Senator Ling Ling Chang and La Brea Bakery Distribute Baked Goods to Senior Citizens and Students

Senator Ling Ling Chang (R-Diamond Bar) and La Brea Bakery teamed up to distribute more than 36,000 White Sandwich Rolls, Telera Sliders, and Holiday Stuffing Rolls to more than 30 different organizations, ranging from senior citizen centers, food banks, community resource centers, community colleges, school districts, and churches in Senate District 29.

"We are all in this together to support our neighbors, families and businesses in need," said Senator Ling Ling Chang. "Due to COVID-19, an increasing number of families are facing food insecurity and food pantries are experiencing a drop-off in donations. I'm humbled to partner with La Brea Bakery to get food on tables and offer families in California's Senate District 29 a hand-up during these tough and challenging economic times."

Following the physical distancing guideline and other strict protocol, Senator Chang's staff rolled up their sleeves, donned masks, and wore gloves to distribute thousands of food to the various non-profits that stopped by her Brea office to pick up food. Those who came to pick up the food had to schedule an appointment with her office.

"Bread has been a staple of family meals for generations," said Christopher Woo, Vice President of ARYZTA, which owns La Brea Bakery. "Since 1989, La Brea Bakery has nourished Southern Californian families with our wholesome artisan bread, whether it was through our high quality Take and Bake loaves and rolls at the grocery stores or our hearty meals at the La Brea Bakery Café in Downtown Disney. When we heard that Senator Chang was undertaking her tremendous efforts in distributing essentials to community members during these times of need, we wanted to contribute to this noble cause and continue supporting our La Brea Bakery customers, who we consider our family."

Since COVID-19 outbreak, Senator Chang has authored legislation to expand paid family leave and hosted three grocery distributions and an elderly care drive. Those wishing to request assistance or offer help may Senator.Chang@sen.ca.gov.

Justice for Homicide Victims

By Joan Schmidt

Several years ago, I met Marsella Leach and learned about "Justice for Homicide Victims", a nonprofit corporation serving the needs of family survivors. Recent Board of Directors has included Marsella Leach, Bill and Jane Bouffard, Thomas Varon, La Wanda Hawkins, Jeannette Chavez and Cynthia Bejar.

Their story begins in late 1983. The late Ellen Griffin Dunne called Marcella Leach and said, "We have something terrible in common."

Ellen's beloved daughter Dominique was killed by her former boyfriend, who was convicted and served three years in prison! Marcella's daughter Marsy also was killed by her former boyfriend. He was arrested, and out on $50,000 bail in a week! No told Marsella; her daughter's murderer confronted her at a store!

Ellen wanted to found a support group, and the Leaches were among the founding members. Early supporters were Jimmy Stewart and Robert Wagner.

Marsella's son Nicholas Leach III, a victims' right advocate worked nonstop many years; in 2008, Marsy's Law, California's Victims Bill of Rights was enacted as Proposition 9 in the November election and passed.

Every April, JHV (Justice for Homicide Victims) has a beautiful tribute at Rose Hills Cemetery. Victims' pictures displayed; guest speakers, special recognition of crime solvers/ prosecutors, beautiful music by the International Peace Choir, doves release, balloon release, candle lighting, and luncheon.

Bob and I have attended several years; we come home heartbroken at families' grief. Remember young Aaron Shannon, shot in his grandfather's backyard on Halloween? We sat with his grandfather. That year D.A. Sarika Kim was honored. She would not give up -it took THREE trials for justice to be served.

Over the years, we met Marcella before she passed, Samantha Salas' family, and Collene Campbell, sister of the late Mickey Thompson who was killed with his wife Trudy at their Bradbury home. MANY years passed; Mickey's former partner was convicted, but he constantly threatened Colene and her husband.

At the 2018 JHV Memorial, we met Ana Estevez, whose beloved son Piqui was murdered by his father. The detectives who solved the case were honored.

I also must mention La Wanda Hawkins, whose beloved son Reggie was murdered (Unsolved case), and two AWESOME youths, Joseph Bejar and Nathalia Jackson. (Their fathers were murdered -unsolved, yet they help JHV.)

This year there cannot be a Memorial, visit Justice for Homicide Victims on Facebook Sunday, April 19 at 11:30am, they will live stream that page. Please www.justiceforhomicidevictims.com for more

El Monte Union Serves Nearly 68,000 Meals During First 3 Weeks of Dismissal

EL MONTE - El Monte Union served 67,960 breakfast and lunch meals from three schools - Arroyo, El Monte and South El Monte – during the first three weeks of the school dismissal period-, with officials committed to continuing the District's successful nutrition program through the end of the 2019-20 school year.

Acting on recommendation from state, county and public health officials, El Monte Union on March 13 initiated its dismissal period starting March 16 to limit the spread of COVID-19 and promote social distancing. The District has since extended the dismissal period for the remainder of the school year.

"We know this situation has had a tremendous impact on our families, students and community, but we remain steadfast in our commitment to ensuring our students continue to receive instructional services and have access to much-needed meals," Superintendent Dr. Edward Zuniga said. "I want to thank our nutrition services staff for their diligence and dedication to ensuring this essential service continues seamlessly."

El Monte Union will distribute its grab-and-go meals to children 18 and younger from 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday throughout the dismissal period, including over Spring Break, scheduled April 13-17.

In an effort to maintain accountability and program integrity, El Monte Union has instituted the following guidelines for its distribution sites at Arroyo, El

Honor Health Care Heroes: Those Who Rush Toward Danger Armed With Little More Than Their Training And Passion

"Times of crisis bring out the best in people." This truism is in evidence each day as tens of thousands of Americans go about their essential work duties in the midst of the COV-ID-19 pandemic.

In normal times, the bravery and sacrifice of first responders and health care professionals often go unnoticed. But these are not normal times. People in cities across the nation and around the world are now taking to their balconies and rooftops each evening to applaud those who are serving on the frontlines of the COV-ID-19 pandemic.

Anticipating a surge of COV-ID-19 cases in California and the need for many additional health care workers, on March 30, Governor Gavin Newsom announced his plan to increase the state's medical workforce. He said, "If you're a nursing school student or medical school student, we need you." Newsom also included in his call to action the recently retired and other medical professionals to join in the battle to save lives.

In a statement, California Community Colleges Chancellor Eloy Ortiz Oakley responded by saying, "California's community colleges will answer the call..." He added, "Many of our students in nursing, respiratory therapy and other allied health programs...want to serve in this moment of tremendous need."

By Dr. Edward C. Ortell Citrus College Governing Board Member

California's community colleges currently educate about 70 percent of the state's nurses, as well as 80 percent of its firefighters, law enforcement officers and emergency medical technicians.

Calling on students who are nearly through their nursing programs can be a win-win for them, the other professionals they will work alongside and hospitals that are in desperate need of additional trained nurses. These students will benefit from working in clinical settings and they are freshly trained and eager to do their part. Reaction from community college students to Newsom's plan was enthusiastic. Their comments included such statements as: "This is what we've been preparing ourselves for;" "This is what we signed up for and this is what we want to do;" and "It's exciting. Now we can be the ones to really help some of these patients."

The courage and passion of these students is humbling. They remind us of the brave and selfless first responders of 9/11-those who rushed toward danger while most people were running away. And, like those first responders, these students deserve our respect and our gratitude.

About the Author: Dr. Edward C. Ortell is the senior governing board member at Citrus College and a Professor Emeritus at Pasadena City College. He has served on the California Community College Trustees (CCCT) state board of directors and 11 terms as president of the Citrus College Board of Trustees.

Azusa City Council Adopts Emergency Ordinance to Protect Local Residents and Small Businesses

AZUSA - During a special meeting held on April 9, 2020, the Azusa City Council voted unanimously to adopt an evictions moratorium aimed to protect residents and small businesses during these unprecedented times. The moratorium will be in place until the city lifts the locally declared emergency. Those affected by COVID-19 must show proof and will have 14 days from the day the rent is due to inform their landlord of their inability to pay.

"This is not rent forgiveness, it just gives those negatively affected more time to catch up without having to face an eviction due to their inability to make payment," said Mayor

Robert Gonzales.

Commercial tenants would have until October 31, 2020 to pay back rent missed and residents would have until 12/31/ 2020. Follow this link for more information: https:// azusaca.gov/DocumentCenter/ View/41903/Emergency-Ordinance

WHEN A DISASTER STRIKES DON'T GET OVERCHARGED

If the government declares an emergency, increasing the price of goods and services 10% or more may be price gouging.

Price gouging is a crime. After a disaster, price increases can occur at grocery stores, gasoline stations, housing, emergency and medical supply stores, and construction or repair services.

BE AWARE

If you think a store or service provider is committing price gouging, compare prices prior to the state of emergency and in areas not affected by the disaster.

Consumers are protected from a price increase of 10% or more for 30 days on goods and services and for 180 days on contractor-related services. Keep detailed records of purchases you make during a declared emergency.

If you believe you were a victim of price gouging, contact our department to file a complaint by calling (800) 593-8222 or visit us online at dcba.lacounty.gov.

Los Angeles County Extends Safer at Home Order Until May 15

LOSANGELES COUNTY - A new Health Officer Order is being issued that extends the stipulation in the previous Health Officer Order through May 15, 2020. The Order also requires essential businesses to provide a cloth face covering for all of their employees to wear while performing duties that involve contact with other employees and or the public and to post their physical distancing plans. The public is also required to wear a face covering to enter essential businesses. All public and private gatherings of any number of people occurring outside a single household or living unit remain prohibited. Beaches, trails and trailheads and non-essential businesses remain closed. It is critical that everyone continue to take these actions to slow the spread of COVID-19. The loss of life we are reporting today and send our sincere condolences to every person affected by these losses," said Barbara Ferrer, PhD, MPH, MEd, Director of Public Health. "Recent data modeling done in partnership with the Department of Health Services and UCLA suggests that our collective distancing efforts are working and that we must continue to stay home whenever possible. The updated Health Officer Order extends 'Safer at Home' through May 15, and enhances measures that will protect employees who are working in essential services."

The best community and individual defense against COV-ID-19 is to wash your hands frequently, avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth with unwashed hands, avoid being around sick people, practice physical distancing, especially by staying at home, and wear a face covering when out in the public procuring or providing essential services. N95 and surgical masks should only be used by healthcare workers, first responders, essential workers providing care for people who are ill, and people who are ill.

Public Health has issued the following guidance for people with mild illness during this time of increased spread:

• If you are mildly sick, stay home for at least seven days and until 72 hours after being fever and symptom free. Call your doctor if you are concerned and/or your symptoms worsen. Individuals who are elderly, have underlying health conditions or are pregnant may be at higher risk of serious illness and should contact their doctor early if they are sick.

Additional things you can do to protect yourself, your family and your community are on the Public Health website, www.publichealth.lacounty.gov.

County Launches New Small Business Recovery Loan Program

Loan Program to Assist Small Businesses Affected by COVID-19

LOS ANGELES COUNTY-In response to small businesses affected by COVID-19, the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors has created the Small Business Recovery Loan Program, administered by the Los Angeles County Development Authority (LACDA).

The Small Business Recovery Loan Program provides easy to access, timely, and sufficient financial relief to small businesses that are most impacted by an acute downturn in revenue caused by an unforeseen emergency outside their immediate control. This program will ensure businesses can keep their employees and businesses afloat during this time of economic hardship and prevent a chain reaction of reduced spending, inability to pay bills, job losses, or even closure.

The loans will be made available through the County's existing Economic Development Administration (EDA) Loan fund as the primary source of funding. Any for-profit business with 25 or fewer employees located within the unincorporated Los Angeles County or city participating in the County's Community Development Block Grant Program is eligible. Loan proceeds may be used for working capital, including payroll or rent. The maximum loan amount is $20,000 with a term of five (5) years, and the minimum interest rate is authorized by the EDA (4%) or Wall Street Journal Prime (75%), whichever is lower. Principal and interest will be deferred up to 12 months. Loans may be prepaid, in part or in whole, at any time without penalty. There is no loan origination fee and no collateral is needed to secure the loan.

Emilio Salas, Acting Executive Director of the LACDA, said, "The current COVID-19 pandemic is impacting small business economies. However, the County has been taking swift action to support business owners and their employees during this time – and this new loan program will be a helpful addition to the resources available."

To obtain an application, visit bizrecoveryloans.lacda.org. Additional resources for small businesses can be found at: https:// dcba.lacounty.gov. For more information on the Small Business Recovery Loan Program, please contact Carolina Romo, Supervisor at LACDA, at (626) 296-6298 or by email at BizRecovery@lacda.org.

San Gabriel Passes Eviction Moratorium In Response To COVID-19 Pandemic

SAN GABRIEL - By unanimous vote, the San Gabriel City Council voted to pass a local urgency ordinance that prohibits evictions due to the nonpayment of rent caused by the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

"I am proud that we adopted Urgency Ordinance No. 668 to provide immediate protection to tenants during this extraordinary period of time," said Mayor Jason Pu. "Our ordinance broadens Governor Newsom's statewide suspension of residential evictions by protecting both individuals and businesses and by specifying that qualifying tenants will have up to 180 days to pay any unpaid back-rent."

The urgency ordinance applies to residential and commercial tenants who live or operate businesses in the City of San Gabriel who are unable to pay rent due to COVID-19. The ordinance goes into effect immediately and will remain in effect until 30 days following the expiration of Governor Gavin Newsom's executive order (N-37-20), which authorizes local governments to impose limitations on evictions caused by COVID-19.

Residential tenants in San Gabriel who wish to delay the payment of rent must notify their landlord in writing of their inability to pay before rent is due, or up to 14 days after the due date. Tenants must also be able to provide documentation that details their inability to pay rent as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.

For business tenants to qualify, they must conduct their business in the City and be able to demonstrate substantial loss of income related to COVID-19. Like residential tenants, business tenants must notify their landlord in writing before rent is due or up to 14 days after the due date.

The community is invited to learn more about this eviction moratorium on the City's website at SanGabrielCity.com/Eviction.

Monterey Park Police Department Now Accepting Text-to-911 Emergency Calls

MONTEREY PARK - The Monterey Park Police Department Communications Center implemented the ability for citemergencies. Text-to-911 service is available for those individuals who cannot safely make a voice call to 911 in an emergency. This will be a valuable service to the deaf and hard of hearing community.

Text-to-911 is available for those with wireless plans from AT&T, Sprint, T-Mobile and Verizon Wireless. Text-to-911 may not be available outside of Monterey Park. If a text is made to 911 where that service is not available, a message will be sent back to the phone advising the customer to make a voice call.

Some situations when textto-911 is appropriate:

• Deaf, hard of hearing callers, or individuals with a speech disability

• A caller who is unable to izens to text-to-911 during speak due to a medical or oth-

• Emergency situations that would put the caller in danger if making a voice call such as abduction, domestic violence or active shooter situation

When texting to 911, follow these guidelines:

- Provide your exact address or location
- Explain the type of emergency or help that is being requested
- Be prepared to answer any questions that the 911-telecomminicator texts back
- Use plain language; do not use abbreviations, symbols, emoticons, or photos
  - Messages should be brief Can, TEXT if You Can't!"

and concise

Texting 911 can be done by typing "911" in the field for a phone number. No other numbers need to be used. Texting should be done through your wireless phones text messaging service and not from third party texting applications. Text-to-911 does require an active telephone service plan with data or it will not work.

The best way to contact 911 is by making a voice call. Please only utilize this service in emergency circumstances where a voice call is not possible or safe. Do not use this service to ask general questions or nonemergency calls. For nonemergencies, the Monterey Park Police Department can be contacted at 626-573-1311.

Coronavirus or COVID 19 is still waging war on all of us, our family and friends while sending our health care system into a massive overload and is now turning on our financial system dinging state and local government budgets and racking up a huge number of zeros behind the dollar sign when we talk stimulus dollars.

How many zeros can we add to stabilize the U.S. economy before we do more damage than good? That was one of the issues brought up on Congressman Tom McClintock's Town Hall last week to open up the lines of communication to assist the businesses in his Congressional District 4 with access to the stimulus package and understanding all the requirements.

• 6.6 million people have filed for unemployment since the "stay at home" and business shutdowns have occurred.

• $1 trillion equals $8,000 a year for each family.

Rep. McClintock said in his press release: "This strongest argument for this bill (CARES Act) is that it provides liquidity for employers and spending money for families. The strongest against it is that it does so inefficiently, wastefully and at enormous cost ... Our system wasn't designed to make the best possible decisions, but rather the best decisions acceptable to the most people. Given the current Con-system is finally catching up and gress, this is it."

Shade's Perspective Lois M. Shade Former Mayor of Glendora

On the March 22nd 60 Minutes interview, Neel Kashkari, former Presidential candidate, now President of the Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, and once in charge of the 2008 $700 billion bailout of the great recession, had some comments on the Congressional stimulus package created to rescue the entire U.S. economy in light of the COVID 19 countrywide shutdown.

In that interview, Neel Kashkari predicted that that we are headed into a recession, either a mild recession like the one after 9/11 or a deep recession like the one in 2008 and the virus will dictate that depending on how long it continues to be in our communities. Kashkari's direction from Congress is to ensure liquidity is maintained in the economy until we - we the country, businesses, both large and small, and individuals - are back in full swing when the virus is

My take-away from Kashkari on March 22nd is for Congress to be a full participant in any ac-

- Support the $2.2 trillion stimulus package - Done.
- Continued action from the Federal Reserve to provide money to all sectors as requested by Congress and signed off on by President Trump. $700 billion to support mortgages, money markets, banks, corporate bonds -
- Expand the unemployment benefit system and send a check to every household to ensure they are able to survive and move forward - Done.
- Indications the health care moving ahead of the crisis. Testing is a critical component and we've finally conquered that component technologically but we still need the manpower to complete that feat. The National Guard and other federal resources have been assigned to fill in where needed - Done

• Now, the big question, who has had the virus, didn't know it and is there now immunity for some? Immunity is a big question to determine if there will be a resurgence of COVID 19 and we will be fighting this bug all over again - That is moving forward rapidly.

Kashkari insisted the CARES Act aggressive approach will put us in a much better position for a quicker recovery than the 2008 crisis that took 10 years for a complete recovery. To keep businesses alive and their workers employed is a better tactic than trying to recreate businesses and find new jobs for people at the end of the virus war. Unemployment applications we are told are at 6 million plus some.

Kashkari's comments lend a real understanding of the severity of the crisis when he said the federal reserve can continue to flood the market with money from their reserves or just go out and print more money with approval from the Treasury.

President Trump's anxiety and what seems to be a rush to get people back to work, back to school, out of "stay at home" mode and functioning again is a recognition of Rep. McClintock's concern: How far do you go with funding packages to stabilize the economy before you destabilize it?

President Trump is walking a fine line measuring the impact of the pandemic on not only the U.S. economy but worldwide economic struggles. His decisions will be based on the Kashkari experience and knowledge, and the experienced, consistent conservative values of Congressman Tom McClintock.

Our President, Donald J. Trump, is literally faced with life and death decisions ... on people and the economy of America that ultimately impacts the entire

The Great American Debate

The war between religion and science came to a head in 1925 in a rural Tennessee courthouse. John Scopes had introduced evolution to his public school students-a violation of Tennessee law. The trial brought in two legal heavyweights who fought it out. Scopes was eventually convicted. While the legal argument was between the State of Tennessee and this teacher, the root of the debate was between science and religion. That conflict had been going on for some time, and the trial was the culmination of an effort by conservative Christians to silence Darwin's "godless heresy."

The debate continues to take place in less public arenas throughout the nation. With the rise of science and the scientific method, many Christians feel threatened.

The "monkey trial" as it was called did not end the argument. Right up to today many fundamentalists continue to reject the findings of evolution. Around the nation there are museums and theme parks featuring so-called "biblical facts." One such exhibit shows humans and dinosaurs living in the same neighborhood at the same time. There are continual efforts to locate the garden of Eden or the remains of Noah's ark. There are TV evangelists whose constant theme revolves around "proving" that evolution is a satanic hoax.

While this old debate may still be alive in the nation's backwaters, science is now been challenged by an unexpected non-religious source, Trumpism! The world's scientists have made it clear that climate change has produced the catastrophic reality labeled "global warming." What is more, the scientists have identified human activity as its primary cause. Every effort made by Congress or the states to deal with the problem that might eventually make life on this planet livable, has been ridiculed by President Trump. What is more, Trump has tragically withdrawn the United States from the promising Paris Accords that took the problem seriously and suggested a way out.

Why has Trump made war on science? His commitment does not appear to be human survival or the sanctity of the planet, but the protection of the fossil fuel industry and its influence on the American economy. It is clear that the longer we wait to take definite steps to save the planet, the greater the jeopardy. Continuing to pump millions of tons of death-dealing gases into the atmosphere spells ultimate disaster. So say the world's climatologists.

More immediately, Trump has gone to war with the nation's scientists as the world faces the devastating pandemic labeled "Covid-19." He insists that the scientific findings must give way to economic concerns. In recent days he has been more attentive to America's medical community, but he has set the boundary of the battle with the statement, "the cure may be more dangerous than the disease." Science tells us that the cure is to continue the nationwide shut-down. This not only has to do with the demand that we stay home and observe social distancing, but also involves the continued closing of America's businesses as well as practically every public facility. The cure may involve something as simple as wearing cloth masks (Beth, our New Orleans daughter, has made and shipped us a box of them). Trump has declined to wear a face covering because it might interfere with his image. Here is simply another example of how his egomania is both despicable and dangerous.

Despite medical advice, Trump had been pushing an unproved treatment without knowing its danger let alone its effectiveness. He won't wear a cloth mask but will encourage taking an untested medicine. "What do you have to lose?" Only your life!

He continues to say that a vital decision is in the offing. We can only guess that it has to do with reopening American's businesses and putting the nation back to work. But the medical community has warned that a premature return to normal life risks the return of the pandemic. How will the decision be made and who will make it? Trump is certain the decision will be his alone and will be made in an attempt to restore the economy, ignoring the advice of his own medical experts.

Trump has set the battle line, but the question remains, shall the decision be made on the basis of the best scientific judgment or on what seems to be best-in the short run-for the economy. So now we have a 2ist version of the Scopes trial with a new anti-science antagonist.

"TIME JOCKEY" - Long Gun

By Joe Castillo

Evolution... The Wild West brought out many new ideas, products and inventions, most of which introduced new changes in the lands west of the Mississippi River. One of the inventions was the long rifle which would bring more violence to an already violent world of the west. The earliest rifle or "long gun" as it was called was known as the wheel lock. The early wheel locks were almost like a small primitive cannon which was ignited by a match held by a hand and applied to a firing hole. Eventually, the match process was automated and it struck a flint-like ignition which started the firing process. Sparks would be created which would ignite the gun. The earliest known wheel locks were brought over by the Spanish during the early exploration

The next long gun in the evolution process was the "blunderbus". The bullets exited from a slightly bell-shape exit point to create a wide spray of bullets. The bluderbus was only good for one shot and was used for close fighting, usually for fighting pirates who tried to overtake a ship. The bluderbus had one other quality in that it allowed an attachment of a bayonet which could be used if the one shot wasn't effective.

The next transformation of the long gun was known as the "Kentucky Rifle", a handmade gun known mostly for its accuracy and distance. The Kentucky Rifle was used extensively by General Andrew Jackson in his battles against the French and Indians in 1815. Over the next couple of decades, modifications were made to the rifle and it became known as the "Plains Rifle", a favorite weapon among trappers and hunters.

Following the flint cap was the development of the percussion cap for firing a more powerful charge. Colt developed a doublebarrel, .45 caliber rifle which was one of the first percussion cap rifles to be used extensively. But the percussion cap had the same liability as the flint rifle in that it could only fire one shot at a time. What was needed was an automated rifle which could fire multiple rounds. These were known as repeaters and Colt started the development with a revolving cylinder rifle. It became the most widely used weapon in the western plains. The Turret Rifle, California Made, and Winchester Repeater were all the early repeater models. Allen & Cochrane developed a seven-shot, .44 caliber gun which operated with a flat turret, turning in a vertical axis. Western also made a seven-shot, .44. caliber rifle which was named as "California Made" as it was made in Marysville, California. Finally, the Winchester Repeater which became the most famous rifle of the west was designed. It was the first rifle to use metal cartridges within a fulllength tubular magazine. From 1876 on, the Winchester repeater was used in every Indian and Army conflict and was the weapon of choice for all lawmen chasing outlaws. But it was also the preferred weapon of all outlaws as well.

The Long Gun evolved from the single shot, match struck gun of the Spanish era, to the multishot revolving rifle by Winchester. It was used by everyone who sought to tame the west but its use and growth became a symbol of law and order. The wild west was wild indeed and as time passed the long gun evolved and eventually brought the west under control.....

Imprisoned with Your Cellmate Because of Coronavirus

Well let's face it, we have been sentenced by our government to be detained under house arrest. The government did not care who our cellmates might be. For many, the sentence is unreasonable because of who they are being incarcerated with. Many are stuck in jail with their significant other, wife, husband, boyfriend or girlfriend. Let's keep the other family members out of this because that is a different story or punishment.

For those of you that are happy to be locked up with your spouse, you are known as "newlyweds" and haven't had the long haul yet. However, in most cases everyone is getting along.. we hope.

With the understanding that humor can be the best medicine here are a few stories we can all learn from...

A guy and his wife were watching "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire" while they were in bed. He turned to her and said, 'Do you want to have Sex?' 'No,' she answered. He then said, 'Is that your final answer?' ... She didn't even look at him this time, simply saying, 'Yes.' So he said, "Then I'd like to phone a friend." That my friends was not a good

So, this friend of mine calls me, he was a little bummed out.

George Ogden That's just the way it is!

He lost his job because of the government shut down, he went to the Social Security office to apply for Social Security. The woman behind the counter asked him for his driver's License to verify his age. He looked for his wallet in his pockets and realized he had left the wallet at home. He told the woman that he was very sorry, but he would have to go home and come back later. The woman said, 'Unbutton your shirt'. So he opened his shirt revealing his curly silver chest hairs. She said, 'That silver hair on your chest is proof enough for me' and she processed his Social Security application. When he got home, he excitedly told his wife about his experience at the Social Security office. She said, 'You should have dropped your pants. You might have gotten disability too.' I burst out laughing and the call ended.

My wife was standing nude, looking in the bedroom mirror. She was not happy with what she saw and said to me, "I feel horrible; I look old, fat and ugly. I really need you to pay me a compliment.' I replied, "Your evesight's damn near perfect." And then all hell broke out. What the hell did I say wrong?

In all seriousness, this is some really rough times for a lot of people. It put a number of people out of work permanently. It will close small businesses forever. With these stupid dumb stories, maybe it put a smile on your face a brought you a little humor. Maybe this is just what we need.

Angeles National Forest Offers Map to Areas Temporarily Shut Down

ARCADIA - The Angeles National Forest has developed a new interactive web map to help the public "see" the highuse forest areas that have been temporarily closed. Before visiting the Angeles National Forest, the public is highly encouraged to review the map at, https://www.fs.usda.gov/angeles/

The recent closure of highuse areas in the Angeles National Forest include 4 formal trailheads, 23 informal trail access points, 19 roads, and all developed recreation sites. Out of 760 miles of trails in the Angeles, only 81 miles of trails are affected by the closure. The new interactive map will help visitors find new, lower-use areas in the Angeles and assist with dispersion for everyone's health and safety.

The closures of high-use areas in the Angeles National Forest aligns with current federal, state and local guidance for social distancing and to ensure health and safety of its visitors, volunteers and employees. The closure of high-use areas is in effect through April 30, 2020.

To protect public health and safety all visitors to the forest are encouraged to:

- Avoid visiting the forest if you are sick and/or experiencing COVID-19 symptoms.
- Follow CDC guidance on personal hygiene and social distancing before and during your visit to the forest.

• If an area is crowded, move to a less occupied location. Also consider avoiding the forest during high-use periods.

- Take your trash with you when you leave. Trash overflowing the receptacles becomes potential sources for the spread of COVID-19.
- Please make arrangements to use the restroom before or after your visit to the forest. Unmanaged waste creates a health hazard for other visitors and employees.

California Highway Patrol Recognizes Telecommunications Personnel

SACRAMENTO – During state- and running criminal record checks on calmly. wide, national, or even global incidents, public safety dispatchers provide a calm, professional voice and an essential link for the California Highway Patrol (CHP) and the public. To highlight their service, the CHP joins other law enforcement agencies to recognize National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week, April 12-18, 2020.

"Telecommunications professionals continue to provide an indispensable service for public safety," CHP Commissioner Warren Stanley said. "With recent events, now more than ever, our telecommunications personnel are the first point of contact to those in need or peril."

The CHP employs more than 700 public safety dispatchers in its 24 Communications Centers throughout the state; they handled more than five million calls in 2019. In times of crisis, a dispatcher must instantly determine the correct response to ensure the safety of all parties involved. They are also in constant communication with patrol officers, looking up license plates, driver license numbers, wanted subjects.

Calling 9-1-1 can be stressful. The rections provided by the dispatcher. following tips will help callers during an emergency:

- Stay as calm as possible.
- Call from a landline if possible.
- Be prepared to provide your name, phone number, address or location, and a detailed description of the incident or vehicle being report-
- Cellular telephones may not tell the call-taker where you are. The location of the emergency may be the single most important information for the dispatcher in case the call is cut
- Wait for the dispatcher to ask questions, and then answer clearly and

- Listen carefully and follow all di-
- Be prepared to provide a physical description if the emergency involves a criminal suspect.
- Remember, 9-1-1 is for life-threatening emergencies. Misuse of the emergency 9-1-1 system will result in a delay for callers with real emergencies and is punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000.

The CHP is looking to hire qualified people to fill dispatch vacancies. We currently have more than 150 approved vacancies statewide for the position of public safety dispatcher.

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security.

A Crisis Apparently is Still a Terrible Thing to Waste

Recent market movements made little sense! - The Wall Street Journal proclaimed "a new bull market" after the Dow rose nearly 30% in less than 10 days, after just falling 38% in 40 prior days. Could we be beginning the shortest-ever bull market... after suffering through the shortestever bear market...which followed the longest-ever bull mar-

Politics and economics can be equally confusing. Bernie Sanders and Elizabeth Warren are out of the race, yet we're spending trillions on emergency relief and healthcare by adopting the deficit spending they both proposed. The short explanation of this process is "printing money". But the Wuhan China coronavirus has created a time of forced (partial or complete) business shutdowns, and "government charity" is needed until workers can get back on the job!

Former Fed Chairman Alan Greenspan admitted, "The United States can pay any debt it has, because we can always print money to do that. So, there is zero probability of default." Additionally, as long as short-term interest rates stay near zero, there will be very little cost involved in servicing the additional national debt. It sounds like a reasonable solution (especially since the government and China's coronavirus forced a recently thriving nation to nearly "shut

Congress passed and the President signed into law a bill which authorized the creation of $2.2 trillion to alleviate the pain of businesses and individuals in this first wave of forced joblessness and closed businesses (due to the coronavirus crisis). That amount of money is equal to 10% of annual GDP, as well as 10% of the public debt, as well as 50% of the 2020 federal budget. That's 36 days of GDP! It amounts to over $6,500 per American, or $26,000 for a family of four! And many in Washington already say it won't be enough money! So, a 2nd relief bill is now being debated in Washington, another stimulus package that Democrats hope to load up (again) with a lot more unneeded spending. The real question is, why not see how the Country is doing before passing any new terribly expensive legislation???

What's up in the Economy? Nutshell

Economic Analyst & Former Glendora Mayor

If the economy comes back strong in May (or at least by early June), and if further "relief bills" only cover critical needs (and are not filled with "pork"), this could all "turn out" well for everyone. However, consider that many families and businesses are also delaying tax payments, and future payments into the government could be lower due to lower incomes. Federal and state deficits could continue to balloon! Could Federal deficits reach a record $2 trillion or more this year, and stay over $1 trillion next year, and for the remainder of the decade (assuming deficit spending again becomes the expected norm)?

If all this - stimulus packages, virus threats, bailouts - sounds familiar, it should. It also happened in 2009! Less than a month after President Barack Obama took the oath of office on January 20, 2009, he signed the $787 billion American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA). Like current bills, it was designed to save existing jobs and provide temporary relief to those most affected by the current crisis, of which his chief of staff Rahm Emmanuel famously said: "A crisis is a terrible thing to waste!"

That money was to be spent "quickly" on "shovel-ready projects," leading to what Vice President Joe Biden labeled a "summer of recovery". Unfortunately, recovery never happened, as the unemployment rate continued to rise from 8% in February to over 10% in October. Tens of billions then (as also in recent legislation) went to special interest groups or causes which provided little obvious help for our

Then, in April 2009, swine flu

(H1N1) entered America from Mexico. The CDC estimated that between April 2009 and April 2010 there were 60.8 million cases of H1N1 in the U.S.A., causing 274,304 hospitalizations and 12,469 deaths. In the middle of the year "Cash for Clunkers" and other stimulus plans were also added to help our economy.

Initially 2009 jobless benefits were to expire after 26 weeks; but that was extended to 99 weeks and into 2013 in many cases (delivering $1+ trillion deficits each year from 2009 through 2012). Even so, millions more in America went on welfare. But investors did benefit from this "sugar high" via the stock market.

Like 2009, this first stimulus package probably won't be the last one. However, this time the initial relief package is nearly three times bigger - $2.2 trillion vs. $787 billion. The recent bill increased jobless benefits for all workers to $600 per week for the next four months! Even the liberal Economic Policy Institute says this would provide "100% replacement of wage income for the bottom half of the workforce". Some people will earn more by NOT working than working (even while many delivery services are seeking new workers). Overpaying people not to work cannot be beneficial for America's longer-term econo-

We'll see how this flow of new money works out; but this initial bill has multiplied the money supply by a magnitude never before seen. The impact on our national debt in future years will be significant; but, if America's economy can get back to where we were just 3 months ago, everything could be "smooth sailing" again. However, more "pork" stuffed into a second relief bill will make those possibilities much harder to realize. It might be that NO SECOND RELIEF BILL is better than one filled with expenditures which benefit primarily special interest groups!

Your Money - Ask Julia

What do you suggest is the best way for me to use the government relief money?

The special purpose of the government relief money (up to $1,200) is to help with expenses which impacted you due this pandemic. If you don't need this money right now, open a savings account and deposit as much as possible into an emergency fund. Next, start paying down your debt. If you can pay off one credit card, take the amount you were paying on that card and add it to the payment you've been making on the second credit card. As you pay off the second credit card, add all that payment amount to the third credit card's payment. Once you get your credit cards paid off, put that accumulated payment amount into your emergency fund savings account. All this can be accomplished faster by figuring out where you could cut your budget, even if only temporarily. I'm so worried and depressed. I spent a lot of money on groceries, extra vitamins, take-out meals from restaurants, and t.v. subscriptions. I've been able to work from home, so I'm financially okay. HR is closed, but I think my retirement fund balance dropped about 25-percent. Some of my family and friends have had to file for unemployment and are waiting for that to start. I'm really looking forward to getting out and resuming a normal life! I'm very concerned that there will be another outbreak once there's no more social distancing. I dread the possibility of having to return to 'stay-home' quarantining. How can I put my worries under control and get a grip on my finances?

Start by recognizing and appreciating what you have. You have enough money to be able to stock up on necessities, and you still have a job. You have family and friends. The truth is it will take some time to build up the balance on your retirement account. Your family and friends will get their unemployment benefits, and will find employment later. Reality: It is possible that there could be an outbreak once the 'stay-home' orders are lifted. Plan to personally continue to take steps to be as safe as possible by wearing a quality mask over your nose and mouth, washing your hands frequently, and disinfecting surfaces. You can tell naysayers that you don't know if you are an asymptomatic carrier, and it's your way of protecting them. Companies are even more anxious to resume business as usual. Their ads will tell you that if you use their services or products, you will feel so much better! That is gaslighting. Be aware, and beware! Don't let your guard down. Don't compromise your peace of mind by letting yourself be pressured by family, friends, work, church, social groups, gathering places (theaters, restaurants, bars, etc.).

My business partner and I are concerned that if something happened to the other, the survivor might not be able to keep the business going while looking for a competent replacement. What can we do?

The most common way to accomplish what you want is for the business to buy life insurance on each partner, with the business as the beneficiary. Some types of insurance, and some annuities, can be set up to supply retirement income, too.

Four Ways to Say I Love You

We all think a lot about how to live well. I'd like to talk about increasing our chances of dying well and about how to have a good pre-need plan.

As a funeral director, many families have called me brokenhearted telling me their stories during this coronavirus pandemic. The families cannot see their loved ones who are dying in the convalescent homes. The Catholic priest could not enter into the convalescent home to give their mother her anointing of the sick. We only could pray for her spiritually. So many families are broken-hearted.

All the cemeteries are closed and you cannot even plan to buy resting places. Those who have made pre-need plans with me, however, have some peace of mind during these difficult times. They have already purchased a place to rest. Some people are realizing now that they should plan ahead. Although, there were wise people who saw this expense and only paid $200 for 8 plots 63 years ago. Their payment was $10 a month. Now the children of these wise people have peace of mind and they are very happy and thankful.

There are many lessons to be learned during this pandemic. This is the first time in my life where I experienced such sadness. One daughter has a mother who is 103 years old and is in the hospital. The mother is receiving hospice-care right now. Age doesn't matter. It is her loving mother whom she spent 50 years living with. She was crying saying that she missed her mother and wishes she could stay next to

Every single day, I got a call from someone. "I wish I can stay next to my loved one who is dying." Good thing there are many doctors and nurses who are giving their heart and soul. I am proud and thankful of these doctors and nurses.

1. Make a plan when you are young and tell your loved ones your wishes. Most people say, "I want to die at home." Sadly, 80% of people die at a nursing home or hospital. Where do you want to be when you're no longer independent?

I think about my friend who is the kindest person I have ever met. May she rest in peace. Ever since she found out she had cancer-stage four, she had the courage to prepare for a good end and accept her end. She realized the doctors could do nothing for her, and she decided to stay at home.

2. Recruit Advocates.

Her two sons took turns staying with their mom for a good two months, taking good care of her. They gave her medication around the clock and provided her with delicious foods.

3. Choose Caregivers- You're going to need caregivers.

20 years ago, she planned her own funeral and prepared her last wishes. She wanted to make everything easy for her two sons. She loved to help the poor and was very generous. She didn't even let anyone know about her good deeds. I think that's why she passed away so peacefully and with special care from God. In my experience people who are good, die peacefully. Sadly it is the honest truth. And only 5% of people die like her these days. This is what the hospice nurse said to the family.

4. Last Words

In her final days, I asked her, "Why are you so generous to

She said, "What comes around goes around. Even when I pass away, my good actions will pass over as blessings to my children. That's why I want to live well and help poor people around me"

"Is there anything you want to tell me?" I asked. She said: "Don't hate anyone. When you hate someone, you are bringing bad luck into the world. Don't make small complaints and don't hate anyone. There isn't enough time in this world for hate."

So when you are young and healthy, it is important to tell your family members: "I love you." Try your best to love them by giving them a plan. Planning the end of life qualifies us to have a better chance of maintaining our quality of life.

When Your Tires Should Retire

and the better you take care of them, the longer they will last. Still, tires do have a life expectancy but what that actual life span is seems to be up for debate. Some seem to think that six years is the magic number even if they haven't actually been used. When tires sit on a shelf or have been in storage for six years they still age and deteriorate. The Rubber Manufacturer Association says it isn't as simple as that. Until the experts agree it is up to us in the automotive service and repair industry to keep a good eye on our customers' tires.

Most consumers may not be aware that the date of manufacture is on the tire sidewall. For example, in a recessed area on a tire, a code such as 8PY806 stamped on it, the 806 means it was manufactured in 2006 and in the eighth week of that year. When you do purchase new tires check the date. Some tires sit Replacing tires is expensive around for years before being sold as "new" and you don't want to purchase aging tires! You want to purchase new tires! That is what you are paying for.

It has been determined that over 6,000 accidents a year are caused by tire problems. Under inflation is a major cause, however tire monitoring systems have helped with this issue. Tires should be inspected every 3 to 4 months for inflation, wear, balance, alignment and rotation.

Tires do come with wear bars or flat spots between the tread grooves. When the tread wears to the point it is equal to the flat spots the tire needs to be replaced. When you look at the rubber tire and see cords showing through, or bulges, deep cracks or tread starting to separate, you have a very unsafe tire and should not drive on it.

Tips for tire inflation: some consumers think the tire pressure listed on the tire sidewall is the proper pressure. That is not always the case. The tire pressure listed on the tire is the maximum pressure the tire can hold. The recommended tire inflation pressure can be found in your owner's manual, or on the vehicle's door jamb sticker. Keeping your tires at the recommended inflation can save you nine cents per gallon of gas and prevent pre mature wear.

And when you are thinking about tires, don't forget the spare! The tire monitor light will light on the dash if the spare is low on air for some models. Hopefully you won't have to use it, but it is nice to know it is ready just in

Understanding City of Arcadia's Small Business Administration Eviction Moratorium

COVID-19 Relief Resources for Tenants and Small Businesses

2020, the Arcadia City Council adopted a Declaration of Local Emergency allowing the City to enact emergency provisions including a moratorium on residential and commercial evictions for non-payment of rent due to a verified COVID-19 financial impact. The City Council order also makes price gouging unlawful, discontinues water shut-offs to residents and businesses, suspends penalties for delinquent water and sewer payments, and suspends parking restrictions and fees for parking violations. These community protection provisions will remain in effect for 60 days from the date of adoption.

ARCADIA - On March 17, services are fully available virtually.

Are you a tenant in financial distress? Immediately contact your landlord and document inwriting how COVID-19 has injured you financially. Once the Local Emergency has been lifted, all unpaid rent is due to be repaid within six months or as agreed to by the parties. Landlords may not charge or collect late fees if the tenant has demonstrated financial hardship associated with COVID-

The City of Arcadia is not an intermediary between the tenant and landlord, and cannot waive any rent that is owed. It is therefore up to the tenant and landlord to communicate clearly and in good faith. The City is encouraging landlords and tenants to work together during this challenging time to ensure public health and safety.

Health Professionals, California Needs Use of Cloth Face Coverings to Help Slow the Spread of COVID-19

How to Wear Cloth Face Coverings

- Cloth face coverings should-
- fit snugly but comfortably against the side of the face
- be secured with ties or ear
- include multiple layers of
- fabric allow for breathing without restriction
- be able to be laundered and machine dried without damage or change to shape

CDC on Homemade Cloth Face Coverings

CDC recommends wearing cloth face coverings in public settings where other social distancing measures are difficult to maintain (e.g., grocery stores and pharmacies), especially in areas of significant communitybased transmission.

CDC also advises the use of simple cloth face coverings to slow the spread of the virus and help people who may have the virus and do not know it from transmitting it to others. Cloth face coverings fashioned from household items or made at home from common materials at low cost can be used as an additional, voluntary public health measure.

Cloth face coverings should not be placed on young children under age 2, anyone who has trouble breathing, or is unconscious, incapacitated or otherwise unable to remove the cloth face covering without assistance.

The cloth face coverings recommended are not surgical masks or N-95 respirators. Those are critical supplies that must continue to be reserved for healthcare workers and other medical first responders, as recommended by current CDC guidance.

Should cloth face coverings be washed or otherwise cleaned regularly? How regularly?

Yes. They should be routinely washed depending on the frequency of use.

How does one safely sterilize/clean a cloth face covering?

A washing machine should suffice in properly washing a cloth face covering.

How does one safely remove a used cloth face covering?

Individuals should be careful not to touch their eyes, nose, and mouth when removing their cloth face covering and wash hands immediately after removing.

West Covina Police Pursuit Leads to Arrests

By George Ogden

WEST COVINA - West Covina Police attempted to do a traffic stop on April 11th around 11:00 PM in the area of West Covina Parkway and Vincent Avenue for reckless driving. The driver failed to pull over and instead took off and a pursuit was initiated.

The vehicle had two people inside with a male driver and a female passenger. It was unknown at that time if the female was a willing passenger or was a possible victim of some possible crime. Her wellbeing was an issue and the police continued to follow the vehicle.

The chase continued south on Glendora Avenue from the original intersection to around Francisquito where the driver ended up at a dead-end street and crashing into a fence at the Baldwin Academy School in La Puente. It has been stated that the suspect had deliberately rammed a police unit. After the crash, the suspect ran from officers. The woman, identified as Maria Garcia remained in the vehicle and was taken into custody. It appeared she may have been highly intoxicated on drugs and/or alcohol.

A containment area was set up and a search was conducted. The El Monte Air Ship (helicopter) entered the search area and their heat sensing equipment onboard showed a heat reaction in a large trash container. Officers converged on that container and found that the suspect was in fact in the container. He was then taken into custody and checked for possible injuries from the crash.

January 2018 and has served jail time only to be released early because of overcrowding.

This arrest has the bail set at $75,000 and with a number of charges to include the assault on the police officer with his vehicle. The DA could add charges or change it to attempted murder of a police officer.

It is believed that the female, Garcia, was later released after being processed.

Citrus College Foundation Launches Campaign to Support Students During Public Health Crisis

GLENDORA - Citrus College students negatively affected by the COVID-19 pandemic may be able to receive assistance with the help of a new initiative introduced at a recent meeting of the Citrus Community College District Board of Trustees.

Providing Assistance for Student Success (PASS) is designed to help Citrus College students who are unable to continue their education as a result of the public health crisis currently impacting the nation. Supported by an initial $100,000 grant from the Citrus College Foundation, this initiative will provide resources and support that will enable struggling students to reach their educational goals.

The debut of the Citrus College PASS initiative comes on the heels of a March 26 announcement that the physical closure of the college campus, which began March 18, was being extended through June 12, 2020. As a result, students will receive remote instruction and student support services for the duration of the spring 2020 semester.

"We understand that this sudden transition to a remote learning environment has created unexpected challenges for some students. For this reason, the college is eager to announce the launch of Citrus College

PASS," said Dr. Geraldine M. Perri, superintendent/president of Citrus College. "The goal of this initiative is to remove obstacles or barriers that may prevent students from completing their education. This collaborative effort is made possible by partners, supporters and friends of the Citrus College Foundation." The Citrus College Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that provides resources to further the Citrus Community College District's mission of advancing student success, is actively soliciting donors to help provide financial support for Citrus College PASS. In fact, the Foundation's board of directors meet regularly to organize and plan how to best address the needs of the college during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"The Foundation's initial response was to begin providing technology support to those students who rely heavily on the college's computer resources. However, we quickly realized that a lack of technology is only one challenge students are facing as a result of COVID-19," said Christina M. Garcia, director of the Citrus College Foundation. "Therefore, in partnership with the college's academic affairs and student services divisions, we have established Citrus College PASS as a means of financially supporting student success efforts during these difficult times."

One way in which Citrus College PASS will immediately help students is by enabling the Foundation to distribute COVID-19 Technology Support Grants. These one-time funds are intended to help students make technology purchases that will allow them to continue their coursework remotely.

"I am very proud of the patience and resilience demonstrated by the students, faculty and staff of Citrus College during these unprecedented times. I am also incredibly grateful to the Citrus College Foundation and its supporters for diligently working to find solutions to the very real problems our students are facing," said Dr. Patricia A. Rasmussen, president of the Citrus Community College District Board of Trustees. "Although the days and months ahead are uncertain, I know that Citrus College and its students will successfully navigate these challenges, and that the lessons learned will pave the way for a brighter future."

LA County WDACS Launches Free Delivery Service For Older Adults

LOS ANGELES COUNTY

- The Los Angeles County Department of Workforce Development, Aging and Community Services (WDACS), with the support of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, announced a free delivery program for older adults and individuals with disabilities. This Countywide program, called Critical Delivery Service, will deliver groceries, household items, and other vital necessities to individuals who are unable to leave their homes due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Items may be delivered 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, at no cost to the client. No application process is required; however, items must be pre-paid and ready for pickup. Deliveries may be scheduled by calling 1-888-863-7411 between 8:00 am and 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday. Clients may utilize this service up to four times or 40 miles per month, whichever comes first.

"I am thankful that this program will provide food to our most vulnerable older adults as we confront the COVID-19 pandemic," said Supervisor Kathryn Barger. "I encourage all who are eligible to use this resource to do so, in order to stay safer at home during this during this crisis." time."

"COVID-19 presents a threat to all of our LA County communities, but our older adults who may be more susceptible to complications due to the virus are particularly vulnerable," said Los Angeles County Supervisor Hilda L. Solis. "I recognize that our nutrition services are a lifeline for older adults who depend on these meals for sustenance. With the launch of our Critical Delivery Service Program, LA County will step up to ensure older adults and individuals with disabilities who are unable to leave their homes due to COVID-19 will receive the healthy meals they need to get through this difficult time."

"In these difficult times, we must do all we can to help those who need the most," Supervisor Ridley-Thomas said. "In the weeks and months to come, the Critical Delivery Service Program will become a vital service that will provide much-needed relief to our loved ones who are most vulnerable to COVID-19, so that they can remain safe at home but at the same time continue to receive the nutritious meals they need for their sustenance

Supervisor Sheila Kuehl said, "The County is strongly and appropriately advising seniors and people with chronic illnesses to stay at home, but they still have to eat! This new delivery service should make it much easier for people staying home to get groceries without jeopardizing their own health or the health of their neighbors."

"This new program will allow residents who qualify to get their groceries delivered straight to their door, free of charge, so they can stay safer at home," said Supervisor Janice Hahn. "We are trying new, innovative ways to make sure that everyone in LA County has the resources they need to get through this crisis."

"Thousands of older and dependent adults are now responsibly practicing Safer at Home principles, but in order to protect themselves and their loved ones, they need help bringing groceries and other essentials home," said Otto Solórzano, Acting Director of WDACS. "LA County's new Critical Delivery Service program will enable these residents to stay at home and still have food on their table."
