West Covina Unified Board of Education members celebrate the newly completed Edgewood Sports Complex with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Sept. 22.

WEST COVINA – West Covina Unified high school athletes dove into a new Olympic-size pool on Sept. 22 to celebrate the completion of a state-of-the-art sports complex as West Covina Unified Board of Education members, administrators and community leaders cheered.

The Edgewood Sports Complex is the District's latest Measure ES-funded project to be completed in 2020, thanks to steady construction progress made during school closures prompted by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Board President Camie Poulos, Vice President Eileen Miranda Jimenez, Board Clerk Dr. Rose Lopez and Board Members Michael Flowers and Daniel C. Monarrez encouraged the District to proceed with construction while following county public health guidelines.

When students are permitted to return to campus and resume athletic activities, they will enjoy an aquatic center with an Olympic-size swimming pool, four locker rooms, two digital scoreboards capable of video playback, a high-quality sound system, and updated basketball courts.

The Sports Complex is one of two new Measure ES-funded facilities at Edgewood IB Schools. The second is the Edgewood Event Center, which District officials celebrated during a Sept. 8 ribbon cutting. Together, the projects cost an estimated $31.9 million.

Azusa Unified School District Receives a $35,000 Grant from the Canyon City Foundation

AZUSA - COVID-19 has changed the face of education overnight. Teaching methods have gone virtual, and now students are faced with needing much more than just textbooks and paper. Internetready devices and internet connectivity are vital for Azusa Unified School District (AUSD) students to fully engage in Distance Learning. For some AUSD students, lack of internet connectivity would have posed a significant barrier in their ability to join virtual class-

Thanks to a generous $35,000 donation from the Canyon City Foundation (CCF), our students will now have the internet connectivity needed to engage in learning. The CCF grant provides 'seed' money to ensure that all AUSD students have internet access. For some, this means installing a WIFI connection in their home. For others, this means access to a hotspot to use with their District issued Chromebook.

Assistant Superintendent of Education Services, Dr. Dayna Mitchell, said, "We are extremely thankful for the generosity of the Canyon City Foundation. The Internet has become a critical resource in the educational process for our students. It is amazing to have community partners such as the Canyon City Foundation recognize that need and help us to

Key Indicators Show Progress in Response to COVID-19

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The Los Angeles County Department of Public Health (Public Health) continues seeing progress in key indicators, including daily hospitalizations and deaths. Public Health remains vigilant in monitoring the metrics that show L.A. County's progress in slowing the spread of COVID-19 and reducing the disproportionality in highly impacted groups.

Deaths have continued to decline since the peak seen two months ago. In late July, the average daily reported deaths was 43, and on September 9, the average daily reported deaths was 20. While deaths continue to decrease, if there is an increase in cases as a result of Labor Day activities, this will likely translate into more hospitalizations and deaths in the coming weeks. We have seen a slight increase in cases recently which we are watching closely, especially since these increases happened after the Labor Day weekend.

The County's percent test positivity or the percentage of tests that are done that come back positive has fallen significantly from an average of about 8% in July to about 3% in September. A decreased test positivity rate is often a sign of reduced community transmission.

Data continues to expose disproportionality in COVID-19 health outcomes by race, ethnicity and area-poverty. However, Public Health sees signs gaps are starting to close.

Latino/Latinx residents continue to die at rates higher than other groups and experienced a death rate of 6 deaths per 100,000 people at the peak of transmission in July. This was 4 times higher than the death rate for White residents at 1.4 deaths per 100,000 people. The death rate among Latino/Latinx residents has dropped to 2 deaths per 100,000 people, and the gap has narrowed so that Latino/Latinx are 2 times higher than White residents at 1 death per 100,000 people.

Black residents had a death rate of 4 deaths per 100,000 people during the peak of transmission in July which was over 3 times higher than White residents. Now, the death rate for Black residents is 1 death per 100,000 people, similar to White residents.

Asian residents had a rate that was 2.7 deaths per 100,000 people in mid-July. Now, the mortality rate for Asian residents is 1 death per 100,000 people, similar to White and Black residents.

At the July peak, the mortality rate for people living in communities with the highest levels of poverty was 6.5 deaths per 100,000 people. This was over 3 times higher than that of people who were living in communities with the lowest levels of poverty. As of September 13, the mortality rate among people living in areas with the highest levels of poverty dropped to 3.2 deaths per 100,000 people, which while much lower than the July rates, remains 3 times that of people living in the lowest levels of pov-

There is still much work to do to close these gaps, and we will continue to work with partners who are addressing the inequitable distribution of resources and opportunities that are essential for optimal health and well-be-

"We are thinking every day of the many people across L.A. County who have lost a loved one or friend to COVID-19. We are so sorry for your loss.," said Barbara Ferrer, PhD, MPH, MEd, Director of Public Health. "For so many people, COVID-19 has resulted in serious illness and death. These people are our friends, our neighbors, our colleagues and our loved ones. Each of us can commit to doing what we can, using the tools we have, to slow the spread of COVID-19. It saves lives - yours and the other people in our community. I say this often, but it is worth repeating, please remember: Keep physical distance of at least 6 feet and wear a cloth face covering when you are out of your home and around other people. Wash or sanitize your hands often. Get tested if you are having symptoms of COVID-19. Isolate if you have COVID-19. And quarantine if you have been in close contact with someone who has tested positive."

Ninety-two percent of the people who died from COVID-19 had underlying health conditions. Of those who died, information about race and ethnicity is available for 6,044 people (99 percent of the cases reported by Public Health); 51% of deaths occurred among Latino/Latinx residents, 23% among White residents, 15% among Asian residents, 10% among African American/Black residents, less than 1% among Native Hawaiian/Pacific Islander residents and 1% among residents identifying with other races. Upon further investigation, 65 cases and nine deaths reported earlier were not L.A. County residents.

Public Health Sees Steady Decline in COVID-19 Deaths Associated with Skilled Nursing Facilities

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -Public Health is seeing a steady decline in COVID-19 deaths in skilled nursing facilities in Los Angeles County. Skilled nursing facility COVID-19-associated deaths peaked in the beginning of May with 190 deaths a week. By mid-September, deaths in skilled nursing facilities dropped to 22 a week. Skilled nursing facilities did not experience an increase in COVID-19 deaths in July and August as Los Angeles County did overall.

Public Health remains in regular contact with skilled nursing facilities and provides facilities with education, technical assistance, guidance, emergency supplies of personal protective equipment, and COVID-19 testing support. Public Health also continues to survey skilled nursing facilities in the County for compliance with mandated COV-ID-19 testing and reports of COVID-19 cases and outbreaks. All 341 skilled nursing facilities are conducting testing of residents and staff; between September 6 and September 12, 30,000 COVID-19 tests were completed among staff and residents. The percentage of residents that tested positive during this time period was 1.3% and for staff was .4%. Ninety-nine percent of skilled nursing facilities reported having adequate staffing and 94% reported having adequate PPE. Out of the 341 facilities, 164 were reported as having one or more cases and 177 facilities reported no positive cases. Public Health continues to conduct on-site inspections at skilled nursing facilities that are reported to be in noncompliance with infection control practices, or those that have reports of noncompliance that caused serious harm or death to a resident. These inspections occur within 24 hours of reported complaints.

We encourage anyone who receives a call from Public Health to speak to our contact tracers. If a contact tracer calls, it will display on your phone as "LA Public Health" or as 833-641-0305.

California Going Green But Which Direction

Gov. Newsom's most recent Executive Order requires, by 2035, all new cars and passenger trucks sold in California be zeroemission vehicles; and, fossil fuel be phased out by "working to end the issuance of new hydraulic fracturing permits by 2024." His reasoning: 50% of California's greenhouse gas emissions, causing climate change, come from transportation. No gas driven cars - no gas needed - no global warming - no forest fires... that's how I am reading the past two weeks of information handed down by Newsom.

It seems to be another one of those off the cuff, all-of-a-sudden-announcements that just pops up from the Governor. I have these 3 a.m. epiphanies on occasions, but I am not responsible for the 7th largest economy in the world and 40 million people. No warning ... just doing away with gas driven cars ... and I wonder where Newsom's epiphanies come from these Assemblyman Kevin Kiley (R-Rocklin) apparently wonders also and said about Newsom's latest Executive Order: "Newsom wanted to ban millions of cars, so he just did it ... no one voted on it - not the Legislature, not the people of California ... [he made] a mockery of the separation of powers in California's own Constitution, [and] it also flagrantly defies federal law in violation of the Supremacy Clause of the U.S. Constitution ... Autocracy is just the new normal in California."

Little perspective: In 2006, Global Warming Solutions Act (AB 32) was passed instructing California Air Resources Board (CARB) to come up with solutions to reduce greenhouse gas with deadlines. In 2010, Prop 23 was placed on the ballot to amend AB 32 suspending the greenhouse gas emission requirements and not move forward with renewable energy and clean fuel proposals, along with increased fees to refineries and power plants, until the unemployment rate, at 12%, dropped to 5.5%.

AB 32 required greenhouse gas emissions (mostly from power plants, factories and cars) to be reduced to 1990 levels by 2020 or 15%. The cap and trade program, to be rolled out end of that year, allowed businesses to trade or buy and sell emissions creating a reduction incentive. A provision proposed allowed timber companies to obtain credits by planting new, young trees, replacing old growth removed, and sell those credits to utility companies, refineries ... enterprises that needed them. California would be the first in the world to assign carbon credits to wood products created from the trees themselves.

Legislative Analyst said about Prop 23, "The measure would cripple, but not completely dismantle the state's efforts to slash its greenhouse gas emissions; it could lead to bigger short-term profits for some businesses, but dampen investments in clean technology and green jobs." It would have invalidated the executive order requiring 33% of all retail electricity sellers get their electricity from renewable sources such as wind, solar and geothermal by 2020.

Orange County Register wrote in support of Prop 23 saying: "By approving Proposition 23, voters can stall implementation of the Global Warming Solutions Act of 2006 and perhaps save more than one million jobs ... We prefer permanent repeal of the 2006 law ... we urge at least a delay of its disastrous economic effects and infringements on private-sector freedoms."

Prop 23 failed with help from major contributor, Tom Steyer, who put up $5,049,000.

Steyer is a billionaire and founder of Farallon Capital Management, a hedge fund, and founder of NextGen America, a non-profit organization supporting a progressive agenda including fighting climate change by advancing the transition to a clean energy economy. When confronted, about investments in the coal industry overseas, Steyer said, "... I have directed my financial team to divest my holdings of coal investments so that I will have a coal free portfolio..."

Prop 39, a 2012 initiative, designed and funded by Steyer, proposed to generate $1 billion a year for California, by requiring out-of-state businesses to pay taxes based on the percentage of sales in California. Half the money went into the state's general fund for various programs and the other half, was earmarked for energy conservation efforts at schools and public buildings. At the end of 5 years this entire amount would go into the state's general fund. Steyer contributed $29,580,000 to support Prop 39 and it passed with a 2/3 majority.

Steyer's investment history with Farallon, his NextGen America non-profit, his campaign contributions, his appointment as Co-Chair with Ann O'Leary, Gov. Newsom's Chief of Staff, to the 80-member Governor's Task Force on Business and Jobs Recovery is a concern at this

Truth in Accounting released its annual State of the States Report for 2020 and California, with no Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) has this re-

- California had $114 billion to pay $388.9 billion in bills shortfall is $275 billion.
- Taxpayer burden $21,100.
- · As of August 2020, had not released fiscal year 2019 CAFR.
- With $502.8 billion in retirement benefits promised, state did not fund $109.5 billion and $111.8 billion in retiree health
- Reported is $133.67 billion in bond debt.
- California is projected to lose $16 billion in revenue.

Tom Steyer's conflicted message in his investment portfolio, his willingness to heavily finance ballot initiatives with questionable end results, make me wonder about his abilities on the Governor's Task Force. Maybe his message is in the sale of his two homes. $11 million one in San Francisco and $2.8 million in Whatever the journalistic medium, there are two distinct types of reporting. While they are designed for distinct purposes, these days the line between them is often muddy, or even missing.

1. The first objective of news outlets, whether you are talking about print or electronic systems including radio. Television, or the internet, is to accurately report what I going on. There are some well-defined guidelines governing this role. News reporters need to be clear about their sources. Normally there must be at least two. All materials need to be validated before hitting the public. There are no "alternate facts." While the public has a right to know, every precaution must be taken before someone's character or institution is defamed. Following these simple journalistic principles should eliminate what has been called "fake news."

2. The parallel journalistic role is commentary and analysis involving the opinion of the author. Sometimes opinion pieces come directly from editors or editorial staffs as well as inhouse columnists. Sometimes commentaries come from letters to the editor, opinion pieces or columnists from outside the news organization. There are also rules or guidelines governing these offerings. Every article or column should be accompanied by the author's name. Opinion pieces must appear separated from the "news" and must be identified as such, preferably in clearly defined sections. Since these opinion pieces do not qualify as "news," the guidelines are often less well defined. Thus the

It is no secret that President Trump from the earliest days of his administration. has been at war with the press. His "alternate facts" are at odds with the researched facts used as the basis in the media for the news. His arguments with columnist and other peddlers of opinions in often a "he said", she said" debate.

Now let me get to the title at the head of this column. So I'll tell a story. A century or so ago the cod fishermen out of Gloucester, Massachusetts had a serious problem. While their catch brought in from the sea was abundant, after being caught the fish were held in the large tanks below the deck. After a while these lethargic cod would give up swimming and slowly sink to the bottom. When they finally arrived at the port, they had been smothered, and dead fish brought less than half of those brought other fishermen had the foggiest clue as to how he did it. Well, the old successful cod fisherman died, his son took over his boat with the same success his father enjoyed; being in possession of the same secret. However, some years later, after a long night in a dockside bar he finally revealed his father's secret. Before heading to the fishing grounds he would put in his tank a quantity of catfish, bottom feeders, who never ran out of energy and who spent their time scurrying around the tank. These energetic catfish came equipped with a sharp spine on their dorsal fins. If you have had a finger jabbed by one of the spines, you know how nasty, sharp and painful their attack can be. So when the cod got tired and sank to the tank's bottom, jab, jab, jab, they would be goosed by the lively catfish, and would arrived at port very much alive.

So while straight newshounds are committed to report what is happening, columnists are paid to use their sharp spines, and the more pompous their victims the more painful the jabs. These days several of the nation's columnists are Trump's catfish, and whenever Donald sinks to the bottom of his self-created swamp of untruths, bitter put-downs and selfglorification, the columnists are dashing about somewhere below the surface with ever-sharpened dorsal spines. When Trump howls in pain we know that the media's catfish have made solid

Back to the 3 Digit Temperature Again, and The Santa Ana Winds Too.

Once again, we have those 3digit temperatures. This will be hard on a lot of people. Just do what you can to do to stay cool and safe.

One other weather issue that we can expect is the winds. The Santa Ana Winds should be here in October. So, get ready. This will be much different than in past years. There will be more pollutants mixed in with this. All those fires we had that covered the San Gabriel Valley this past month with ash, what do you think is going to happen to that ash?

All that ash that landed all over, on your roofs, lawns and other places, have not been washed away. This will get blown all over the place. That stuff will be nothing compared to the ash from the fires in the mountains and hills that were burned out. The ashes from those areas will be kicked up and again we will be covered with ash and the air quality will be horrible. You know that mask we are all complaining about... well, now we will have a reason to wear them.

This won't be the end of the

ash; it will come back in the floods that we are going to have because all the vegetation has been burned out.

So, what can we do about this...? Not much of anything. You could hose off the roof of your home, that might help a little, not all that sure but it could help to get the ash off in a controlled manner. Might save your pool a little from getting ash in it from your roof.

As for your health, the best thing is not to breathe at all... well, that won't work... Best to stay indoors when the winds kick

Sometimes, Mother Nature is not to kind to us.

MY TURN: Harris Rakes in Hollywood Donations

Joe Biden may just be an afterthought on the Democrats' list of folks who matter in the 2020 election. At best, I believe he is number three. It is proven to me by what appears to be little concern on the part of Democrats over the relevance of "Sleepy Joe." Look at his morning curfews, limited appearances and no real "buzz" being experienced. No marketable memorabilia or boat parades, or especially, in spite of threats of covid violations coming from critics, no rallies of any significance for Joe.

Number one on the list of who matters, for obvious negative reasons, is President Donald Trump. As we have often seen, Trump is comfortably living rent free inside the heads of Democrat leadership and cultural elites. And for the Democrats, I believe every problem and every issue our country is experiencing, courtesy of Democrat agitation, can be traced to a single root of a minor or a major degree-Donald Trump and the over the top, obsessive hatred of him. Trump Derangement Syndrome I believe, has blossomed into a full blown and actual, clinically diagnosed, mental illness. And every issue is tainted with a certain amount of desire to remove him from office at all costs. It is revealed every day and one of the most obvious examples was when President Trump, as our President and the First Lady, went to view the casket of Ruth Bader-Ginsburg to pay their respects, only to be met by jeering, boos and a chant of "Vote Him Out." So much for decorum at a state funeral.

Number two on the list is Kamala Harris who really is the Presidential candidate. A Wall Street Journal article mentioned how Hollywood with celebrities like Reese Witherspoon, Mindy Kaling and Shonda Rhimes are all "in" for the ticket (Harris Rakes in Hollywood Donations, 9/25/2020). And that ticket is "Harris/Biden with Joe Biden seemingly the afterthought. Finishing at number three, Joe Biden isn't even By Joe Castillo Disney... On September 24, 1980, Michael Eisner was appointed Chairman and Chief Executive of the Walt Disney Company. For the previous seven years Eisner had been President of Paramount Pictures but when leadership trouble arose within the Disney Company a new leader of the company was sought. Two primary candidates emerged between Paramounts' Eisner and Frank Wells, a former executive from Warner Brothers. The Disney Board of Directors were in the midst of a power struggle between Walt Disney's son-in-law and Disney's brother Roy O. Disney. The Company had been operating on a misguided path since Walt passed away and the blame was placed on the ex-Operating Officer.

ing to be Eisner's second in moving The Walt Disney Company in a new direction in the motion picture industry. As they met for the first time at the Disney Studios in Burbank, Eisner, 42 years old, and Wells, 53, started off awkwardly. Both toured the 4-acre studio and met every employee along the way but they both noted that much had not changed since 1966 including the old set of the "Zorro" television series which was in-place but unused. They met in Walt Disney's old office and relaxed in the soft worn couches. But when Eisner asked Wells if he was going to stay there all day, Wells answered he was thinking that he would.

Over time, they became good friends and enjoyed each other's company including playing cards every day near the lunch hour. The culture at Disney had become quite relaxed as no one was ever fired, laid off, replaced or removed. The budget for movies usually ran twice than what was estimated and still no personnel changes were initiated. Every Tuesday, employees ended their day early to play softball. Disney's plan was to release a new animated film every four years and the year before Eisner was hired, Disney produced only three live action films. Eisner and Wells agreed that the culture had to change and a new direction was needed. In March 1994, Eisner had bought a membership at the Bel

Air County Club and took his wife and son there to play golf for the first time. It was a long day at the golf course but they had a good time enjoying each other's company. As they sat down for dinner, Eisner received a phone call from his secretary who had some bad news for him. Frank Wells had been killed in a helicopter crash in Nevada. Wells had been on a skiing trip with his two sons, his mountain climbing friend Dick Bass and actor Clint Eastwood. Each was in a separate helicopter but 4 of the 5 persons in Wells' helicopter died in the crash. At Frank Wells' funeral, Clint Eastwood sang the Beatles' "Hey Jude" as a tribute to the song which Wells would sing while skiing on his multiple ski adventures. Wells' fatal crash had come at a time when Disney had completed a string of hit animated movies, making the Eisner-Wells leadership team very successful in turning around the company

Why Were Riots, Looting And Burning Allowed To Continue?

State Governors often do not want help from the Federal Government to address out of control problems. While federal authorities can protect federal property and government employees without a governor's request, federal agents are limited in helping control riots and related property damage until asked to do so by a state. Last month Wisconsin's Governor rejected early federal help to stop Kenosha area riots. While significant damage began on 8/23, Governor Evers finally agreed to accept federal help in controlling lawlessness on 8/26. Unfortunately, many local businesses and Kenosha residents suffered significant riot damage before federal assistance was accepted.

Ongoing out of control lawlessness continues in Portland, Seattle, New York and other blue state riot locations because those state leaders do not want federal help in restoring peace to their communities. The federal government has been actively helping states and cities return to more normal and safer times whenever specific locations have requested federal assistance. Federal Operation Legend has recently been making a positive difference for citizens and businesses in at least 9 cities.

Missouri officials were the first to ask the Justice Department to help combat its summer surge in violent crimes. Kansas City became the first location for Operation Legend to help local law enforcement get control over expanding violence. This federal initiative had expanded to 9 "out of control" cities as of last month. In addition to Kansas City, the other 8 cities requesting federal assistance were Chicago, Albuquerque, Memphis, St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Milwaukee and Indianapolis. Homicides and shootings in those cities were up significantly during the first 7 months of 2020 (versus the same time period in 2019) which motivated requests for federal crime control help.

In Kansas City at least 43 people were charged with federal crimes and 17 people were arrested for state homicide charges as of last month. As explained by AG Barr, Federal charges are helpful in keeping violent criminals off the streets, since they can be kept in custody pending their trials. An August 20th EP-OCH TIMES article added that so far Operation Legend had resulted nationally in approximately 1,500 arrests, including 217 individuals charged with federal crimes, plus 400 firearms being taken away from criminals. Ongoing criminal and rioting unrest in many locations cannot be helping the economy.

Jay Powell recently told the House Financial Services Committee "The US faces a long, uncertain recovery". He asked for more fiscal help, saying "The path forward will depend on keeping the virus under control, and on policy actions taken at all levels of government." Fortunately, the economy has been growing during the third quarter. There is rapid growth in the four factors used by the National Bureau for Economic Research (NBER) to judge the length of US recessions - production, sales, income, and employment. Yet the NBER is not yet ready to call the recession over.

While related committee deliberations are secret, it's easy enough to imagine what they are worried about. Employment growth has slowed and income will likely drop now that pandemic aid is drying up. Third quarter growth will still be a record, but the China coronavirus driven drop in Q2 was also a record (unfortunately a lot bigger than the Q3 rebound will be). If GDP were to retreat again in the fourth quarter, this coronavirus created recession could prove to be longer than expected.

The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) held a postmeeting press conference last Wednesday, in which Fed Chairman Jerome Powell signaled that the Fed will keep key interest rates near zero through 2023 which adds a year to the Fed's previous guidance. Estimates are that the federal government has an annual $3+ trillion deficit and the U.S. Treasury debt is approaching over 100% of annual GDP, providing federal incentives to keep key interest rates at or near 0% for the rest of my lifetime!

Your Money - Ask Julia

What are my options for getting my money out of my annuity that is about to mature?

It depends on your annuity policy contract. With some annuities, you can take a lump sum upon maturity. With others, you leave the money alone during the growth period, and then you're required to take it out over a period of years. Some annuity policy contracts allow limited access to your money, usually starting at the beginning of the thirteenth month of the annuity policy. Annuity contracts are commonly supportive of government requirements for Required Minimum Distributions upon reaching age 72, regardless of other contract rules.

Is this a good time to sell our home?

Real Estate is currently in a "seller's market" phase (as opposed to a "buyer's market" phase). There are not enough houses on the market for all the buyers who are anxious to purchase a home. Mortgage interest rates are low. As soon as a house comes up for sale that is priced to match the market (comparable to similar properties), buyers quickly submit their offers. (Be aware of this if you plan to buy another home.) Now is a great time to sell your home. Homes that are priced right are often getting multiple offers.

What is a buy-sell agree-

It is a way to transfer business assets to a partner or to a family. These agreements are usually set up to take effect under specific circumstances such as death, retirement, or total disability. Life insurance or annuities are typically used to offset the potentially cost-prohibitive endeavor of buying out a partner or family member. There are two types: the cross-purchase agreement in which business partners set up a contract to purchase the business from each other, and the entitypurchase agreement in which the business agrees to purchase the partner's or family's share.

You've mentioned that life insurance is an important part of an estate plan. How?

Nowadays, there are two basic ways that life insurance is important in your estate plan. First of all, there's a type of life insurance that can accumulate money that is accessible while you are alive - funds to use for anything you want. Second, life insurance helps your heirs. Life insurance normally pays quickly, and most often these funds are income tax free. This money helps to pay taxes, administrative costs, debts, or keep business operating while the estate is being settled. If the survivors have lost the income of a paycheck or Social Security check, life insurance can help to fund an income stream. And, finally, life insurance can increase the family's wealth after the death of a loved one. Fixed-indexed annuities also pay quickly, but can also be set up to pay out over a longer timeframe, thus limiting the heirs from wasting their windfall in a short period of time.

We've done our own financial planning, and now that we are approaching retirement, we'd like some additional guidance. Is there a way to get some financial advice without being pressured into moving our money unnecessarily?

It's never too late to get a second opinion. An ethical, licensed professional will look at your entire financial picture, talk to you about what you want your money to do for you, and design a plan that is in your best interest and is most suitable for you. You are under no obligation, but if that pro points out something that you feel would be beneficial to you, it would be logical to utilize them as your agent; at least give them some good referrals.

Foothill Gold Line Three Active Grade Crossing Reconstructions; First Rail Delivery Complete

GLENDORA - Kiewit-Parsons (KPJV) crews are now actively reconstructing three railroad crossings along the corridor: Barranca Ave. and Glendora Ave. in Glendora, and Gladstone St. in San Dimas.

As part of the Gladstone St. crossing reconstruction, which began in mid-July and will continue through the end of October, crews have made significant progress relocating and protecting numerous underground utilities, including storm drains and water, sewer, gas and communications lines.

At the Barranca Ave. and Glendora Ave. crossing reconstructions, which began in late August, crews successfully demolished the curbs, gutters, medians, roadways and sidewalks on both sides of the railroad crossings, while maintaining access to the freight track for continued service. At Glendora Ave., the unused southern freight track was also removed. Crews are now relocating and protecting underground utilities at both crossings.

designate a sober driver

A tremendous amount of work, time and effort is required to rebuild each grade crossing. We appreciate the patience and understanding of project neighbors and the larger community who have been impacted by the construction.

Closure of Gladstone St. at Railroad Crossing Extended to October 30

The Gladstone St. grade crossing closure is being extended four weeks to allow for all necessary improvement work to be completed during this first street closure. Initially, KPJV had planned to come back later in the project to install the light rail tracks and complete related work, which would have required a second extended closure. With the recent delivery of rail, KPJV will be able to complete all crossing work during this first closure, eliminating the need for the second closure.

First Rail Delivery Complete

Recently, a 2,000-foot-long specialty rail delivery train was brought to the project to deliver and place 50, 1,600-foot-long sticks of rail at various locations along the 9.1-mile corridor. This first delivery was mostly comprised of rail for the freight track relocation, with just a few sticks for the light rail system. Two more rail delivery trains are anticipated for the project; the next one is anticipated late next year.

Upcoming Long-Term Closure of Wheeler Ave. at Railroad Crossing

Beginning October 13, crews will be reconstructing the railroad crossing at Wheeler Ave. in La Verne. This activity will require a full closure of the street at the railroad crossing for vehicles and pedestrians for three months. Look out for a Construction Alert in your inbox in the coming weeks with more information on the work ahead, including available detours. Local access to homes and businesses on Wheeler Ave., north and south of the closure, will be maintained at all times.

If you know of anyone who may be impacted by the upcoming construction, please encourage them to sign up now to receive construction alerts by going to foothillgoldline.org and signing up.

Body Found Was That Of Critical Missing West Covina Senior

Mr. Buddy Saunders By George Ogden

WEST COVINA - A body found 11 days after a senior was reported missing has finally been identified as the missing critical senior. On August 22nd the West Covina Police Department started searching for a missing male adult who was suffering from advanced dementia. Buddy "Bud" Merritt Saunders, 90, of West Covina was last seen at 7:00 PM the day before, August 21st at his residence located in the 1800 block of Molokai. He did not take his identification or money when he left.

Sadly, the body found Sept. 1st was in fact Mr. Saunders. On Sept. 22nd just after 5 p.m. there was confirmation of the identification of Buddy "Bud"

Saunders. It was 11 days since he vanished until his body was found. He lived on Molokai which "T"s into Oahu St. He was found along a fence line under a bush on Oahu St. It was re-declared deceased by the LA County Coroner's office on Septem 1, 2020. Buddy lived in West Covina, California for the past 25 years and suffered from Alzheimer and dementia for about the p ive years. He was going to turn 91 this October

We are hoping that he will be laid to rest in Fairbanks, Alaska beside his wife of 35 years, Mildred Mae Saunders at the Northern

Buddy leaves behind three biological children, Diana Mae Dollarhide, Buddy Dean Saunders, and Rhonda Irene Saunders

After Millie died, Buddy remarried late in life and has a second wife and seven adult step-children ported that he died from natural causes and possibly exposure. He may have died a few days after he disappeared. The positive identification has been made by the coroner's office to the family members.

His daughter, Rhonda, who is in Oregon started an investigation on her own with private detectives to search for her father. Her step-mother and stepsister provided information to the police on the last time that Saunders were seen. The stepdaughter who lives nearby often came by to check on him. Sadly, the day she came to check on him, she found out from her mother that he had disappeared the day before and nobody was notified. The stepdaughter realizing this immediately called police. Sadly, the man was not found at that time and the search was ended. He had a history of taking very long walks were the police were notified and they were able to locate him and bring him home. Sadly, this had a sad ending this

Susan Shelley Speaks at East San Gabriel Valley Republican Women Federated Meeting

Notice of Availability

Draft Supplemental Environmental Impact Report Metro Gold Line Foothill Extension Phase 2B (Azusa to Montclair)

Notice is hereby given of the availability of a Draft Supplemental Environmental Impact Report (SEIR) for the proposed Project Modifications to the Metro Gold Line Foothill Extension Phase 2B (Project), also known as the Foothill Gold Line light rail project from Glendora to Montclair.

Proposed Project Modifications

The Construction Authority is considering modifications to the Project to construct surface parking lots (instead of enclosed parking structures, as previously approved) at the Glendora, San Dimas, La Verne, and Pomona Stations. Constructing surface lots would reduce the number of available parking spaces. To accommodate the reconfigured parking conditions, the Authority proposes increasing the property size of the Glendora and San Dimas Station parking facilities, and a property location change at the Pomona Station parking facility. No changes are proposed for the location or property size of the parking facility at the La Verne Station. Changed vehicle and pedestrian access and new or relocated turnabouts are also proposed. Additional changes are proposed that will result in a reduction of parking at the Claremont Station. Two Claremont options will be considered wherein reduced parking is accommodated either fully in a parking structure or via parking surface lot combined with leasing of additional parking spaces from available locations within 1/4 mile of the Claremont Station. Provision for parking structure or surface lot at the Claremont Station will occur within previously approved location and footprint. In response to these proposed changes, a SEIR has been prepared to evaluate the potential for significant impacts that may result from the potential changes at the five stations. Multiple scenarios that include interim and full build terminus station conditions have been evaluated.

The proposed changes do not alter the scope of the Project as previously approved by the Construction Authority. The Draft SEIR has concluded construction of the Project Modifications would not have new or more severe significant impacts or require new mitigation measures.
