ESTATE OF: DOUGLAS H. CLAIRE, DECEDENT

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both, of DOUGLAS H. CLAIRE.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by CARMELITA B. CLAIRE in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES The Petition for Probate requests that CARMELITA B. CLAIRE be appointed as personal representative

Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: MAY 23, 2019 at 8:30 AM in Dept. 4 at the SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, 111 NORTH HILL STREET, LOS ANGELES. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a CONTINGENT CREDITOR OF THE DECEDENT, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of the estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. Easier Access To Insulin Through Discounted Direct Purchase Program

Diabetes Association, more than 30 million Americans have diabetes—and over 7 million of them don't even know it.

What To Watch For Symptoms include:

- Urinating often
- Feeling very thirsty • Feeling very hungry—even though you're eating
- Extreme fatigue
- Blurry vision
- Cuts and bruises that are slow to heal
- Weight loss—even though you are eating more
- Tingling, pain or numbness in the hands or feet.

If you or someone you care for has any of these signs, see your doctor. Early detection and treatment can decrease the risk of developing complications, which can include blindness, limb loss and premature

Fortunately, doctors today have many ways to keep diabetes under control. For example, losing weight, eating healthy and increasing physical activity can dramatically reduce the progression of diabetes. In addition, you can take insulin to control blood glucose.

Save Money

Making it even easier for patients to get, one biopharmaceutical company, MannKind Corporation, is currently offering a discount on a specific insulin for people living with diabetes through a direct purchase program. Participation in this innovative cash program, which is available to all eligible patients with a valid prescription, is simple. The first 1,000 people to register

"It is important for Mann-Kind to help those whose lives depend on insulin, and, unfortunately, over 65,000 uninsured or underinsured patients today must pay cash for their insulin each month," explained Michael Castagna, Chief Executive Officer of MannKind "Our new program lets us streamline the numerous costs and inefficiencies that exist in today's health care system, so we can pass along the savings directly for these patients. We want to be part of the solution for the future of health care and healthy living. Our founder Al Mann had a vision of making this product available to all people living with diabetes, and it's concerning that rising costs may cause some with diabetes to go without insulin. We hope that our new programs will help many in need."

5 Reasons Why Financial Planning is a Great Career for Women

As Americans have increasingly realized they need competent, professional advice about how to manage their money, financial planning has grown significantly as a profession over the past several decades.

Yet, only 23 percent of the more than 83,000 Certified Financial Planner (CFP) professionals today are female, even as women control more than onethird of the wealth in the U.S. This means there's both a tremendous opportunity, as well as need, for more female financial plan-

Here are five benefits of financial planning careers that make them a great fit for women, according to those in the industry:

1. Work-life balance: Financial planning careers offer the flexibility to balance professional demands with your personal life, whether you are making time for family or for other activities that are important to you.

2. Opportunity to make a difference: Financial planners are often key parts of their communities and enjoy the satisfaction of helping people in important, life-changing ways. By taking a holistic look at their clients' finances, they help families build wealth, manage financial challenges and achieve their goals.

"I think this is such a great field for women because we naturally want to take care of people. Becoming a financial planner is just another way of helping people out -- but in the money department," says Brittany Castro, a Los-Angeles-based CFP professional.

3. Financial stability: Financial planning careers offer excellent income potential that is comparable to other distinguished careers. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), the median pay for personal financial planners is $89,000.

4. Freedom to shape your own path: You may choose to work for a large firm, a small company, a bank or a broker dealer. Or, you may decide to start your own business. Roughly one in five personal financial planners are self-employed, according to the

"The beautiful thing about being a CFP pro is that we're still blazing trails. It's still a very young profession, so you can make this career anything you want," says Rianka Dorsainvil, a CFP professional in Washington,

5. Room for growth: The BLS projects that the financial advisory industry, including financial planning, will grow 15 percent between 2016 and 2026. That's 4 percent higher growth than other occupations are projected to experience. This high demand for financial planning services, coupled with an aging current workforce, means there is long-term opportunity and room for growth within the profession.

Financial planning is a satisfying career for many women already -- 72 percent of women who earned the CFP certification are very satisfied with their jobs, according to research from the CFP Board Center for Financial Planning. Offering growth potential, work-life balance and the freedom to chart your own professional path, financial planning is a career that provides many tangible perks. (StatePoint)
