Baldwin Park Unified Celebrates Nearly

850 Graduates in Class of 2020

BALDWIN PARK – Baldwin Park Unified honored the Class of 2020 – lauded for its academic achievement and resilient spirit – with socially distanced celebrations that culminated an unconventional school year.

Nearly 850 graduates from Baldwin Park, North Park Continuation and Sierra Vista High Schools were celebrated through senior recognition days, drivethru ceremonies, social media shout-outs and virtual celebrations, ensuring seniors received a memorable send-off while adhering to public health guidelines.

"The Class of 2020 is a truly remarkable group of students, who have inspired us all with their accomplishments as they persevered through many unforeseen circumstances," Superintendent Dr. Froilan N. Mendoza said. "We are proud to honor their success and wish the Class of 2020 all the best as they embark on new academic and professional journeys."

Baldwin Park High School kicked off commencement activities on June 4, conferring diplomas to more than 400 students during a drive-thru celebration. Baldwin Park High's Class of 2020 is led by valedictorian Kendra Nguyen and salutatorian Zaia Rodriguez.

ian club, earned the Ramona Burnham and College Board Opportunity scholarships for her academic excellence. She will major in physics at Pomona College, and hopes to one day work at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory and win a Nobel Prize in Physics.

Rodriguez, a member of the National Honor Society (NHS), Humanitarian Club and Adelante Mujer Latina, was awarded a Baldwin Park Organization of Supervisors and Administrators (BPOSA) scholarship. She will attend Cal State Fullerton and study nursing, with goals to be a bilingual nurse anesthetist to support quality healthcare.

Sierra Vista High School valedictorian Jose Antonio Martinez and salutatorian Cindy Yan were among more than 360 Sierra Vista seniors honored with drivethru and virtual celebrations on June 5.

Martinez' academic achieve- in and out of the classroom, comment, maintained while playing tennis, serving in the school's robotics club and competing in Science Olympiad, earned him national recognition as a 2020 Gates Scholarship recipient. The scholarship will cover the cost of Martinez' studies at the California Institute of Technology.

Scholar-athlete Yan excelled peting in volleyball and lacrosse while also serving in National Honors Society (NHS) and the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) club. Yan will continue her education at UCLA in the fall

North Park Continuation High School's Class of 2020 featured more than 80 graduates, including Michell Aguilera and Ezdra Esparza, who received scholarships in recognition of their excellence.

Aguilera earned the Woman's Club Scholarship; Esparza was awarded a Baldwin Park Organization of Supervisors and Administrators (BPOSA) scholarship and Woman's Club Scholarship. Esparza, who served as a BPUSD Student Board member during 2019-2020, aspires to work in immigration or criminal law or as a high school counselor.

North Park graduates concluded their high school experience with a drive-thru celebration on June 10. Clad in masks, graduation gowns and boldly decorated caps, students received their diplomas and turned their tassels as their families cheered them on from their vehicles.

The "Stars and Stripes" is Alive and Well in 2020 Glendora

By Ed Torres

GLENDORA - Despite the recent targeted demonstrations across the land, Glendora remains overall as it has been for approximately one hundred (100) years of existence, a relatively quiet suburban community with much to be thankful for and one eagerly looking toward its future... Although it is but a mere 25 miles or so from downtown dysfunctional Los Angeles, metaphorically it is countless miles beyond the horizon from that metropolis as to be seemingly in a different worldly orbit.

Its public schools and colleges are some of the best in the area, and the community is blessed with a tranquil, safe environment, so living in town is cherished by the citizenry and by those who would like to become part of the city.

Therefore, it is no wonder that in anticipation of July 4 celebrations, citizens of Glendora by the hundreds already have the Red, White and Blue national flag on display across the city; and without doubt, the flag is similarly in Gabriel Valley as well... Considering the tumultuousness that often times the written and broadcast press publicize and suggest is going on in every inch of the countryside, it is heartwarming to see hundreds of flags flying in so many homes here and over-there, in the different parts of the city, apparently a signal that, despite being confronted with certain problems, there are many people in the community who are happy and proud of life in their surroundings and in their American nation...

Driving around Glendora, the flags unfurled and waving in the light wind were beautiful and reassuring, and a further confirmation that life will be all right, regardless of what some negativists might declare...

As the poet William Ernest Henley wrote in the 1800s — ... "My head is bloody, but unbowed."... And ... "I am the master of my fate: I am the captain of my soul."... The Stars and Stripes is still flying in Glendora and in the San Gabriel Valley, and throughout the land, regardless of what the doom and gloom folks say.

Citrus College Bond Refinancing to Save Community Millions in Future Taxes

The Citrus College Student Services Building is one of the many completed construction projects funded by the Measure G general obligation bond approved by voters in 2004. Portions of these bonds will soon be refinanced, resulting in lower property tax assessments and a financial savings over the life of the debt. (Photo courtesy Citrus College.)

GLENDORA – Local taxpayers are estimated to save over $7.7 million after the Citrus Community College District Board of Trustees recently approved a plan to refinance outstanding voter-approved general obligation bonds.

Earlier this month, board members voted to take advantage of the nation's current low interest rate environment by refinancing portions of the district's Measure G bonds. These bonds, which were originally issued when interest rates were higher, will now be refinanced at current market rates. As a result, the remaining repayment period of the refinanced bonds will now be reduced by five years and property tax assessments will be lower over the long term.

"When voters approved Measure G in 2004, it was a pivotal moment for Citrus College. We want to assure community members that their investment has been a wise one, and that the district has taken great care to prudently manage resources," said Dr. Geraldine

M. Perri, superintendent/president of Citrus College. "While the bond refinancing does not directly impact the college's own finances, it will be beneficial to those residents who have continuously supported our mission of providing quality educational experiences that lead to college completion and student success."

This will be the third time that Citrus College has refinanced Measure G bonds, with previous refinancing taking place in 2013 and 2015. As a result, the cumulative combined estimated savings to taxpayers is nearly $15 million.

"With interest rates currently near an all-time low, this is a great opportunity to save money for our taxpayers," explained Claudette Dain, vice president of finance and administrative services at Citrus College. "We always strive to be good stewards of district and community resources."

Nearly 16 years ago, local residents invested in the future of Citrus College students when they voted to support the $121 million Measure G general obligation bond. Since that time, many capital improvements have been made on the Citrus College campus. Completed construction projects include the Campus Safety Building, Mathematics/Sciences Building, Center for Innovation, Technician Development Center, Student Services Building and Visual Arts Building. The remaining Measure G funds are earmarked for the Educational Development Center modernization project.

"As the college prepares to begin work on the final Measure G project, the board of trustees and the college community continue to be grateful to our partners and neighbors who supported this bond, thus allowing Citrus College to complete a number of capital improvement projects," said Dr. Patricia A. Rasmussen, president of the Citrus Community College District Board of Trustees. "I am happy that this refinancing enables us to give back to our community."

Online Community College: A Viable, Cost-Effective Alternative During Extraordinary Times

will be the norm for California's 115 community colleges and its more than two million students. The same will be true for the California State University system, the largest fouryear public university system in the United States.

With a few exceptions, such as courses that require clinical or lab-based learning in a physical setting, these institutions have made the decision to utilize an increasingly sophisticated and successful delivery mode of instruction, while limiting the transmission of COV-ID-19 and cutting costs. Many other four-year colleges and universities are now following

This fall, online instruction zon, like those that cast shadows on our health, the economy and even our futures in the spring. This switch by community colleges to online instruction, however, has more than one silver lining.

> Among the many perks of virtual college attendance, cost is one of the most significant. Students attending college from home save on the cost of transportation-one of the biggest expenses for community college students. The flexibility of online instruction allows students to organize their study and class times, thus maximizing work schedules, and students with children can avoid much, if not all, of the cost of daycare.

But students aren't the only This may seem like one cost savers. Taxpayers save

Given the realities of COV-ID-19, in-person instruction would place an added strain on California's state budget-a budget which is already facing a deficit in excess of $50 billion for the coming year. Classroom instruction would require smaller class sizes, the need for additional classrooms, repeated sanitizing and cleaning of facilities and personal protective gear for faculty and staff.

Throughout the spring semester, California community colleges made a commitment to continue their push for improving student equity and outcomes, as well as maintaining the rigor and quality of online offerings. And, online students have access to faculty, counselors, library resources, tutors, and other student support services.

Citrus College has also set up a webpage to help students transition to online instruction. Called the Owl Success Hub, it provides resources for students new to online instruction. Information on accessing mental health services and scheduling counseling and other appointments can also be found on the page.

Community colleges will soon begin enrolling students for fall 2020, and classes will start in August. Now is a great time to explore programs of study and the careers they make possible.

Even though college life may have changed, your goals for the future don't have to.

Santa Anita Family YMCA To Open Summer Day Camps For Youth!

Anita Family YMCA announced that it also will open it's Program Center to host YMCA Summer Day Camps for children in grades K-8th on July 6th! This is great news for working parents who've returned to their jobs after the 16 week long COVID-19/Coronavirus shut-down. Those parents now have a safe, experienced, fun and positive place to send their children while their businesses and places of employment reopen themselves.

The Los Angeles County Dept. of Public Health recently relaxed some of the restrictions that prohibited local Day Camps from opening. In a directive posted Friday, June 12th, the County gave the YMCA and others the okay to open their camps, thus giving parents a much needed break after nearly 4 months of homeschooling and a very unhealthy lack of social interaction for their children.

"I don't know who is more excited, the kids, the parents, or our staff!" said YMCA summer Day Camp staffers who were preparing to enter special summer staff training sessions on new County Health restrictions. YMCA staff said this could not be better for so many kids who were facing a sad summer. YMCA summer

Responding to COVID-19 Economic Crisis, Revised Los Angeles County Budget Includes Program Cuts And Potential Layoffs

LOS ANGELES COUNTY - ous economic downturn caused In the wake of the unprecedented economic crisis sparked by COVID-19, Los Angeles County's 2020-21 Final Changes budget includes a wide range of curtailments affecting virtually every County department.

The $34.9 billion budget, which will be presented to the Board of Supervisors for budget deliberations on Monday, June 29, represents some of the most challenging fiscal decisions in recent County history.

The cuts are needed to address a projected $935.3 million budget gap, mostly due to sharp revenue declines at the same time the County also is investing in major response and reopening activities to support its communities during the pandemic.

"I am very disappointed to report that significant cuts in County programs and personnel will be needed as a result of the serimental curtailments result in the elimination of 3,251 positions— 2,596 vacant and 655 potential layoffs. No layoffs would take place prior to October 1.

The proposed curtailments represent an across-the-board cut of 8% for departments funded with what is known as Net County Cost, or NCC—the portion of the budget that is funded with sales tax and other locally generated revenues.

Because the largest share-40%—of NCC goes to the County's public safety departments, including the Sheriff's Department, these departments are most heavily affected by the cuts. These departments also receive a large share of the state realignment sales tax revenues, which have declined sharply as well.

"These proposed cuts are not intended to penalize any department, or to diminish the importance of their work," Hamai said. "Rather, these curtailments are part of an equitable process of cost reductions that will affect all County departments.

"Thanks to our County's longstanding tradition of responsible budgeting, historically high credit ratings, and investments in rainy day reserves, we are in a better position than some other local governments to respond to this crisis," Hamai said. "Los Angeles County has always been able to overcome every challenge in our path, and I am confident we can emerge from this crisis stronger than ever to serve the vibrant and diverse communities that make up our great County."

Celebrate The Fourth Of July Responsibly

is a time to be with family and friends and to celebrate our country's independence. As the Fourth of July draws closer Azusa City Councilmembers, Azusa Police Department and Los Angeles County Fire Department would like to remind residents to use caution to ensure a safe Fourth of July Holiday. If your celebration is going to include fireworks, only use the Safe and Sane variety in legally designated areas of the city.

The Azusa City Council has made a significant change to the Azusa Municipal Code regarding illegal fireworks. They have imposed a zero tolerance for illegal displays and have increased the fines to $1,000 for each infraction. Firecrackers, bottle rockets and mortars are all illegal! The discharge of these types of displays is strictly prohibited

Safe and Sane fireworks may only be discharged on July fourth Fourth.

Are Mosquitoes Bugging You?

AZUSA - It's not just the buzzing in your ear. Mosquitoes really are bugging more people in Azusa this year than in previous years. The stagnant water sources in our yards and patios are fueling a potentially busy year for mosquitoes. There are simple things everyone must do now to prevent mosquitoes from taking over our neighborhoods:

- 1. TIP stagnant water weekly from all containers
- 2. TOSS out any unused containers that can collect stagnant water
- 3. PROTECT yourself with repellent to stop mosquito bites

Public health official recommend using mosquito repellents containing any ONE of the following ingredients: DEET, oil of lemon eucalyptus, Picaridin or IR3535. For more information,

Update on the Implementation of Body-Worn Cameras by the LA County Sheriff's Department

LOS ANGELES COUNTY-The rollout of the body-worn camera program that will ensure greater accountability of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department is on target for mid-tolate July, following months of collaborative efforts between the County and the Sheriff's Department. The Sheriff's Department will be able to equip 5,200 deputies and security officers with devices over the next two years utilizing the nearly $35 million that the Board of Supervisors set aside last year specifically dedicated for this program.

The Los Angeles County Internal Services Department has been working with representatives from the Sheriff's Department on the solicitation and negotiations with proposed vendors since October 2019. During that time, both departments worked closely to review various proposals and onboard the selected vendor to supply the Department with the long-awaited cameras and technology to support this program. Thus far, the Sheriff's Department has received approximately $8 million dollars to begin the infrastructure work needed at the patrol stations designated for the initial rollout.

The Board of Supervisors has prioritized greater transparency and accountability from the Sheriff's Department for several years, developing key policy initiatives and identifying appropriate funding and staffing to allow for the swift implementation and operation of the body-worn camera program. The Board's history of steadfast support in making this program a reality included the following:

- Approved a motion authored by Supervisor Mark Ridley-Thomas to implement the recommendations on the need to curb excessive uses of force (which included the use of body-worn cameras) as part of the Citizens' Commission on Jail Violence in 2012. The Board also approved subsequent motions.
- Enlisted the help of the Office of Inspector General (OIG) in September, 2015 for a detailed analysis of the proposed bodyworn camera policy prompting the County to begin a lengthy process of assessing the cost of such a program.
- Directed the Sheriff to implement the body-worn camera program and appointed the OIG to monitor implementation in September, 2019.

• Engaged the OIG and Civilian Oversight Commission (COC) to give specific feedback to update and strengthen policies that would enhance the use and efficacy of body-worn Cameras, such as the review and release of camera footage.

The Civilian Oversight Commission and the Inspector General have also given specific feedback and recommendations to the Sheriff's on how to improve the proposed policies on body-worn cameras, around topics such as the reviewing and releasing of camera footage, aimed at bolstering community trust in this new technology. These issues remain unaddressed.

Once the implementation takes effect next month, the Sheriff's Department will have the responsibility to roll out body-worn cameras with monitoring and input from both the OIG and COC.

The Board is grateful that after many years of persistent effort, body worn cameras will be implemented by the LA Sheriff's Department.

Legislation to Combat Cybercrimes Moves Through Senate, Heads to Assembly

Bill Comes as More Californians Work and Live Online During the COVID-19 Pandemic

SACRAMENTO - Senator Chang's Senate Bill 922 left the California Senate with bipartisan support before moving to the Assembly on Wednesday. SB 922 gives prosecutors the tools to address the growing epidemic of hacking and cybercrimes by reforming the statute of limitations for felony computer hacking. The bill allows for prosecution three years after the date of the discovery rather than the date of the

"In normal times, cybercrimes have become a growing threat to people, businesses and governments," said Senator Chang. "Today an unprecedented number of Californians have been asked to work and study from home, giving cybercriminals plenty of opportunities to commit cybercrimes leaving a trail of digital destruction costing millions of dollars to businesses and consumers." According to the FBI, there are an average of 300,000 cybercrime related complaints filed every year. Apart from being a rampant problem, it is also a costly problem. In 2018, the annual cost of cyberattacks in the United States was $27 million and expected to rise. Unfortunately, the current COVID-19 pandemic has given cybercriminals even more opportunities to take advantage of remote workers and students.

SB 922 will provide recourse for victims of cybercrimes and hold cybercriminals accountable for the trail of digital destruction that is left in their wake.

L.A. County Prevails In Legal Action To Temporarily House Vulnerable People Through Project Roomkey moratorium and Bell Gardens al-

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The County of Los Angeles prevailed today in litigation that allows Project Roomkey to continue serving the most vulnerable residents during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The cities of Bell Gardens and Lynwood have been dismissed from a lawsuit brought by the County of Los Angeles. These cities had previously enacted legislation to bar local hotels from participating in Project Roomkev and related temporary housing programs run by the County of Los Angeles. The County sought to block their efforts.

Lynwood has rescinded its lowed its moratorium to lapse. "Without a vaccine, physical distancing is our best line of defense. Since the start of this pandemic, L.A. County has always been intent on protecting and sheltering our most vulnerable residents to minimize their exposure to this highly contagious virus," said Los Angeles County Supervisor Hilda L. Solis. "Project Roomkey and our medical sheltering sites have saved lives, and our commitment to these initiatives reflect the moral character of Los Angeles County and its residents."

"Project Roomkey and its related medical sheltering program has protected thousands of our most vulnerable residents and protected our communities. These programs are also helping us as we move forward on the road to reopening," said Tiana Murillo, Los Angeles County's Temporary Supervisory Administrator overseeing and coordinating the County's emergency housing efforts. "We're grateful for the partnership of our cities and their leaders as we work together to respond to an unprecedented pandemic."

Azusa Police Arrest 5 for Racial Attack

By George Ogden

AZUSA - Azusa police pulled a car over on Friday morning June 26 around 1:15 a.m. for speeding. The car was filled with teenagers. While the police were conducting an interview with the driver, they overhear a radio call.

A short distance away in the 300 block of E. Foothill Boulevard, 2 girls flagged down a police officer and told them that a car load of people drove by and yelled racial slurs and threw eggs at them. One of the girls was struck by an egg. Both girls are African-Ameri-

The traffic stop was at Alameda Avenue and Fifth Street which was only a few blocks away from the incident.

As the broadcast went out with the description of the car, the officers that were conducting the traffic stop realized that the car that they had pulled over was the one that was involved in the racial attack.

Apparently, the 2 girls were simply walking down the street when the 5 teens drove up on them and started yelling racial slurs at them and tossing eggs in their direction.

The officers then removed all the occupants from the car only to find that one of the male subjects had a gun on was identified as Gabriel Omelas, 18, the rest were all young teenagers. The adult subject will be charged with child endangerment as well as possible hate crimes. One teen under 18 will be charged with gun possession. The other 3 teens will most likely be charged as well with one for battery and the rest for being out after curfew. All 5 are subject to being charged with hate crimes which enhances the penalty. The vehicle was also impounded.

Budget Approved; Recall Petitions Ready

For the third time in 18 months, a conservative group is initiating a Recall Gov. Gavin Newsom effort and this time is seriously organized. They need 1.5 million signatures, but are shooting for 2 million to cover any discounted for errors. They feel this effort will be successful because they have spent time to organize and structure the effort knowing they need grassroots support gathering signatures and support from others in fundraising efforts. All signatures have to be received by county registrars before November 17, 2020.

Reasons for initiating the recall are "Unaffordable housing, record homelessness, rising crime, failing schools, independent contractors thrown out of work, exploding pension debt, and now, a locked down population while the prisons are emptied." We can take those reasons and become more specific with actual events in our communities leaving us anxious to see this effort succeed.

Orrin Heatlie, retired Sergeant, Yolo County Sheriff's Department, and lead proponent in this effort, said, "There is an urgent need to send a strong message to those who govern. And that message is, 'They must be held accountable to the people they serve and this rogue Governor has lost sight of that and must be recalled!""

Gov. Gavin Newsom's response to the recall and Heatlie's message was first, a warning about the cost of a recall election at $81 million, and, as in the last recall effort, blame President Trump's "hateful attacks on California and the political extremists that support him."

Newsom's statement doesn't tout any real accomplishments, only says he is working to fix education, housing, health care, water infrastructure, roads and bridges and preparing for more wildfires that have already devasted this state. Working on "it" is not the right answer when you have a one-party state, with a majority of Democrats in the Assembly and the Senate and been in office two years to come up with some solutions.

Shade's Perspective Lois M. Shade Former Mayor of Glendora

California has a budget deficit estimated by Gov. Newsom to be $54.3 billion. The Legislative Analyst, last report, set budget deficits in the $18 to $31 billion range. Quite a spread, but the Legislative Analyst analyzes the budget and does so based on what the legislators do and Newsom is willing to sign off on. What has become an issue for the legislature - both sides of the aisle -Gov. Newsom's spending spree without their approval while they were absent on COVID leave from the Capitol.

There will be a $4.4 billion temporary tax increase on businesses making $1 million a year. That hits small businesses not yet recovered from the virus shut down.

The pea under the pod game has been played with water bonds. Legislators have taken money approved by the voters on one bond and shuffled that money around to another bond. With this deficit, there may be some real pea shuffling going on here.

What we see are dollar signs on that budget. What we haven't seen are the policy proposals tucked away in the budget bills that could have a large impact on our lifestyles and perhaps the ballot initiatives on the November ballot. Remember that gas tax that went sailing through the legislature in the middle of the night a few years back?

The budget, as I hear from various sources including boots on the ground, will fund education at the same level as last year meeting the Prop 98 school funding law. But those sources say that $12 billion in the budget won't reach school district bank accounts until next year. That procedure is called a deferral. One source said districts can take out loans to retain their teachers or use their reserves or begin lay-

Always mentioned is the $14 billion the federal government will be sending as part of the CARES Act. If it is sent before October 10th it can be parceled out by legislators as they chose. If that money arrives after October 10th, there must be hearings and committee discussions. $6.3 billion is targeted for education and has to be spent before the end of the year. That could mean the deferred money to education this year would be reduced by half and would receive $5.4 billion.

School districts are required to budget out 3 years to ensure they have adequate resources for their students. Declining enrollment has hit small school districts hard and they don't have the resources to fund the State's budget shortfall. If districts begin layoffs, it is the youngest and newest teachers that will be lost. Tenure, a union process, gives teachers there the longest priority to be retained, and the newest are routed out. If we lose the newest and youngest, will they be there when funding is fully restored?

Recall Gavin Newsom 2020 is about lack of leadership and bad decisions made with our tax dollars. The criminal justice system is all but gone as we see felons, including illegals not turned over to ICE for deportation, roaming our streets. Mental health and drug addiction intervention is non-existent.

Newsom's affordable housing solution is to eradicate local zoning ordinances and environmental review and plant density units anywhere while Central Valley farmers are fighting outdated environmental laws to get enough water to raise our food.

Important on Newsom's bucket list has been funding health insurance for illegals; Motel 6 deals to house homeless; and, billion-dollar facemasks from a Chinese car company. All seem to take precedence over education.

Racism

When I hear that America is awash in racism, and that we white people are all really racists, I cringe. The limited world in which I swim is made up of solid, white, liberal Democrats who have fought racism most of their adult lives. We marched with Martin Luther King Jr. and have been champions of anti-racism wherever we have encounter or even hear about it. There are racists in America, but can we be counted out? Are are we really free of the horror generated by racism? I recently have become aware that this anti-racist attitude has made it difficult to admit or even see what racism among white liberals is all about. There follows a statement I picked up second hand from the Internet. It comes from Scott Woods, who is best known as a poet. Woods has occasionally appeared on National Public Radio and has been featured in "Profiles from the International Black Community."

when racism is bigger than that. Racism is a complex system of social and political levers and pulleys set up generations ago to continue working on behalf of whites at other people's expense ... Yes, racism looks like hate, but hate is just one manifestation. Privilege is another. Access is another. Ignorance is another. Apathy is another. ... While I agree that no one is born a racist, it remains a powerful system that we're born into. ... It's a set of socioeconomic traps and cultural values that are fired up every time we react with the world. It is a thing you have to keep scooping out of the boat of your life to keep from drowning in it.

The problem is that White people see racism as conscious hate.

Charles H. Bayer

I know it's hard work, but it's the price you pay for owning everything.

Wood's point confronts us with the reality that racism is not an attitude one might hold, but a social condition. It not therefore anything we change by having friends of other races or fighting the bigots who live on the fringes of our liberal lives. Racism is not conquered by creating occasions for conversations across racial lines or welcoming those of other races into our churches, clubs or social gatherings. Among liberals it is not an attitude to be corrected, but a societal reality we cannot escape by any of our more benevolent impulses.

So what do we do? We probably should begin by admitting that white privilege is our reality, and has been for a long long time. While we cannot escape it, we must recognize its existence. I was born into it and it has dominated every important decision and circumstance with which I have been confronted. Societal issues may only be solved with organic remedies. And this means among other things, political action. The long-standing commitment to affirmative action was a healthy start. But even that has been effectively countered by branding it just another form of racism, disadvantaging qualified white students in an effort to fill quotas.

"Black Lives Matter," is a passionate movement joined by a significant number of solid white liberals. Rooting out police brutality is certainly worth our commitment, but its ending in violence, burnings and looting has turned out to be counterproductive and has little to do with addressing the roots of racism even while white participation has been crucial to the effective impact of the BLM movement. While frantic and misplaced calls to defund the police might have merit, even that leaves the cultural impact of racism basically unaffected. If the thousands in the BLM demonstrations do not rally their colleagues to vote, their militancy may be wasted.

Perhaps our major effort needs to be directed to attacking the system that for generations has been the root cause of American racism. To believe this societal disease can be overcome in a single election is to minimalize the problem. Nevertheless, that is a good place to start. In addition, we must be certain that the opportunity to vote is guaranteed even while this commitment meets the resistance of those conservative political forces that believe limiting voting is to their advantage.

Ridding the nation of those images and symbols celebrating slavery and the Confederacy must be systemically dismantled. This includes celebrating the Confederate flag and monuments honoring its traitorous heroes.

By Joe Castillo

California by the United States was not as politically planned as we may have thought. James K. Polk was the 11th President of the United States and was the last of the Jacksonian era leaders. Considered a strong, no-nonsense leader. Polk sought to drive the United States to the Pacific Ocean. Without wanting to aggravate Mexico, our southern neighbor, Polk secretly designed a plan to take the California territory by force. Former Captain John C. Fremont was building a small battalion to march to Sonoma, seize it and start an uprising seeking to establish California as an independent republic. But President Polk could not offer direct military support to Fremont as it would seem like a United States sponsored rebellion. Fremont with 190 men overtook the Mexican forces at the Sonoma garrison and the new California Bear Flag was unfurled announcing a new government of California. But War against Mexico had not been announced by either Fremont or the United States.

Prior to Fremont's assault on Sonoma, Polk had devised a plan in case the United States sought to acquire the California territo-

Reluctant... The acquisition of al Stephen Kearney to lead an expedition from Lawrence, Kansas, west along the Gila River trail to the Spanish town of Santa Fe, New Mexico. Kearney would take control of New Mexico and then proceed west to Southern California. Commodore John D. Sloat would take his Pacific Squadron of the U.S. Navy and seize the most important ports of California. Word reached Sloat that Fremont had succeeded in taking Sonoma in the name of a new California Republic, but he still had no word that War had been declared on Mexico. Sloat waited in the vicinity of Monterey for word from Polk to proceed with the defined plan of action. He was fearful that the British would attempt to land forces first at Monterey and if that were to happen a conflict between a major international power would surely result. But Sloat was also fearful of repeating the same mistake of Commodore Thomas ap Catesby Jones, who four years earlier as Commander of the United States Pacific Squadron seized Monterey. He had mistakenly thought that the United States had declared war on Mexico, and after realizing his mistake he vacated

Monterey only one day after taking control. Without any word from Fremont and the United States, Commodore Sloat waited 25 days contemplating what to do about taking Monterey. Finally, Sloat realized that the heralded Captain John C. Fremont would never have acted alone and so he decided to land 250 men to take control on the town.

On July 7, 1846, without a single shot being fired, General Jose Castro fled with his forces, and the United States Navy was now in possession of Monterey. Eventually, Fremont rode into Monterey and he informed Sloat that he had acted on his own and war had not been declared on Mexico. Commodore Sloat had proclaimed that California was now a part of the United States but neither President Polk or any other United States official had made a similar announcement. For 22 days, Sloat acted as Military Governor of California and awaited official word that the United states had acquired California or he had repeated another embarrassing action. Eventually Commodore Robert S. Stockton arrived announcing the United States declaration of War against Mexico and was assigned to relieve Sloat of his duties. Commodore Sloat remained in the Navy for another 20 years until he retired with the rank of Rear Admiral.

It's Over! Senior Citizens Kiss Your Golden Years Goodbye.

I feel bad for many senior citizens. I'm up there in age so I can talk from what I feel is experience. What have we seen in the last few months? The government takeover of the people. If I'm not mistaken, these people were elected to do what we tell them to do. They were not elected to tell us what to do.

We don't really have a clue what's the truth about this coronavirus. There are too many experts that are not doctors. The normal flu we get is a lot worse than what they say this coronavirus is. Just look at the numbers.

What do I see? The destruction of a country. The seniors and their golden years now have absolutely nothing to look forward to. They can't even get out of their house to have dinner with their friends. They are locked down under what I would call house ar-

The destruction of the country also includes the George Floyd rioters and the BLM rioters and their "fuse" which we can call "peaceful protesters". Yet these peaceful protesters blocked the streets so the seniors cannot drive to go see their doctors, to go get items from the store that they need, or if they're already out there they cannot get home. These people are held against their will by the so-called peaceful demonstrations in the middle of our streets when they have a clear avenue to use parks or to be in front of City Hall. But no, they have to be out there screaming hate towards our police. I want to thank all those

They take away the rights from other people. They don't think about that now do they? It's all about them and what they think is the right thing to do which in fact they are nothing more than a "fuse" for a riot. They are responsible for all the social unrest that we've had across the nation. That's a fact, PERIOD!

Sure, you have the right to freedom of speech, but I also have the freedom and the right to go from point A to point B without being blocked by a bunch of people that are acting like ass holes. I have that freedom, I fought for that freedom in the military. I almost lost my life in the military for you to have that, but not for you to abuse it and take that freedom away from other people.

Those so-called peaceful demonstrations are nothing more than a "fuse" for others that come in and destroy what we know. If you want to have a peaceful demonstration, take it to a park, take it in front of City Hall, take it someplace where it can be seen and not hated.

The way I look at it and the way that many other people look at it, these peaceful demonstrations have blood on their hands. You preach hate, hate the police. Look at what you have done. Am I angry, hell yes. You have destroyed our lives as far as I'm concerned. You did not put anything back together at all. You expanded racial hatred and divided our country even more. You have divided the races. This is what I see and others see as well.

Anybody remember the 1973 movie Soylent Green? It is basically ending the lives of seniors... with a little more to it. This is kind of the same thing in away. Eliminating the seniors, they don't count anymore.

We have lost so much because of other people. Those people have taken it away from us. Where people could relax and maybe watch sports, you can forget that, it's gone. Driving in the street to go someplace, forget that it's gone. To feel safe in your own home, forget it, that's gone. The only thing we can count on, when will the next peaceful demonstration start up and how soon after that will a start burning things down and looting? Oh yes, I forgot, is not the peaceful demonstrators that are doing that. Bull crap! You are the instigators. You take your skateboards and knock the windows out of stores and police cars and beat up people with these things. In the eyes of many, you're nothing more than a bunch of urban terrorists. And you wonder why people are starting to shoot at you. I don't think you can show me anywhere that there was a peaceful demonstration where something didn't get damaged or ruined or where there was freedom of others was being compromised. You can find graffiti in the street, on the sidewalks and on buildings, street signs and more. That is what you normally get with the peaceful demonstrations. That is, if we're lucky.

Not only have the people lost their freedom because of this, but they've also lost the opportunity to work or to make a profit. You're hurting other people and you don't give a damn. To me, and too many, you're nothing more than urban terrorist.

Again, I fought for your freedom of speech, do it the right way and don't hurt other people in any way, shape, or form. Remember, people are fed up and you have angry people out there that may want to take matters in their own hands. Don't let this happen.

The headlines that everyone feared crossed the tape in the middle of last week, when it was reported that a resurgence of Covid-19 cases was hitting Texas, Arizona, Florida, and California. That unwelcome news offered a motive for some aggressive profit-taking in equity markets. And, Wall Street expects volatility to continue. The key data point investors seem laser focused on now is the rate of new hospitalizations. If this data remains relatively stable, and death rates continue to decline in the USA, the bears may have to go back into hibernation until some other market-rattling headline triggers the overnight futures market. (Note: It should be expected that as COVID-19 testing continues to expand in the USA, many more cases will be confirmed, but America's death rate should also continue to decline.) Bloomberg Economics waved goodbye to the V-shaped recovery and hello to a U-shaped recovery. One issue is the rising number of confirmed COVID cases, potentially threatening more economic reopening and a return to normalcy in the entire country. Unfortunately, some blue state governors likely will continue to look for excuses to avoid a complete reopening for businesses until after November elections. One specific concern (noted by Bloomberg News) is that consulting firm Allen Andrews and Associates estimates 10% of the 22 million restaurants worldwide will go out of business before September, while an additional 20% or more will go through a restructuring process. OpenTable estimates the failure rate will be even higher. "Another wave of China's originated pandemic may take the numbers higher in the absence of further bailouts." Restaurants employed 15.6 million Americans before

Economic Analyst & Former Glendora Mayor

In the meantime, there will still be plenty of economic charts that look V-shaped, as the economic restart from almost nothing suggests that rapid increases in employment and activity should be expected (at least in the near-term). We saw it in employment and retail sales earlier this month. Nevertheless, Wall Street apparently agrees with the Bloomberg Economics diagnosis: What started as rapid recovery is likely to stall if people don't feel safe (which is what I am hearing from friends in virus resurgent states). Ongoing Antifa / BLM civil unrest is also not helpful to the economy! Hopefully sane minds will prevail, and that lawlessness can be significantly reduced. One phenomenon of COVID-19 (that we are starting to see) is the beginning of the Great Savings Release. Due to store closings while most of us were still working (or at least being paid), plus up to $10 trillion in stimulus from the Federal Reserve and Congress, most American's are overflowing with savings. The personal savings rate skyrocketed from 8.2% in February to a record 33% in April, as the national piggy bank bloated from a lean $1.4 trillion in February to $6.1 trillion in April. That money was frozen in April, since stores were mostly closed and the IRS said, "Please don't send us money on April 15. Please delay your taxes until July 15."

Americans may still be in bad financial shape (due to suddenly losing their jobs, or not receiving unemployment or stimulus checks in a timely manner) in the aggregate, Americans have become a nation swimming in liquidity. Millions of households are sitting on a pile of cash, which has helped fuel a "V-shaped" (50%) stock market recovery. This cash could also fuel a similar (but potentially slower-motion) V-shaped economic recovery during the second half of 2020 (assuming we elect to spend more of our saved money).

One reason that the stock market has been so resilient is that the Fed allowed the 10-year Treasury bond yield to rise from 0.66% to 0.91% in the first week of June. Although the 10-year Treasury bond fell to as low as 0.652% intraday last week, many fixed income investors were spooked by the fact that the Fed allowed Treasury bond yields to rise in early June. As a result, more fixed income investors are turning to dividend paying stocks (because they could lose a lot of current value in bonds if longterm Treasury yields continue to

Until the larger issues play out (namely realignment of relations with China and the November elections) the market will likely absorb most of the other risks as not nearly outweighing what the Fed is currently doing (including what Fed Chair Jerome Powell has promised to keep doing). As of last week's press conference it was confirmed that there won't be any increases in interest rates until 2023! What a grand promise, especially benefitting the equity markets!

Is the stock market going to go up, or is it going to go down?

Yes. It is going to go up, and it is going to go down. Consider diversifying your investments into specific annuities and/or a fixed-indexed life insurance pol-

Others might tell you, "You're dreaming! Face reality! Can't happen!" I'm here to tell you, they are wrong. You can have better returns than you're getting with your CDs and still have the safety you enjoy. You can have index-like returns without the worry about losses. and the bank said the loan would close and fund on a specific date. It closed, but did not fund. The bank said it'll probably fund two or three days after the weekend. This is scary! What's happening?

Some banks are limiting the amount you can withdraw, saying that they have to order money and await delivery. Certain branches are limited on the amount of money they have available to pay withdrawals. More and more banks are putting a 'hold' (waiting period) on access to funds when you deposit cash or a money order. None of this seems right, nor logical, but it is what you have to plan for. It raises concerns that if there was a run on the bank (customers closing their accounts and taking large sums of money) there would not be enough cash to pay everybody. Regarding the late funding on a refinance loan, the borrower should contact the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) to find out if closing, but delaying funding, is even legal.

Why do you only recommend certain annuities?

I recommend Fixed and Fixed-Index annuities, with very little or no fees, up to 100-percent participation (percent of your money that participates in potential growth), and guarantees* that you cannot lose your principal, locking in any growth each contract anniversary. (Some "Riders" for additional benefits can have an annual fee, but this is clearly disclosed to you before you invest; it's something you decide to include or not.) A good reason I don't recommend Variable annuities: The SEC warns people about the dangers of Variable annuities due to their costs, expenses, and risk to potential principal. *Guarantees are based on the strength of the insurance company issuing the annuity pol-

Is It Hot Enough For You?

How many times do you hear that phrase in the course of the summer? We hear about the importance of taking care of ourselves during hot weather on the news and read about it in various publications. We are told to drink lots of water to keep hydrated, especially when exercising or doing physical labor.

Take a moment and think about your car...it gets hot too! We often take for granted just how hard it does work for us in all kinds of weather. When you see a car sitting on the side of the road with steam rising from the hood, that is an overheated vehicle!

Many things will cause a car to overheat... a hose, radiator, head gasket, thermostat, water pump or even the computer off your radio and air condicontrolled electric fans may not be functioning. With so many critical components that have to work together to keep the engine cool, we recommend an inspection every 3 to 4 months of these items.

I keep repeating this statement and here it is again, it is always less expensive to maintain your car versus waiting for it to break and then fixing it. Most newer cars have a warning system to alert you of a failure. Please don't ignore these warnings. We have many customers who kept driving after a warning light came on and destroyed the engine.

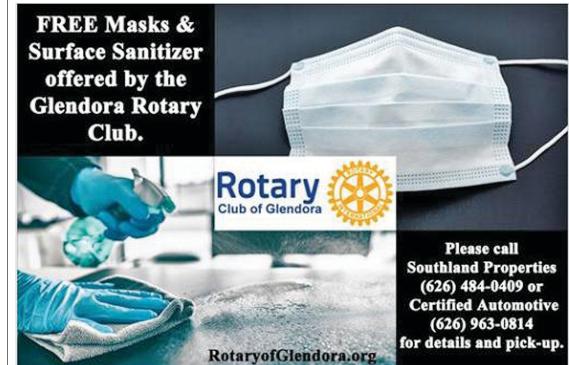

If you think your car is overheating, get to the side of the road quickly and safely. Turn tioner, then turn your heater on to high while keeping the engine idling. If no heat comes out, turn the car off as soon as possible, no heat means no coolant in the engine.

It is never wise to try to drive a car with a problem, unless safety is a concern. Most drivers have a roadside assistance program... if you don't, ask us about our free assistance service with some purchases.

Beaches Closed, Fireworks Displays Prohibited During 4th of July Weekend to Prevent Spread of COVID-19

The Los Angeles County Department of Public Health is ordering L.A. County beaches closed from July 3 through July 6 at 5:00 a.m. to prevent dangerous crowding that results in the spread of deadly COVID-19.

For that same reason, the department is also prohibiting fireworks displays in the County this July 4th holiday weekend.

During the holiday weekend, beaches will be totally closed to all recreational activities. Beach parking lots will be closed, as Key metrics continue to show steep increases in community spread of COVID-19. Today, the department announced more than 2,900 new cases of COVID-19, the single largest one-day case count since the pandemic began.

LOSANGELES COUNTY - Data show increases in people testing positive for the virus and increases in hospitalizations as a result. Projections by the Department of Health Services show a marked increase in hospitalizations in the coming weeks, which could cause a surge in our healthcare system.

> "Closing the beaches and prohibiting fireworks displays during this important summer holiday weekend was an incredibly difficult decision to make, but it's the responsible decision to protect public health and protect our residents from a deadly virus. The Fourth of July holiday weekend typically means large crowds and gatherings to celebrate, a recipe for increased transmission of COVID-19," said Barbara Ferrer, PhD, MPH, MEd, Director of Public Health.

"We all need to take this virus more seriously and residents and business owners must do their part. Physical distancing isn't optional, wearing a face covering isn't optional, spending time only with those you live with isn't optional — these are requirements in the Health Officer Order and are the tools we have to protect each other, our families and those most vulnerable in our communities."

All public beaches, piers, public beach parking lots, beach bike paths that traverse that sanded portion of the beach, and beach access points will be temporarily closed to the public as of 12:01 a.m. on July 3, 2020, until 5 a.m. on July 6, 2020. Long Beach has its own health department and this announcement does not apply to that city, at this time.

Los Angeles County Bars Closing

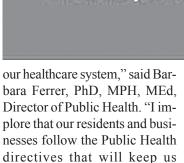

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -Following the directive of Gov. Gavin Newsom's, all bars in the County were ordered closed on Sunday, June 28.

The County Health Officer Order was amended Sunday, June 28 to require that all bars, breweries, brew pubs, pubs, wineries and tasting rooms in L.A. County close unless they are offering sit-down dine-in meals. This includes closing bar areas in restaurants.

The Los Angeles County Department of Public Health is guided by science and data and the key metrics monitored are showing concerning trends.

There has been a sharp increase in new cases and hospitalizations. The timing of these increases is in line with the reopening of key sectors, including bars, which are places where people remove their face covering to drink while they may be socializing with people not in their households.

"While it's disappointing to take a step back on our economic recovery journey, it's critical that we protect the health of our residents and protect the capacity in

How Caregivers Can Adapt to the New Normal

To help caregivers adapt to the new normal, Judith Ursitti, who is raising a son with autism, shares these tips and insights:

• Social distancing presents new challenges: The requirements around social distancing may have eliminated access to some of the activities your loved one enjoys in the community, and in some cases, getting your loved one to accept this can be difficult. However, it's important to maintain patience and empathy by preparing for this challenge.

"Not seeing the familiar faces of friends, teachers and therapists has dramatically increased Jack's level of anxiety. That leads to additional anxiety for the rest of the family. It's hard," says Ursitti.

• New tools can help: While it may have been awhile since anyone in your family has gotten a barbershop haircut, it's important to stay on top of regular hygiene, even if you aren't leaving the house. Be sure that showers, shaving and toothbrushing don't fall by the wayside. Not only do these routines provide a sense of familiarity, they are important for vour loved one's overall wellness, and innovative tools are making such tasks easier for caregivers.

"A quick, efficient way for me to help Jack shave is with the Gillette TREO, which is conveniently designed for caregiver use," says Ursitti.

TAPS Bugler for Military Funerals for Over Four Decades Passes

By George Ogden

On June 12, 2020 a long time Bugler passed away. Bernie Cain played TAPS at veterans' graveside funeral services and other special events for well over 4 decades. Bernie Cain became an icon with the bugle in the various veterans' organizations. If you have ever been to a military service at a cemetery, there was a good chance that Bernie was in the background playing TAPS.

He was a longtime member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was 95 years old and still playing TAPS at graveside service when he passed away. He became ill a couple of months ago and basically, he was just running out of gas. There were no complications from any virus or anything like that, it was just time for this old veteran.

As a World War II and Korean War veteran, Bernie was often out there doing his thing for our veterans. He would attend special events such as Memorial Day, Fourth of July, and much more.

He attended and played TAPS for well over 3000 funerals for our departed veterans. Often times being at Riverside Memorial Cemetery where they can easily do 5 ceremonies per day. He felt our veterans deserved a proper sendoff. He was there to make sure this happened.

The picture with Bernie playing TAPS by the Navy sign was during the time when the city of West Covina dedicated a wall to be known as the veteran's wall. This was about 30 years ago. Later the Veterans Memorial was built but the

As a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, he was originally with the 6th District, then it changed to the 4th District, and then it went to the 11th District.

Sadly, he lost his longtime love of 70 years a couple of years ago. They lived in their Lakewood home for 70 years.

He was buried on June 24 at Riverside Memorial Cemetery. Family and friends attended as well as the commander for the VFW in West Covina, who spoke at the services. The chaplain who was at the services had worked with Bernie for years involving veteran burial ceremonies. Many wondered who would be playing TAPS for Bernie. Two other buglers offered their services. They played the Echo TAPS.

Because of the existing situation in California and the restrictions that they have, a Memorial reception will be set at a later date.

He was liked by everyone and will be sadly missed by all.

Kids are Online More These Days, Here is How to Keep Them Safe

Children are spending more time online due to social distancing measures caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. And while the internet can be an amazing gateway to knowledge and a tool to connect with family and friends, if parents and caregivers don't follow certain precautions, it can also pose safety hazards.

Indeed, the United Nations has warned that the increased unstructured time online has put millions of children at greater risk of both cyberbullying and of being exposed to harmful content. Experts note that in the same way financial scammers have been working in overdrive to exploit the current crisis, the internet has also seen a surge of online predators targeting children.

Fortunately, there are effective actions parents can take to help keep kids safe online so that they can continue to reap the educational and social benefits of online use.

• Have a Dialogue: While you may be working remotely or otherwise occupied, if possible, try to spend time in the same room as your kids during the day so you can keep tabs on them. An open dialogue can go a long way toward establishing mutual trust between generations. Parents should have a respectful discussion with children about what kinds of activities they are engaging in online and who they are communicating with. This discussion should include what constitutes inappropriate content. Let kids know they can come to you if they are being sent images or messages that fall into this category.

 Steer Children to Quality Content: From free educational gaming apps to the online educational resources offered by museums and your local library, actively encourage your kids to explore the wealth of positive content designed for students and young people.

• Update Devices: Be sure to keep your family's devices safeguarded from hackers and malware by installing the latest updates.

• Use New Tools: New tools can help parents effectively keep screen time in check. For example, by using OurPact, a screen time management solution, parents can limit app access automatically for recurring activities like school or bedtime, and can block or grant internet access on a child's device any time. With the app, parents can even view screenshots of kids' digital activity on Apple devices (this feature will be available on Android soon.)

"These abilities allow families to create and maintain a well-balanced schedule, while also offering parents a valuable tool for protecting their kids from unsafe content and people," says Michele Havner, director of marketing for Eturi Corp., makers of OurPact.

While the current crisis has created new online hazards that families should be aware of, parents can be proactive about keepings kids safe. (StatePoint)

U.S. Postal Service Offers Tips To Stop Dog Attacks On Mail Carriers

Can you picture a member of your family attacking a mail carrier? Of course, you couldn't, but it happened 5,803 times last year across the nation.

Dearborn, MI, Letter Carrier Tameka Toliver recalls being pinned on a porch by a dog that bit her above her knee. "It happened so fast, even with all my training, I barely had time to react," Toliver told co-workers at an event at the Dearborn Post Office. "I'm still scared when I get close to that house because I remember the attack so vividly. It takes a long time to get over the fear."

When a dog attacks a letter carrier, the dog owner could be held liable for all medical expenses, repayment of lost work hours, replacement of the uniform and other costs, which can run into thousands of dollars. The Postal Service places the safety of its employees as a top priority and dedicates a week each year to Dog Bite Awareness. (about.usps.com/what/corporate-social-responsibility/activities/dog-bite-awareness.htm)

Here are four simple tips to prevent dog bite injuries that should be enforced all year round:

• Door Delivery: If a carrier delivers mail or packages to your front door, place your dog in a separate room and close that door before opening the front door. Some dogs burst through screen doors or plate-glass windows to attack visitors. Dog owners should keep the family pet secured. Parents should remind their children and other family members not to take mail directly from carriers in the presence of the family pet, as the dog may view the person handing mail to a family member as a threatening gesture.

• Electronic Fencing: Carriers may assume, when they see no physical fence around a property, the property is animal-free. This can be a dangerous mistake. Postal officials request that you keep your dog restrained or inside when the mail is delivered. Although the electronic fence may keep your dog from wandering, it does not protect your Postal Service carrier, who must enter your property to deliver the mail. Even homes with curbside mailboxes may have oversized packages or signature-needed items that require the carrier to approach a doorstep and cross the boundaries of the electronic fence. This poses a serious risk to carrier safety.

• Dog in Yard: Make sure your dog is properly restrained on a leash away from where your mail carrier is delivering the mail. Mail delivery service can be interrupted at an address or neighborhood the carrier deems unsafe because of an unrestrained dog. When service is interrupted at an address or neighborhood, all parties involved will have to pick up mail at their local Post Office. Service will be restored once assurance has been given that the animal will be confined during regular delivery hours.

• Tracking: Dog owners who have access to postal notification features such as Informed Delivery (informeddelivery.usps.com) for letter mail and package tracking are urged to use this as a way to gauge when the carrier is on the way and to ensure the dog is properly restrained. Expecting a postal package delivery on Sunday? Postal officials urge dog owners to restrain their animals on Sundays as well, as more residences are receiving deliveries throughout the weekend.

YMCA Blood Drives - Local & Long Distance Live Saving

MONROVIA - The Santa Anita Family YMCA is becoming "Blood Drive Ground Zero" in the northeast San Gabriel Valley since the COVID-19/Coronavirus pandemic struck in mid-March. The local YMCA has hosted 4 major blood drives in just 16 weeks, re-purposing their still closed gymnasium to accommodate hospital beds, blood bags and plasma processing machines instead.

The YMCA blood drive series began with an April 20th drive in partnership with and benefitting the American Red Cross. That was followed by a May 14 blood drive in partnership with and benefitting Duarte's City of Hope, and drives on May 18th and June 5th with the Red Cross as well.

Each of these critically important blood drives exceeded their goals in terms of attendees/donors and blood units collected! Red Cross blood goes all over the state of California, while City of Hope blood stays here on their Duarte campus. In total, Santa Anita YMCA has raised over 120 units of blood to help the ailing LA County blood supply. Since each pint/unit helps approx. 3 patients, some 360+ persons in need have been helped! But the Y is not nearly done. The next YMCA/Red Cross Blood Drive is Friday, July 17th. In addition to taking blood donations, the Red Cross also will be testing all tions for COVID-19/Coronavirus antibodies.

"As organizations dedicated to helping others, they Red Cross and YMCA are fortunate to be able to step up to help during this pandemic by offering this service at our upcoming blood drives," said Eric Boyd, YMCA Executive Director. .Boyd also reported that the COVID-19 antibody test used by the Red Cross is authorized by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and may indicate if the donor's immune system has produced antibodies to the Coronavirus, regardless of whether they developed symp-blood, platelet and plasma dona- toms. "The importance of this information cannot be overstated in terms of stopping the spread of COVID-19/Coronavirus," Boyd added.

To schedule your life-saving blood donation appointment, visit www.Redcrossblood.org and enter sponsor code YMCAMON-ROVIA. Again, the YMCA/Red Cross Blood Drive happens Friday, July 17th, from 10:00am -4:00pm in the gymnasium of the Santa Anita Family YMCA, 501 S. Mountain Avenue in Monrovia. Call the Red Cross at (800) 733-2767 or call the YMCA at (626) 359-9244 for more information.

Let's Celebrate our Heroes, here in Glendora. Our Rotary Club of Glendora will be holding our 2nd Annual Field of Heroes July 2, to July 5, 2020. You have the opportunity to help us celebrate and show your love and support for your Military, Veterans, Law Enforcement, Fire Dept., First Responsders, and Healthcare Heroes by sponsoring a flag in our Field of Heroes.

This year, due to the COVID 19 restrictions, we are doing things a little differently. Our display will be a 'drive by' experience. Our individual flags will be on display at City Hall in Glendora, and our large flag will be showcased at the Sunflower Campus on the corner of Gladstone and Sunflower Ave. Since we aren't able to attach the flag tag to the flags this year, we will mail you your flag tag, along with a Field of Heroes Sponsor 2020 decal.

This project will generate funds for our local Veteran's Centers, our Police Auxiliary, our Fire Department and for our Glendora Rotary COVID19 Relief Fund.

If you would like to sponsor a flag and/or make a donation to help us support this Field of Heroes display, please go to our website: FieldofHeroes.net. Thank you for making this a great experience for our City again this year!
