes toward interest and the interest is calculated on the outstanding principal balance, so every extra dollar that you can put toward that bal-What if there were a simple ance is going to take cost off the back end of the mortgage.

"We talk to our customers about their complete financial picture, from their loans to savings to retirement. We know that most people want to retire in a financially sound position, and typically their biggest debt is a mortgage," says Titsworth. "Consider meeting with a financial advisor who can take a look at your complete picture and calculate the benefits of paying off your mortgage faster while also managing your long-term goals."
