Sen. Rubio Donates Backpacks to Baldwin Park Unified Elementary School Students

State Sen. Susan Rubio partnered with Meruelo Enterprises Inc. to provide 250 BPUSD students in K-6 with backpacks and school supplies

BALDWIN PARK - 250 Baldwin Park Unified elementary school students received backpacks and school supplies from State Sen. Susan Rubio during a drive-through distribution event at Sierra Vista High School on Sept. 16.

Wearing face masks and plastic gloves during the socially distanced event, Sen. Rubio-joined by Superintendent Dr. Froilan Mendoza, Board of Education President Christina Lucero, Board member Santos Hernandez Jr., Board member Betsabel Lara, and Sierra Vista Principal Vince Pratt – greeted families as they arrived to pick up their backpacks and supplies.

The backpacks came in different colors and different sizes depending on the student's grade. Each backpack came attached with a message from Sen. Rubio that read, "May you have a wonderful school year. Remember to READ, READ, READ."

"It was wonderful to see Sen. Rubio here in Baldwin

Park personally greeting families and facilitating the distribution," Dr. Mendoza said. "Sen. Rubio's passion for education is very much in alignment with the District mission, which is to provide equity and opportunity for every student. Thank you to her staff and to Meruelo

Sen. Rubio represents California's 22nd District and is a former educator who began her teaching career at Baldwin Park Unified.

"As a public-school teacher for 17 years, I understand the importance of students having the necessary school supplies in order to have a successful school year," Sen. Rubio said. "This upcoming year, more than ever, families are struggling to provide basic necessities. Along with Meruelo Enterprises, I'm grateful to be able to provide these supplies to Baldwin Park students."

AZUSA - The Bobcat Fire is over 105,000 acres with 15% containment.

An update on an Emergency Order that was issued to Camp Williams. The area has been ordered to evacuate. Hwy 39 will remain closed, and Glendora Mountain Road is closed by CHP.

A Wireless Emergency Alert (WEA) message was sent out regarding Camp Williams. There may be residents of Azusa that received this message on their mobile devices as well. There is no imminent threat to the cities. of Azusa, Glendora, La Verne, and Claremont as the fire burns away heading northeast. It has reached mountains as high as 9,000 feet. Mt. Wilson area was evacuated and the Crystal Lake recreational area has also been threatened. This fast-moving wildfire has grown to more than 105,000 acres, making it one of the largest blazes in Los Angeles County's history. The Bobcat fire, which ignited September 6th in the Angeles National Forest, burned approximately 105,000 acres by Sunday night after being fanned by winds of up to 30 mph during a day of low humidity -- conditions that were to continue overnight and see the blaze grow into Monday morning. The Angeles National Forest said in a statement that the fire was "threatening all of the values" on the peak of Mt. Wilson, home of the historic Mt. Wilson Observatory in the San Gabriel Mountains after firefighters battled to protect the iconic structure late last week. The building had been declared safe on Friday after responders deployed strategic firing, said Sam Hale, chairman of the Mt. Wilson Board of Trustees To the northeast, the fire destroyed the Los Angeles County Parks' Nature Center in the geological wonder of the Devil's Punchbowl. None of the park's animals or staff were injured, it said on Facebook, stating it will assess the extent of the damage when they may return. The blaze, at only 15% contained, was spreading from the foothills into the communities of Juniper Hills, Valyermo and Big

Educational campaign reminds residents that "ocean pollution begins at home."

LOSANGELES COUNTY - The Department of Beaches and Harbors encourages kids to celebrate Coastal Cleanup month by learning how ocean pollution begins in their neighborhood, no matter where they live. Plus, third-through fifthgrade students have the chance for their environmentallythemed original posters to appear on trash barrels across the County's beaches! Now in its third year, the Can the Trash! Clean Beach Poster Contest and educational campaign aims to teach kids how trash from all over Los Angeles County-no matter if it's left in the South Bay, San Fernando Valley, the Gateway Cities or East L.A.-can travel through the watershed and end up on beaches like Dockweiler, Venice and Zuma and in the ocean.

The communities of Littlerock and Wrightwood "will be impacted soon," according to reports.

Sheriff Alex Villanueva, toured sites the fire had devoured on Sunday, including the ruins of a man's home in Juniper Hill.

"He showed me his property that he, unfortunately, lost to this wildfire & shared some wonderful memories with me," the sheriff said via Twitter. "Although his home is gone, his spirits were high."

Evacuations have been ordered for communities throughout the area while warnings have been made for the city of Pasadena and the communities of Altadena and Wrightwood, among others, the Angeles National Forest said.

More than 1,700 personnel were battling the blaze whose cause was still under investigation.

The fire has already grown to become one of the largest in Los Angeles County's history with the 2009 Station fire at some 160,000 acres claiming the title.

Azusa Man Arrested by Police for Being a Felon in Possession of a Firearm

GLENDORA - On September 16, just after 6:00 am, Glendora Officers attempted to make a traffic stop on a vehicle for multiple traffic violations. The suspect was taken into custody without incident shortly after.

While he was being taken into custody, officers found a fully loaded, sawed off shotgun concealed underneath his clothing.

Safety is Primary as In-Person Classes Resume for Essential Worker Training at Local Community Colleges

This fall, with campuses closed, nearly all California community college students are pursuing their educational goals online. At the same time, the impact of COVID-19 has increased the need for qualified "essential workers" in fields like healthcare and automotive technology. This leaves students stymied between course requirements for at least some hands-on training for these professions and closed college campuses.

Citrus College has recently reopened labs for students in the Automotive and Diesel Technology programs to train essential workers for the Transportation and Logistics industry. The fact that these qualified professionals are considered "essential" adds an extra sense of urgency to quickly and effectively move students through their programs of study, so they can enter the workplace as soon as possible.

Doing so safely has required the development of myriad protocols and well-choreographed procedures to ensure the learning environment is safe for all participants---a deliberate and painstaking process.

In addition to the basic COV-ID-19 protections, like temperature checks, mandatory maskvearing, the use of personal protective equipment, and the distancing of work stations, the college has developed a detailed set of checklists for instructional labs that follow guidelines provided by the Los Angeles Department of Public Health. These include specific protocols for parking, arrival and departure from campus, floor diagrams for standing and walking, the cleaning of classrooms and equipment and a great many other details. The limited number of students who are enrolled in these labs have been informed of the protocols and mandates for participation. They are also reminded of the risk of potential exposure to COVID-19.

The individual detained, Edwin Valenzuela (18 years, Azusa resident) was arrested for various drug related charges, including possession for sales. He was transported to the Azusa Police Department Jail and was held for booking and processing. He was arrested back on May 22, 2020 and has a court date for Monday, Sept. 21 for that arrest.

Bail for the felony arrest was set at $30,000, however he was released just after midnight, early Saturday morning. Due to the AB109 mandate and the current "COVID zero bail procedure" being in place, he was released with a citation and had no bail paid.

His next court date for this felony is Sept. 22, the day after his other court date (Sept. 21) for his prior arrest.

Letters to the Editor Opinions Are The Writer's

This letter is in response to an er forget the first day we moved editorial shared by Mr. C. Larry Bidwell entitled "Glendora School District Run Amuck"

I would first like to thank Mr. Bidwell for his more than 40 years educating our Children, and for his continued passion toward their success. My Wife and I have two small children in the Glendora School system and we are amazed by the commitment, attention, and quality of education that is provided by the teachers and supported by the wonderful staff.

We have lived in Glendora for nearly 8 years now, and I will nevin. We were out front meeting a handful of our neighbors, and one of them said to me: "we are so glad you are not (a specific ethnicity)." We were blown away and devastated by the comment. We agree and have witnessed that many in our community are welcoming and inclusive, but not everyone. This is true in almost any community, and the need to improve exists in Glendora as it does everywhere.

It is for that reason that we are in support of R.I.S.E (Race, Inclusion, Social Justice, Equity). RISE is not a program that is forced upon our children without parent consent as you mentioned, it is a voluntary forum to look at ways to improve the outcomes of students of diverse backgrounds. It is an opportunity to ensure that, with parent input, our school district and our children become more inclusive of others. I believe that the benefits of such an effort outnumber any fears of change. Again, thank you for sharing your thoughts and for your service to our community.

Respectfully Brian Ursettie Glendora, CA

Data Shows Los Angeles County Makes Continued Progress against COVID-19

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The number of new cases has steadily decreased through August and September. Last week the average daily number of cases was 800, compared with over 2,000 just a month ago. Public Health will continue to watch this indicator closely because it may be artificially low due to reduced testing numbers seen over the last two weeks.

Our test positivity rate has averaged 3% for the past week. Just a month ago, in mid-August, this rate averaged 5%. A decreased test positivity rate is often a sign of reduced community transmission.

Public Health continues to report data on highly impacted groups that continue to experience disproportionate health outcomes. The data shows that over time our cases are decreasing across all groups and the gaps are starting to close.

At the mid- July peak, the average daily cases among Latino/ Latinx residents were 200 cases per 100,000 people. This was four times higher than the rate Contributing Writers Joan Hallidy Ken Herman Charles H. Bayer Lois M. Shade Julia Yoder Gene Morrill Jenny Park Ed Torres for White residents at 50 cases per 100,000 people and five times higher than that of Asian residents' 37 cases per 100,000 people. Case rates among African American/Black residents at 80 per 100,000 people during this time period were also far higher than that of White and Asian residents.

As of early September, the case rate for Latino/Latinx residents dropped to 40 cases per 100,000 people; while still twice that of White residents with a rate of 24 cases per 100,000 people, this is a significant narrowing of the gap. The case rate among African American/Black residents is now only slightly higher than that of White residents at 24 cases per 100,000 people. The case rate among Asian residents continue to be the lowest at about 10 cases per 100,000 people.

Public Health is also seeing decreases in deaths among races and ethnicity groups. During the July peak, the mortality rate among Latino/Latinx residents was 6 deaths per 100,000 people, four times that of White residents who had a mortality rate of 1.4 deaths per 100,000 people. The mortality rate among Black residents was 4 deaths per 100,000, and the mortality rate among Asian residents was 2.7 deaths per 100,000. As of September 6, the mortality rate among Latino/Latinx residents decreased to 2 deaths per 100,000 people, twice that of White residents and Asian residents who both have a mortality rate of 1 death per 100,000. Similarly, the mortality rate among African American/Black residents decreased to around 1 death per 100,000 people.

We continue to also see higher mortality rates among people living in areas with fewer resources, when compared to mortality rates among people in the areas with the most resources. During the peak, the mortality rate among people living in the areas with the fewest resources was 6.5 per 100,000 people, three times that of people living in high-resource areas. In early September, the mortality rate among people living in areas with the fewest resources was 2.5 per 100,000 people, which is still almost three times that of people living in the highest-resource areas.

These are very important numbers to consider as we make decisions about the path forward over the next few months. We will need to be mindful of the impact of our re-openings and actions both across the county and among the people who are most affected by this pandemic, as we continue to work together to address the inequitable distribution of resources and opportunities that are essential for optimal health and well-being.

Testing results are available for more than 2,477,000 individuals with 10% of all people testing positive.

Supervisors Approves Emergency Proclamation Declaring Local Emergency In Response To Bobcat Fire

LOSANGELES COUNTY – The Board of Supervisors approved a motion by Supervisor Kathryn Barger and co-authored by Supervisor Hilda Solis to ratify the emergency proclamation signed over the weekend declaring a local emergency as a result of the Bobcat Fire in the San Gabriel Valley.

The Bobcat Fire started on Sept. 6 and is now at 105,345 acres with fifteen percent containment. The fire is located near the Cogswell Dam and West Fork Day Use area and is burning in heavy fuels and spreading rapidly. Firefighters continue to work diligently and are focused on protecting the foothill communities and Mt. Wilson. An increase in resources has allowed first responders to expand their efforts to reduce further growth of the fire.

"I am grateful for the collaboration of our cities and communities, including Sierra Madre, Arcadia, Monrovia, Bradbury, Duarte and Azusa, who have shown strong unity in support of our fire personnel to battle the ongoing fire," Supervisor Barger said. "The Los Angeles County Fire Department is working in partnership with U.S. Forest Service Angeles National Forest and American Red Cross to manage this emergency and provide essential support to residents."

Targeting Venues Where Human Trafficking Persists

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The Board of Supervisors unanimously voted to develop a new ordinance that would help victims break free of their bondage, encourage witnesses to intervene, and crack down on perpetrators.

Leaving no stone unturned, the motion also mandated sports and entertainment venues, as well as motels, hotels, inns, massage parlors, and other establishments to post notices with a hotline for reporting human trafficking. Current State law requires such notices only at locations where trafficking is known to occur, such as adult businesses, and at locations where trafficking victims seek assistance, such as hospitals and urgent care centers. However, the law has been inconsistently applied across jurisdictions.

"Organized criminal enterprises have been known to transport victims – many of them underage – to large-scale athletic competitions in order to sell them for sex," Supervisor Ridley-Thomas said. "With Los Angeles destined to host the Super Bowl in 2022 and the Summer Olympics in 2028, it is not too early to pre-

LOS ANGELES COUNTY - vent the depraved and often clandestine crime of human trafficking."

> In their motion, Supervisors Ridley-Thomas and Hahn noted that state law allows the County to establish an ordinance that would allow routine inspections of establishments where human trafficking is suspected, and provide outreach and education for victims and witnesses. Such an ordinance could also include fines and penalties for violations, with the revenue going towards supporting victims.

> The County has been working with the City of Los Angeles to align legal remedies. Earlier this year, the City approved an ordinance based on a motion by City Council President Nury Martinez to add hotels, motels, and bed and breakfast inns to the list of locations required to post notices informing their patrons about human trafficking hotlines.

> Human trafficking, which includes both sex and labor trafficking, remains a significant problem worldwide. Traffickers create a climate of fear to control their victims and lure or co erce people into various forms of work, including domestic, factory, farm, restaurant, and commercial sex. Due to under-reporting, under-identification, and the tactics of violence, stigmatization, and shame utilized by traffickers and predators, accurate and uniform statistics are difficult to compile, and many instances of victimization go undetected.

Over the last several years, Los Angeles County has taken various measures to help victims and survivors, providing them with a range of services. It also created a First Responder Protocol aimed at preventing them from being re-traumatized when they come into contact with law enforcement. Instead of arresting them for crimes committed by pimps and johns, the Protocol diverts them from incarceration and connects them to safety, stability and hope.

The County has also moved to strengthen enforcement against the perpetrators of modern-day slavery, not only pimps and johns but also unscrupulous businesses and individuals who seek to profit from forced labor.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors approved a motion by Supervisor Janice Hahn to instruct Los Angeles County Departments to act now to prepare for the distribution of a COVID-19 vaccine to residents when one becomes available.

"We are the largest County in the nation, and when the time comes, we will need to fairly and equitably get a vaccine to over 10 million people," said Supervisor Janice Hahn. "We need to start preparing now to receive, store, distribute, and administer a vaccine so we don't waste any time."

In recent weeks, the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) issued guidance to State public health officials, prompting them to prepare for COVID-19 vaccination distribution. Currently, there are 37 vaccines in clinical trials and 3 vaccines are in the third phase of trials. Some reports indicate that limited COVID-19 vaccine doses in phase 3 may be available by early November 2020, with substantial increases in vaccine supply slated for 2021.

The CDC provided guidance on what is required for the preparation and distribution of a vaccine. The guidance includes ordering, data reporting, and tailoring of CDC-developed publicfacing communications; preparing for the delivery, storage, and handling of the vaccine vials; identifying high risk priority groups that need the vaccine first like healthcare professionals and those living in long term care facilities; and setting up mass vaccination clinics for the general population when more doses of vaccine are available, supply permitting.

With well over ten million residents, Los Angeles County must prepare a vaccination plan that ensures intentional and systematic allocation, with priority given to those in targeted groups and underserved populations who have been disproportionally affected by COVID19.

Supervisor Hahn's motion, which passed unanimously, instructs the LA County Department of Public Health to work with relevant departments, local cities, and community agencies to develop a vaccination plan and report back to the Board in 45 days.

Napolitano's Mental Health Services for Students Act Passes Committee

WASHINGTON, DC - H.R. 1109, the Mental Health Services for Students Act, which is authored by Rep. Grace F. Napolitano (D-CA-32), unanimously passed the House Energy and Commerce Committee during a full committee markup.

"We are continuing to witness how fear and anxiety about the Coronavirus can be overwhelming and cause strong emotions for our constituents, especially children, as the public health crisis rages on," Napolitano said. "The National Institute of Mental Health reports that one in five youth already experience some type of mental health disorder, which can cause significant challenges at home, school, and in their community. Yet, prior to this public health emergency, only 10 percent of children and adolescents ages 3 to 17-yearsold received any treatment or counseling from a mental health professional. Today's passage of the Mental Health Services for Students Act is a critical step toward addressing these urgent needs."

H.R. 1109, which Napolitano sponsored in the previous six Congresses under the title "Mental Health in Schools Act," is coauthored by Rep. John Katko. The bill creates a total of $130 million in grant funding for schools across the country to partner with local mental health professionals to establish comprehensive mental health services for students. This proposal educates the entire school community-from students and their families, to teachers, administrators, and support personnel—on the warning signs and symptoms of mental illness to help identify and treat mental health issues before they escalate. Napolitano secured federal funds in 2001 to establish a mental health services for students pilot program, administered by local nonprofit, Pacific Clinics. The program began in 4 schools and has now expanded to 35 schools throughout Los Angeles County, including much of the San Gabriel Valley, and serves as a model for H.R. 1109. The bill has 134 bipartisan cosponsors and the support of 50 mental health organizations, local governments, and teacher unions.

Warm And Fuzzy Wins 69% of the Vote A Hesitant Call

Californians will vote November 3rd on twelve initiatives and the title of the initiatives, the first thing the voters see when they start the arduous task of marking up their ballot, has a huge impact on how they end up voting. Sometimes because the voter is rushed, perhaps not done enough reading or research to vote thoroughly informed, makes some uninformed choices because of the titles.

Proposition 15 title, the split roll tax, doesn't tell us the whole truth and has led to lawsuits by businesses and anti-tax advocate groups against Attorney General Xavier Becerra because of his creative and benign title. That title is: INCREASES FUNDING FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS, COM-MUNITY COLLEGES, AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT SER-VICES BY CHANGING TAX ASSESSMENT OF COMMER-CIALAND INDUSTRIAL PROP-ERTY.

Who isn't for giving more money to schools and children's education and putting more money into the coffers of local governments who provide us police services and libraries? When I read that title, it says some adjustments will be made to business taxes ... some little adjustments so our schools can give our kids a better education and our local governments will be able to provide quality of life services.

What the title doesn't say is this is the biggest tax increase in this state's history and begins to erode the safety net of Prop 13 protections, not just for businesses, but for all us. If Prop 15 passes, the Sacramento pro tax people will "smell blood" and decide to try to eliminate Prop 13 completely.

Prop 15 is asking us to approve an $8 to $12 billion tax increase on business and industrial properties by taxing them at market value, not assessed value beginning in 2022. And perform that assessment again every three years. Market value is what the property would sell for, if listed, when assessed. Prop 13 taxes all properties at assessed value which is 1% of the purchase price (at the time of purchase), with an annual adjustment equal to the rate of inflation or 2%, whichever is lower. Big, big difference between Prop 13 tax and what Prop 15 would tax our local businesses.

Non-partisan Legislative Analyst Office (LAO) says: Market values tend to increase faster than Prop 13's 2% per year. If market values increase faster than the Prop 13 assessed values, that gives the pro-tax government people a reason to want to assess commercial properties every three years. Every three years, as property values in California increase, so would the commercial property taxes and generate more revenue for the Sacramento politicians trying to balance the state budget and always with more tax dollars.

LAO says Prop 15 creates significant new administrative responsibilities for county assessors. Their new responsibilities, if Prop 15 passes, would increase the amount of time and personnel needed to initiate the assessment of the business properties and again every three years after. In fact, by hundreds of millions of dollars per year says the LAO.

I find it interesting those proposing Prop 15 knew the increased burden Prop 15 would cause to the assessors, especially small counties, and created a provision requiring the state to make loans to counties to cover these initial, increased costs of assessing until new revenue from the new tax became available. Counties are required to repay those state loans.

So where does this warm and fuzzy revenue increase for schools and local governments come in. Here's how it works: First, the state general fund gets enough of that tax to off-set the lost revenue from Personal Income Tax (PIT) due to impacts of COVID and businesses transitioning to other states.

Second, counties would get some of the tax money to cover the costs of implementing the new assessments which the LAO says could be hundreds of millions of dollars.

Prop 15 says 60% of all remaining money will go to cities and special districts; and, 40% of remaining money to school districts and community colleges. Yes, the cities and schools share of Prop 15 new tax money would be what is left over after the state takes their share and the counties get enough to cover costs to implement the new assessments. County Assessors Association (CAA) says this initiative will not deliver the promised revenue to schools and local governments.

The LAO talks about hundreds of millions of dollars needed to implement Prop 15, while the County Assessors Association (CAA) says the property tax measure as written will be impossible for assessors to implementnot just difficult, but impossible and will cost more than $1 billion during the 3-year phase-in period.

County assessors are a small pool of qualified staff and hiring and training 900 new government workers to implement Prop 15 could take years and lead to salary "bidding wars" for the small number of qualified candidates, driving up costs and leaving smaller counties at a hiring disadvantage. CAA has voted to oppose Prop 15.

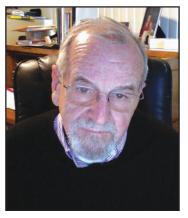

Some would like to take the initiative title and summary job away from A.G. Becerra and give it to the non-partisan Legislative Analyst Office including Assembly Member Kevin Kiley (R-Rocklin) who proposed a constitutional amendment to do that. That died without a hearing.

Remember, if property taxes go up on businesses, the cost of goods will go up. How much are you willing to pay for a loaf of bread?

Having closely followed the political events in 2016, I was startled when after a long hard fight, Donald Trump emerged as the winner over Hillary Clinton. Almost everyone had assumedwith solid evidence and positive polls-that Hillary would prevail. How wrong we all were! While she won the popular tally by almost three million votes, our peculiar electoral system saw Donald Trump eking out a victo-

What happened? Progressive forces had neglected to give sufficient attention to the plight of millions of white working-class males in the industrial states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Wisconsin. Neither had they been aware just how negative Hillary came off. To this day I remain mystified as to her unpopularity. But unpopular she was, and while Trump was hardly a spotless hero, the election boiled down to the lesser of two evils.

So we have been stuck with Trump for these four years. Day after day we have been increasingly disturbed by his policies: building a wall on our Southern border; turning his back on the "dreamers"; his racism; his unhealthy conniving with Putin while he turned America away from our long-time democratic allies; his rejection of the hardfought treaty with Iran; his myriad attempts to scuttle "Obamacare"; pulling us out of the "Paris Accords" while rejecting the overwhelming scientific evidence concerning the disastrous effects of climate change; his amazing declaration after the Nazi's Charlottsvile rally, that there were "very fine people on both sides." On and on it went. But it was all in fair pursuit of a winning political agenda.

Charles H. Bayer

And then came the pandemic during which Trump regularly asserted he knew better than the scientific and medical communities about how to deal with this potentially devastating monster. When it became clear that paying attention to the virus was seriously inhibiting the economy, he urged America to "open-up." This demand included governments, businesses, beaches, bars, restaurants and even schools, all of which, when reopened, resulted in a devastating rise in new cases added to he number of America's dead. He blamed this appalling situation on fake news, the Democratic Party. China, not on anything he had done.

In the meantime, our lack of adequate testing made controlling the virus impossible. While other nations managed to contain it, we did not. Trump repeated the patent absurdity that the number of cases was the result of increased testing, therefore curtailing testing would reduce the threat. No tests means no cases! Really? So Americans continued to die-- the result of his tragic policies. In the meantimeTrump and his fans refused to wear masks or observe social distancing, practices his Administration endorsed.

however, came to light on September 9 when Bob Woodward in his book, Rage, Trump had proudly announced that he knew early in February just how deadly the virus was, but hid this information so as not to cause a panic--meaning the news might have had a negative effect on the economy. These were not Woodward's comments or those of some unidentified informer, but Trump's own recorded words.

At the same time, he was calling the virus a harmless hoax that would soon disappear. During those critical weeks when the spread of the virus could have been blunted he did nothing to prepare the nation for what was on the horizon. As a result, thousands died, and the tragic total approached 200,000.

Up to now we might have simply regarded that Trump's words only flowed from a misguided political judgement. After all, politics is a tough, often brutal game. But when the President knew how dangerous the virus was, and lied to the American people, I believe we must now reluctantly use the word "EVIL!!"

When a group of Saudi terrorists hijacked commercial jet liners crashing them into the Twin Towers and killing almost three thousand Americans, we rightly called those terrorists "evil" and so they were. So what should we call a President whose lies have resulted in multiple thousands of deaths? Trump's duplicity and the results are not just matters of political expediency, but a violation of basic morality. The thousands of dead Americans now rise from their graves pointing their quaking fingers at Donald Trump and crying EVIL!!!

My opinion: By D. B. Shimel

In 1984 Yuri Besmenovs is videotaped in an interview with a journalist in the UK. In this interview Yuri discusses the process of Ideological Subversion and how it is used to convert nations to Socialism. In this interview Yuri describes in detail how the process is implemented. He details how this brainwashing technique can take decades to implement. There are four stages to Ideological Subversion. Why should you care what Yuri has to say? Because, prior to defecting, in the early 1980's, from the then Soviet Union he was a highly educated and high ranking member of the KGB. Yuri had firsthand knowledge of how the process works.

MY TURN: Religious Prejudices Will Be Revealed In Scotus Nomination Hearings

Bishop Thomas Olmsted of the Diocese of Phoenix has published his latest publication for Catholics called "Catholics in the Public Square," meant to inform faith-based people of their role in the public sector as we approach another Presidential election. There has been much controversy among Catholics, Jews, Evangelicals and other faithbased people about the behavior of Donald Trump and how many feel discomfort with what they see as words and behavior contrary to the religious life. But in reality, folks must look past that, realizing God finds his messengers in unique, unlikely and unusual ways. Behavior aside, one seeking a faith-based voice in a secular world must realize the more important issues at stake and face the fact, and I mean the fact, not opinion, that the Democrat Party is not consistent with Catholic teachings. I might even make the stretch that supporting the policies of the Democrat party are breaking a sacrament. I don't believe Nancy Pelosi and Joe Biden when they say they are devout Catholics.

Charles Lopresto

In his publication, Olmsted writes about threats to Catholicism that include "government efforts to coerce those with religious objections to pay for or to provide health care coverage that includes intrinsic evils such as abortifacients and contraceptives. Another severe threat includes government coercion against those who do not want to participate in so-called 'same sex wedding ceremonies' because of deeply held religious beliefs that marriage, by its very nature, exclusively involves one man and one woman." We have all seen the controversy surrounding the lawsuit with the Little Sisters of the Poor."

Democrats have taken things even farther with everything from removing "under God," to ridiculing the student at Covington Catholic High School, to President Obama speaking at Georgetown University and requesting that icons of Jesus Christ and other statues be covered up while he gives his presentation. Hillary Clinton has said "Rights have to exist in practice, not just on paper...and deep-seated cultural codes, religious beliefs and structural biases have to be changed." This was perceived as a statement that we must deny our faith.

Now the need to seek out a new Justice of the Supreme Court to fill the seat of Ruth Bader-Ginsburg is going to result in more discussions of religion in the public sector. Democrats in fear of an attack once again on Roe vs. Wade will be looking at Constitutionalist Judges as part of that threat. And those involved in the process of nomination will be scrutinized heavily over their religious convictions. Take for example, President Trump's top considered candidate, Amy Coney Barrett. She is a married Catholic woman with seven kids, two of which are adopted children of color. Be prepared to see Ms. Barrett and anyone similar, be dragged through the mud very, very soon. Gorsuch and Kavanaugh were just the beginning.

It is all very simple, Catholics voting Democrat have, what was famously said by Ricky Ricardo, "some 'splainin' to do.

The San Gabriel Valley Strainer

Stage One: Demoralization:

Demoralization starts with the schools and can take twenty to thirty years to complete. To achieve this the subversive elements one must take over the schools. The process is slow because it takes at least one generation of brainwashing the children. You need to convince them that they live is in a totally corrupt country where injustice is the underlying theme. Yuri said that once this process is complete true believers can be taken to countries that have already fallen for this ideological myth and show them the destruction that has occurred – "even then they will not believe you". They will refuse to believe that they are committed to a utopian fallacy. Yuri also said this stage is done to Americans by Americans facilitated by a loss of moral standards.

Stage one was completed years ago.

Stage Two: Destabilization: This period only takes two to five years for completion. There are three areas that this stage effects. These areas are; de-stabilizing the economy; destroying the nation's foreign relations and weakening defense systems. What Yuri meant by this is: firstly country is unable to defend itself. All of these happened under the previous administration.

Stage Three: Crisis:

This stage only takes a short time to achieve - perhaps a few weeks. Create a crisis where there is rioting in the streets and a call for the destruction of the reigning government.

Stage Four: Normalization: This is the final stage where a new socialist government is installed and the people accept the new government and its promises of creating a utopian nation. This never happens. In this stage a "big brother" government takes over and the people lose all personal freedoms. The government decides everything for everyone. Also in this stage the "useful idiots" - as Joseph Stalin called them – believe that they will become part of the ruling class. This also never happens. These useful idiots are far too dangerous to the new government. To reward these true believers they are, according to Yuri, lined up against a wall and shot.

In Yuri's words the process of demoralization and destabilization was almost complete in 1984. He tried to warn us but we did not listen - are we listening now?

So here we are today: Who can deny phase one and two are complete and we have rioting in it is!!!!

Restaurants Allowed to Open, but You Eat Outside in a Parking Lot. They Say it is Safer. That is a Bunch of Bull.

Well the State of California's upper level elected officials and appointees are saying they are lifting some of the restrictions for restaurant businesses to open, but with other restrictions. You can't feed your customers inside. You have to feed them outside in a parking lot. Our elected medical experts, I mean elected officials say it is safer.

Are these people smoking crack or something? That is just about the dumbest thing I have ever heard of.

Let me put this together for you. Let's just take Glendora Avenue in West Covina where they are making them seat people outside in the parking lot.

A couple of seniors should find this just great for lunch. They sit on chair on hot asphalt in 3digit temperatures. Some of those day were over 110 degrees. Someone brings what they call is their service dog to the area and if you're lucky, it will take a dump near your table about the time they deliver your food. The aroma is just fantastic. Then you notice that the flies have found this poop and is having a feast. Then these flies see your food and pay a visit to your plate. Perfect, that has to be healthy to eat after those flies crawled all over your food.

Then you have those cars going by spewing exhaust fume into the eating area. Bad enough you are outside trying to breathe through a mask and also inhaling the smoke and ash from the fires in the hills above us.

"TIME JOCKEY" - Arizona Mine

By Joe Castillo

Superior... Copper is both a mineral and element. It is found within other types of minerals but is rarely found in large quantities. However, it is one of the most popular minerals and is also one of the easiest to mine as it does not take a lot of processing. It is one of the earliest known metals worked by ancient people and was easily found in river beds but today, most copper is found in sulfide ores. Copper is used mostly as a conductor of electricity especially in copper wiring. It is also a conductor of heat and is used in cooking appliances, wares and utensils.

Of the top 20 copper mines in the United States, 10 mines are in Arizona, including the Resolution Mine just 60 miles One side opposed the development of the mine which would cause economic and socioeconomic problems for a town that had survived just fine for decades with the same type of operations.

The area around Superior is breathtaking with rock formations not seen anywhere else and a landscape that painters dream about. President Eisenhower declared 760 acres as protected federal land thereby restricting mining in the areas around Superior. But years later, Congress found a way to get around the ban and voted to allow mining through a land deal which included a mustpass military spending bill. The change in protections angered the local environmentalists and Native American Apaches who in the area, so I am sure that everyone who drives by the dining area is okay to drive. No protection, such as walls, in the event the driver decides to make that eating area a drive through.

What about those people who are standing on the sidewalk smoking cigarettes and the smoke coming into the dining area?

Did I mention the undesirables in the area will find this a great opportunity to run by and try to steal your purse, phone or other property?

Yes, without question, this is much safer that an air-conditioned building, with filtered air, at a safe comfortable temperature and the protection from all those other outside elements as discussed above.

Where do these officials get off trying to make us believe such stupid garbage as this?

Because they say so... Yeah, right.

"That's Just the Way It Is!"

when mining came back, the economy took off again. The population of the town fluctuated during that period and even the one-stop traffic light was unplugged when no mining was taking place. As the demand for copper became greater than its availability, the development of Resolution Mine became more critical to the advancement of electronic devices and equipment across the world. It was expected that over a billion pounds of copper would be mined each year, which would nearly meet 25% of the total U.S. copper production. Superior, Arizona, may not seem like much when you pass through it but its value lies in the mines surrounding and below it. And hopefully, the environment, landscape and protected wildlife will also continue to be protected to make Superior more than just a copper mining town... What Is Your Real Risk Of Your Money - Ask Julia Dying From COVID-19? Because the fires are far enough away that all we've got-

We have read that approximately 200,000 Americans who died during 2020 were infected with the Chinese Communist Party's coronavirus when they died. However, no one really knows how many of those people actually died because of COVID-19! The EPOCH TIMES (last weekend in its print edition on page C5) stated that "a recent report by the USA's Center for Disease Control found that only 6% of the reported 161,392 US death certificates as of August 22 had COVID-19 as the only cause of death. The remaining 94% of deaths had 2 to 3 (total possible) comorbidities." It also added that most people that died and were counted as a COVID death have been of advanced age. This 6% certainty revelation about death counts in the USA (as being known COVID caused deaths) indicates that an unknown number of COVID attributed deaths in the USA could have actually died from other causes than COVID-19!

This EPOCH TIMES article quotes White House Coronavirus Task force coordinator Dr. Deborah Birx as admitting that, compared to other countries, the United States has "taken a very liberal approach to mortality" (meaning that all possible deaths related to COVID-19 have been counted as coronavirus deaths in the USA). Dr. Birx went on to explain: "The intent is if someone dies with COVID-19, we are counting that as a COVID-19 death". Dr. Birx admitted that other counties do not all count COVID deaths this way. The obvious conclusion is that the number of deaths specifically caused by COVID-19 in the USA is unknown, but that reported USA COVID-19 caused death totals are certainly exaggerated.

What is known for certain is that most of the deaths in the USA which have been counted as COV-ID-19 deaths have been older people. In fact, about 80% of all domestic deaths counted as being COVID related have been people over age 65. And almost 98% of counted US COVID deaths have been people over age 45-year-old. Very few deaths under age 25 has been counted as a COVID death, which obviously begs the question about why schools are not all open again. Is it likely that continued shutdowns are mainly related to politics? That opinion was somewhat confirmed when the LA County Health Director recently stated: "Schools will not reopen until after the election".

Ignoring obviously overstated death rates attributed to COVID-19, statistics still indicate that 8 states (listed below) account for 59% of all reported (possible) Wuhan coronavirus deaths in the USA. The reported deaths per diagnosed case differences between four of these states and the other 46 states are significant! Seeing the reported death rates below we wonder why some press commentary suggests that New York and nearby states did a good job controlling deaths in those specific states. Counted COVID-19 death rate statistics for those 8 highest total death count states (as of last week) follow. REPORTED COVID DEATHS AS OF 9/12/20 are shown in the middle column. COVID-19 Reported Death Rates (as a percent of reported cases) are shown to the right of each state's COVID-19 death counts.

New York	32,971	- 7.4%
New Jersey	16,027	- 8.1%
California	14,266	- 1.9%
Texas	14,279	- 2.1%
Florida	12,756	- 1.9%
Mass.	9,180	- 7.4%
Illinois	8,522	- 3.3%
Penn.	7,914	- 5.4%
Even with yory high New Vork

Even with very high New York area death rates, and admitted over counting of COVID as the primary cause of death, the USA's average reported COVID death rate last week was 2.99%. That remains lower than the entire world's reported death rate of 3.21% (which we now know was counted differently, resulting in who knows how many fewer counted COVID-19 deaths outside of the USA).

Stay positive my friends! More normal times should return after November!

ten is some of the smoke, we did not see any necessity to do any disaster preparations. Now we're having earthquakes and are thinking we'd better do some planning. We're not interested in becoming survivalists or doomsday preppers, just short-term emergency planning. Where do we start?

Do an online search for earthquake preparedness. FEMA has some very good information. Discuss your plans of action for minor and major damage to your residence. Will you stay home, or leave the area? What's your plan if there's a 3-day (or longer) power outage? Store a backpack with emergency supplies in your vehicle trunk in case you can't get home. Have some emergency cash on hand, as ATMs might not be an option.

I lost my job as a restaurant manager. (Owner closed due to Covid, and isn't reopening.) How do I get a forbearance on my mortgage? And what happens when the forbearance ends?

The CARES Act gives the opportunity for those who lost their job, got ill, or have other financial distress caused by Covid-19, to postpone rent or mortgage payments. Do not just stop making payments! Communicate with your mortgage holder/lender. Request a forbearance. You'll need to supply a hardship letter explaining your situation. If you're approved, your lender will supply an agreement which outlines the terms. Read that carefully to understand your options for paying. Be aware of the interest rate being charged during that forbearance. Check to make certain the lender is obeying the CARES Act rule of not submitting any negative reports to the credit bureaus.

Very late last night, I got a call from my grandchild saying they were in the hospital and needed me to get some money to them for treatment. Thankfully, my grandchild had come for a visit and was spending the night, so I knew this was a scam. Are there other scams I need to be aware of?

Yes. The number of scams, especially against seniors, has escalated recently. Medicare is running ads regarding the scam of a friendly caller who asks for your Medicare number. The call from a grandchild urgently requesting emergency money, online emails and ads, an unsolicited (you did not ask for it) call from tech support regarding your internet or computer or log-in information for your bank, and fraudulent use of your medical benefits, are popular scams. Some have had their entire life savings stolen overnight! Seniors tend to be more trusting and friendly to strangers, and therefore are easier for scammers to scam. Thank you for sharing your story. I'm so glad you were not scammed!

We are in our mid-30s, recently married and have two incomes for one household. What are your suggestions as a good place to start our financial planning and saving for retirement?

Write down a budget (all your income, and all your monthly and annual expenses). Agree on a definition of 'emergency,' and create a savings account just for emergencies. It should cover several month's expenses if there was no income, and unexpected car and home repairs. If you have debt (credit card, car loan, student loans), do whatever you can to pay them off. Then, each of you could look into depositing the maximum annual amount into Roth IRAs. Learn about different kinds of life insurance and get quotes. (That'll cover each of you in case one passes prematurely.) Some life insurance policies include a cash account often used for retirement income.

LA County Supervisors Approve Foreclosure Prevention and Mortgage Assistance Program

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors passed a proposal by Supervisor Janice Hahn and coauthored by Supervisor Hilda Solis to prevent foreclosures in LA County by connecting struggling homeowners with foreclosure prevention counseling and part, we may be facing a wave of oncoming foreclosures and homelessness.'

The program includes a twopronged approach. The first is $1.5 million allocated to assist homeowners facing foreclosure by connecting them with foreclosure prevention counselors who enced high levels of foreclosures.

"Housing is a human right and as a result of the economic fallout of this COVID-19 crisis, many impacted individuals and families are on the brink of experiencing homelessness through no fault of their own," said Los Angeles County Supervisor Hilda L. Solis. "In the midst of this unprecedented global pandemic, many workers in LA County are unemployed indefinitely, and one of the critical steps we can take right now is to keep them in their homes."

What You Need To Know About ADAS!

ADAS (Advanced Driver Assistance Systems) is a sensor program available in a lot of new cars. These sensors are there to help you in many ways, such as:

• Adaptive cruise control

• Adaptive headlights that steer with the vehicle

• Automatic emergency braking

• Automatic headlight highbeam activation and dimming

- Blind spot monitoring
- · Forward collision warning
- Lane departure warning
- Lane keeping assist
- Parking assist/self-parking
- Rear cross traffic alert

These sensors sure make life easier and safer...unless they get damaged. Obviously if you are in a major accident, you might think about the sensors and their need for replacement/ recalibration. If you do not think about it, hopefully your collision repair shop will.

Something you might not be aware of is that if you have a windshield replaced or a slight fender bender, the sensors will fail to be reliable. A suspension repair or a wheel alignment can also upset the finely tuned sensors. Once a driver realizes that something "isn't quite right" they often never trust ADAS again.

These systems can be fixed, however. It is a time-consuming process to calibrate, which significantly raises the cost of the repair, but it can be accomplished.

We just want you to know what ADAS is, how it works, and what to do if you notice a change. Being aware helps keep you, and those you share the road with, safe! At Certified Auto Specialists, that is always our goal!

Los Angeles County Launches COVID-19 Safety Compliance Certificate Program

LOSANGELES COUNTY-The County of Los Angeles launched the COVID-19 Safety Compliance Certificate Program (CSCCP) to help educate and train business owners to comprehensively implement the LA County Department of Public Health COVID-19 safety directives.

The CSCCP is a no-cost online training course that educates business owners on the essentials of the County Health Officer's Orders and what they need to do to ensure that their business practices are aligned and in compliance with infection control and physical distancing requirements. After completing the training, businesses will receive a COVID-19 Safety Compliance Certificate that can be posted on storefronts. The training will be available in 13 languages and can be accessed online through the Department of Public Health's COVID-19 website.

This voluntary program offers business, employees and consumers alike the added reassurance that essential training has been completed to reduce the spread of COVID-19. This training is highly recommended for both business owners and employees. Consumers are urged to look for a posted Safety Compliance Certificate at any businesses they visit. Businesses that do not participate are required to display Public Health COVID-19

Protocols in their storefronts.

Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors Directs Assistance to Breweries Still Restricted by County Health Orders

New grant program would help breweries and other small businesses that are closed under County Health Orders despite being allowed to open by the State.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY -The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors approved a new $10 million grant program to help breweries and other small businesses that have remained closed or restricted by LA County health officer orders despite being allowed to open under the State's health order.

Although breweries in Tier 1 counties have been allowed to open under the State's health order if they can partner with a food service, Los Angeles County's health officer order has kept many local breweries that do not qualify as restaurants closed for on-site service to slow the spread of the virus.

The new grant program is included in a supplemental coronavirus relief fund spending plan being considered by the Board of Supervisors. The funding comes from Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act funding allocated to Los Angeles County by the federal government.

Small businesses that have remained closed or faced substantial operating restrictions due to health officer orders will be eligible for the grant. Priority will be given to those small businesses subject to LA County health officer order restrictions that are more stringent than those required by State health officer order, such as breweries. These small businesses also include: wineries, family entertainment centers, and card rooms.

Information about how to apply for the grant will be forthcoming through the LA County Development Authority.

El Monte Union Teacher Named 2020 California Visual Art Educator of the Year

EL MONTE - El Monte High School art teacher Patrice Cooley has a flair for connecting with her students, encouraging beginning and experienced artists alike to bring a unique voice and passion to their art.

For her exceptional ability to empower students, set standards for quality education and achieve the highest level of professionalism in art education, Cooley has been recognized as the California Art Education Association (CAEA) 2020 Outstanding Visual Art Educator of the Year.

She will be honored at CAEA's virtual state conference in November and will represent California at the 2021 National Art Education Association convention.

"I am incredibly grateful to my mentors and all the people I've worked with at El Monte Union and CAEA who have helped and encouraged me," said Cooley, a 22-year art teacher who has been with the District since 2016. "They are great partners. I would also like to thank my students for being open-minded and willing to learn. I have the best job in the world."

Cooley says art education encompasses more than mixing colors and mastering the illusion of three-dimensional perspective. Cooley instills in her students the importance of critical thinking, problem solving and resilience, skills that are necessary for academic success and career planning.

"It's important for students to see art in a bigger context," Cooley said. "Art gives you an appreciation of well-being and self-expression. The key is understanding that you are connecting the overreaching concepts and principles of art to something in your life, whether it be a in a class, at a job or developing your own business."

Embracing art at a young age, Cooley worked hard to develop her technique and constantly pushed herself to do better. Gaining insight from life lessons and wanting to share her knowledge with young students, Cooley realized her calling was art education.

"Art was always my passion. Although I wasn't amazing, I was good at thinking and having ideas. I had to keep at it," Cooley said. "These values are essential for developing minds. It's important for students to establish a starting point, to grow from there and enjoy the process. When students improve their craft, it empowers them, they tell themselves 'I'm better than I thought.""

The CAEA supports art educators and promotes state and national content standards for the visual arts and serves as a networking platform for educators. In addition to being honored at the CAEA conference, Cooley will deliver a presentation on the California Department of Education's new art framework.

"Patrice Cooley brings a tremendous amount of enthusiasm to her classroom and her approach really resonates with her students, who learn to embrace and appreciate their own creativity," Superintendent Dr. Edward Zuniga said. "Patrice personifies El Monte Union's commitment to the arts and motivates our students to be college and career ready. She is truly deserving of this honor."

The homeless man was responsible for a large fire last month that cause evacuations of residents nearby.

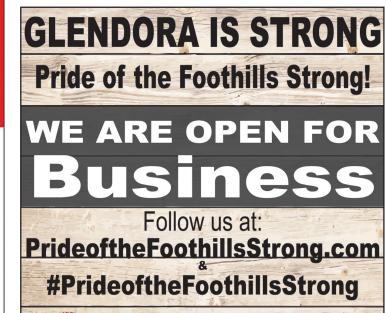

There were some major health concerns with the filthy conditions as well as trash in the area. There are no sanitation facilities so they do their business anywhere they wanted.

the dangerous people staying in the encampments. With the filth and the people there, this restricted residents and bicyclist from using the trails. Hiking and biking in the area was too risky.

Since the fire, the cleanup of the area seems to be solving the problem, but many feel that if the area is not properly policed, it will happen all over again.

Barriers that Block Former Inmate Fire Crews from Becoming Career Firefighters After Serving their Sentences

OROVILLE-On Friday, September 11, at the site of the North Complex Fire, Governor Newsom signed AB 2147, a bill that eliminates barriers that prevent former inmate fire crews from pursuing a career as a firefighter once they served their time. Authored by Assemblymember Eloise Gomez Reyes, the bill allows nonviolent offenders who have fought fires as members of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation's fire camps to have their records expunged, paving the way for individuals leaving fire camps to seek meaningful employment and further training. "This legislation rights a historic wrong and recognizes the sacrifice of thousands of incarcerated people who have helped battle wildfires in our state, and I would like to thank the Legislature for passing this bill," said Governor Newsom.

"Signing AB 2147 into law is about giving second chances. To correct is to right a wrong; to rehabilitate is to restore," said Assemblymember Gomez Reyes. "Rehabilitation without strategies to ensure the formerly incarcerated have a career is a pathway to recidivism. We must get serious about providing pathways for those that show the determination to turn their lives around."

Despite their experience and qualifications, many formerly incarcerated firefighters struggle to obtain licenses and employment due to their criminal records. Under AB 2147, formerly incarcerated individuals can file a petition in county court to expunge their records and waive parole time, which will open career pathways in emergency response and a variety of other disciplines.
