- Los Angeles County Sheriff's Homicide investigators are continuing to investigate the circumstances surrounding the shooting of two LASD deputies who were ambush while seated in their patrol vehicle. They were at the Compton Blue Line Station located at 275 North Willowbrook Avenue in Compton. The shooting incident occurred Saturday, September 12, around 6:58 p.m., at the MLK Transit Center in Compton.

Preliminary investigation has revealed that the attack, which was captured on surveillance video, shows a lone black male suspect walked up to the passenger side of the patrol vehicle and then firing multiple rounds through the front passenger window hitting both deputies. A female deputy, 31, and a mother of a 6-year-old and a male 24-year-old deputy received critical injuries.

The suspect is described as a male Black 28-30 years-old, wearing dark clothing.

Both deputies were struck multiple times in the upper torso (head and arms). They were transported to a local hospital by responding deputies, using their patrol units. At this time, both deputies are still critical but it is hopeful that they will recover from their injuries.

While they were undergoing emergency treatment, a number of people showed up and demonstrated outside the hospital where the injured deputies were being treated. Some were heard shouting "We hope they die!" and blocking the entrance to the hospital's ambulance emergency reception area. Deputies were on scene and they tried to control the small crowd of protesters, but they got engaged with the deputies and some were arrested.

The investigation into the shooting is ongoing and there is no additional information available at this time.

Supervisor Barger Joins Public Health Director And Local Leaders To Launch Partnership With Citizen Safepass App

The Citizen SafePass App will support contact tracing efforts to slow the spread of COVID-19

—Supervisor Kathryn Barger tool for Los Angeles County in joined Los Angeles County Public Health Director Barbara Ferrer, Mayors Eric Garcetti, Robert Garcia and Terry Tornek, and Citizen CEO Andrew Frame to launch a partnership with the Citizen SafePass app to support the County's contact tracing program.

SafePass is a new tool within the Citizen app that can help individuals manage all COVID related exposure alerts and information. It utilizes technology to provide digital contact tracing, in addition to providing its users with regular symptom tracking and testing information.

"Robust, efficient, and thorough contact tracing is critical to interrupt the ongoing transmission of COVID-19 and reduce community spread," said Supervisor Kathryn Barger. "The SafePass app is an innovative pro-

LOS ANGELES COUNTY gram that will serve as a valuable our continued efforts to keep residents safe and move forward on our path to recovery and reopening."

SafePass uses mobile Bluetooth to anonymously track people with whom an individual has come into contact. If an individual tests positive for COVID-19, it will provide an anonymous alert to those contacts and provide options for nearby testing sites. Users can also opt-in to voluntarily share their health status with friends and family. All of the data that is collected through the contact tracing system is encrypted, stored securely for 30 days and then permanently deleted. These privacy precautions are intended to fully protect its users and their contacts.

"The SafePass app relies on our continued sense of community impact and asks our residents to work with us to slow the spread," Supervisor Barger continued. "We are grateful for the opportunity to pursue additional measures that will help in our collective response to this global pandemic so that we can return to a greater sense of normalcy."

Traditional contact tracing is a lengthy process that relies on information shared by individuals who test positive for COVID. The County currently has 2,600 individuals deployed as contact tracers and to date, they have completed nearly 195,000 contact tracing interviews with cases and 53,000 interviews with contacts. The new technology offered by SafePass will help supplement the County's contact tracing program.

La Puente Mayor Charlie Klinakis said, "I served with Dan on the City's Planning Commission beginning in 2003 and later on the City Council, Dan's friendship and professionalism will be missed, my heart goes out to his wife Hilda, his son, and daughters."

Dan Holloway began his political career in the mid-1990s. In 1998, he was appointed to the City's Puente Pride Committee and in 2001, after years of trying, was finally appointed to the La Puente Planning Commission. There he served for six years, including two terms as Chairman.

After retiring following a 30year career as an Aerospace Manager at Raytheon, Dan ran for La Puente City Council in 2007 winning a Council seat as the top vote getter in a field of nine that included three incumbents. His election meant the end of his newspaper column and service on the Puente Pride Committee and as a Planning Commissioner. Sworn in as a Councilman on December 11, 2007 by his wife Hilda, he was re-elected again in 2012 and 2016 as the top vote getter. Dan served as Mayor three times and as Mayor Pro Tem four times. He also represented the City on several regional Boards and Commissions. He has worked closely with the three school districts that serve La Puente and has been a mainstay of the L.E.A.D. September is Pedestrian Safety Month

AZUSA - September is Pedestrian Safety Month, and the Azusa Police Department will join law enforcement agencies across the state to educate the public on how to be safe when walking or driving.

While the COVID-19 pandemic and wildfire emergencies have had an impact on Californians, the safety of pedestrians remains a cause for concern.

Since 2009, the number of pedestrians killed or injured on California roads has increased dramatically, accounting for nearly 25% of all roadway deaths. A report released earlier this year by the Governors Highway Association (GHSA) projected that pedestrian deaths in 2019 reached the highest point in more than 30 years.

For the safety of everyone walking or driving, the Azusa Police Department will have additional officers on patrol throughout September, specifically looking for violations made by drivers and pedestrians that make roads unsafe.

These violations include speeding, illegal turns, failure to yield, not stopping for signs or signals, and pedestrians who do not cross in marked crosswalks or designated crossing areas.??

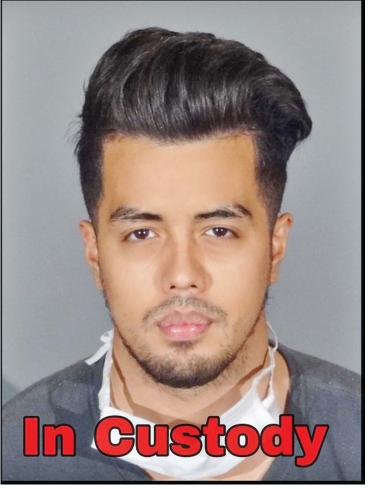

Funding for this program is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Stay Housed L.A. County Program Launched To Provide Free Legal Services To Tenants

The new program connects tenants facing eviction with legal assistance and virtual educational workshops to help keep Los Angeles County residents in their homes.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors launched Stay Housed L.A. County, a countywide initiative to provide legal assistance and support for tenants facing eviction amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

The launch included the release of StayHousedLA.org, a website connecting tenants with useful information about their rights, workshops for residents who need legal assistance, and other support. Stay Housed L.A. County is a partnership between the County of Los Angeles, legal aid groups and community-based organizations to provide emergency support to tenants in need.

Virtual Know Your Rights workshops will also be offered by participating community organizations to provide L.A. County residents with critical information about permanent and emergency tenant protections that can help tenants facing eviction or other challenges related to their rental housing. Community organizations will provide targeted ongoing support to help tenants with case management support.

"As many residents face immeasurable uncertainty and grapple with health, mental health, and economic hurdles, we want to provide working families with as much stability and peace of mind as possible," said Supervisor Kathryn Barger, Chair of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. "By equipping at-risk tenants with the resources they need, Los Angeles County can ensure they stay safe, stay strong, and stay housed."

"L.A. County, along with a number of cities, the state, and the federal government have all passed protections for tenants facing eviction due to the pandemic," said Los Angeles County Supervisor Sheila Kuehl, who authored the motion authorizing the creation of Stay Housed L.A. County. "These protections only work, however, when people know their rights and can take advantage of the legal protections. That's the mission of Stay Housed L.A. County: To provide the information and legal representation people need to keep from getting kicked out of their homes while we weather this very challenging time."

"The COVID-19 pandemic is upending the lives of hardworking families, many of whom live from paycheck-to-paycheck, which is why L.A. County has launched our newest tenant assistance program: Stay Housed L.A. County," said Los Angeles County Supervisor Hilda L. Solis. "Through this initiative, L.A. County will help renters stay in their homes and get welcome relief from the financial stress they are enduring in this crisis. I am committed to advocating on behalf of our rent-burdened households that face the threat of losing their homes due to suffering a layoff or loss of wages as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Stay Housed L.A. County will protect our most vulnerable, rent-burdened households who are on the brink of homelessness."

"Eviction can be an incredibly devastating event that families never recover from," said Rafael Carbajal, Acting Director of Los Angeles County Department of Consumer and Business Affairs. "It's so much greater than individuals losing their homes. Stay Housed L.A. County represents the County's enhanced efforts to stem an eviction crisis and our commitment to working with community partners to help our tenants preserve healthy and stable households in L.A. County. I applaud the Board of Supervisors' leadership in this groundbreaking initiative and hope to see our most vulnerable renters take advantage of this most critical public service."

Participating communitybased organizations include: Alliance of Californians for Community Empowerment (ACCE), Communities for a Better Environment, Coalition for Economic Survival, East Yard Communities for Environmental Justice, Eastside LEADS, Inquilinos Unidos, Los Angeles Center for Community Law and Action, Los Angeles Community Action Network (LACAN), Los Angeles Tenants Union, and Strategic Actions for a Just Economy (SAJE).

According to a UCLA study, about 365,000 L.A. County residents are at risk of evictions due to the COVID-19 economic recession. The Board of Supervisors extended the Los Angeles County Temporary Eviction Moratorium through Sept. 30, which instituted temporary tenant protections related to COVID-19 countywide, excluding jurisdictions that have enacted their own protections.

Stay Housed L.A. County serves as an important resource for tenants who are facing housing uncertainty - including bilingual residents and those with undocumented status - about their rights and who need legal support navigating their interactions with their landlord and the legal system. When tenants have legal representation, a family's chance of avoiding homelessness due to eviction increases by over 70 percent.

Fires: Climate Change or Lack of Maintenance

As we watched the fires rage across California once again this year eating up grass, trees and sometimes homes, and sadly killing people, Gov. Gavin Newsom visited the North Complex Fire and promised to fast-track California's efforts to combat climate change. Newsom told the Sacramento Bee: "We're in the midst of a climate emergency. We're experiencing what so many people predicted decades ago... I'm exhausted that we have to continue to debate this issue."

Meanwhile President Trump said he will come to California to assess the damage by joining federal fire and emergency personnel at McClellan Park in Sacramento County. Trump has insisted with proper and improved forest management, the devastation these fires create could be eliminated. To that end, a year ago he issued an executive order instructing the secretaries of agriculture and interior to consider cutting trees and turning them into 4.4 billion board feet of lumber and sell the result of that harvest. That would increase forest logging 31% since 1917 and clean out the old dead wood and allow for new growth.

In April, Secretary of Interior, David Bernhardt, authorized 11,000 miles of strategically placed fuel breaks to control wildfires within a 223 millionacre area in portions of California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

Setting off another hot debate, President Trump suggested the forest floors should be swept or raked to clean out the additional fuel for the fires like they do in Finland. That made for good latenight show folly and ridicule, but the Heartland Institute reports Finland does systematically do clear cutting and burn out the underbrush so new growth can occur. "Rake" the floor of the forest is not what we envision, but they do have a process to make sure there is no debris left to fuel any fires after their cutting is done. The Finns have heavy machinery that that comes through and "rakes" or pulls up all the leaves, roots and any dead material that would fuel a fire, and puts it in a pile to dry out. That material provides winter fuel for heat for the residents. Burning in California, I am sure, would not be acceptable, but certainly any processed debris could make good mulch for residential areas to retain the moisture in our gardens.

In June, the House Democrats released a 547-page report, House Select Committee on the Climate Crisis, The Congressional Action Plan for a Clean Energy Economy and a Healthy, Resilient, and Just America. The Democrats have published their energy and environment report injecting racial injustice and done it with our tax dollars. There was no Republican input or support for this plan, but three Californians were involved:

Rep. Julia Brownley (D-CA) Thousand Oaks. Republican candidate Rhonda Baldwin-Kennedy is now running for that office.
Rep. Mike Levin (D-CA)

Oceanside. Republican Brian Maryoff, a new-comer, is campaigning for that seat.

• Rep. Jared Huffman (D-CA) Eureka has a contender for his seat in Republican Dale Mensing.

Democrat vice-Presidential candidate, Kamala Harris signed on to federal legislation with Democrats Judy Chu (CD-27) our Glendora and San Gabriel Mountains area representative, and Jared Huffman (CD-2) Petaluma area in Sonoma County, part of the North Bay sub-region of the San Francisco Bay Area, to create more national recreation and wilderness areas including wild and scenic rivers that further isolates and restricts those areas. I never found a forest or wilderness management or maintenance plan with cost analvsis for that work attached to any of those proposals only the concept of "we want more to control," including the water resources.

The 547-page plan promotes: * Protecting "mature and old growth forests" ... the fuel for those fires that we see ravaging California today.

* Efforts to "maximize the deployment of natural climate solutions such as restoration and reforestation" ... and with proper forest maintenance and management, the words "deployment, restoration and reforestation" would not be needed. New healthy growth would occur naturally as it does in Finland.

* And, these reforestation and restoration projects would occur on ... "public and private lands, including urban areas to improve urban tree canopy." A healthy well-maintained forest creates a tree canopy to reduce overall heat just as we do in our backyards. One of the fierce objections to Rep. Judy Chu's plan for the San Gabriel Mountains NRA was the intrusion into private land and with proposals to totally ignore local conservancy projects, zoning and municipal code authorities in place to protect hillside watershed and private property. Chu's proposals seem very contrary to this party platform.

*A plan professing ... "U.S. land management agencies must limit new fossil fuel leasing on public lands and waters [and] increase renewable energy production." We've seen the end result of increasing renewable energy without any back up resources. Areas dark without air conditioning, refrigeration gone ... seems to happen over and over again.

There needs to be a plan with multiple energy source options from replacing outdated equipment, renewable energy, hydro power ... and, most necessary, bringing people on board who are multiple source-minded not party platform-based.

A reminder: Last time California suffered power shortages, Gray Davis, a Democrat, was recalled in October 2003 and replaced by Arnold Schwarzenegger, a Republican.

A message: Those who listen to the beat of the party platform drum to win elections, not the

What I Have Missed The Most

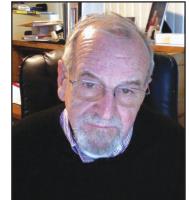

"What is it that you have missed the most in the last several months?" he asked. The questioner knew just what I was bound to answer, because it is the response he has been hearing throughout the neighborhood.

These long months of virtual isolation have been hard on all of us. Our normal patterns have been violated. I now look at my calendar that is usually cluttered with all sorts of deadlines, appointments, errands, social events, concerts, bridge and meetings. That was how my life went day after day until the pandemic shut everything down. Now it is almost blank.

Much about these long months of isolation has suited me and have nourished my inner world. I had usually written in the mornings and painted in the afternoons, and these months I have tried to keep with this schedule. During this half year of solitude I have written more weekly columns than I could publish, have completed over twenty paintings and have enjoyed more reading than I had been able to do for years.

Here, however, is my reply to the questioner's question about what I have most missed.

"THE COMMUNITY! THE PEOPLE I HAVE GROWN TO CHERISH.THE INTERACTION OVER LUNCH. THE COM-RADESHIP OF MY MEN'S GROUP.THE VIGOROUS DIS-CUSSIONS AT MY MONTHLY

Charles H. Bayer

BREAKFAST GANG. LEC-TURES, VESPERS, AUTOBI-OGRAPHIES-YES, EVEN COMMITTEE MEETINGS-----AND MORE!

It all has to do with community, with the meaning we find with each other. Wendy will tell you that I am not overly gregarious. I don't comfortably chat or go far out of my way to greet people. I love my solitude. Much of my world revolves around my internal life. Most of my best conversations are with myself.

BUT ENOUGH IS ENOUGH. While I have cherished the solitude, never confusing it with loneliness, it has become clear that increasing importance revolves around you-my colleagues on the journey we call life. I don't know who I really am, what my deepest values are, even what I believe, without the interaction called "community."

Attempts during this hiatus to overcome the imposed barriers have helped a bit. I must admit, however, that I now take ZOOM in smaller and smaller doses. Most of my earlier meetings and encounters seemed to have clear time limits, but get going on ZOOM and nobody knows quite how to close it off, even after everyone has said everything they needed to and then repeated it again. There have been times when I pushed the LEAVING THE MEETING button a half hour before anyone noticed my absence. Slowly returning to my pre-pandemic life won't be easy. My risk will come when I tell myself that I have grown so accustomed to my isolation that I am now too comfortable. John Donne was right:

No man is an Iland, intire of itselfe; every man is a peece of the Continent, a part of the maine;

if a Clod bee washed away by the Sea, Europe

Do Our Elected Representatives Represent Us?

My opinion: By D. B. Shimel

This question may seem odd as the principals of our republican form of government is based on the idea that our representatives must do our bidding. The one guiding principal has always been, the people are in charge in this nation. This concept is stated in Declaration of Independence, in the preamble to the Constitution and in President Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Firstly, let me digress from the original question with a bit of history. Since its conception our nation has been an experiment based on one simple principal. This principal is; informed people can rule themselves. Alexander Hamilton wrote in Federalist one: "... whether societies of men are really capable or not of establishing good government from reflection and choice, or whether they are forever destined to depend for their political constitutions on accident and force". What Hamilton meant by this statement is; historically the heads of governments had been kings or dictators who ruled by force of arms. Could people rule themselves? Political scholars of the day insisted that the answer to this query was an emphatic NO. The basis for the skepticism was; all prior experiments with democracies and republics had always failed. Throughout history, attempts at republican forms of government had failed because of factions. Factions are groups that come into dominance and always become self-serving. After the Revolutionary War the states saw themselves as individual countries. People with money and power in these states passed laws which prevented the common people from gaining power. Additionally these factions passed tax laws that punished the common people - most notably the "loyalists". The factions did this to get back the money they lent to the revolutionary army and for political power. The process for ratification of the US Constitution bypassed this political machinery and went directly to the people for approval by public vote. Why? The political factions in the state legislatures would never approve of the Constitution because it stripped them of the power they cherished.

Once a faction or a political party has gained total dominance over all others in any country totalitarianism follows. This statement is true weather the leader is a king, a dictator or a ruling political party. One needs to look no further than Venezuela for what happens when a faction gains total cal contributions for their next campaign or simply paybacks for political decisions that benefit these groups. If your elected officials choose not represent these factions future political contributions will go to their opponents.

Finally, we must not overlook today's news media and on line social outlets. These, mostly liberal, outlets control most of today's political thinking. If a person crosses the line and represents ideas outside of their narrow minded view of how things should be this per-voices of those they were elected to serve, suffer the consequences.

The Tragedy In Bell: Dementia Patients Deserve "Right To Die"

by Ralph E. Shaffer

The recent shooting death in Bell of a dementia victim, killed by her grieving husband, illustrates the urgent need for broadening California's End of Life Options Act, often referred to as the "Death with Dignity" law.

Danny Harber, 76, was arrested and charged with the murder of his wife, Donna, 81, on September 1. Harber, a former councilman in the Southern California city of Bell, is in jail, unable to post the $2 million bail set by the court when he entered a plea of not guilty.

While Harber has not made a public statement, close associates who served with him on the council spoke of his wife's longterm battle with dementia, a ruthless brain disease that cripples the mind and leaves patients unable to care for themselves or to act rationally or, eventually, to recognize family members.

With nearly 700,000 Californians afflicted with some form of dementia, it's not surprising that there have been several instances where murder, manslaughter or assisted suicide have been charged against a husband who killed his wife to end her suffering from dementia or other terminal diseases. In San Diego county, a man was arrested for holding his wife's hand while she took the lethal pills.

I faced a similar situation some years ago when my wife had terminal cancer. At that time, California had no End of Life Options Law and patients had to live with the pain when the opioids no longer gave relief. She carefully hoarded the pain killers so that when the time came she would have enough to end her life. I would have helped her, if only to hold her hand while she took the pills. Before that time came, she went into a coma and died peacefully in a hospice. I didn't have to face a charge of assisted suicide.

Had the "Death with Dignity" law been in effect and had it covered dementia, these "crimes" would never have occurred. Harber's wife would have joined the nearly one thousand patients who utilize the existing law each year. But dementia is not covered by "Death with Dignity."

That law, enacted in 2015. allows patients with a life expectancy of six months or less to ingest a self-administered, lifeending drug if they are mentally competent at that time. While that gives cancer patients and those with several other diseases the right to die without enduring a lengthy period of pain and costly medical care, those restrictions prevent people suffering from various forms of dementia, particularly Alzheimer's Disease, from taking advantage of the law.

California must eliminate those impossible requirements for patients with dementia and a few other ailments, such as Parkinson's and Lou Gehrig's disease. The six-month life expectancy rule eliminates dementia patients, for the disease works its awful devastation to the brain long before the rest of the body is ready to die.

Dementia patients are also excluded from the current law by the requirement that they must be mentally capable at the time of ingestion of the life-ending drug. The rule should be that they are mentally alert when they tell their doctor that they wish to take the drug when they are no longer mentally competent.

The third factor that excludes them from using the current law is the requirement that they selfadminister the drug, which at that time they will be unable to do. While still mentally alert they wish to enjoy their families as long as possible. An advance directive could designate one or more people who could assist the ingestion process.

Let the Harber case be a call to action! It should arouse California legislators to broaden the current law to cover those now excluded, particularly dementia's helpless victims.

Ralph E. Shaffer is professor emeritus of history at Cal Poly Pomona. reshaffer@cpp.edu. power.

Back to my original question. When candidates run for public office they make outlandish claims of having nothing but the noblest of intentions. They claim, once elected they will only act in the best interests of their constituents. But do they? I say many, if not most, do not. Then who do they represent? Firstly, their loyalties are to the political party to which they purport to belong. After they are elected these newly elected officials become part of the government swamp. Once established in the swamp they do everything in their power to make sure government gets even bigger and more powerful. It is all too apparent that your representatives owe their loyalty to big business, lobbyists, public sector unions and government bearcats. Why do they represent these groups? The simple answer is money. Money in the forms of politison faces the wrath of the cancel culture.

This nation stands on the precipice of destruction! Shall we allow corrupt power hungry factions to continue to gain more power on their quest for total dominance? Have we not had enough of elected officials telling us lies about their real intentions? What is obvious is; once in office these politions reveal their real objective - to gain power and money. This premise is almost universally true be it from local to the national governments.

Your vote in November has never been more important! Will you vote for the established political elites and the swamp or will you vote to regain your power? Only fools accept politician's claims to fix the problem – a problem of their creation.

Vote wisely your/our future depends upon it!

Los Angeles County Launches COVID-19 Safety Compliance Certificate Program

Program Informs Customers that Businesses are Trained in COVID-19 Protocols with Window Seal

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The County of Los Angeles launched the COVID-19 Safety Compliance Certificate Program (CSCCP) to help educate and train business owners to comprehensively implement the LA County Department of Public Health COVID-19 safety directives.

The CSCCP is a no-cost online training course that educates business owners on the essentials of the County Health Officer's Orders and what they need to do to ensure that their business practices are aligned and in compliance with infection control and physical distancing requirements. After completing the training, businesses will receive a COVID-19 Safety Compliance Certificate that can be posted on storefronts. The training will be available in 13 languages and can be accessed online through the Department of Public Health's COVID-19 website.

This voluntary program offers business, employees and consumers alike the added reassurance that essential training has been completed to reduce the spread of COVID-19. This training is highly recommended for both business owners and employees. Consumers are urged to look for a posted Safety Compliance Certificate at any businesses they visit. Businesses that do not participate are required to display Public Health COVID-19 Protocols in their storefronts.

Remembering 9-11 and We Still Have Terrorist Here. The Home-Grown Kind.

In 2001, 19 terrorists came to our country and hijacked four airliners full of people. You know the rest of the story.

Many remembered those lives that were lost including the heroes on the ground and those in the air that fought the terrorist skyjackers and unfortunately the plane crashed killing everyone.

These skyjacker terrorists came from other countries to create havoc and death. They did just that.

Today, we have even more terrorists in this country, but they are home-grown. They graffiti and vandalize, they loot stores, then they burn them down. They attack our police and destroy police vehicles.

On September 11th, 2001, the terrorist took down two of our buildings and in return we took down two of their countries.

going to do about these terrorists that are running loose presently in our country? The ANTIFA and BLM terrorist are some of the most dangerous and deadly individuals.

ANTIFA does not seek dialog with its ideological opponents; it

That's just the way it is! seeks to physically attack them, and/or to ruin their lives in any way possible. Even if they were to ONLY attack neo-Nazis or skinheads, those people are still innocent, until/unless they actually commit crimes. ANTIFA is short for anti-fascists. The term is used to define a broad group of people whose political beliefs lean toward the left - often the far left

Anti-fascism has been an ele-My question is, what are we ment of movements holding many different political positions, including social democratic, nationalist, liberal, conservative, communist, Marxist, trade unionist, anarchist, socialist, pacifist and centrist viewpoints.

ANTIFA members are the violent advocates of a murderous ideology that, according to "The Black Book of Communism," killed between 85 million and 100 million people last century. Both practice violence and preach hate. They are morally indistinguishable.

The shooting of two deputies is shocking in itself. Then you have a handful of ANTIFA Terrorist show up at the hospital with the flags yelling, "I hope they die!" Can you believe that?

Then you have these politicians and elected officials doing nothing about it. They actually allow it. Portland for example. The mayor, Ted Williams, gives his blessing to these thugs. They have taken over a number of blocks around the cities government buildings and took over a police station. They just let it happen. Businesses have been destroyed and looted in the area, people killed and beaten and yet, where is the National Guard?

Then we have these gun control politicians who want to take your guns away from you. Right...

Our future doesn't look good. "That's Just the Way It Is!"

"TIME JOCKEY" - California Statehood

By Joe Castillo

Minerva... California's Statehood Day is the day the State of California was accepted into the union of the United States of America. The official date is September 9, 1850 but the date is only one of a number of dates which were important in the birth of California. Over a four-year, four-month period, California moved from a Mexican territory to the 31st state of the United States. It all started with the Bear Flag Revolt in Sonoma in June 1846 when a small group of Americans seized the barracks in Sonoma, captured General Mariano Vallejo and raised the California Bear Flag. Twenty-five days later, the United States declared war on Mexico and effectively moved to force a confrontation with Mexican forces.

For the next six months, the US and Mexico fought against each other in various battle sites throughout California until finally in January 1847, the Treaty of Cahuenga was signed ending hostilities in California and placed California under military rule. A year later in January 1848, gold was discovered by John Marshall in Coloma, starting a migration of hundreds of thousands of prospectors seeking to find the precious mineral. A short month later, the Treaty of Guadalupe-Hidalgo was signed giving the United States possession of all western and southwestern areas previously held by Mexico. The area was 55% of the size of all Mexican holdings in North America.

As more people moved into California, an organized movement toward statehood began which eventually leads to selfgovernance. In September 1849, a group of 48 notable delegates meet in Monterey at Colton Hall and draft the California Constitution and a collection of laws to follow in establishing a defined government. In addition, the California Seal is designed depicting the Roman goddess Minerva as its centerpiece. In Roman mythology, Minerva is born as a full adult from the head of Jupiter and this image represents California becoming a state without first having to complete a probationary period of being a territory. The California Constitution and Seal are approved six weeks later at the Monterey convention and a lively party and dance is held to celebrate the historical accomplishment. The bill is sent with all the supporting documents to Washington DC where on January 17, 1850, the Senate votes 48-3 in acceptance of California being the 31st state. But before the House of Representatives votes on the bill, there is a heated debate on whether California should be allowed to enter the union as a "free" state or a proslavery state.

Whichever way California is allowed to enter the union, the balance of the union would forever change as California's entry would turn the tide toward Civil War. Six months later, the House of Representatives votes 150-56 to accept California as a "free" state. The date is September 7th but there was still one more legal requirement to fulfill before statehood. The Compromise of 1850 was sent to President Milliard Fillmore to sign. The Compromise sets the boundaries for the areas acquired from Mexico less than two years earlier and defines the boundaries of the potential new state of California. President Filmore signs the Compromise and bill bringing California with its new boundaries into the union. The date was September 9th and news was sent via the mail steamship S.S. Oregon which leaves New York, goes through Panama and eventually arrives in San Francisco Bay on October 18th. The announcement of California Statehood is made in Portsmouth Plaza, San Francisco and a full parade is held the next day making California an official state.

September 9th is the day we celebrate statehood but the day represents more than four year of diligent work, dedicated effort and motivated brave men in making California the 31st State of the United States....

All Indexs Higher Recently, Setting Records

It is not normal for the S&P 500 to decline 35% in a little over a month. That decline was a modern-day record. It likewise is not normal for the S&P 500 to advance 60% off its lows in barely five months, without even an intervening 10% correction. Both the early spring decline and the summer recovery were extremely abnormal in both the magnitude and speed of these market movements.

The market usually rises leading up to Presidential elections as both candidates seem to promise anything and everything to voters. Even Joe Biden has said that he will not raise taxes on people making less than $400,000 per year or "the 90% of businesses out there that are mom and pop businesses that employ fewer than 50 people". And it is hard to ignore President Trump's bold statements about again making America great again! Even with ongoing riots and property damage in many Democrat controlled cities, the markets have remained positive. The S&P 500 was up over 7% in August, with few signs of traditional "dog days of summer"!

Even though the second quarter was very challenging for GDP, which should have been expected based upon coronavirus shutdowns, productivity since then has soared at a 7.3% annual rate! In this third quarter, many companies seem to be in the midst of a strong V-shaped economic recovery.

Turning to small businesses, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce reported recently that 54% of storefront businesses remain closed since the coronavirus pandemic shutdown began in March. I suspect that cities like Chicago, Los Angeles,

New York City, Portland, and Seattle face an even worse predicament. Now that federal aid is diminishing, and social turmoil continues in so many Democratic controlled cities, it is concerning to think about how many of these impacted businesses can eventually adapt, recover and survive

End-of-the-world (as we have known it) warnings will likely continue to span the spectrum from weather to politics. There are many obvious reasons to be concerned about getting back to anything close to business as usual even after November elections, but election outcomes will certainly impact the probability of America's economic recovery. But, what about the stock market? Ever since the market turned around on March 23, we've heard endless warnings of an imminent downturn, but the market keeps rising. It seems to know something the headline writers don't. How much of this dramatic market rise is driven by the USA's tremendous increases on available cash?

Over the last century - as well as 50 years and 20 years - September has been the worst month for the stock market (as measured by the DJIA). According to Bespoke Investment Group September points to maximum stock market danger. Expect to see warnings about stock market bubbles or overvaluations in the media over the next month or two. The writers and commentators will appear to use every imaginable trick to scare you into selling stocks. They'll warn of a Biden victory, or even a Trump victory, or an election deadlock, or a rise in coronavirus cases, or regular flu cases this winter. There could be a continuation in urban violence, as well as documented significant loss of small businesses due to the virus. Bearish writers have endless imagination, and they likely will continue to have plenty of examples they will use to increase fear about almost everything.

But investors should remember what comes after September. The fourth quarter historically has been the best quarter of the year, by far. During the last 20 years - which includes the terrible fourth quarters of 2008 and 2018 - fourth quarter market gains have surpassed the previous three quarters combined. With any luck this year will have a vaccine or a treatment for coronavirus, a clear election victory for one Presidential candidate or the other, and a grand re-opening of American business going into 2021.

But you won't hear or read about that kind of hopeful, positive scenario in any mainstream media. Bad news seems to sells a lot better. And most of the media seems to be hoping that Trump will not be allowed to make America Great Again! How will you vote in November?

Your Money - Ask Julia

My friend and I were talking about the fires. He doesn't really know what his insurance covers because they keep sending 'amendments' to his policy and he can't keep up. I rent, so it's my landlord's building, and I assume he's insured. Does that cover me, too?

Your friend needs to call his insurance agent, or company and get a full explanation. It would be helpful if he has a list of specific questions. Ask your landlord to provide proof of insurance. A landlord's insurance does not cover your personal contents. I suggest you contact your auto insurance agent to add Renter's Insurance. It's very inexpensive, covers your belongings, plus liability for damage (fire, water, etc.) you might have caused. You would probably need to use some funds from your emergency account to cover deductibles and any additional costs not covered by insurance.

What's the difference between a Medicare HMO and a Medicare Supplement plan?

Medicare HMO plans: 1. The HMO company takes over Medicare, 2. The customer has to get the approval of the HMO before having most procedures, and 3. The customer typically pays less per month than with a Medicare Supplement plan. Medicare Supplement plans: 1. the supplement helps pay what Medicare does not cover, 2. supplements do not change Medicare; they work with Medicare, 3. The customer can still use any provider who accepts Medicare, and 4. Supplement plans are more expensive than Medicare HMO plans because they do not control usage.

We're thinking that we should be saving for our children's college educations. What are my choices, and what's best?

The earlier one starts to save for expensive things in life - college, home purchase, retirement, the better. Setting up a savings plan is a wonderful gift from parents, grandparents, aunts, and uncles. Choices include College Savings Plans, Roth IRA's, Annuities, and Life Insurance with a cash account. What's best for you and your children depends on your specific situation: how much money you have available to invest, how many children you have to save for, and your personal concerns. I advise against 529's.

Our CPA, mortgage guy, insurance and financial agents, and our attorney all give different answers to basically the same questions. They see the details from their viewpoint, but they don't see the big picture of us and our lives. Is there a way to get some simple, clear answers and put them into one neat package?

More and more folks are longing for the clarity you are seeking. A good financial agent is not just a salesperson. They will look at all your finances, and get your input on what you want your money to do for you. They will then present options, and make suggestions as to what they see is in your best interest, and why. Basing your decisions on wise council is a good way to go.

How can I get a reverse mortgage, but not stick my daughter with a financial burden when I die?

Buy a life insurance policy that will pay off the reverse mortgage. (Due to some government regulations, it's best to get the life insurance policy first, and then get the reverse mortgage.) Ask Julia by email:

Funeral plans start with a small investment that will be a great help in the future.

Irwindale Chamber Honors Shepherd's Pantry as the September Business of the Month

IRWINDALE - Each month the Irwindale Chamber Business Ambassadors honor a business for their contributions to the local economy and to the overall community. In September, the Business Ambassadors are recognizing Shepherd's Pantry as the Business of the Month.

The Shepherd's Pantry organization is a result of the merging of two food pantries; Cory's Kitchen founded in 1996, and Shepherd's Pantry, founded in 2004. Since the inception of both pantries, additional services have been added to support those individuals and families struggling to make ends meet. Some of those services include haircutting, clothing store, homeless food program, Christmas Tov Store, and reading and math tutoring. Today there are three pantry locations (Glendora, Irwindale, Baldwin Park) to better expand the communities served. Shepherd's Pantry is a dynamic faith-based organization that sees the unique value of each client, treating each person with dignity, and offering hope with a helping hand. Currently, Shepherd's Pantry is in the middle of a major fundraising campaign, "Nourish the Body, Feed the Soul" which is timely given that September is Hunger Action Month. The Irwindale Chamber Business Ambassadors are a committee of representatives from member businesses and organizations. The Ambassadors are focused on connecting with the membership and serving as the public relations arm of the Chamber. Ambassadors are committed to making sure members are engaged with the many programs and services that the Chamber provides. The Business Ambassadors see the importance of recognizing members of the business community that go above and beyond in their efforts to serve their respective industries as well as the overall community.

of funeral preparation was $11,252 (what my friend's mother paid; she locked the price with a pre-plan) Now, funeral preparations can soar up to $30,250 for a beautiful funeral service. Many people were impressed with the mahogany casket.

The funeral plan in advance is 100% guaranteed. Locking the price, which doubles every ten years, doesn't matter if the price goes up. When you lose a loved one and can't handle the paperwork, preparing in advance relieves the stress from the survivor's point of view. Everyone is afraid of thinking about death today and more stressed about the strict rules and regulations for funeral services. Now because of the corona-19 pandemic, the funeral home chapels are not to be used according to county regulations.

Saturday, September 6th, it was 113 degrees outside in Los Angeles. The heat from the sun and the tears of the bereaved family and funeral staff members who set up tents was something I'd never imagine. Even a million dollar life insurance policy cannot help when someone is running around with sweat and tears planning for every detail from flowers to funerals. Fortunately at the funeral home, outside the tent outside the cemetery, viewing services are still going on. The bereaved family went to the graveyard with the funeral director for over a week to set up a funeral service.

The family had to suffer both mentally, economically, and physically because of the hot weather. People were covered with sweat and tears throughout the funeral. If everyone had been prepared for the funeral in ad-remaining family now does not resent the deceased. Coronavirus Pandemic has changed people to become decision-makers and do pre-planning. Funerals without preparation in advance are burdensome for survivors. Today without any funeral pre-planning, things are more than twice as difficult. Because it is a pandemic period, it takes a long time to prepare for the funeral. So let's prepare when we have the strength to prepare when we are healthy. Funeral preparation is a matter of facing economic and mental difficulties. Everything is easy, if you pre-plan for a peace of mind, save money for lock the price, save time, and your decision is made.

El Monte Union Honors Ledesma High School Instructor as Teacher of the Year

EL MONTE - Fernando R. Ledesma High School Opportunity teacher Patty Autran's love for teaching began as a thirdgrade student when she-the only Spanish-speaking student in class -was asked by her teacher to help an English learner who had just joined the class.

Autran, however, put her teaching dreams on hold after high school to serve in the United States Air Force, an experience that has greatly shaped her teaching philosophy. There, she learned the importance of structure and discipline, how strength comes through unity, and to never leave anyone behind - values that Autran brings to her classroom every day.

For her commitment to helping Ledesma most vulnerable students achieve their academic and personal goals, Autran has been selected as El Monte Union's 2020-21 Teacher of the Year. She accepted her award during the District's virtual Opening of Schools program on Aug. 17.

"I constantly strive to provide my students with a sense of belonging, a sense of security, the absolute certainty they are cared for and the knowledge that they are amazing human beings with so much to contribute," Autran said. "I feel so grateful to have had a chance to work with them and all of my colleagues these past years. I want to thank everyone who has allowed me to realize my dream of teaching."

Baldwin Park Unified Expands Meal Services During Distance Learning

Baldwin Park Unified's Nutrition and Transportation services delivered more than 165 meals for its first week of the new home delivery system on Sept. 8.

BALDWIN PARK – Baldwin Park Unified served 16,500 breakfasts, lunches and dinners during the start of the 2020-21 school year, with the District's Nutrition Services expanding its capabilities to ensure all Baldwin Park children under the age of 18 are fed.

Meals are served from 9 to 11:30 a.m. on Wednesdays at designated schools where families can pick up meals for all students in the household at one site. Meal service is "Grab & Go" drivethrough style, ensuring parents can remain in their cars and limit contact with others. Families receive five days' worth of breakfasts, lunches and dinners, including a half-gallon of milk and juice.

When classes resumed on Aug. 17, Nutrition Services connected with families who expressed issues with transportation, leading to a partnership with the Transportation Department and the arrival of the District's new home delivery system.

For the first day of deliveries on Sept. 8, Nutrition and Transportation staff loaded buses with food and produce, and bus drivers delivered to centralized bus stops where families picked up meals.

Select families are eligible for meal deliveries. For more information on home deliveries, contact nutrition services at 626.856.4224.

Meal distribution cards are required for BPUSD students, and name and birthdate are required for students not enrolled with the District. Students do not need be present when parents collect meals.

"We are excited to be able to provide meals for our Baldwin Park Unified families during this crisis," Director of Nutrition Services Rosa Estrella said. "The Department is stocking up to ensure that all sites have plenty of food to feed participating children " on by city officials and District administrators, West Covina Unified Board of Education members cut a ribbon strung across the gates to Edgewood IB Schools, welcoming the community to tour the new Edgewood Event Center on Sept. 8.

The socially distanced ribboncutting ceremony celebrated the completion of a milestone project funded by the voter-approved Measure ES, which has supported District efforts to provide safe and high-quality learning environments that support student success.

"We are thankful for the support of our community and our Board of Education in our mission to provide students with state-of-the-art facilities and unparalleled resources," WCUSD

WEST COVINA – Cheered Superintendent Dr. Charles D. Hinman said. "We look forward to welcoming our students back to campus and seeing them explore their creative and academic interests in our new facilities."

> When the COVID-19 pandemic prompted school closures in March 2020, construction projects progressed steadily with the encouragement of Board President Camie Poulos, Vice President Eileen Miranda Jimenez, Board Clerk Dr. Rose Lopez, and Board Members Michael Flowers and Daniel C. Monarrez. The Event Center was completed in April; celebrations were postponed in accordance with county public health guidelines.

> The Event Center features a 350-seat auditorium and freestanding seats, providing a stately venue for District and school stage events and meetings.

The Edgewood Event Center also houses Edgewood IB Schools' career technical education programs, which offer students hands-on learning experiences and the opportunity to earn certifications. Studios and classrooms will host students as they explore gaming design, video production, International Baccalaureate dance, and theater production.

The Event Center is one of two new Measure ES-funded facilities at Edgewood IB Schools. The second is the state-of-the-art Edgewood Sports Complex, which will be completed this month and celebrated with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Sept. 22. Together, the projects cost an estimated $31.9 million.
